Thanks, Toreadors and Coach Johnson, for a real display of good basketball throughout the season. Even though you're not the sub-state champs, you're champs in good sportsmanship and fight. Better luck next year!

Band Prepares For Concert

Friday, March 28, the band will present their annual concert. The three main pieces of the evening will be 'Prelude and Fugue in G Minor' by Bach, 'Oberon Overture' by Von Weber, and 'Divertimento for Band' by Persichetti. The other pieces will include 'La Sorella,' 'Joshua,' 'Three Negro Dances,' 'Manhattan Beach March,' 'Semper Fidelis,' 'From Tropic to Tropic,' 'March of the Steel Men,' 'Sunset Soliloquy,' 'A Tribute to Romberg,' and 'Moods Interlude.'

One special feature of the evening will be a French horn quartet entitled 'Four Hornsmen.' There will be several soloists, also.

The officers of the band are Gary Bloomquist, president; Kathleen McCoy, vice-president and secretary; Beverly Parkinson, librarian; and Ruth Ann Ripley, assistant librarian.

The members of the band are, flutes: Dorothy Gibson, Donna Whitaker, Karen Finley, and Denise Overbeck. Clarinets: Beverly Parkinson, Kathleen McCoy, Rosemary Humm, Carol Miller, Judith Reed, Lavonne Payne, Mary Lou Nelson, Ruth Ann Ripley, Lillian Fairchild, Bob Carpenter, and Marilyn McElyea. Oboe: Maxine Sturtz. Bassoon: Shirley Sue Anderson. Bass Clarinet: Norman Manges. Alto Saxophones: John Dennert, Marilyn Wiemer, Bob Hamilton, Mildred Nelson. Tenor saxophone: Jerry Wallentine. Baritone Saxophone: Marilyn Du Bois.

String bass: Pat Thompson, Mary Hutson.

'June Mad' Spring Play

April 4, the curtain will rise in the Boone High auditorium for the spring play, 'June Mad.'

The play tells the story which presents the problems of youth in an intelligent and sympathetic manner. The story concerns Penny Wood (Sally Shaler) and 'Chuck' Harris (Bill Newbold), the boy next door, as they go about the frequently difficult but always amusing business of growing up. When Penny's Uncle Mervyn (Larry Lyons) only five years older than she, brings Roger Van Vleck (Duane Du Bois), a senior and a killer-diller, home from college, she forgets to be a man-hater. In trying to win Roger, she almost disrupts two families. But the discovery that Roger is double-crossing Mervyn by trying to steal his girl, brings her back to normal and to 'Chuck.'

Others in the cast are: Mrs. Wood (Margaret Nowells), Elmer Tuttle (Dick Larson), Dr. Wood (Miles Duley), Effie (Carol Haber), Millie Lou (Marcharene Harrington), Mr. Harris (Morris Kelley), Shirley Wentworth (Ruth Ann Ripley), Ralph Wentworth ('Brick' Johnstone), and Julie Harris (Virginia Doran).

Prom

This should be THE year to go to the prom, whether you'd planned to before or not.

Those rumors about big doings which the Kiwanis are offering for the juniors and seniors after the prom seem to have a lot of truth in them. Dr. Scharweber, chairman of the committee in charge, says they have plans that will make any other after-the-prom activity seem rather dull by comparison.

Percussion: Richard Davidson, Marilyn Parisho, Denny Shafer, Shirley Mestdagh, Janice Runyon. Tympani: Frances Brown.

The director of the band is Mr. Ellsworth Baldwin.

Boone Speakers Take 10 'I's

Boone speech contestants probably made a record in the second round of the state series at Lanyon Friday, March 7.

The following students received 'I's: Everett Hickman, Kenneth Dodd, Phil Billings, Elaine Moore, Bonnie Carter, Harriet Cameron, Tom Sandell, Bob Carpenter, and Jim Munro. The one-act play, 'The Happy Journey,' whose cast includes Phil Billings, Conrad Faber, Everett Hickman, Harriet Cameron, Gracia Conard, and Caroline Herman, also earned an 'I.' Mary Lou Fritch received 'II' in extemporaneous speaking.

J.C. Festival Here April 1

The Junior College Speech Festival is to be held in Boone on April 1. Bill Mickle is entered in extemporaneous speaking; Betty Rose is entered in radio speaking and interpretive reading; Kenyon Hoffman has entered radio speaking; Norma Trulin is entered in interpretive reading. The play, 'Pink and Patches,' will be presented in the play division. Dixie Witcraft, Marilyn Crouse, Brad Carswell, and Betty Rose are the members of the cast.

