

Boone High of the Future

Building Grows in Spite of Winter Weather

When you look at the growing pile to the west, can you imagine it will look like this? We are sure it will when we realize what progress is being made even though the winter weather is trying to delay the work. The only thing that has delayed the construction so far is the failure of the material to reach here on schedule. Now the basement is boarded up so work can be carried on without a stop. The cement for the second floor was poured before the thermometer fell below zero, so that is all right. Several ungainly spirals which belong to the false work for the third floor have appeared since vacation. When that is finished we may look for new surprises every day.

Even in the midst of bustle and excitement of ending a semester, plans for changes in our present building are being made. The order has been sent for about 950 opera chairs for the assembly hall which will be transformed into an auditorium seating over 1,000. The blue prints for the seating arrangements are being made. Plans for many other changes are under way, and it is expected that all will be in readiness by another year.

SERVICE POINT SYSTEM

The new service point system adopted by Boone High will be inaugurated at the beginning of next semester. A certain number of points may be earned for each outside curricular activity to be governed by the time and responsibility of the position. This system tends to distribute the work among a greater number of students since fifteen points is the maximum that any student may have at any one time except in special cases. Such cases may be when a student is doing "1" work in all studies.

A card record system will be used to keep an accurate record of each student's activities from Freshman to Senior, to be available at any time. This record will be especially useful in answering questionnaires sent out by colleges for applicants.

Below is a list of the activities and the students in each. Elsewhere in this issue is a list of classified activities and the number of service points for each.

RADIO EXHIBITION IS SUCCESSFUL

The radio exhibition sponsored by the B. H. S. Radio Club drew a large crowd Wednesday, January 9th. A large number of sets were entered; nine crystal sets, thirty-one single tube sets, four two or more tube sets, and five for exhibition only, making a total of forty-nine.

During the judging of the sets the audience listened to concerts from Louisville, Jefferson City, and other places, made possible through the courtesy of the Cray Hardware Co. A two reel film "The Wizard of Radio" gave a good explanation of the principle of radio. Speeches were made by John Burnside, President of the Broadcast Listeners Section, Mr. Skinner, Sponsor of the Club, and Ralph Knopf the Assistant Announcer at W. O. I., Ames, who described the sending station there.

The meeting was then turned over to the display of sets and the giving of the prizes. These prizes were given by the Cray Hardware Co. and the Iowa Railway & Light Co.

The winners were as follows:

Crystal Sets

First prize—23 plate variable condenser ..... Rodney Snyder
Second prize—100 feet of aerial wire ..... Robert Garske

One Tube Sets

First prize—Baldwin head phones ..... Archie Pohl
Second prize—201-A vacuum tube ..... Lyle Matson, Boxholm
Third prize—22½ volt "B" battery ..... Delmer Bennett

Two or More Tube Sets

First prize—45 volt "B" battery ..... M. J. Higgins
Second prize—Standard head phones ..... Forrest McHose

MEDAL WINNERS

The annual S. L. Moore declamatory contest was held in the High School auditorium Friday, December 14, 1923. The gold medal was awarded to Delancy Silliman, of the Oratorical Section, his subject being "Industrial Paradox." Marguerite Clotfelter in reciting "Naughty Zell," humorous, was presented with the silver medal. The bronze medal was given to Pauline Quinn of the Dramatic Section. The judges were Mr. William Brindley, Fort Dodge, Iowa; Miss Marjorie Gailley, Jefferson, Iowa; and County Superintendent, George Kellogg, Nevada, Iowa.

Miss R. (in study hall): "Order, please."
Jim J.: "Chocolate malted milk."

HI-Y BOYS REPORT STATE CONFERENCE

On December the 12th the much desired mid-week assembly was called, in order that the members of the Hi-Y Club who attended their annual State Conference might have a good chance to tell us about the one which was held at Fort Dodge recently.

