

All Boone Boosting Team in Tournament

Former Student Speaks of 'Y'

An assembly that the high school audience gave serious attention was held Thursday, February 28.

Emory Nelson, who spoke at the assembly, was the first Hi-Y president in Boone. He was also captain of the Boone High basketball team when he attended school here. Mr. Nelson went to both Grinnell and Iowa State Colleges. His title is now National Youth Councilor with the Y.M.C.A.

In his talk he said that out of 800 million youth in the world 200 million are dominated by communism. He also said, after having visited several camps of displaced persons in Europe, that we have so much to be thankful for that he wonders if we appreciate the freedom we enjoy. The different countries he talked about in Europe and Asia were Germany, Italy, Greece, and Korea.

Future Einsteins

"Oh, what's that awful smell?" "That's just the chemistry kids finishing their chemistry thesis."

The students have been working all year on this project. Each one chooses his own experiment. This experiment cannot be one tried before. These theses give practice in paper writing and in manipulation of new laboratory equipment.

The girls choose subjects pertaining to organic or living chemistry, and the boys choose inorganic or non-living chemistry.

Each student gives recommendations to the next year's class at the close of the school year.

These projects have proved beneficial to those who have gone on to school and in other jobs, too. The experiments are accepted whether they prove negative or not.

One boy is making a model furnace for the production of carbondum, a material from which grinding wheels are made.

Another project is the manufacture of soap to find which is more profitable. Different fats and oils are being used.

Three girls are inexpensively making yellow, red, and black ceramic glazes.

A study of terrymycin, a new drug, is being made for the treatment of diseases according to doctors' and hospitals' records.

Iowa State Band To Play at B.H.S.

The Iowa State Concert Band, directed by Frank Pierson, will present a concert in the Boone High auditorium March 10, under the auspices of the 1,000 Club. The varied concert of popular and semi-classical selections, interspersed with several stirring marches, will conclude the band's spring tour, which included a number of concerts in several states.

The band, which is made up of over 80 pieces and is considered one of the better organizations in the middle west, has performed in Boone four times since the 1,000 Club series was organized. Each time their program has been very graciously received by enthusiastic local audiences.

DEFLAGRATE THE DODGERS!

Come On

It is our opinion that the percentage of our students who participate in activities can be increased greatly. It is our sincere desire to provide activities in which students are interested. At present our program includes a number of activities that take place during school hours as well as after school. These activities provide opportunities to do creative things and to have satisfying experiences.

The failure to participate actively in one or more of these activities is to deny oneself the privilege of engaging in experiences that hold untold benefits and pleasures now and in later life. This part of the school program has tremendous carry over values for adult living and human relationships.

Since the path of living allows you to go through this phase of your life only once, why not take advantage of the opportunities offered. The most sorrowful words ever spoken are those of an adult who says, "I could have done this or that, but I did not."

—Mr. Solar

Do you want to join a club? If you feel you do not participate in enough activities, here is the dope on all the clubs in Boone Senior High School. The ones listed below are the first in a group series for which membership can still be attained this year.

HI-Y

For all the junior and senior boys in Boone High School, this club stands out as the leading club for senior high boys, with dues of only a dollar a year. Meetings are held every other Wednesday. The purpose of the Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend throughout school and community, high standards of Christian character.

Mr. Smoot, sponsor of Hi-Y, states, "We are happy to welcome to our group any boy members of the junior and senior classes. We believe that they will find this a friendly, congenial, and open-minded organization."

HI-TRI

This club is composed of only senior girls of Boone High School and Sacred Heart. Membership can be attained at any regular meeting, the first and third Mondays of the month. Dues are fifty cents a semester. Hi-Tri sponsors many events, such as dances, and will prove very interesting to any girls joining it. Miss Taylor is the sponsor of this organization.

This club was started this year and seems to be well on the road to success. Any sophomore boy can attain membership at any regular meeting, which is the second and fourth Monday of every month. The temporary dues set up are a twenty-five cent initiation fee and ten cents dues each meeting. Mr. Brookhart, sponsor, welcomes any sophomore boy to join the comradeship of his friend at this club.

