THE 1952-1953 Boone High Student Council, made up of members elected by the various homerooms, has completed another successful year. By representing the ideas and ideals of the student body and by developing a greater spirit of democracy they achieved their goals.

The Student Council

The Council started the year out right by drawing up a new constitution. Following this, plans were made for a student handbook to acquaint new students with our school system.

One of the major projects of the year was the lining up and judging of the Homecoming Parade, formerly supervised by the Pep Club.

In addition, two pencil machines were installed in the library and study hall to raise money for Student Council pins.

The climax of activities was the traditional sponsoring of Citizenship Day, in April, during which the students of Boone High actually took over the city government.

The Student Council is grateful to their sponsor, Mr. Lovin, for his able guidance.

Pep Club

WORKING IN CO-OPERATION with the Student Council, the Pep Club has tried to promote school spirit and loyalty and generate pep for athletic functions.

The informal initiation of new members in the fall was followed by preparations for the football season, and especially for the Homecoming activities. The club served as a central planning committee for all Homecoming events except the parade.

Between the football and basketball seasons the annual Pep Club banquet was held at the Lincoln Restaurant.

One of the functions of the group is working at the different games. This includes selling from the concession stands, ushering, passing out programs, and collecting for the March of Dimes. The club also plans pep assemblies and other methods of arousing student interest in athletic activities.

The officers for the 1952-1953 season were president, Rosemary Humm; vice-president, Margaret Shafer; secretary-treasurer, Martha Minson; historian, Carol Miller. Advisors were Mrs. Feilmann, Miss Vanderbeck, and Miss Pagel.

Future Nurses' Club

THE FUTURE NURSES' CLUB of the senior high completed its second year here with Mrs. Joel Carlson, the school nurse, as leader. The girls are sponsored by Mrs. Longworth and Mrs. John Wall.

By providing an opportunity for girls who wish to be nurses, the club offers a chance for further exploration in the field. The girls have heard many talented speakers, including Miss Twardokus from Michael Reese in Chicago, and have also taken a field trip to hospitals in Des Moines.

THE CAMERA CLUB was organized into a photography class this year under the direction of Mr. Shadle. The purpose of the class was to teach only the fundamentals of lighting, developing, and printing.

'Y' Groups . . .

WITH THE PACE SET by capable leaders and their projects backed by active interested followers, the members of the 'Y' groups have extended their services over the whole community again this year.

Gathering with friends, having good times, and being an active part of a group are some of the opportunities that the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. offer to any boy or girl in high school. The 'Y' members have taken advantage of these chances by having had picnics, dinners, parties, dances, and other sorts of entertainment. The groups helped needy families at Christmas and Thanksgiving by gathering food for them. Devotions were given at the Eastern Star Home throughout the year by the senior high girls.

The Live Y-ers were under the direction of Miss Behrens, the B-Y-ettes were headed by Miss Witherow, and the advisor for the Hi-Tri was Mrs. Stevens.

Both groups of the Hi-Y sent a few members to the Iowa Hi-Y Youth and Government Assembly. Honor was bestowed on us when Lloyd Courter was elected to the high office of governor. The senior group was led by Mr. Smoot, and Mr. Heyen directed the junior and sophomore group.
