CHAMPION SPELLER

Thomas Rinker was chosen as the Champion Speller of Boone at a contest on March 19 at the Junior High School. Fifteen pupils from the Boone Junior High, Trinity Luthern, and Sacred Heart schools competed.

Tom won the written contest in the first round session and defeated an eighth grade junior high student in the oral contest. A gold medal was presented to Tom by the City Council.

With the State Contest coming up at Des Moines on April 9, our "sixth grader" may be in line for further awards.

THE SCHOOL SAFETY PATROL

On March 11, Mr. Floyd Link of the Iowa Motor Club gave help to the Seventh and Eighth Grade boys who have accepted the responsibility of Safety Patrol. This community service and mark of good citizenship will merit certificates and awards to be presented at the close of the school year.

A movie showing the operation of the School Safety Patrol was shown by Mr. Link to all of the grade school children.

DENTAL SURVEY

Dr. F.S.Hogan and Dr. R.E.Sadler will conduct a Dental Survey for the pupils of Sacred Heart grade school on Thursday, April 21. Mrs. Carolyn Carlson will assist with the examinations.

Freed from winter's burden of snow, Iowa takes on the first soft tints of Spring. It may not be warm, and as yet flowers are few, but Spring is here. Some may already have seen a robin, or children out roller-skating; or the clean-up of lawns. Yes, we have signs of Spring.

With Spring comes Easter. Mother and daughter will be dressed in new bonnets; father and son also in refreshed attire; the bunny will come with eggs so colorful. Yellow fields and new green grass will add splashes of color to Iowa.

All nature suggests the return from death to life. We, too, keep Lent, a time of penance, prayer and meditation, in preparation for the great Feast of the Resurrection of Christ. Only His Way can be the path of happiness; only His Truth can show true beauty, only His Life can raise a dead world back to life.

Dear Mr. Fin,

We are in need of a great fighter and I am sure you are IT. Send me a picture of yourself and a list of all the trophies you have won from the time you were a great and renowned novice 'till the present time.

We cannot ask you for a list of boxers you have fought and K. O. D., but we would like to have one.

Yours truly,

MJ?/bert carney

THE REPLY

Boone, Iowa

Dear Mr. Jacobs:

Under separate cover, I am sending a film-strip showing colored pictures of my trophies. They are so precious I must keep the originals under guard. Anyone I have ever boxed has not survived.

Here is my picture: Age, 12; weight, 259 pounds; teeth, none; height, 13' 4"; hair, mussed up and bleached.

Yours truly,

Fin?/jim bennett

Getting Shot!

Every year 'round this time the Senior Class gets shot. This year the place and time for the massacre was Ames, on March 8. Weeks of preparation were spent getting ready for it.

Came the fatal day! The hair of the girls was much too long for the guillotine; the boys, too short. Rather than mess it, they were taken "as is".

Well, they were ready. They had nothing to fear. They were doing this for their school. Came the man toward them! Who was to be first? Katherine..... scream....."Don't let him get you. You didn't do it."A flash of light -- and all was over.

We hope the pictures are good or this trip to Ames was for nothing.

THE IOWA

The "Iowa" is the name that I gave to the boat I drew in art yesterday. Captain Curran has charge of my ship. He is from Boone. His daughter, Patty, goes to Sacred Heart School and is in my grade.

Well, I will tell you of the ship now. Would you like to hear of it? All right! Then get ready-set-go. One night when Captain Curran was sailing on the ocean, a big storm blew up. It was the worst storm Captain Curran was in. Now it happened that there was a boy named Fred Vitt on the boat. He was brave and the only Catholic on board besides Captain Curran. Fred was a good Catholic and you can probably guess what he did. Well, if you can't I'll tell you. He went to his cabin, knelt down, and said a prayer for the ship, so that it would not drown, and it didn't. A half hour later, when the storm died down, Fred said a prayer of thanks to God, and by that time they saw an island about three miles off. It was the place they were looking for.--Ireland. They stayed three days to get supplies for the boat. Then they left it and after five months got to the United States, where they put a medal on Freddy Vitt.

ST. JOSEPH

In a cozy home in Nazareth lived a carpenter who was sought to build the best homes in the city. He, having a wife and child of his own, understood families and individuals. When consulted about building a home, a stock barn, or chests and cupboards, he knew just what to advise for people. He was so great in his field that he was Captain of industry of his time. However, all this did not make him proud. He was a friend and neighbor to everyone. St. Joseph worked long hours trying to help other people.

Returning home after he finished his work, he would be met by his son, Jesus, and wife, Mary, who brightened the home with their usual cheerfulness to make the family happy. Joseph would bring the bread and wine, and the Divine family would enjoy their evening meal. --Yvonne Fitzgerald

SPORTS

Three of Sacred Hearts boys entered the Des Moines Golden Gloves held at the Des Moines Colliseum on February 2, 3, & 4. The boys entering were Don Vest in the 160 lb. class, Roger Burke in the 147 lb. class, and Jim Morrissey in the 126 lb. class. Don Vest fought his way up to the semi-finals by defeating Earrie Faler of Des Moines by a TKO in the third round of his first fight. The next night he decisioned John Yackovich of Centerville. In the semi-finals he was decisioned by Jack Patterson of Des Moines who was runnerup. Roger Burke lost by a TKO to Harvy Hill of Colfax in his first fight. Jim Morrissey lost to Roger Hayes of Webster City by a TKO in the third round of his first fight. The boys made a good showing as they had no training before the fights.

Jim Morrissey and Don Vest are planning to enter the A.A.U. boxing tournament to be held in Clinton March 30 and 31. Jim Morrissey and Bert Carney will enter the state novice tournament to held in April in Des Moines. The Eagles will sponsor a boxing show on March 25 in the Eagles Hall. This will feature the Boone team against the Des Moines Eagles.