All-School Play A Success

'Minick' was presented by an all-high school cast February 29, in the high school auditorium. It is a well-known drama by Edna Ferber and George Kaufman.

We certainly hope Phil Billings was able to straighten up and resume a normal life. The part he played of Old Man Minick required him to look like a bent old man.

The drama centers around him when he comes to live with his son, Jed Minick (Kenneth Dodd), and his wife, Nettie (Janet Todd). Nettie tries to be sympathetic with old man Minick until one day when she is supposed to have a very important committee meeting. Minick has invited two old cronies to come visit with him. Deitenhoffer (Tom Sandell) and Price (Everett Hickman) have completely messed up the house, and they cause Nettie to lose her temper when she comes home.

The ladies on the committee arrive just as Nettie is finishing straightening up the house and saying good-bye to the two old friends of Minick. The ladies, Mrs. Smallridge (Bonnie Carter), Miss Crackenwald (Dorothy Goldsworth), Mrs. Thornton L. Lippincott (Marlene Trulin), Miss Mercer (Frances Brown), and Miss Stack (Denise Overbeck), try unsuccessfully to hold a meeting. They finally give up and end the meeting very abruptly when old man Minick gets in an argument with Miss Crackenwald. This has all been too much for Nettie, and she tells her husband that either she or Old Man Minick must leave the house.

The third act ends with everyone happy and all problems settled. Lil Corey (Donna We Witt) and her husband, Jim (Bill Otis), are seen quite a bit during the play for they are good friends of Fred and Nettie Minick. Also friends of the Minicks are Marge (Dorothy Gay) and Al Diamond (Duane Du Bois). Dorothy Long plays the part of a maid who was later replaced by Lulu, Beverly Parkinson.

'Minick' is a humorous play of pathos and a play that happens again and again in everyday life.

The committees who worked with the cast helped a great deal to make the play a success. These committees are: Stage crew: Martha Kokinakis, chairman, Juanita Conrad, Donna Efkamp, and Marilyn McElyea; make-up: Ruth Stotts, Jo-reen Hanson, Kate Swank, Coleen Casserly, Marge Pesek, and Patricia Peterson; bells: Margaret Shafer and Alice Casserly; programs: Doris Krug and Shirley Ross; prompters: Phyllis Canady and Shirley Mestdagh; ushers: Gretchen Caldwell, chairman, Elaine Moore, Lavone Bendixen, Dorothy Gibson, Valenette Schoff, Beverly Paulsen, Donna Anderson, and Ruth Rogers.

Zarnow Plays

The executive board of the junior class has contracted Ralph Zarnow and his orchestra for the Junior-Senior Prom the evening of May 2.

Mr. Zarnow & Co. were here last year, proved themselves very satisfactory, and many compliments followed their performance.

Zarnow's orchestra is an eight-piece group, and will be accompanied by a vocalist.

An Open Letter to the Varsity

Tournament time is approaching with all its excitement, fun and sorrow. Again this year, Boone will take part, not because we have to but because we want to measure our strength, our ability, and our determination against that of other schools.

Review of Radio Club

Greater expansion in the activities of the Radio Production Club is giving the club members further experience and training and offering the high school students and the public more entertainment. The club is now giving weekly programs over KWBG.

The first week of the month the high school Hit Parade is featured. On this, three favorite pieces, chosen by some group in the school, are played. For the show the disc jockey is selected for voice ability, experience in the club, and personality, with the disc jockey, an opening announcer, closing announcer, and news caster. So far this year recorded music has been used, but live broadcasts are being planned for later. Last night's 'Hit Parade' was the sixth of this series.

The second week of the month brings 'Night Thoughts.' This is a series of dramatic mysteries. They are centered around supernatural stories and things that can't be explained. Next week will be the second time for this program and will feature an original play written by Mr. Baird called 'Joe Edwards Last Quinella.'

