

Lincoln High---Boone Tankmen's First Foe

'As I See It' the all-student cheering section should be a boon to school spirit. I can well remember times when no one would think of not sitting in the student section and not yelling. The bleachers were so jammed with students that no adults attempted sitting there. Maybe you'll be able to make as much noise now as the seventh grade home rooms did when they were learning the yells. And that would be NOISE.

Furthermore, along this line, 'As I See It' there are several 'musts' for Boone High students which bring complaints from townspeople and visitors alike.

1. Learn the yells and yell—following the cheer leaders.
2. Choose cheerleaders with much vim, vigor, and vitality.
3. Back the players, win or lose. Stay to the game's end and never let them down, regardless of the score.
4. Show courtesy to all visitors (players and rooters) and town folk. A few unmannerly students gain a bad reputation for all.
5. Accept the officials' decisions even though you may not understand them. Do you know all the rules—and don't you ever make mistakes?
6. Be loyal to the coaches and their tactics. After all, they know what they're doing and know their players better than you do. And I must say that any students, boys or girls, who influence players to work against a coach's requests are as much responsible for a game loss because of the misdemeanor as are the players themselves.
7. Set a good example for others. Remember those younger than you are Boone High's future rooters and players. Players take special note here, too, for you have a greater influence than you may ever realize.
8. Support the girls' squad—they work hard and play hard for Boone High too.
9. Never let your school or team be run down by others if you can tactfully prevent it, but don't make a scene.
10. Boost a democratic pep club, intent on one thing—school spirit. Hasn't the club made great strides in the past two years? Don't run down your pep club—co-operate with it and support it. Rome wasn't built in a day, you know. By the way, have you ever tried to out-yell the red jacketed girls near you in pep meetings? Try it—bet you can't do it.
11. Players should respect their coaches, their squad members, their backers, their school, and their home town and bring honor to all of these, not by the victory, but by their courtesy at home and away from home.

As a member of this community, 'As I See It,' we have unfortunately many adult members who do not follow the above 'musts.' This is a situation which you and I both regret but which we can not easily correct, if at all.

—Mrs. Brunner.

Found New Activity

If you can write, speak, direct, or produce, there is a place for you in the Radio Club that is now being organized by Mr. Baird.

This club is just in the beginning stages, and Mr. Baird says that membership will be open at all times. There are twenty members now.

There are three main categories in which one may work, (1) script writing, (2) announcing, (3) production and direction. The main purpose of this club will be to present the monthly radio program, 'Citizens of Boone, 1960.' This program will be written, directed, produced, and presented over KWBG by the club members.

Anyone who is interested in future radio work should find this club very profitable.

Scholl Presents 1,000 Club Concert

Boone High's own Konrad Scholl presented his seventh annual 1,000 Club concert on Monday, December 4, in the high school auditorium.

Accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Sylvia Gunn, he played such outstanding numbers as Mozart's 'Concerto in D Major,' which had been in a private collection in France until 1933; and a very unusual number, 'The Ghost Dance' by Levy, which had never before been played in Boone until Monday.

Mr. Scholl went to high school in Jasonville, Indiana, about 60 miles from where Mr. Solar attended school at Clinton. While in high school, he worked in the coal mines to pay his tuition to the Jordan Conservatory of Music in Indianapolis. He completed his musical training at Ohio University and Colorado College. Previous to teaching in Boone, he taught in Casper, Wyoming. During the last world war, he worked at the steel plant in Athens, Ohio.

The entire Scholl family is musically inclined. Mrs. Scholl used to accompany Mr. Scholl on the piano. However, she discontinued being his accompanist around 20 years ago when Sonia was born. Sonia, their daughter, was concert master of the orchestra while attending high school. She is now majoring in voice at Iowa State Teachers' College.

Music Department to Present Yule Program

The music department will present its annual Christmas program on December 17, in the high school auditorium.

