CSMC Holds Annual White Elephant Sale; Returns Reach Record High This Year

The CSMC held a White Elephant Sale on Wednesday, Jan. 23, the proceeds of which have been sent to the Society for the Propagation of the Faith.

Starting the day off with a bang, the senior boys—Jerry Manriquez, Peter Fleming, Duke Conway, and Thomas Fitzgerald auctioned the various packages, donated by students. At the end of the auction Bob Garvey, treasurer, announced that $23.50 had been realized on the sale.

Student Gives Views On National Topics

Students of the American Government classes sent letters to the Editor of the Weekly News Review, giving their views on national topics. The first of these opinions to be published by the nation-wide magazine was written by Delores Headley and concerned our foreign policy.

Delores, an honor student and vice-president of the junior class, is very active in all school projects; in addition, she is an accomplished pianist and organist and a reporter for "Listenin' In."

Bird Flees Winter

I saw a blue jay in the tree,
I saw him looking down at me.
I saw him there again today,
Staring at me in the very same way.
Then came winter with its snow,
Forcing this blue bird South to go.
But soon it will be spring again,
And back he'll come with kith and kin.

SEVENTH AND EIGHTH GRADES PRESENT OUTSTANDING HOBBY SHOW

At the hobby show given by the seventh and eighth grades, the hobbies of Kirby Flanagan, Barbara Pestotnik, Linda Hopkins and Gerald Swan were judged outstanding.

Boasting astronomy as one of his many interests, Kirby Flanagan is the proud owner of a telescope with which he has seen Venus, Mars, and two meteors. Interested also in magic, Kirby has mastered several tricks in which he proves the hand is quicker than the eye.

Rocketry is also enjoyed by this young man of many talents. "Little Genius" was carved from balsa wood by Kirby. It is powered by "Jetex," a capsule which will raise a model rocket weighing up to 5½ oz. and keep it in flight for 13-14 seconds.

Gerald Swan has been raising rabbits for three years and now has a collection of 150. His

To keep activity in full swing an old-fashioned cake walk was held with the senior boys in charge. Made and decorated by Pat Dittmer, the cake was won by Earl Brice.

Popcorn balls and candy were the mediums used to increase the auction fund. In the popcorn balls was a lucky number on two theatre tickets donated by Beth Fangman and won by Colleen Bennett. Hidden inside daintily wrapped candy was another lucky number on a pair of hand embroidered pillow slips, a donation of Rosalie Day. Kathy McDonald was the lucky girl. Freshman and sophomore girls made the popcorn balls while the senior girls provided the candy.

As the afternoon drew to a close, refreshments were served by the junior girls. Hot chocolate was donated and made by Delores Headley and Pat Lacey; the junior and senior girls provided cookies and served the refreshments.

Congratulations are in tone for the high school students, who, this year, set a new high for this traditional sale with a total of $37.01.

In the above picture are Tom Healy, Barbara Pestotnik, Linda Hopkins and Gerald Swan, with the hobbies which they displayed in the seventh and eighth grade hobby show.

Dutch rabbits vary in color from blue to chocolate, while the California variety predominates in his collection.

Last year, Gerald won nine blue ribbons at the Boone County Fair and two red and one blue at the Iowa State Fair. Besides these awards he received a trophy at the Boone County Fair, distinguishing him as "The Most Outstanding Member in the IMMIGRATION PLAYS VITAL ROLE IN U.S.

In New York last June a project called "Operation Unity" was undertaken to raise $5 million to establish at the foot of the Statue of Liberty a Museum of Immigration. Here tribute will be paid to the epic role of immigration in the history and future of America.

Far more important, however, are the efforts of "Operation Unity" to remind people that the United States is a living demonstration that people from many lands can live together in peace and good will.

During Brotherhood Week, Feb. 17-24, let us, students of SHS, strive to remind the citizens of our locality of an unfinished job, that of converting the ideal of brotherhood into a living reality not only in these United States, but also across the face of the earth.

This country was established with the idea that all men are created equal, and therefore have been endowed with equal rights regardless of color, race, or sex. Let us strive, not only during Brotherhood Week but at all times to recognize the individual rights of others and to respect rather than abuse them.