The third week of the month brings up the old standby, 'Citizens of Boone, 1961.' This is the second year for this production. The program is used to exhibit various events of school, such as forums, interviewing, concerts, and drama. Used on this program are the classroom commentaries and a master of ceremonies that introduces the guests. The main purpose of it is to show to the parents happenings at Boone High. The title, 'Citizens of Boone, 1961' is intended to show the people who will really be the citizens of this community in 1961. Students who are not members of the staff are used on this program.

The last program of the month presents 'Literary Theater,' which is another new one. On this adaptations of great works of literature are given. They also try to feature previews of future plays to be played, with the sound effects and technical problems handled by the students.

As many students as possible are used on every show. Besides the experience gained in the work the students also receive speech training, an insight into commercial radio and experience in building programs.

The Radio Club would like to feel that they have more of a listening audience and are open for any suggestions as to what the students want.

There are still eleven programs left for this year, so it isn't too late to offer your voice for service. Male voices are especially wanted and needed.

Beverly Paulson, a senior, won a gold key for a lead pencil drawing at the Iowa Regional Art Contest, sponsored by Younkers. She will compete next in the national contest with the other state winners.

I wonder how many of our boys on the team look at it from that light. Not a compulsory task but a challenge of strength, ability, and determination against their opponent. It's an opportunity for them to fight rather than allow someone else to outdo them. We're anxious to see how John and Jim and Paul and Mike and all the others will do when their opponents trot out on the floor and throw their challenge. Will they anxiously rush to meet it or will they possibly feign it off and get away as easily as possible? Will they try to win or will they just want to win? Will they carry the fight to their opponents or will they just duck and let the opponents do all the fighting? Come on, John, come on, Jim, have you seen a player this year better than you are or your teammates? Then why can't we be the ones to carry the fight to them? Why can't we walk off the floor the victors? All it will take is determination and a brave heart. We believe you have it in you... do you? Come on 'Brick' and Gary, let's open up—let's use everything we have—WHO CAN STOP US?

Speakers Go to Lanyon Friday

Friday, March 7, Boone High Speech Contestants will enter the second round of the state series at Lanyon.

Other towns participating in the contest are Dayton, Boholm, Ogden, Jefferson, Clarion, Eagle Grove, Webster City, Williams, and Belmond.

Students from Boone who will take part are Everett Hickman, who speaks 'Supreme Menace' in oratorical declamation; Kenneth Dodd with 'A Cask of Amontillado' in dramatic declamation; and Phil Billings, giving 'From Pillar to Post' in humorous declamation. In interpretive reading Elaine Moore will read 'The Creation.' Bonnie Carter gives her original oration, 'Battle Ground,' and Harriet Cameron, Tom Sandell, and Bob Carpenter read their radio speeches, 'Blood Donation,' 'The Great Destroyer,' and 'Democracy in Fact or in Story.' Mary Lou Fritch and Jim Munro, who received byes in the preliminary contest at Ogden, are entered in extemporaneous speaking. Boone's one-act play, 'The Happy Journey,' has in its cast Phil Billings, Conrad Faber, Everett Hickman, Harriet Cameron, Gracia Conard, and Caroline Herman.

The March character education assembly was held March 4, during the first hour. At this assembly a saxophone quartet, John Dennert, Marlyn Weimer, Jerry Wallentine, and Marilyn Du Bois, played 'Jennadeen' by Frankiser. After the quartet Bill Davis read Proverbs 1. The senior high girls' sextet then sang 'Green Cathedral.' The talk and benediction were given by the Rev. Garold Noland.

Spirit galore.
Ready for fame,
Endeavoring to do our best.

BUMBLE 'B'

Published bi-weekly by the students of Boone High School.
Entered as second class matter October 3, 1923, at the Post Office at Boone, Iowa, under the Act of March 3, 1879.
RATES: Activity ticket plus 5c, or 10c a copy.

Our spies tell us that there is a talented quartet in our midst composed of Gary Bloomquist, Dick Longworth, Darrell Dickey, and Bob Carpenter. Maybe they should present a special concert.

