A little two-story wooden structure known as Union Hall, located on the corner of Story and Seventh streets housed the first high school in Boone in 1867.

In 1874 the new City Hall was completed and the school board rented four rooms on the second floor for high school classes. These two halls served as a high school until 1878 when the Washington Building was built. Washington served as a high school until 1913 when the present Boone High School was built. Washington was still used for music activities until 1954, when it was condemned.

In 1913 the erection of the old part of the present building was begun and in January 19, 1914, the classes were transferred. Still the number of students had increased until it was finally necessary to build the present junior high addition. Then the seventh and eighth graders were moved into this building and it has been large enough and flourished ever since.

During 1927 a committee was appointed to investigate junior colleges throughout the state to determine the value of a junior college, the curriculum and all other matters relative to the starting and operating of such an institution. On April 11, 1927 this committee made a report submitting information for consideration by the School Board. At the April 1927 Board meeting certain rules and regulations were adopted, it was then decided that the third floor of the high school be used as Junior College.

The President of the School Board during the years 1880-1881 was H. Goeppinger, Superintendent was F. W. Hubbard and his wife was the Principal.

In 1873, the Board voted that pupils in the public schools be required to furnish pens and paper for writing, if they fail to do this, after being notified twice by the teacher, they may be suspended by the teacher to be readmitted again at the pleasure of the Board.

In 1885, the Board hired a librarian to take charge of the library during the winter months.

In 1908, the Palmer system of writing was adopted for fifth grade and above.

In 1911, the first Home Economics Department was set up.

"Whereas it has come to the knowledge of this Board that E. P. is in the habit of carrying a revolver to school and displaying the same on the school grounds, pointing it carelessly and wilfully at scholars - he be expelled", this was taken from the "Discipline of Pupils" section listed by the Board in 1881.

In 1906-07, was the first mention of a Truant Officer and B.H.S., the officer was employed because there were so many truants and so much trouble.

In 1911, the Board was confronted with the intoxication of certian high school boys, but no action was taken.

In 1935, the first Boy's and Girl's Advisor was hired.

In 1888, the Superintendent reported that four teachers were tardy during the month. Three of the teachers rendered a written excuse which was excepted by the Board, while the other had no excuse. "On motion of Mr. --, the secretary was instructed to interview this delinquent and remind her that the Board would enforce the rules upon this point unless a satisfactory excuse could be given."

In 1894, a teacher was fined a dollar and a half for missing the regular teachers' meeting.

In 1880, the board allowed the senior class five dollars toward the expense of rent, printing, etc.

In 1886, Coal for the school's furnace costed two dollars and eighty cents per ton.

In 1908, dancing at shcool functions was discussed. The Board went on record as unfavorable to dancing, and offenders were subject to expulsion.( 3 to 2 vote by the Board )

In 1925-26, dancing was allowed at the Junior-Senior Reception "under chaperon restrictions", and until twelve o'clock.( Dancing has been allowed every year since this date. )

All information on these two pages was taken from a book called "Through the Years", author's name is A.B. Grimes, Superintendent of Schools.

Many photographers, magazines, and rock groups after many years publish what they consider to be "the best." Here is a collection of what I consider "The Best Of Boone High." These two pages are to be special to each individual so that no two Scroll's are exactly alike.