We Have A Duty To Share Goods

Every person has the God-given obligation to share not only material things, but also the non-material things of life. We, as Catholics, possess an even greater obligation because we have been especially chosen by Christ to continue His work on earth.

The non-material things of life can often be more important than the material things. The joy and laughter we share with our friends are indeed non-material but are of great importance in securing happiness on earth. Our present day culture, democracy and freedom we owe to our ancestors who fought and died to make our country free. We should be willing to share these rights with everyone, no matter what his race, creed, or color.

In our constant struggle for eternal salvation, the non-material things of life are far more useful than material things are. Prayer, love, sacrifice and participation in the Communion of Saints are things which Catholics share among themselves and others. Our faith plays the most important part in our daily living. We have the duty to share and spread this faith with those less fortunate than we. We should remember Christ's words, "Go therefore and teach ye all nations."

Shoots Begin To Show On Bulbs For Mothers

Looking ahead several months to Mother's Day, the third and fourth graders have planted individual ranunculus bulbs.

Twelve days after planting, tiny shoots were showing in most of the cups, but alas, several of the bulbs did not grow, due to too much love, care and water—mostly water; however new bulbs have been ordered and the disappointed students are anxiously awaiting their arrival.

Carroll Family Visits Mexico At Christmas

Sleepy villages dotted the landscape of Mexico through which the Carroll family—Mr. and Mrs. Carroll, Annette, Martha, Diane and Gregory—traveled as they took a trip to Mexico during the Christmas holidays.

In an interview, Martha and Diane Carroll of grades five and six explained that the things which impressed them most were the extreme devotion of Mexicans to Our Lady of Guadalupe and the great number of poverty stricken huts which lined the road into a village.

Noticing many strange customs in Mexico, the girls thought the Mexican wedding to be the strangest. Sunday is the traditional day for a Catholic wedding in Mexico. As in the United States the bride wears white; however the couple's car is decorated with a huge bouquet of flowers.

While in Mexico the girls ate a great deal of spicy Mexican food, such as tocas and hot tamales, and were glad to get back to the United States and some down-to-earth food.

Souvenirs of their enjoyable trip to Mexico were purchased by the girls when they toured a leather factory in Monterrey. Hand-painted Mexican skirts, priced at 6 pesos or about $2.88, and matching blouses captured the fancy of the girls.

Enrollment Increases?

Current conversation echoing through the halls of Sacred Heart reveals the enrollment of a group of new students.

"Mildred, wait for me," calls fatilda. "Hurry up, slowpoke!" Gertrude, did you have the car last night?" "I still don't understand some of those geometry proofs," comments Jiggs. "Olive are you going to work tonight?" By the way, where did you go yesterday, Mildred?" asks Agnes. Myrtle and I waited for a half hour for you." "We're not supposed to be noisy in the halls," colds Eva. "There's the bell—hurry up everybody."

If anyone is wondering who these new students really are, listen closely to the conversation of Pat Lacey, Sue Casserly, Pat Pittner, Jane Burke, Beth Fangman, Pat Brice, Marcia Day, and Rosalie Day.

Taking advantage of Tuesday morning's activity period are Linda Hale and Ray Brown, Rosalie Day and Larry Ackerman, Michelle Mlover and Ron Hopkins, and Delores Headley and Bob Garvey.

SPARTANS END SEASON WITH TWO WINS

Victory Falls Short By Six Points As Gaels Steal Win From Spartans

After taking an early lead, Coach Noel Jones' basketballers fell short of victory by only 6 points as St. Edmond's, who whipped Sacred Heart by 20 points in a previous game, won 50-44.

In the opening minutes Sacred Heart went into the lead and might have widened the gap but for four missed lay-ups. The hosts then applied a full court press with which the Spartans could not cope.

A balanced attack brought the Spartans within 6 points of the Gaels.

This 6 point deficit was the closest the Spartans had come to victory.

Mt. Carmel Scalps Spartans In Tournament

In the first round of the diocesan basketball tournament, Sacred Heart was defeated by Mt. Carmel, 68-40.