What would the Bumble 'B' do without the typing of Sharon Anderson? It is doubtful whether you would read this paper on the first and third Thursdays without her help at meeting dead-lines.

To those who value their life, it is recommended that you don't mention 'Oldsmobiles' to Janet Main. Or do you know how it feels to be stalled in the middle of town? The day was saved by a push from John Meyers and Marilyn Wiemer.

The senior class has chosen for their motto 'Not the end but the beginning.' Navy blue and silver are their class colors, and a white rose is their flower.

Dolores Williams has just received honors for an original poem, 'November Morn.' This poem, together with three others written by juniors in the American literature class, was entered in the Iowa Poetry Association Contest. All of the poems were complimented, but the judges said Dolores' was especially fine because of freshness in wording, alliteration, and vivid word pictures.

As the final decision of the judges has not been made, she doesn't know whether she will get a prize or not, but her poem will be printed in the magazine School Poetry.

SPOUTIN' OFF!

by J. C.

The Applied and Educational Psychology classes visited the Veterans' Hospital at Knoxville, Iowa, on Wednesday, February 27. The group of 25 went in four different cars leaving Boone around eight o'clock in the morning. They arrived at Knoxville at 10:00 o'clock. Dr. Abramson, the psychologist at the hospital, gave us a brief summary of the purposes of the Veterans' Hospital as well as the functions of the various buildings. One of the patients gave his own case history. The majority of the group ate lunch in the canteen. Delicious food was served for a very reasonable price. After dinner the group toured a few of the buildings. Dr. Abramson gave a lecture to the student nurses to the psychology classes sat in on it. Then a few more wards were visited before the group left for their return trip to Boone.

For the benefit of those who still haven't figured out the puzzle, the answer was Norma Trulin. Try this one.

English Quips

The English assignment was centered on giving figures of speech in some sentences. The sentence in consideration was, "Fifty voices were lifted in song," Dean Gustafson, in giving an explanation for a certain classification, said that the people were put on an elevator and they were lifted. Naturally their voices were lifted in the process. (Very logical thinking, Dean, but it just wasn't quite right.)

Bill Mickie was reading a sentence which had the words 'fairy flax' in it. He read it 'faily wax'.

In order to get experience in teaching Mr. Reed, Elementary Principal of the grade schools, asked several girls to take over some classes. Miss Lou Shepherd, Professor of Primary Education, Mr. Reed, and the girl interested in teaching first sat in and observed how the regular teacher taught. Then Miss Shepherd, Mr. Reed, and the teacher had a conference. The girl was then on her own. From all the comments, the girls were very enthusiastic over their practice. The girls who took part in this were Janice Malcom, Phyllis Pollard, Dixie Witcraft, Betty Rose, and Norma Trulin.

B-Y-ETTES

This club is for all junior girls of Boone High School and Sacred Heart. Membership can be attained at any regular meeting, first and third Monday of each month. Dues are fifty cents a semester. This is a very energetic group of girls, and girls would get a lot of benefit yet this year in joining it. Miss Thompson is the sponsor.

LIVE Y-ERS

All sophomore girls from Boone High School and Sacred Heart are eligible for this club. Dues are fifty cents a semester, and membership can be attained at any regular meeting, the second and fourth Wednesday of every month. A project given by this club every year is a style show, which attracts many adults and students. The sponsor of the Live-Y-ers is Mrs. Williams.

RADIO CLUB

The radio club of Boone High seems to be growing by leaps and bounds. Any member of the senior high is welcome to join with no cost. Every Monday night, a regular meeting is held. Every week the club presents one radio program. Mr. Baird, instructor, states: "We would like to have new members still this year, especially boys."