"Bill" Hannum, Clyde Paxton, Marlowe Williams, Wilder Canfield, and Walter Lundberg were the delegates. Bill, acting as chairman, gave the schedule of the conference. Then "Packy" gave us some "high lights" on the entertainment, and the "beautiful buildings" which he saw in Fort Dodge. Wilder gave a systematic review of the speeches given at the meetings and also the names of the speakers. He was followed by our illustrious fellow student Walter, who produced a finished oration of the "banquet" which the girls of Fort Dodge High School served. The climax of the report came when Marlowe Williams gave us a fine outline of the last meeting and the wonderful speech that "Dad" Elliott gave the boys as a fitting end to the conference.

After this part of the program was over, chairman "Bill" asked all active Hi-Y members in the audience to stand. They were enthusiastically received by the student body. Neat little pamphlets were passed out containing the names of the officers and members of the Boone Hi-Y Club.

"THE CHARM SCHOOL"

The cast has been chosen for "The Charm School" which is to be given January 31st by the Masque and Buskin Dramatic Club. Cecil Canady and Lenora Hoyer have the leading parts.

"THE GYPSY ROVER"

Look ye! The gypsies are coming! Of course they aren't real gypsies but members of the Girls "A" Glee Club and the Boys' Glee Club. They are going to give an operetta "The Gypsy Rover" in the High School auditorium on January 16th at eight o'clock.

The story is built around the character of Rob, later known as Sir Gilbert Howe, of English nobility. Rob is stolen when an infant by his nurse, Meg, who later becomes the wife of Marto, a gypsy. Rob grows to manhood among the gypsies, believing Meg and Marto to be his parents.

It happens one day, while riding with her fiancé, Lord Craven, Lady Constance Martendale becomes lost in the woods. They wander to a gypsy camp where Constance and Rob meet and fall in love at first sight. Lord Craven, objects to this but is made to tell Sir George Martendale, who comes in search of Constance, that Rob is a charming fellow.

Rob goes to the home of Constance and serenades her. They plan to elope but are overheard by Lord Craven, who tells Sir George, and plans are made for the capture of Rob. This is successfully accomplished and Rob is thrown into prison, but later escapes.

Two years elapse, and Rob has come into his estate, his identity having been proven by Meg. He becomes a successful composer, a friend of the Prince, and a social lion. Constance, thinking him lost, has vowed she will never marry, but they meet and the story ends in the proper way, "They lived happily ever after."

The cast is as follows:

"The Gypsy Rover"

Time—About 1778 in the reign of George the Third

Meg, Rob's foster mother

Zara, the belle of the gypsy camp

Marto, Meg's husband

Sinfo, gypsy lad in love with Zara

Rob, afterwards Sir Gilbert Howe, the Gypsy Rover, lost heir to the Sir Gilbert Howe Estate

THE NEW YEAR

The New Year, 1924, has at last arrived. How long the time has seemed to those of us who have been waiting to make our new resolutions and start with a clean sheet.

The year 1923 was quite a dismal failure to most of us so far as keeping new made resolutions was concerned. We had no trouble in laying plans on New Year's morning 1923 to keep that year absolutely unscotched by any fault or misdemeanor of ours.

But by seven a.m. of the first day of school after the year 1923 has opened it became clear that our resolutions to rise promptly on being called the first time was ill advised as it happened that that morning was the morning after the night before, and we felt just like turning over for one more little wink. O fatal wink! For we barely escaped being late for school and so one perfectly fine resolution passed into history badly injured. So it went with 1923—one after another of those little resolutions fell like a row of dominoes.

But now—oh joy—the New Year is here! We rise up with a new strength of purpose—a stronger will power with the violations of the old year behind us and a clean record before us.

WINTER SPORTS

Now is the time to have the time of your life. Winter! Snow and ice galore, and fun. There is nothing that can cause more pleasure than skating or sliding (not even ice cream or candy). Even if you can't skate you can have a lot of fun falling down, or go sliding, anybody can do that.

Another thing that everyone likes is bob parties. Think of the fun, and then hot oyster soup afterwards. Snowball fights are popular and is a good way to get revenge. Think of all the good times you can have in Winter and then decide which season you like best.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

There is a tribe in Africa averaging but four feet in height? The little people are said to be very brave and attack things much larger than themselves. Wish some people we knew would be that way.