With the entertainment arranged in three parts, the orchestra, chorus, and band will follow the traditional program. However, the first part, which is being kept very secret until the seventeenth, is going to be something very different. What will it be? Come and see!

The remaining part of the program is as follows:

The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Scholl will present Correll's Instrumental Concerto with

You Can't Help Him That Way!

Boone Prepared For Indian Invasion

The Boone High School Treaders will play their second conference cage meet of the season on December 8, when they will meet the Oskaloosa Indians on the home floor. These are the boys who last year snatched Boone's chance for the conference title by sinking a free throw in the last 20 seconds of the game and defeating Boone by one point.

Oskaloosa has great expectations in their center, Tilford, and two boys by the name of Kitchen. The forecasts made by coaches and sportswriters place the Indians not below third place in the C.I.C.

The Oskaloosa boys are headed by Coach Charles Mason.

'Y' Groups Active

Every girls' 'Y' group from the seventh grade through the junior college will be found at the First Baptist Church on December 21, enjoying a pot luck supper. Following the meal, each group will participate in the program, high lights of which will be 'The Littlest Angel' and 'The Night Before Christmas.'

It takes a lot of exercises to keep Uncle Sam fiscally fit.

Believe It or Not

Even Robert Ripley would have been taken aback slightly at Boone's speech activity roll call. To the surprise of many people, it seems that the speech activities have grown to a staggering proportion since the expanded program was begun two years ago.

The speech department program is a varied one, going from junior college to kindergarten. Its in-school activities comprise one dramatic and two speech classes that meet daily, two English classes each day, and two junior college speech classes that meet twice a week. Besides that, 40 people through the entire school system are given a corrective speech lesson each week, and 125 other pupils with speech defects are now being examined. During the first twelve weeks 200 to 250 English students were reached with six weeks' work in their classes.

A great many students participate in outside speech activities. The fall play had 51 in its cast and crew. Seventeen took part in the sophomore interpretive reading contest. Thirty-six have been in junior high speech activities so far. Five people have already appeared on the radio and eight more will appear on the December program. Seventy people in high school and junior college did choral reading in the National Education Program.

Contest speech work is in progress now. From 15 to 20 students are working in interpretive reading and from 12 to 15 are working in radio speaking. Twenty-two so far are out for declamatory and one has signed for original oratory. Twenty-four people make up the Radio Club, but it is continually growing.

Future speech activities for the year will include a high school play with a cast of 25, a senior play which will take 40 people, and a contest play with 23. Sixty junior college students will take part in two plays, a panel, and reading groups. Besides that, the school hopes to be able to present three sophomore one-act plays and a junior high declamatory contest.

Dazed, but not dizzy, Boone High's speech department is keeping itself very busy.

BEAT OSKALOOSA!

Swim Team Outlook Good

Prospects for a good season in swimming seem bright this year. Although there are only two returning lettermen, Dennis Shafer and John Campbell, the attendance of boys out is larger than the preceding season.

The 28 boys out this year are Brad Carswell, Joe Moore, Phil Stoneburner, Gary Weston, John Campbell, Charles Crumbaugh, Bill Otis, Warren Otis, Larry Knutson, Kenyon Hoffman, Dennis Shafer, Tom Canfield, Earl Corl, Jack Winslow, John Peterson, John Meyers, Dean Stoneburner, Roger Wisecup, and Milton Mattson. Also participating in swimming practice are two junior high boys who show promise, Jay Peterson and Larry Soverign.

The events this year will be 40-yard free style, 100-yard breast, 200-yard free style, 100 back stroke, 100 free style, 120 individual medley, diving, 180 medley relay, and 160 free style medley. Any two of these events may be entered by one boy.

The team has been practicing since the middle of October and should continue through February.

This year four boys will be taken to the A. A. U. Meet in Iowa City, January 20. Seven meets have been scheduled besides the State Meet.

Lincoln of Des Moines will come to Boone for the team's first meet of the season on December 18.