SCHOLASTIC CLUB

Your entrance in this club is due entirely to your scholastic average. If, after the seventh quarter of your junior year or at end of eleventh quarter of senior year or at both, your grade average is 3.2 or above, you are entitled to membership in the Scholastic Club. The only cost is for the pin you receive at graduation.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

Next year there will be no Photography Club, due to the establishing of a new high school course in photography. Any senior high student can still join and gain much benefit from it yet this year. The only cost is for material, such as film, that you use. Contests are held within the group and prizes are given, tending to make the club more active and lively. When you join this club you have access to one of the best high school set-ups of photography equipment in the state. Mr. Shadle, sponsor and originator, has already brought to the meetings some of the best photography men in the country, and he extends the welcome for you to drop in on the next meeting.

Style Show

Have you heard? There's going to be a second Live Y-ers' Style Show on March 14, in the Boone High auditorium. The models will be dressed in smartly styled clothes furnished by all the clothing stores of Boone. All types and styles of clothing will be shown. There will also be some very special entertainment given. It will be a surprise as to who the models will be, what theme is, and how the stage will be decorated. Why don't you all come and find out? You can purchase your tickets from any Live Y-ers member.

'Y' NEWS

The Live-Y-ers met Wednesday, February 20, at the Y.W.C.A. for their regular business meeting to discuss plans for the style show.

Monday, February 8, B-Y-ettes met at the Y.W.C.A. to plan the bake sale which was held Saturday, March 1.

The Hi-Tri met Wednesday, February 27, at the Y.W. For the program Mr. Martindale gave a talk and answered questions on personal problems of senior girls.

Hi-Y also met Wednesday, February 27, at the Y.M.C.A. After the business meeting the group enjoyed a movie for the program of the evening.

'Minick' Given Under Difficulties

With colds and the flu hitting the players in 'Minick,' and stopping them from having more practice together, the cast went on stage last Friday and gave a swell performance. In spite of the illness, there was a lot of fun during their practice sessions and during the make-up period before the play.

The cast had many of the last minute problems, but managed to overcome them. Everyone was in a dither to get his or her make-up on just right and to be ready to go on when the curtain went up. Our sympathy to the boys that had the dripping white liquid poured on their hair to make it appear gray. The girls were shocked to discover that their faces could change in such a short time with so little of the make-up. In overcoming these difficulties, the play cast and Mr. Pinkham deserve everyone's congratulations.

Always our spirit's the same—
Down the floor we go.
Our opponents we will tame.
Sure, we'll win the game.

Dolphin Show This Month

The annual Dolphin Club Water Show is nearing completion and will be given in the Boone High pool March 24, 25, 26, at 8:00. This will be the fifth year that these shows have been put on, and the entertainment promises to be one of the best.

'Once Upon a Time' will be the theme and title this year, with the show revolving around storybook characters. A few of the characters you will meet will be Snow White, Cinderella, The Sleeping Beauty, and many others.

The officers of the Dolphin Club are: president, Joan Enquist; vice-president, Sue Sovereign; secretary, Delores McNaughton; and historian, Barbara Williams. The members are: Janice Parisho, Peg Oxenford, Jean Anderson, Connie McNaughton, Helen Foltz, Donna Whitaker, Janice Kennedy, Janet Auld, Koreen Ballard, Janaan Munson, Carol Nelson, Joyce Williams, Carolyn Herman, Joyce Norton, Mary Longworth, Jacquie Driscoll, and Judy Otis.

Of the new probates Carol Aringdale, Denise Overbeck, and Joyce Larson are the only ones who have passed their tests so far, but there will be another test for candidates.

The Boone Jay-Vees have turned in a commendable record of seven wins against one loss, that being a one-pointer to the Grand Junction varsity in an overtime. This is the first year that a junior varsity squad has been organized.

Boone Loses to Cedar Falls

The Boone High Toreadors remained in the throes of a three-game losing streak Friday, February 22, as they traveled to Cedar Falls only to lose to their host, 48-47, after leading by eight points at the end of the third quarter. It was the second non-conference loss of the year for the locals, who lost to Manning by two points earlier in the season. It gave them a season's record of ten victories against eight defeats with one game remaining to be played.