Steam heating in England is scarcely known? Even in the large hotels a guest wanting heat, lights his own fire and pays the management from fifty cents to a dollar for the privilege. No wonder Englishmen are noted for being cold blooded.

A STANDARD METHOD

There has been in the preceding years, a movement afoot for the establishment of an international language called Esperanto. A Russian conceived the idea and tried to induce the countries to take it up, but the author created some new letters which sympathetic newspapers and publications did not possess so it did not receive the attention due a new idea of international importance.

Now the standard language is not of much concern to us, but a standard method of spelling our names is. I introduced my editorial by mentioning Esperanto because its directing principle is "to make use of everything common to the civilized languages and drop that which is special to anyone of them."

Why couldn't this simple rule be applied in spelling our names? Of course if one's name is "Smith" they desire to be a little above the ordinary so they spell it "Smythe." Likewise the "Greene's" and the "Brownes'". I suppose you'll tell me it's none of my business, and you are right. But, "what's in a name?" and there is some point to my story. When some poor editor sits down to proof read a lot of copy like our "Who's Who" in this issue, he finds it pretty hard to remember just how everyone spells his name. Before he gets through he begins to wonder why all the names ending phonetical "sun" don't compromise on "sun" instead of some being spelt "son" or "sen" and still others "sunn." Of course it's hard to change a family name, but some editors will be happy when "Edythe" and "Jayne" and several different species of plain "Lou" go out of style.

ALARM CLOCK WANTED!

Did you make a New Year's resolution? Did it sound as good as this? "I will not be tardy this year!" If it didn't it really is not too late to make another one.

The resolution "not to be tardy" is the best ever made. For it not only helps you to pep up and show a little life, but it helps the whole school. If on time—

You don't interrupt a class, just nicely started, by straggling in with a yellow admit.

You might help make it, so we wouldn't have to listen to Mr. Umbriet's monthly speech on tardiness.

You will help to give our school the best record for the least number tardy.

Best of all you will not be forming that awful habit of "always behind" for yourself. So why not be on time? Start 1924 out right by making this resolution, and then remember that resolutions are made to be kept.

A MOTION PICTURE MACHINE

Did you know that Boone High may have a motion picture machine? The screen for showing the pictures has been painted on the wall back of the stage. Perhaps you noticed it if you attended the Radio Exhibition. On January 19th, the firm who is to sell us the machine will give a demonstration in the afternoon and evening. Three films, "The Prince and the Pauper," "The Glacier," and "Aesop's Fables" are to be shown. The new curtains adorning the upper part of the assembly windows, put up during vacation, are part of the equipment as they make it dark for afternoon demonstrations. Won't moving pictures help the eighth period pass quickly, though?

"FIELD TRIP" FOR B. H. S. JOURNALISM CLASS

Tuesday, December 11th, the members of the Journalism Class took a trip to the Standard Printing office and saw the Bumble "B" Christmas number in various stages of development. The forms for the ads and the cover were shown, the actual printing was being done, the folding machine was at work, and even the work of the saw trimmer was shown.

The linotype was perhaps the most interesting, and each of us watched while the type for our own individual name was being set. Some of the class spent part of their time trying to stand on their heads to read different articles in type forms but they soon gave it up as almost impossible.

Next we were instructed as to the printing of other forms. The automatic printing machine they use for this purpose made us open our eyes with wonder and admiration, that so many sheets of paper could be printed so perfectly in such a short time.

Then we came to the folder which was another interesting machine. To watch the rapidity with which it folds Bumble "B" pages, leaves you breathless. It is an immense machine and it requires a person to watch and keep the sheets going in regularly. A girl stood at one end of this machine with a little rubber pusher letting the sheets go into it one at a time. The machine must first be regulated as to the size of the sheet so when it comes out the edges are all even. It has five folding knives each capable of making a different fold in the paper. If only one fold is wished or just two folds they can easily be made by simple adjustments; and the paper delivered in any one of three packing boxes, according to the number of folds made in the sheet. It has twelve speeds but the higher speeds are seldom used. And so our Bumble "B's" are folded like many other papers.