The sixteenth annual two thousand dollar national essay contest for high school students is now being sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Have you written your essay yet? If not, do so immediately! Everyone has an equal chance of winning one of the local prizes. These are ten, five, or two and one-half dollars. Then comes the chance to go on to the state and national contest for bigger and better prizes.

Congratulations to Mina Nelson, Lloyd Courter, Elaine Moore, Deloris Conley, and Frances Brown, the winners of the sophomore interpretive reading contest.

Take special notice of the oil painting of the head of Christ in the trophy case. Kenyon Hoffman is credited with this painting. Looks like we have a few modern Rembrandt right here in Boone High.

Last Sunday, December 3, Boone was represented at Fort Dodge by four of our vocalists in the 'Messiah.' They were Marion Strickler, Betty Rose, Marilyn Hartman, and Le Roy Knox. It is unusual to have so many from such a distant town in the Fort Dodge group. Boone was very fortunate to be so well represented.

'What happened to the motto contest?' everyone is asking. It seems that the Student Council wasn't getting too great a number of mottos turned in, so it has been moved up another week. Could it be that Boone High doesn't have a single clever student in its midst?

What Next In Fads and Fashions

Every year trends and fashions seem to be as completely different from the year before as possible. Although this is very nice from the standpoint of vogue and fashion, it is sometimes quite a jolt to the family budget. Nevertheless, it seems to be a fact, and this year is no exception.

You can't miss the heavy white cotton bobby socks that resemble terry cloth. Although they sound rather sloppy, when worn with loafers or saddles, they're quite trim.

Another thing that was good last year but is even better this season is jersey—no particular garment, style, or color—just jersey. Donna McLeod has one of the best looking jersey dresses I've seen. Pat Sandell has an attractive navy blue jersey blouse, and Lorene Collins has an accordion pleated green jersey skirt that has made a big hit. Dresses, skirts, blouses, accessories, everything's jersey.

Mary Kay Hogan is one of the few fortunate enough to own a cashmere sweater. Her navy blue cardigan is the envy of nearly everyone. Mary Kay also has one of the few convoy coats. You've probably noticed her wearing it—the coat with the wooden peg buttons and rope loops for buttonholes. These convoy coats were said to have originated in Sweden for the Swedish navy, but they're the rage in all the high schools this winter.

The newest thing in footwear seems to be the sheeplined boots that the girls are wearing. These shoes are especially warm and may be worn without boots.

The most popular coat this winter is definitely the storm coat, with the chinchilla running a close second. The chinchilla is seen in shorties, full-length coats, and jackets, and is probably the most fashionable of the two, but for warmth and practicability nothing tops the storm coat.

Speaking of coats, you've all noticed Jill Johnstone's and Delma Comito's baby blue St. Mary's fleece coats, and Gretchen Kinter's bright red shortie with the gold buttons.

Those are just a few of the leading fads and fashions this year.

Christmas Broadcast

The first efforts of the Radio Club will be heard Saturday, December 9; the exact time has not yet been set. They will present a special Christmas broadcast featuring the mixed chorus, boys' quartet, sophomore double sextette, and three readers from the sophomore interpretive reading contest. The master of ceremonies will be Bob Carpenter; the announcers for the program are Deloris Conley, Marilyn Wiemer, and Mary Lou Vickery.

Boone's Lounge Lizards

You are sitting with your open notebook across your knees exposing the just-finished copy of a difficult lesson. Suddenly there is an exclamation of relief from behind you, an arm passes before your eyes, and your paper is nonchalantly removed. Glancing indignantly backward you find the student behind you bent over his desk copying your lesson.

This is the performance of an accomplished loafer. Such are far from scarce. The ridiculous side of the story is that, though this procedure injures everyone, including the shiftless one, it is allowed to go on with very little opposition!

Consider it. If such an incident happened to you, would you refuse to allow it? Probably not. Why? Because you dislike being considered selfish. This attitude is wrong!