The Toreadors, starting slowly, fell to the rear in the early stages of the game and trailed, 14-12, at the quarter. However, led by the 12 points of big John Musser, the locals roared back in the second frame to tie the score and take the lead, holding a seemingly substantial margin of 28-21 at the intermission.

Cedar Falls, rated as the number three team in the northeast before the game, was unable to crack the strong Toreador defense or the powerful local offense during the third period, although they played their visitors on nearly even terms throughout the quarter, which ended with Boone in front, 37-29.

It was then that the roof fell in on the Toreadors, as in barely two minutes, C.F. charged back to tie the score. From then on in, the game developed into a furious scoring battle, as first one team and then the other took the lead. However, with less than a minute left and Boone behind by one point, C.F. secured possession of the ball and stalled until, with seven seconds left, a host cager traveled, giving Boone the ball and time for one shot.

The one shot was never taken, as time ran out before a local cager could take the ball out of bounds. Then followed a royal rhubarb, at the end of which it was decided that the Toreadors should get the ball out of bounds and the seven seconds should be played over. This was done and although Boone got one shot away, it missed and the game ended with the score of 48-47, in favor of Cedar Falls.

For the Toreadors it was a bitter

Track Warm-ups Begin

The first of the Boone High track squad has reported for pre-season drills.

Track coach Howard Stutzman has 20 boys out at present, and many more are expected at the conclusion of the basketball season.

The warm-ups are held in the gymnasium at present. They consist of rope jumping, boxing, calisthenics, and general exercising necessary to limber the boys for the coming season. Many veterans are returning, and the outlook points toward a successful season.

The twenty boys who have reported so far are Bill Ackerman, Jim Brannon, Tom Canfield, Bill Davis, Albert Eamer, Don Engnell, Pat Ferry, Larry Furst, Kenny Gilliam, William Hasstedt, Don Jaschke, Dean Jacobi, Mike Logsdon, Larry Lyons, John Meyers, William Mondt, Roger Murken, Maurice Mowrer, Ronnie Schmickley, and Robert Wallace.

Each month the Boone Rotary Club invites two senior boys to attend their club meeting. Bill Davis and Jim Brunner were invited to the February meeting and Kenny Knowles and Larry Moore have been asked for the month of March.

loss, as they practically had the game sewed up before the sudden C.F. spurt in the early minutes of the final quarter, and before the spurt could be checked, the damage was done to such a degree that it spelled defeat for Boone. Evenly divided scoring, a Toreador mainstay earlier, failed them in the C.F. game, as only one player scored over ten points. That one player was John Musser, who dumped in his second highest total of the season, a 19-point effort which took scoring honors for the evening. For C.F., Stannard and Kafron scored 11 and 17 points, respectively, to pace the winners.

Dodgers Whip Boone Musser Hits for 17

In finishing their regular 1951-1952 cage season, the Boone High Toreadors had to add a black mark to the losing column of their ledger as results of their 55 to 47 loss to Fort Dodge.

The taller Boone team just couldn't seem to find the hoop last Friday, February 29, and thus trailed the Dodgers the majority of the time.

The Toreadors put up a good battle the first quarter, as they stayed right with the Fort Dodge five, who led 12 to 11 at the quarter mark. The remaining three quarters saw the Fort Dodge team pile up a lead sometimes as great as 13 points.

John Musser again held the scoring honors for the Toreadors with 17 points, followed by Paul Harder and Mike Huddleston, who tallied ten and nine points respectively.

Jim Rosien fired the Dodgers with 15 markers.

The Toreadors will face the Dodgers again tonight when the two teams clash in the district tournament at Webster City.

Get the ball,
Hit the basket,
Tear 'em up!
Basket, boys!
Every rebound—
Always winning.
Toreadors fight!
Tonight we play a game.

The sixteen seniors of Boone High, with the highest grades, were eligible for the local Elks Scholarship. The first prize at the local contest is $50, the second $30, and the third $20. The senior who wins the local prize goes to the state contest; if he wins there he receives $300 and is also entered in the national contest; and if he wins the national he goes to New York City.