About twenty Junior Colleges are entered in the Festival. The following will be participating: Burlington, Centerville, Clarinda, Clinton, Creston, Eagle Grove, Ellsworth College at Iowa Falls, Emmetsburg, Estherville, Fort Dodge, Marshalltown, Mason City, Muscatine, Webster City, Grand View College at Des Moines, Northwestern Junior College at Orange City, and Waldorf College at Forest City.

The events which the students may enter are interpretive reading, radio speaking, original oratory, after-dinner speaking, extemporaneous speaking, the discussion group, and plays.

Y.O.B. Is Host To Des Moines

The Y.O.B. party last Friday night, March 7, really proved more than a success. Lasting from 7:30 till 11:00 p.m., the evening was filled with games, songs, and a very interesting program. Ninety students, about 30 of whom were from the Des Moines Y.O.B. groups, were present to enjoy the fun.

Dick Sherman and Myron Holmgren, from North High, were in charge of the evening program.

Mr. Charles K. Ramsden, a scientist from the University of Kansas, presented his program, 'Novel Music Effects.' In it he used his own inventions which included the electric ukulele, electric Hawaiian guitar, and an electric Spanish guitar, which he could make sound like an organ. However, the main feature, on his program was his invention called the electric Novatar. On the instrument he could produce the sound effects of a train, bombing raid, animals, talking chimps, bass fiddle, and many others.

The chaperones for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. V. Louis Anderson, Rev. and Mrs. E. Gerald Anderson, and Mrs. Henry.

The evening ended with refreshments and a 'singspiration,' led by Mr. Dick Reynolds, the head Y.O.B. director for the Boone, Des Moines, and Newton areas.

Dan Doherty, assisted by John Dalhler, was in charge of the public address system.

The Boone High Radio Club, is coming along fine. Let's not forget to listen to it each Wednesday night over KWBG.

The new scholastic honor society for juniors and seniors has selected a pin for their organization. The committee who made the choice was Joan Logsdon, Lloyd Courter, John Seaton, Rosemary Humm, and Carol Nelson.

Dolphins Plan Make Believe

Various fairy tales will be featured in the annual Dolphin Club show, 'Once Upon a Time,' to be held in the Boone High swimming pool on March 24, 25, and 26.

The Dolphin members have split up into smaller groups in order to give their interpretations of the fairy tales. Included on the program are 'The Twelve Dancing Princesses,' 'Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs,' 'The Wooden Soldiers,' and 'Little Red Riding Hood.'

Beginning at 8:00 p.m., the show will last about two hours and will be presented in two parts. Girls dressed as story book characters will be in the halls to direct people to the pool. Tickets, which are 30 cents for students and 60 cents for adults, will be on sale at any time before the show by the members of the Dolphin Club and also at the entrance to the pool at show time.

Live Y-ers Will Display Styles

Who will be queen of Live Yers' Style Show? Nobody will know until the curtain rises at 8:00 p.m. March 24, in the high school auditorium.

The models, who will display all different types of clothes, are Harriett Cameron, Shirley Grant, Gretchen Kinter, Rosalie Gibbs, Jean Tingwald, Martha Lauritsen, Marilyn Hartman, Donna De Witt, Andrea Dorman, Loris Shadle, Kathleen McCoy, and Carol Haber. Their escorts will be Mike Huddleston, Gary Munson, Jim McAlpine, Bob Carpenter, 'Chuck' Haber, Phil Billings, Jim Brunner, John Seaton, Larry Hall, and Stan Simmons.

Miss Lila French will act as narrator.

'Y' NEWS

Live Y-ers

The Live Y-ers group has been kept very busy planning their spring style show. Plans seem to be coming along, and everybody is working very hard to make it a success. All girls had better make it a point to be there if they want to be in the know about spring fashions.

B-Y-ettes

B-Y-ettes staged a bake sale Saturday, March 1. The group had had a great deal of trouble setting the date for the sale, but it was finally held and was very successful in spite of the fact that there were three other bake sales going on that same morning. They really have some good cooks in that group! Does everyone know who baked that angelfood cake? It was delicious!

Christine Poeschel gave a very interesting talk about her country, Germany, at the last meeting of the B-Y-ettes.