When grades are rated on a curve the level of the hard workers is on a par with that of the loafers. Also the lounge lizard gets nothing from the course and forms the impression that it isn't necessary to work. This does great harm in later life.

The only discouragement that these lazy students get, aside from the protest of the teachers, is the occasional instance where they copy a poor paper and receive a low grade.

What can we do about it? Those preyed upon in such a fashion must defeat their false pride and refuse to allow it. The only alternative is the growth of honor among the loafers.

Wooden Memo Pads

Boone High has many characteristics, among which are fine athletic teams, loyal students, and an efficient faculty. There are other characteristics, some of which we are only too glad to hide. Glaring among these is the marking-up of every available inch of desk-top.

We realize that defacing desktops is not a characteristic of Boone High alone, but Boone High has achieved almost uniqueness by the complete job that has been done on what are supposed to be smooth writing surfaces.

A few say that their parents have paid in taxes for the small spot which they have defaced. This is a narrow-minded attitude. If you were to dissolve a lump of sugar in another person's coffee, could you destroy part of the cup's contents and say that you were damaging only what was yours? Of course not, for the two have blended and you cannot destroy your own property without destroying theirs.

To those others who have not even the defense of the 'my own property' partisans, we can only say that B.H.S. would be a better-looking place without them.

Teachers Talk With B. H. S. Grads

Mr. Martindale, Mr. Solar, Miss Pagel, and Miss Thornburgh represented Boone at a conference held in Grinnell December 1, and talked with Boone High graduates who are attending college there.

Mr. Solar said this meeting was held primarily to 'try to help us advisors and in turn help prospective college students prepare for college.'

This is the second year Grinnell has played host to the conference. This year there were two speakers who talked on the subjects 'Organization for Guidance in High School' and 'Organization for Developmental Reading in High School.'

Boone's delegates reported they gained most from the interviews they had with three graduates of B. H. S. who are now attending Grinnell College. These three are Clayton Moffitt, Robert Hays, and John Munro. Through the interviews the boys told the Boone teachers what they had missed in their Boone High curriculum that they found they needed later in college.

Holland Company Will Give Assembly

The Holland Company, a group sent to the United States by the Holland government as a 'Good Will' gesture, will give an assembly December 17.

Dressed in regular Holland apparel the company, consisting of three members, will dance, sing, and play the accordion. Harry Van Pelt, the manager of the company, has given performances all over Europe and has presented his company at Tulip Shows in Holland and in Michigan in 1947 and 1949. He also appeared on the United Nations television show. Chita Marie Van Pelt is the main singer of the group and is known in Europe as the 'Dutch Nightingale.' Caral Conrad, making up the third member of the company, is an outstanding Dutch composer. For many years he was orchestra leader on the Dutch ship, 'New Amsterdam.'

In sixth grade Elaine Hohan-shelt was having trouble. It seemed every time she went to play a low note on her flute she threw her little finger out of joint. Now she is the first flutist in band and orchestra.

Norma Trulin seems to be having trouble. Too many boy-friends seem to have sprung up all of a sudden!

Personality Sketch

Hey you, have you been a sophomore boy who is 5 feet 11½ inches tall and has blue eyes? Well I'll admit that isn't much to go on, so I'll clue you some more. I'll bet you will find him at the ice pond a lot, or just having fun with the gang. He is on the swimming team and is a sports enthusiast. As for his feeling about school—well, just how does any sophomore boy feel about school? I think I've told you enough, but I'll add sadly to you gals, he's already taken by Loris Shadle. You're right; it's Bud Peterson.

Among the students of Boone High you'll find a certain junior girl. She is five feet three inches tall and has short dark black hair. Her last name may well suit her personality, because she always has a smile or a friendly 'hello' for everyone. She drives a '37 Ford and likes to paint figurines as her hobby. She belongs to the Lutheran Church and its youth society. In school she belongs to B-Yettes and Dolphin Club. In case you haven't guessed who she is yet, I'll give you another clue. She was a member of the play, 'Young April.' I'm sure that by now most of you know whom I'm talking about. But in case you don't, she is Dorothy Gay.