To enter this contest each student had to submit a photograph, a handwritten theme on why he thought he should win the prize, a list of his grades, a letter from his parents, and a recommendation from three local people. Those entering are: Phil Billings, Bob Carpenter, John Musser, Jerry Sebring, Gretchen Kinter, Doris Krug, Joan Logsdon, Kathleen McCoy, Carole Nelson, Marilyn Parisho, Beverly Parkinson, Shirley Ross, Charles Crumbaugh, Marilyn Hartman, Marjorie Pesek, and Pat Peterson.

SPORTLIGHTS

The Toreadors finished an action-packed conference season with a four won, six lost record. This season was one of the closest in the conference's history, pitting some of the top-ranked teams in the state against each other. The final standings were decided on the very last night of play, indicating the closeness of competition.

The Toreadors will open their tournament competition tonight against Fort Dodge on the neutral Webster City floor. The winner will then advance into the next round of play.

Those who attended the Fort Dodge game last Friday tell us the Dodge fans are loaded with pep so we'll need lots of supporters to compete with them when Boone meets Fort Dodge in the District Tournament. If you don't already have a ride, why not bribe parents or friends to drive you to Webster City? It's only forty miles.

Season Record, 7-1

It was an inspired Boone team that came back in the second half to beat the Ames Reserves 39 to 32 Friday night, February 29.

The game, played at Ames, was the curtain raiser to the Ames-Sioux City Central cage tilt in which Ames proved victorious 41 to 37.

The Boone Jayvees were definitely cold the first half, as they trailed by eight points at the halfway mark, but after Lynn Hopkins found his stride and hit for a quick four points, the Toreadors captured and held the lead.

It was Larry Hall who really let loose to show his potential power, scoring 13 points. Hopkins followed closely behind Hall with 11 points.

At the assembly on Tuesday, February 26, the orchestra gave a preview of the concert they were going to play that evening. The numbers they played were: Knightsbridge March—Eric Coates, Rosenkavalier Waltz—Richard Strauss.

Savannah, which was composed by a high school girl—Joyce Barthelson.

Syncopated Clock—Le Roy Anderson.

Prelude, composed by Mr. Scholl. Fiddle Faddle—Anderson.

Moldau—Frederick Smetana.

The audience should be commended on its attentiveness at this assembly.

Guessing Game From English 9 March Spankings

Who is the peppy blonde in seventh grade? She is out for basketball and also played with Miss Thompson's homeroom. The honor roll list usually includes her name. This girl plays the cornet in the band. She is right in style with a pair of white buck shoes and a blue storm coat. Also she wears pink rimmed glasses. For those who haven't yet guessed her name, she is Jo Ellen Sparks.

This seventh grade boy is four feet eleven inches tall. He has brown eyes and blond hair cut in a butch. He plays the trombone in the band and also plays the piano. He has a great interest in horses and loves to ride. He is usually seen with Freddy Vitt and David Nelson. If you don't already know, this person is Harlan Whitaker.

This brown haired, blue eyed, eighth grade girl is 14 years old. She is five feet one inch tall. Her main activities are basketball and music. She plays both violin and piano. This girl is usually seen with Koreen Ballard and Sue Grant. I bet you have guessed already. If you haven't, she is Ann Clausen.

Who's the carefree blonde in the ninth grade? She's five feet three inches tall and weighs 102. Right now her favorite pastime is Bill Bob Johnstone. She belongs to Dolphin Club and Senior Girl Scouts. Civics and homemaking are her favorite subjects. If you haven't guessed by now, it's Janet Day.

Comments by ninth graders after finishing a unit on biographies in English class:

Irene Nelson: "I have learned many interesting facts about famous people. These books are as interesting as fiction."

Jerry Grady: "I found out that biographies can be interesting."

Ed Swain: "People who are famous are just ordinary people; they lived ordinary lives as we do."

Janice Parisho: "I thought before not like biographies, but now I want to read more of them."