Jerry Cooper, who moved into the center post to replace Ed Brice, bagged 12 points to share top honors with Duke Conway who netted 13, and Dan Garvey who chalked up 11.

The victors led 19-4 at the end of the first period, 36-16 at half-time, and 54-34 at the end of the third session.

At one time the Spartans cut Mt. Carmel's lead to 13 points by using a full court press.

The faculty and student body express appreciation to Coach Jones, who in capturing and holding the boys' interest has shown the Spartans the way to victory.

SPARTANS IS THE NAME FOR WHICH WE STAND

S is for the spirit that helps us win our games.

P is for prayer asking God's guidance.

A stands for the activity of the cheerleaders and fans.

R stands for righteousness with which we play each game.

T stands for team work, the foundation of success.

A stands for apparel, blue and white for Mary.

N is for the New Year of basketball's rise to fame.

S is for the bright and sunny faces shown at each game.

Managers Play Big Role During Spartan Season

Success of the basketball team this year is due greatly to the planning, scheduling, encouragement, and prayers of managers, Peter Fleming and Tom Brown. To them congratulations and heartiest thanks are extended.

SACRED HEART RIPS ST. MATTHEW'S TEAM

Using a balanced attack, which had been absent in previous games, Coach Noel Jones' Spartans walloped St. Matthew's of Clare, 57-35.

Snapping a 13 game losing streak, the victory added much needed confidence to the team who are competing in basketball for the first time in a number of years.

An output of 18 points by Dan Garvey paced the quintet, while Jerry Cooper assisted with 14, Larry Conway with 13 and Duke Conway with 10.

St. Matthew's tallied 7 points before the Spartans moved quickly into the scoring column to lead 13-9 at the end of the first quarter.

Still in command at halftime, 21-18, a 21 point outburst in the third period put the game on ice for the Spartans.

Sacred Heart connected on 15 of 24 free throws, while Clare hit on only 9 of 23.

Spartans Tounce Clare For Season's Second Win

After defeating St. Matthew's of Clare on Sunday, Feb. 3, the Sacred Heart Spartans turned in a repeat performance the following Thursday, whipping St. Matthew's by a score of 55-37.

Center Jerry Cooper did an outstanding job in rebounding, while Dan Garvey and Larry Conway sparked the offense, flicking in 18 and 17 points, respectively. An addition of 10 points by Duke Conway and 9 by Cooper completed the balanced attack launched by the Spartans.

Owning a 13-6 first period advantage, Sacred Heart went on to lead by 29-14, and 42-22 at the respective quarters.

Garvey's outside shooting, plus Larry Conway's tipping and close in shooting ability gave Sacred Heart a versatile attack.

Forwards Larry Ackerman and Duke Conway turned in a top-notch defensive game.

Sacred Heart Loses To Kuemper In Best Played Game of Season

Following a week of vigorous practice, Sacred Heart came with in a whisker of victory against the Carroll Kuemper varsity reserves.

After being behind by 15 points in the third quarter the Jonesmen lost by a slim margin, 45-43.

At the onset of the opponent's 15 point lead, Sacred Heart was sparked and tallied 7 points in the final two minutes of the third quarter, and trailed by 39-31 going into the last act.

With 10 seconds left the Spartans controlled a tip but missed a long shot and time ran out.

Dan Garvey's 17 point firing paced Boone, while Duke Conway added 11, and Larry Conway 9.

Dawson Player Lends Helping Hand To SHS

As the ball was put into play from out-of-bounds at the Dawson-Sacred Heart game, an ardent Dawson player saw the chance of a lifetime. Every one else was at the other end of the court and he was wide open for a lay-up. A few steps—the shot—and it was good. But alas, to the surprise and embarrassment of the player, two points were chalked up for Sacred Heart. He had shot at the wrong basket.

Spartans Aim For Fame

Spartans may come, Spartans may go,
But the team we have will never be slow.
We meet our foes with all our might,
For we are trained to fight, fight, fight.
Sometimes we win, sometimes we lose.
But what ever happens Sacred Heart makes news.