'YOB' Newly Organized

A Bible club was formed this year under the name of 'YOB' in which boys and girls of different religious denominations can have fun and fellowship together. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Henry, 'Youth On the Beam' meets the first and third Wednesdays of each month in Room 109 at the high school at twelve o'clock.

Officers of the new organization are: president, Madelyn Nelson; vice-president, Marilyn Gustafson; secretary, Marilyn Wiemer; and treasurer, Joan Morris.

Any high school student is eligible to join if he pays the dues of twenty-five cents a semester and follows the policies of the club, which are being set up in its constitution.

Live Y'ers

The Live Y'ers met December 4 and planned their part of the program for the night of the twenty-first. They are also planning to go Christmas caroling at a later date.

Three Groups Meet

Hi Y was host to the B-Yettes and Hi-Tri on December 6, at the Y.M.C.A. The program, which consisted of a movie and panel discussion, was planned by Marilyn Dugger, Carole Nelson, Kay Honohan, Pat Sandell, Dean Gustafson, Phil Billings, and Le Roy Knox.

Has anyone noticed the striking paintings of the doors in the auditorium and the cabinet doors in the art room?

Pretty good, so the Bumble 'B' thought they had 'better give credit where credit is due.' The pictures on the auditorium door were painted by Bill Londrigan and Ronny Proshusta. Janet Lager, Beverly Paulsen, Kenneth Dodd, Virleen Garner, and Bill Londrigan painted the cabinet doors in the art rooms.

Toreadors Break Even

Out of four starts the Boone eaglers have won two and lost two, winning over Denison and Nevada, and losing to Spencer and Grinnell.

Spencer

The Boone Toreadors opened their 1950-1951 basketball season on November 17, meeting Spencer on the home floor. The game was a see-saw battle all the way until the third period, when the Toreadors fell to a ten-point deficit. Boone then made a valiant comeback and were behind only one point as the fourth quarter began. This is when Carpenter, Spencer's 6-foot 5-inch center, went into action, and scored five quick field goals. Trailing by only a few points in the last minutes the Boone boys just couldn't seem to get hold of that ball to score those much needed points. The Toreadors were trailing 39-40 as the final gun sounded.

Denison

Still feeling the sting of their one-point defeat by Spencer, the Boone five, November 21 traveled to Denison where they claimed their first victory of the season by whipping the Monarchs 56-43. The Toreadors got off to a bad start and were behind most of the opening quarter, but soon took the situation in hand and were leading 35 to 20 at half time. Boone romped through the second half with little difficulty. Roland Wiley took top scoring honors, racking up 16 points. Dick Bechtel and Paul Harder followed a close second, both capping a total of 14 points.

Nevada

The Toreadors went to Nevada on November 29 to collect their second victory of the season by defeating the Cubs 43 to 36. Boone took the tip off the opening jump and dominated throughout the rest of the game. Dick Bechtel was high point man with 15 points.

Boone lost their first conference game of the season on a trip to Grinnell, December 1. The final score was 53-44. The Toreadors trailed all the way; they just couldn't seem to make it over the hump.

Girls Lose Two; Win One

Boone girls in their first three games of the season lost two, to Gowrie and Winterset; and won one, from Ogden.

Gowrie

The Boone girls were defeated by an experienced Gowrie team on the latter's home floor November 15 by a score of 36-31.

Locals got off to a slow start and were on the short end of the score for the most part of the game. They did tie the score up 23-all in the third period of play. However, the height of the Gowrie sextette proved to be too much for the Toreadorettes and as a result, they finished five points short at the end of the game.

Ogden

The locals staged a comeback in the second half to down the Ogden girls, on the Ogden floor, November 17, 44-40.