Carol Arringdale: "My favorite biography is 'Victory in My Hands' about Harold Russell, war veteran, who now has two hooks instead of hands."

Patricia Davidson: "Biographies are not boring. I learned facts about many important people that I had never heard of before."

Jim Tait: "Did you know Lillie Daché designed hats and charged outrageous prices for them, some as high as $120!"

Carolyn Goetz: "Felix Mendelssohn was a composer and at thirteen he could conduct an orchestra. He wrote 60 pieces of music by the time he was fourteen."

Double Victory Against Jordan

Two junior high teams, the seventh grade boys and the seventh and eighth grade girls, scored a double victory over Jordan on Saturday morning, February 23, by the scores of 33-32, and 21-16, respectively.

The girls' team led all the way, with a half time margin of 12-7. Outstanding for the Matadorettes were Ann Clausen on offense and Joan Cornelius on defense. Johnstone was high scorer for the losers.

Behind by three points at the half, the seventh graders staged a wild comeback in the last two quarters and came out victors when the final gun sounded. Jack Robertson led the locals while Henderson was high scorer for Jordan.

"I'm a good little boy," was quoted from one of the journalism boys. We know this can't be true, right, Denny?

We feel sorry for the rooms around 210. The journalism class is really noisy competition.

Matadors Defeated At Marshalltown

On February 23 the Boone Matadors traveled to Marshalltown only to be defeated in both games. The eighth lost 33-30, and the ninth were overwhelmed by the Bobcats 46-29.

In the eighth grade Ron Reynoldson was high point man with 17 points and Bill Bob Johnstone came through with 12 points.

Due to illness and injury the ninth graders were unable to play an impressive game. David Fisher was high man for the second consecutive game as he dumped in ten points.

How many boys have tested Marion C.'s new kiss-proof lipstick?

Answer: Silly boy!

Why has Kaye B. been wearing her hair pulled back lately? Could it be because Buddy D. likes it that way?

There are SOME girls who can't believe Shirley C. just likes convertibles.

Y-teens

February 11 the seventh grade Y-Teens had a meeting on hair styles. Mrs. Finley, who is a beauty operator in Boone, gave the interesting lecture.

On February 12 the eighth grade had as their guest speaker Mrs. Martin, a teacher in the Junior High, on the subject of teaching.

February 19 the eighth grade had a joyous swimming party at which they swam at the high school and then completed the party at the Y.W.C.A. with games and refreshments.

A Valentine's party was held by the ninth grade Y-Teens at the Y.W.C.A. on February 14, at which each 'Y' member was to bring a guest. Games and refreshments were served.

At their next meeting the program was spent making bulletin boards.

We hear that Sandra R. has a broken heart because David D. is moving to Cedar Rapids. Can this be true?

Character Assembly

The Junior High Character Education Assembly was held at 8:00, March 4. A saxophone quartet, consisting of John Dennert, Marilyn Wiemer, Jerry Wallentine, and Marilyn DuBois, played 'Jerusalem' by Frankier.

Bible reading selections were taken from the first chapter of Proverbs. The prayer was given by Gary Irvine.

A piano solo, 'The Lord's Prayer' was played by Daniel Siegler. The talk and benediction were given by the Rev. Mr. Noland.

Tuesday, March 5, the junior high had their character education program. A violin duet, 'Intermezzo', by Mascagni, was given by Cay Munn and Mary Longworth with Carita Strobe accompanying. Scripture reading and prayer was read by Gale Morris. The ninth grade girls' chorus sang, 'Ave Maria.' Following the song, A. J. Jaggard gave the month's lesson.

News From Homemaking

It has been an interesting two weeks in the ninth grade homemaking classes now that the girls have started cooking.

They first planned, prepared, and ate a breakfast in class. Then several kinds of quick breads were prepared and sampled, and lately they have started making hot lunches.

If you have gone by the homemaking room lately, and smelled the delicious odors, you'll know its' because the girls have finally learned to cook.