I'm sure the Journalism Class will appreciate the Bumble "B" even more now since they know just how they are made.

B. H. S. PLAYERS MEET

Miss L. Blancke Demonstrates the Art of "Making-up"

On January 7th, the B. H. S. Players met in the usual place and at the usual time for their first meeting in the New Year. At this time Miss L. Blancke talked to the members on "Making-up." She explained that stage make-up, that which must withstand the glare of the footlights, is very much different from ordinary street make-up. First a layer of foundation cream is applied, this fills up the pores of the skin, then a foundation coating follows, of which there are seven different shades though only the one best suited to the complexion of the character is used. The eyes should be made-up next. Grey and blue coloring is applied to the eyelids to accent the brightness of the eyes and at this stage of the game the patient looks rather ghastly, especially after the mouth has been painted bright red. This is remedied by rouging the cheeks and soon the homeliest person looks beautiful—as long as he keeps out of the strong sunlight.

By applying the right color at the right place a blonde can be made into a striking brunette; or a boy of sixteen may be made into a man of sixty. The greatest trick in showing age is to put the bright color low in the cheeks and use grey and blue to make shadows and hollows.

Helen Hannum and Dan Goodykoontz assisted Miss Blancke by consenting to lend themselves as subjects so the members of the Dramatic Club would fully understand the art and see how the results should turnout, if they should ever find it necessary to use the rabbit's foot and rouge-pot.

A certain young fellow named Groat Was a demon at rocking the boat; He tried his pet whim On a girl who could swim; All they found was his hat and his coat.

LET'S GO B. H. S.

Listen students, wouldn't it be fine to earn a little money? The State Historical Society of Iowa, in co-operation with the Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs, is making a splendid offer.

Iowa is full of interesting material for pioneer stories. Your fathers and grandfathers can tell you lots of things about the early history of Boone. Make it into a story and hand to Miss Cruikshank or any member of the Bumble "B" Staff.

These are the subjects and prizes:

Group One

First prize ----- $150
Second prize ----- 100
Third prize ----- 50
(Essays not to exceed 2,000 words)

Subjects

The Story of My Grandmother.
The Story of My Grandfather.
An Old Settler's Story.
The story must be a true one and relate in some way to Iowa.

Group Two

First prize ----- $150
Second prize ----- 100
Third prize ----- 50
(Essays not to exceed 2,000 words)

Subject

A Story in the History of My Community.
This essay must be a true story suggested to the writer by a reading of Herbert Quick's "Vandemark's Folly" or "The Hawkeye."

Group Three

First prize ----- $150
Second prize ----- 100
Third prize ----- 50
(Essays not to exceed 1,500 words)

Subject

What Iowa Means to Me.
An additional prize of $100 will be awarded to the best of the three first prize essays, if in the judgment of the State Committee anyone of the three is worthy of such award.
Any student of B. H. S. is eligible to compete for these very much worthwhile prizes. Essays or stories are to be completed and handed in not later than February 15, 1924.
Here is a great chance, take it up!

ENROLLMENT

"What did you sign up for? Gee! Did ya? So'd I."

On Friday, December 20th, 1923 all eighth period classes were omitted and enrollment for next semester was taken in various rooms. The figures have not as yet been totaled but there will probably be around 800.

Here's hoping that the new addition is soon finished, else we'll have to walk three deep.

WILL WONDERS NEVER CEASE?

"Appearances are often deceiving." So Miss Crawford, one of our teachers thinks after her very "janitorial" experience this summer on her trip to Leland Stanford University in California.

Miss Crawford and a friend of hers visited this famous institution one afternoon last summer and joined a group of people who were conversing with an elderly man whom they supposed might be the janitor. Later, this gentleman proceeded to point out to them all the important places of interest and gave the history of each as though he was a very frequent visitor of the place. They explored, conversed, laughed and stayed all afternoon in the company of this man. Before leaving they took pictures of each other and after thanking him profusely, Miss Crawford asked him his name. Can you picture her surprise when he answered, "My name is Jordan." Perhaps it would interest you to know that David Starr Jordan is Chancellor Emeritus of Leland Stanford University, ex-president and ex-professor of Biology and Zoology at Lombard University at Galesburg, Illinois, and Butler University of Indiana at Bloomington, author of a considerable number of books, and in general, one of the leading American educators.