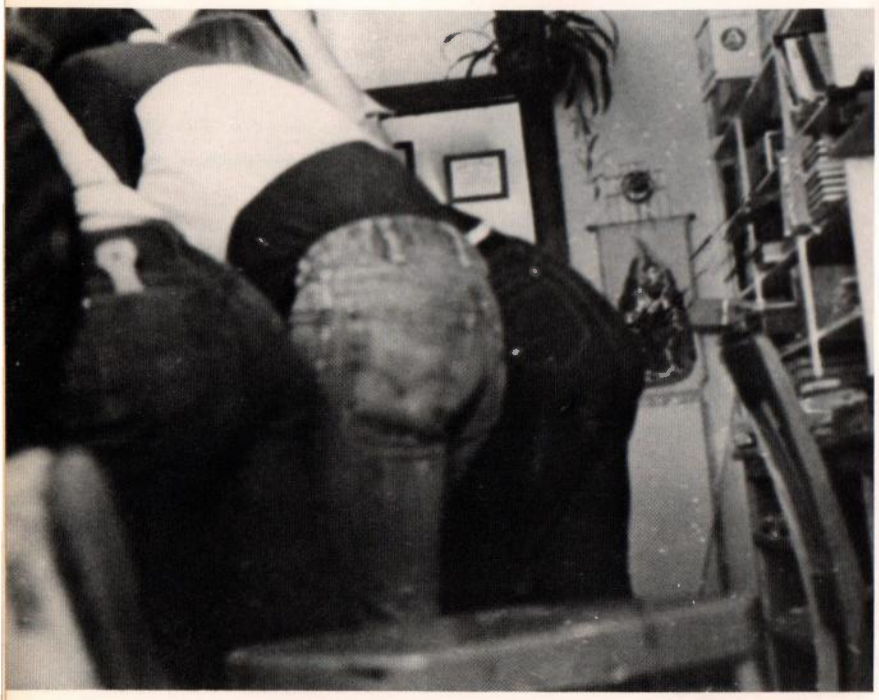
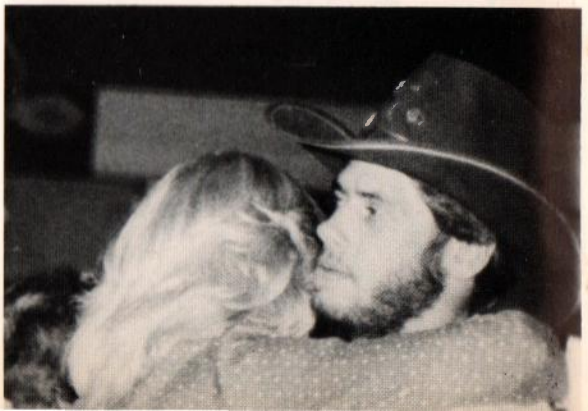
"Old fads never die," this saying was proven true at BHS.

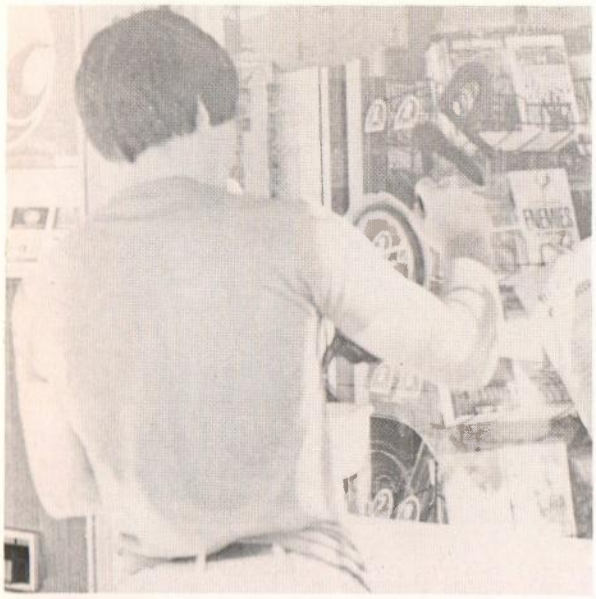
Oldies but goodies such as designer jeans, wool skirts, cowboy hats, pleated pants , and spike high heels all came back this year.

Recreational activities like driving around and through McHose Park are probably considered the "thing to do" in spare time.

Styles this year are more lacy and fancy, the dresses are lighter colors with a lot of lacy trim. Jewelry was worn often this year. The fashion for guys turned toward the West, as in western attire, for example: cowboy boots, belts, hats, bibs, and shirts with yokes.