In the first half the locals had a tough time connecting on their field goals and were behind at the half, 23-21. However, in the third quarter the locals stampeded the Ogden girls, and when the last minute of the game had ticked away the Boone girls were on the long end of a 44-40 score.

Winterset

The Toreadorettes suffered one of their worst defeats this year at Winterset when they were defeated 76-30.

The locals were stunned by the fast attack which Winterset possessed. They were unable to keep control of the ball and score. As a result they were 'tromped on' by the Winterset sextette, 76-30.

Girls Down Grand Junction

Toreadorettes staged a comeback after being defeated at Winterset by defeating the Grand Junction six on the local's home floor Friday night, December 1, 42-34.

The locals showed great poise throughout the game. They were able to capture an early lead and sustain it. Grand Junction's only luck came in the final period of play when the locals hit a cold streak and their opponents came within two points of tying the score. However, the locals kept their lead and regained control of the ball for the remainder of the fourth quarter.

Boone high girls exhibited good form even though it was the first time they had been on the new high school gym floor.

Although McCartney had an off night, she was able to rack up 24 of the 42 points scored. She was aided in the front by Ruth Rogers and Bonnie Reid, who each got nine points.

The guards held the Grand Junction forwards to 13 scattered field goals. Those holding down the back court positions were Em Quinn, Jo Anne Morris, Dorothy Long, and Jo Ann Huffman.

SPORTLIGHTS

This year, the swimming team will pick a Dolphin Queen. It will be the first time this has ever been done.

Congrats to Brickly Johnstone and Jim Cowhick for making first string of the C.I.C. football team. It's an added honor that they were the only boys on the team who weren't seniors.

The outcasts of the gym classes are Colleen Casserly's basketball team. They have lost every game to a junior high team. Buck up, girls, there's always next year!

NOSEY to NEWSY

Let's see some more students get 'Nosey' and turn in some 'Newsy' about intramural basketball.

The Bumble 'B' offers an apology to Tom Sandell for omitting his name from the Honor Roll.

Phyllis, the Red-Nosed Reindeer, has a very shiny nose. Since you're in the Y-teen program, why don't you powder your nose?

The girls at the Rainbow covered dish certainly did have fun learning to schottish and do the rye waltz.

Boone Dolphin Club

The Dolphin Club is a swimming club which meets every Thursday at 6:30 p.m. In order to become a member there are certain dives, strokes, and stunts which you must be able to accomplish. These are the side stroke, crawl, breast stroke, swimming with head above water, back crawl, back dolphin, standing front dive, surface dive, and many stunts. Some of these are the kick, front dolphin, pike, ballet legs, and the tuck somersault.

The girls who are able to accomplish these are Elizabeth Anderson, Jean Anderson, Janet Auld, Koreen Ballard, Jean Deering, Jacques Driscoll, Jo Fitzgerald, Helen Foltz, Dorothy Gay, Nancy Givens, Connie McNaughton, Delores McNaughton, Janaan Munson, Joyce Norton, Margaret Nowels, Judy Otis, Peggy Oxenford, Sue Parish, Bonnie Peel, Bonnie Reid, Pauline Smalley, Patricia Weston, Barbara Williams, and DeeLoris Jacobson. They are the new members of the Dolphin Club.

TO THE STUDENTS

The Junior High will start their basketball games December 16. All the students want our boys to come out on top so it's up to the students to back the teams. Each and every one of us should attend the games. Our teams will always be on top if the student body backs them. Let's all of us be at the games and show the teams we're behind them.

The Junior High Character Education Assembly on December 5, was opened with the scripture read by John Cooper.

The combined eighth grade choruses of one hundred ten voices sang 'Onward Christian Soldiers.' The talk was given by Lieutenant Orville Butts of the Salvation Army, who chose his topic from the Book of Acts, Chapters 9-12.

The program was concluded with the choruses singing 'Fair Lord Jesus.' The solo part was taken by John Harrington.