The above picture of Miss Crawford and Dr. Jordan is convincing proof that her tale of the genial, white-haired old man is true.

Walt. W.: "Where do bugs stay in winter?"

Pete P. (wittily): "Search me."

DE MOLAY NEWS

On Friday, December 21st, the De Molays held their last meeting of the year at the Masonic Temple. There was a banquet for the members and the Masons, followed by an interesting program by the De Molays with Garland Hancock as toastmaster. New officers have been elected and they will be installed at the next regular meeting. A very prosperous year is expected with the new officers taking the lead.

"I hear your boy devotes a great deal of his time at the university to Mah Jongg?"

"I'm so glad he has taken to an old lady. I was so afraid he'd fall for some flapper."

THE BROOK

The brook was a narrow winding brook. Violets and buttercups which grew along the banks, reflecting in the water, made the spot very beautiful. The birds sang very sweetly. A large willow tree bent over the water, by the little white bridge made of logs. The grass was very green, and here and there a little violet peeped up out of the grass. The children loved to come there to play with their dolls because it was so quiet. It was a very restful spot.

It was a cold day in winter and the brook was frozen over. The marks of many skates showed on the ice and there was a jolly crowd of young people skating on it. The echo of their laughter was heard on the stillness of the frosty air. The faint glow of the sunset was in the west and it seemed to shine in their faces. The skaters wore bright colored scarfs, caps, and sweaters and they made the brook look quite gay.

AN EARLY MORNING
IN SUMMER

The sun was just rising and the birds, finding it out, had begun to sing. The flowers were just lifting their heads, and the leaves of the trees, bushes and flowers were covered with pearly dew. The sunflower had already turned its face toward the sun. It was cool and the few people up at that early hour wore sweaters or light coats. The cool air made the people feel full of pep.

NOTE—These sixth grade themes are typical of Iowa weather.

WEATHERMAN OUTWITTED

"Foiled!" roared the weatherman Monday, December 31st, when in spite of the snow and cold he saw stocking capped, knickered Hi-Y-Ettes and booted, be-sweatered Hi-Y boys ploughing through the storm to the Y. M. C. A. The plan had been to have a joint picnic at Riveria but as the Interurban was not running well (on account of the storm) that could not be. But you can't out do our "Y" boys and girls so they went to the Y. M. C. A. for a one o'clock dinner. The eats were very much enjoyed even if some (who knew) thought the pickles tasted a little like rubber and the salad was too soupy. After dinner "Sherm" performed some very daring stunts for the ladies and "pitchers" were taken. Then deciding it was just the right weather to go skating, they spent the rest of the afternoon at the Roller Rink. So after all, the "Y" Camp had not been visited but they all had a dandy time.

HERE AND THERE

A chorus of girls, from the "A" Glee Club, "singed" at the Woman's Club the evening of December 11.

Josephine Wenzel, was absent from school several days the week of December 9th on account of illness.

"Bill" Hannum and Wilder Canfield nearly turned into two icicles Monday, December 31st, when after spending the night at Riveria they found the cars were not running and they were snowed in. Both boys were very brave, however, and finally a car came to bring them home.

Friday, December 21st, Grace Jones '25 was given a surprise dinner at her home, 309 Linn Street, in honor of her sixteenth birthday. After dinner hours were spent in dancing, singing, mistletoe (?) and everything.

Wednesday evening, December 26th, a bunch of girls went to "Long Live the King" and then to Mary Merrick's to plan for a "Chorus Girls' Party" to be held the 29th.

Friday evening, December 29th, Mary Merrick entertained the Bridge Club at her home. Guests of the evening were Virginia Campbell of Chicago, Mary Fick, Helen Hannum, and Vera Forbes. The girls had a dandy time.