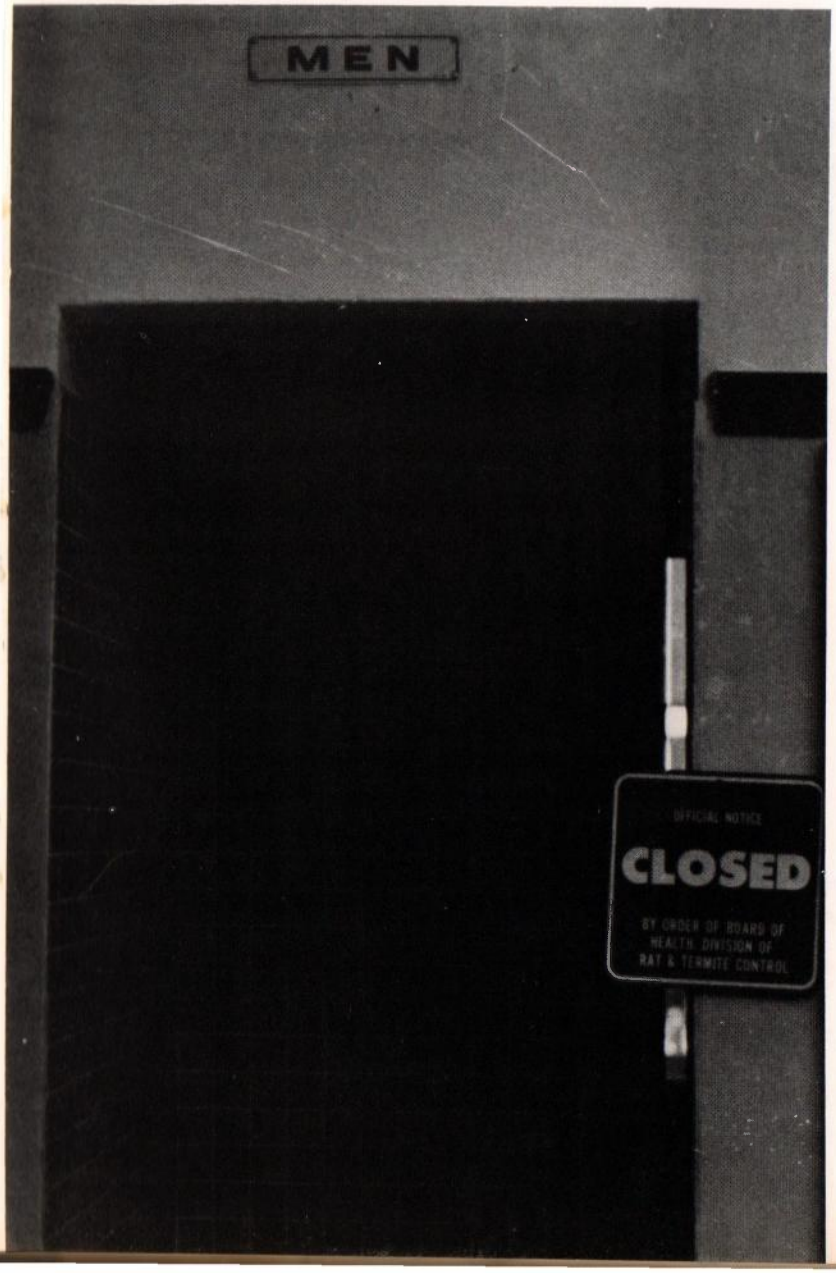


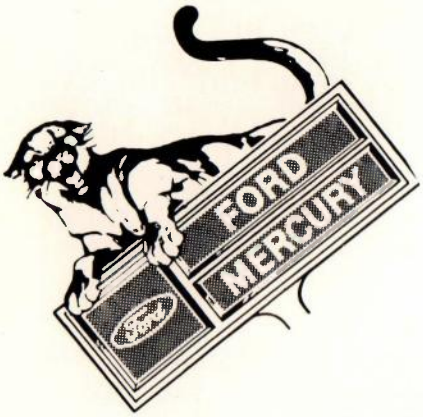


Graffiti is something every teenager uses. Sometimes for humor and sometimes for revenge.

When asked their favorite graffiti, Robin Elsner said,"way to go bud;" Becky Dennert said,"kiss my grits;" Lisa Durham said,"EMR and DAST (what do those mean Lisa??);" Scott Dorr said,"bite the dust;" Darla Dixon said,"bull!!" Nick Boesen said,"Go For It (go for what?? oh that!)."

This year ERA was a big issue, in the voting booths and in government debates, Jill Davis has a favorite quote that fits her thoughts, "Women weren't created to follow in the footsteps of men; only to lead!"

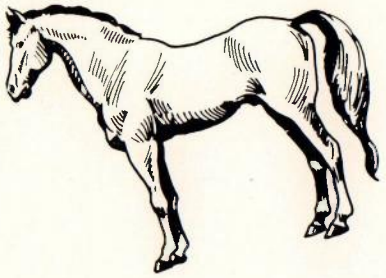




Throughout the school year students of BHS had various places where they knew they could find their friends.

Many eating places such as McDonalds or Hardee's always seemed to have BHS students hanging around.