Love is like an onion
You taste with delight.
Then when it's gone you wonder
Whatever made you bite!

Junior High Cage News

Larry Owens, coach of the seventh and eighth grade said that his eighth grade is in very good shape, "and probably won't lose a game." His seventh grade "needs seasoning." Coach Jones' ninth grade will be ready for their tough cage season. The junior high schedule is as follows:

Sat., Dec. 16	Welch there
Wed., Dec. 19	Jefferson there
Sat., Jan. 6	Webster City there
Sat., Jan. 13	Lincoln here
Sat., Jan. 20	Welch there
Sat., Jan. 27	Lincoln there
Sat., Feb. 3	Webster City here
Sat., Feb. 10	Open
Mon., Feb. 12	Jefferson here
Sat., Feb. 17	Open
Sat., Feb. 24	Open

All games played will be double headers with seventh and eighth grade playing the first game and the ninth playing the last game.

There are 65 boys out for seventh and eighth and 21 boys out for ninth grade basketball.

As of yet, the coaches haven't picked the starting lineups.

This year, the ninth practices at Lincoln, and the seventh and eighth grade at Lowell.

Tumbling

There are two tumbling teams, the girls that tumbled last year, called the 'A Squad' and the new girls this year, called the 'B Squad.' The 'A Squad' includes Lois Anderson, Kaye Butler, Aveline Eamer, Jo Fitzgerald, Patsy Godfrey, Barbara Hardesty, Mary Lou Johnson, Marcia Gilliam, Beanie Larson, Jo Larson, Dorothy Long, Janice McAlpine, Carole Pritchard, Shirley Richmond, Pat Rinehart, Nancy Starner, Shirley Trulin, and Barbara Trulin. 'B Squad' includes Koreen Ballard, Kay Brightwell, Jackie Conn, Shirley Crouse, Patsy Davis, Deliccia Garvey, Ann Hanum, Marcha Harrington, Ruth Ann Heaps, Bette Hicks, Catherine Jacoby, Virginia Martin, Marlys Petty, Bonnie Pestotnik, Joleen Rinehart, Marie Roby, Donna Robertson, Marcha Sebrén, and Elizabeth Sinclair.

The tumbling teams are now practicing to do acts between halves at the basketball games.

Any seventh, eighth, or ninth grade girl interested in tumbling may be on the team, just notify Miss Swenson.

Who is that well known seventh grade girl with the attractive blond hair and brown eyes, and about five feet tall? She is interested in music and belongs to seventh grade Y-Teens. She is in Mrs. Absher's homeroom and before coming to junior high she attended Bryant School. She is Sherrill Barstad.

Girls' Basketball

Friday, November 17, the Boone Junior High Toreadorettes went to Ogden to compete with the Ogden Junior High girls.

Boone was leading 6 to 0 at the end of the first quarter, 14 to 12 at the end of the second quarter and in the third quarter, fell behind Ogden 14 to 21. The game ended with Boone unable to narrow the score of 26 to 31.

The scorers for the Boone team were Joyce McPherson with ten points, Coleen Duncan also with ten points, and Jo Larson with six points.

Those who played the guards' position were Betty Reed and Edna Martin as post girls, Marie Roby, LaVonne Groth, and Janice Mondt.

This was the first game of the season for the inexperienced Boone junior high girls, and their schedule for the future games has not yet been arranged.

What's this we hear about Alice C. and Jack W.?

From the looks of all the pamphlets given out in the Home Ec. classes there should be some cute hairdos.

Donna Ades: "Is it natural to shrink from kissing?"

Mrs. Brunner: "If it were, my dear, most of you girls would be nothing but skin and bone."

In our suggestion box there were twenty corrections to the statement made in the previous Bumble 'B' that Mr. O'Toole's homeroom won the eighth grade tug of war. Our apologies go to Miss Simon's homeroom, the real victor.