Saturday evening the 29th, Helen Hannum entertained a number of "Chorus Girls," all dolled up like the follies. The girls spent a wild evening, playing Michigan, "ateing" and "radio-ateing."

The "gang" celebrated New Year's afternoon by going to see "Anna Christie."

Helen Wells entertained four couples at "Mah Jongging," Michigan, dancing, and eating, December 28th. This dandy time was given for Mary Sherman of Mason City.

"Al" Herman and some boys gave a party to some of the girls at his home December 31st and January 1st. Dancing was enjoyed till the 10:30 theatre party—then the "eats" at—oh sometime after 12:00.

We were all very much s'prised to hear of the marriage of Leone Koebrick, a Junior in B. H. S. Many congratulations Leone!

Gertrude Propst entertained a number of girl friends at a dinner party, Saturday, January 12th, in honor of her sixteenth birthday.

Mary Fick entertained "the gang" after the Colfax game. Divine (?) divinity proved the chief entertainment.

The Domestic Science classes delightfully entertained their mothers at a luncheon Wednesday and Thursday, January 9th and 10th. Judging from the odors, the girls can cook up some pretty good things.

V. Cobb: "There is sand in this bread."

J. Clapp: "Yes. That's to keep the butter from sliding off."

RADIO CLUB GIVES STUNT

Radio! the cause of so many sleepy eyes and fertile tongues around and about B. H. S. proved itself capable of entertaining the whole student body at a stunt program given by members of the Radio Club on Tuesday, January 8th.

A radio set installed on the stage furnished the entertainment. The program consisted of some of the "best numbers" from a few of the "large" radio stations all over the U. S. We appreciated your program "radioites." Try it again sometime!

Ray Madden announced the plans of "The Gypsy Rover" to be given soon. Ted Ashford then took the lines and put across some good arguments for the Boys Glee Club.

The assembly closed with a few announcements from Mr. Umbreit.

SPORTS

BOONE OUTCLASSES THE
NEWTON TEAM

Beaver Defeats Seconds

The Newton High basketball team was defeated here Friday evening by the fast Boone High quintet by a score of 28 to 18. Boone held the lead throughout the game and it was only once in the last half that Newton had a chance to tie the score.

Anstrom and Halleen starred for Boone by their clever floor work and basket shooting. The rest of the squad did remarkably well and kept Newton on the jump every minute. Those playing for Boone were: Anstrom, Halleen, Hannum, Caldwell, Johnstone, Lilyard, Canady, Torrey, Crary, Anderson, Nunamaker, and Paxton.

Seconds Defeated

The second team met strong opposition when they met the Beaver High School team and were forced to take the small end of a 24 to 4 score. Although the Boone seconds were outclassed in both size and ability, they kept up the old Boone fight to the end and never allowed the visitors to stall.

Those representing Boone against Beaver were: Stumbo, Moore, Nutt, Lidell, Grimm, Sullivan, McVicker, and Edson.

B. H. S. TAKES FIRST GAME

Colfax Downed 33 to 18

Leading in every part of the game Boone High basketball team won its first game of the 1924 season to the tune of 33 to 18 from Colfax High on the home floor, Friday, January 4th.

Many substitutions were made by "Duke" and the way it appears now there will be no first team, but three first teams; for the squad is particularly well balanced this season. Anstrom, our flashy little guard showed up well as did also Caldwell and Halleen, forward and center respectively. Of these three men, each made four goals while in the game.

The curtain raiser resulted in a win for our second team from the Ogden quintet by the score of 12 to 11. Moore and Nutt showed up well for Boone.

The line-up follows:

Boone—33 Colfax—18

Anstrom	R. G.	Morris
E. Canady	L. G.	Sappe
Halleen	C.	Penquite
Caldwell	R. F.	Plummer
Johnstone	L. F.	Gould

Substitutions: Boone — Nunamaker for Canady, Crary for Torrey, Hannum for Nunamaker, Stumbo for Anderson, Paxton for Stumbo, Lilyard for Halleen, Anderson for Anstrom, Anstrom for Anderson.