"G & S" was the famous parking lot where everybody stopped and talked or did what ever they felt like doing. This was a very popular place, but most students always seemed to end up spending most of their time at Boone High School (some spent more time driving around it though!!).



Recreation is a large part of most teenagers lives.

The sport that is on the rise is jogging and physical fittness of all sorts.

Tennis, raquetball, handball, biking, and dancing are also increasing in popularity. Sports such as hunting, fishing, swimming, riding dirt bikes, and partying are still favorites at BHS.

When asked their favorite recreation Tammy Strain said, "working with kids;" Linda Lamb said, "photography, drawing and painting;" Michele O'Brien said, "riding horses and being rowdy;" Teri Fangman said, " man hunting and cruising;" and Steve Russell replied with the simple answer of "GIRLS!"

Old Washington High

Old Washington High was torn down in 1954 when the new addition to BHS was occupied. Washington was standing where BHS students now park their cars, mopeds and motorcycles.

In 1874, the new City Hall was completed and the school board rented four rooms on the second floor for high school classes. These two halls served as the high school until 1878 when the Washington School was built. Washington served as a high school until 1913.

No class officially graduated from BHS until 1880, although 118 students attended before that and some finished the course entered. This class of 1880 had seven members, six girls and one boy. That one boy was John L. Goeppinger. He was the first president of the Alumni Association, and the first graduate to become a member of the school board, later to be elected president.

Since there was no class of 1881, in the 100th year of commencements, the class of 1981 becomes the hundreth graduating class of Boone.

AFS Betina Sanggaard

Betina Sanggaard is one of the AFS students spending the school year at Boone High. She is living with the Clint Sealine family.

Betina is a native of Velek, Denmark, a suburb of Copenhagen. Velek has a population of about 20,000.

Her father, John Svendsen, works in a factory as a machine engineer. Her mother, Inge, is employed as a hairdresser. Betina also has one brother, Christin, who is ten years old.

Betina attends a school with approximately 600 students ranging from grades one to nine. In Denmark children begin school at seven years of age and attend for nine years of study. Whele at school they are required to take such subjects as Danish, English, history, and physical education. Betina's electives include wood shop, German, and world events.

Upon graduation from high school, the Danish students either get a job or continue their education at college. The basic areas of study at college are languages or applied sciences.

When Betina returns to Denmark she plans to attend college as a language major. Following college she hopes to get a job with SAS (Scandinavian Air Service) as a ticket clerk. She also would like to coach soccer or handball in her spare time.

Besides soccer and handball, she enjoys tennis and basketball. Betina participates in sports three evenings a week.

Betina's hobbies include photography and cooking. Some of her favorite foods are pizza, cakes, spaghetti and pancakes. She also commented on American foods as being much like Danish.

AFS Michiyo Kawahara

This year one of the AFS students in Boone is Michiyo Kawahara. She hails from Takamatsu City in southern Japan. This year she is making her home with the Roger McGregor family in Boone.

She is seventeen and has two sisters, ages fifteen and nine. Her father is an electrician and her mother is a housewife and is employed part-time. Some classes that are available to Michiyo in Japan are modern Japanese, Japanese history, chemistry, biology, math, art, and English. In the school they have no study halls and students graduate at fifteen.

Students are required to take three hours of P.E. a week. The school does not teach drivers' education and it costs $30 an hour for driving lessons. She attends six days a week for a total of 40 hours.

The dating process in Japan is very similar to ours. Students start dating at about thirteen and get married at around twenty-two.

Life in a house is different here than at her home in Japan. Here she wears shoes inside and sleeps in a bed instead of on a mat on the floor. Her own house is a combination of Japanese and Western style rooms.

Queen Beth Ballantyne

Friday, October 3, 1980 the Homecoming Coronation ceremony was held in the BHS auditorium at 2:15 p.m. At this time these four girls were very nervous and wondering who would be the next queen. Tom Miller was to crown a queen, instead he crowned Jeff Michel, but the student body didn't care for his dress, so next he crowned Beth Ballantyne. Soon after the crowning she was presented roses and a necklace. A tea followed the assembly to congratulate Queen Beth and her attendants.

He was sweet and he was kind:
a friend that's great, which is hard to find.

He was always a friend thru thick and thin;
he'd make you laugh with his silly grin.
He was funny, crazy and wild;
but to young to die; only a child.
There's nothing we can do, now that he's gone;
just remember him and try to be strong.