Colfax — Lanning for Plummer, Moore for Gould.

Referee: Sherman, Des Moines.

Boone 2nd's—12 Ogden—11

Grimm	R. G.	Lark
Nutt	L. G.	Rose
Lidell	C.	Kruse
Edson	R. F.	Case
Moore	L. F.	Councilman

Substitutions: Boone—McVicker for Edson, Edson for McVicker.

Referee: Sherman, Des Moines.

CLASS BASKETBALL

The class basketball season is now in full sway, the games starting Monday night of last week. The reason for class basketball is to make athletics possible for all students and therefore the varsity squad are not allowed to play. There are eight teams this year, both divisions of each class being represented. The boys will use the gym on Monday and Wednesday after school because the girls have the use of it on Tuesday and Thursday for their games.

The games will be played in Round Robin Fashion, that is, every team will play every other team. The two teams with the highest percentage at the end will play a game to decide the championship. This game will be played as a curtain to a varsity game.

The scores of the games played so far are:

I's	8	II's	7
III's	7	IV's	3
V's	6	VI's	12
VII's	1	VIII's	11

BOONE-COLFAX PEP
MEETING

"All we want is pepability
Someone to be pepable for us—
We're so very pepable ourselves
We like pepable society—
We have pepable sentiments
Pepable dispositions, pepable tem-

peraments
Boone Hi's as pepable as pepable
can be,
But she could use more pepability."

—Basketball Squad.

Talk about "pep"—Boone Hi sure has it—it's pep! pep! and nothin' else. On Friday, January 5, 1924, we had another real pep meeting. It was the first basketball pep meeting this year. It started out with lots of life—(that is—life with the students, not Miss Colfax) and ended the same way. A clever stunt was given by some of our non-brilliant students, insinuating the death of Miss Colfax—just intimate friends of the latter having charge.

Those taking the part of the Colfax team—"Butch" Davis, Willis Standley, Lytle Jones, Mina Moxley the corpse, Miss Gertrude Elizabeth Susie Colfax, "Polly" Pollard.

A hymn was sung by "Don" Curtis, "Yes We Have No Bananas," in French. Garland Hancock acted as minister. The coffin was held up by four of Boone Hi's strong men, but, two safety pins held up the minister's trousers.

"I have burned my bridges behind me."

The lady looked slightly surprised but nobly came to the rescue.

"Oh, in that case," she said, "I will lend you a pair of my husband's."

HI-Y-ETTE NOTES

"As those 'Y' girls go skating along."

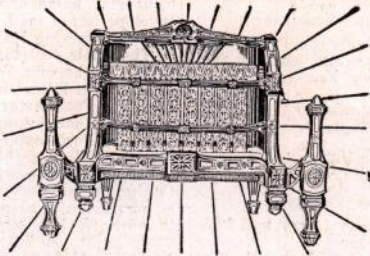

So sang the Hi-Y-Ettes Thursday, December 13th, as they roller-skated up at the rink. Originally, an ice-skating party had been planned, but as ice was conspicuously absent, roller-skating proved a good substitute and in spite of the fact that not all came, who had promised, the girls had a grand old time and are making plans for another to be held soon.

Quite a few Hi-Y-Ettes sold Red Cross buttons Saturday, December the 15th.

The Hi-Y-Ettes' Cabinet held their monthly supper and business meeting, Wednesday, January 9th. Mary Fick had charge of the discussion which was on "Friendship."

"Oh! that I were a river so I could stay in bed."

Englishwoman: "My word! What fierce birds you have in America."

Little boy: "A strange man came to see you to-day father."

Father: "Did he have a bill?"

Son: "No, just a plain nose."

Ted: "Why does a hen lay eggs only in the day time?"

Asininity: "Because she's a rooster at night."

Sherm: "Well that doesn't matter."

Daughter was admiring her beautiful new silk dress.

"Isn't it wonderful," she said, "that all this beautiful silk comes from an insignificant worm?"

"Daughter, is it necessary to refer to your father in that manner?" inquired her mother.

Earl C.: "I wonder why these boys all have lemons at the football game."

"Butch" D.: "Dunno, they might, be hard up for something to squeeze."

Father (at top of stairs): "What are you two doing down there?"

Daughter: "We're going to play 'Sweet Kisses' on the Victrola."

Father: "Would you just as soon play it on the davenport? Two are pretty heavy for the victrola."

The proud parents wanted to weigh the new baby, and as there were no scales available they borrowed a pair from the ice-man. The baby weighed sixty-five pounds.

Which?

Freshman test paper. The submarine cable is the means of communication between the sub-marines and land.

Senior test paper. Robert Burns is the author of "The Cotter's Saturday Night Out."

A HUNTING STORY

The other day Lytle Jones came into room twenty-six and said, "Wanta hear a good story?" The reporter immediately became interested, and after a little coaxing "Jim" complied with the following "Tail." "Well, last week, 'Butch' and I were hunting down by the river, and you know (we didn't but we said we did) we saw a human head, you understand, a human head floating down the river, and it was saying, 'I have nobody! I have nobody! Nufsed!'"

EXTRA!

After lengthy consideration, the judges in the contest, "The ways of our dumb animals" have awarded the handpainted boneless banana to Wesley alias "Ivory" Shull. In a very idiotic way Mr. Shull told about his wonderful habit of putting his pay envelope into a mail box so as to help feed the starving Knights of the R. F. D. The whole postoffice force owes him many thanks and Wesley is proudly exhibiting a letter sent to him collect from the Postmaster General offering to him the magnificent opportunity of becoming Postmaster at Mary Brown's Crossing. We wish him good luck.

Second prize goes to Sir Richard Canier, and consists of a blotter which he may have if he pays for the same in advance. His story has not been made public yet but we have it from an unreliable source that there is a woman, a Christmas present and a watch chain in the plot.

SURPRISING NOMENCLATURE

Have you ever been curious about the names around Boone Hi? Have you ever wondered about the commonest names and the oddest names, girls' names and boys' names and all sorts of names? Well, we have and this is to tell you all about it, too. Of course, we will tell about the "ladies" first.

The first common name one naturally thinks of is Mary. From time everlasting there have been Marys and many, many of them, but in B. H. S., Mary is outclassed for once, and Helen leads with sixteen names to her credit. However, close behind her, comes Ruth with fifteen and then Mary with fourteen. After her, comes Marie, Mary's French cousin, with the unlucky thirteen, and Mildred and Edna with ten apiece. Then, comes Lucille and Hazel with seven and Alice and Louise, who tie with six.

Then as to the girls who have the odd names. We have a French Amine; an Avenelle; a little Freshman, Donna; a Glada; Isadora, our Algebra "fiend"; our foreigner, Dagmar; Maurita; Nitella; Zola; and Vava, a sister to the Canady's.

And now for the boys! Again, contrary to our expectations, John does not head the list but Ray and Raymond, (which is the same) who lead with thirteen. But following very closely, comes John and George, fighting every inch of the way for supremacy. Each has twelve to his credit. Next comes Howard with ten and right upon his heels Marvin and Herbert, with one less apiece. Then comes Charles, Edward, and Harold, in an even more hotly contested battle, with eight names and lastly Clarence with seven.

The boys seem to have many more odd names than the girls and it was rather hard to decide which were oddest. We have Fridolph, Collingwood, and Wilder, Kyle, Paris, and Gross. Randall and Truman from the football squad, and Addison and Birchard from the Bumble "B" staff.

Anderson seems to be the most popular last name and it is rather curious to note, that we have two Ruth Andersons and two Harold Andersons, also two Mary Davis'.

In the names common to both boys and girls Francis and Frances lead with a large majority. We have also a boy Hortense and a girl Hortense, several Faye's and quite a few Marions and Marians.

By any other name would smell as sweet."

Vera F.: "What is the difference between a hair dresser and a sculptor?"

Buell: "Easy. The hair dresser curls up and dyes and the sculptor makes faces and busts."