Hi-Tri

Hi-Tri girls learned how to do their hair at their last meeting. Virginia Wilson, hair stylist, was there to give the girls some good pointers. After this we'll expect all the Hi-Tri members' hair to look extra special.

What If:

Everyone would get well for a while.

The weather stayed nice; after all, tomorrow is the first day of spring.

This were the last week of the school year.

Some boys would start going out for plays.

All of Boone speech students bring back 'ones' in the district speech contest next week.

The students remembered not to walk on the grass by the school building.

There weren't such a word as "test."

Opportunities

This is the second group in a series of activities in Boone Senior High School.

Library Assistant

Any boy or girl in senior high with a grade average of C or above is eligible for this position. One semester of library apprenticeship is taken before the student takes over regular hours. Any boy or girl interested in this position, get in touch with Mr. Tillson, school librarian, for a personal interview. A small hourly rate is paid to the head library assistant. There is a very large field in library work open, and this would be a good chance to learn the business.

Office Help

In the principal's office, six senior high girls are needed every year to help Mrs. Van Ness. Duties of the girls are answering the phone and taking charge of attendance slips. These girls are appointed by Miss Ealy from the business majors. Here is a very good chance to learn the duties of a secretary.

"We want good-looking and very efficient girls," states Mrs. Van Ness.

Hall Monitor

Two girls appointed by Mrs. Ick take care of the master key at the office before school in the morning and noon.

Movie Projectionist

To get this assignment you have to pass a test given by Mr. Cunningham. If you pass, you will be selected by Mrs. Ick during your library periods to run the projection camera for different classes.

Athletic Manager

This is a very important job. It has little glory, but it gives a boy a lot of satisfaction to have something to do with the athletic program in Boone High School. Any boy is eligible for this position, and if any are interested get in touch with Mr. Stutzman, Athletic Director.

Concession Stand

During the year, a concession stand is set up at most of the athletic events. Mr. Gilbert, director of the concession stand, needs helpers to sell during the events. A fee is paid to any person who is interested in working.

Spring

Anybody seen a robin lately? Probably not, but we're looking. The sun shines occasionally, and the snow melts as fast as it falls, and students are gazing absent-mindedly through open windows. This new fascination, like a junior-high romance, makes concentration a bit harder, but here's to encourage you.

As the flowers come in, the flu is going out. This is one of the few bright spots marking the long agony of the next couple of months. We'll have to stay inside while the grass grows greener; the birds fly north again; the insects, leaves, and blossoms come out; and all this time we'll work, work, work in preparation for those final exams. This, dear children, is the joy of spring, so make the most of it.

Come Anyway!

What if you don't dance? The executive committee for the prom urges you to come along anyway. You can join in the Grand March, sit in comfortable chairs to enjoy the decorations, good music, and the intermission program, have some refreshments, and be all set to enjoy the Kiwanis party afterwards. Come on, you non-dancers. Get yourself a date or go stag.

What's this we hear about the big politician? Elslager kissing babies. Hey, how old are these babies anyway?

SPOUTIN' OFF!

by J. C.

On Monday, March 10, several of the junior college girls practice-taught at several of the elementary schools. Betty Rose taught the fifth grade at Bryant; Joan Duncan taught the third and fourth grades at Washington. Norma Trulin taught the second grade at Franklin, while Dixie Witercraft taught the fourth grade at Lincoln. Helen Diehl was supposed to teach also, but because she was ill she couldn't.

Joan Duncan was helping her boys and girls in their penmanship. In helping one boy she said, "You can learn to write if you only try." He replied, "Do you wanta bet?"

Mid-terms are the main words in everyone's mind this week. The tests are given on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

All of the junior college students took a test which showed their ability to think. Mr. Martindale gave the test, and almost everyone had the same thing to say, "What an awful test!"

Congratulations to the Boone High School basketball team and their coach, Gale Johnson, for a job very well done. From the Boone Junior College.

Congratulations also are in store for the students of Boone High for their fine spirit and good sportsmanship.

The answer to our puzzle was Don Gustafson. I know you didn't have any trouble in getting the answer.

The Ideal Rehearsal

What is your idea of a perfect rehearsal? Is it one that runs smoothly without difficulties? Well, the Style Show's rehearsal was 'almost' a perfect one.

"No, no, no, turn to the left!" That is Mrs. Williams, the sponsor of the Live Y-ers, who are putting on the Style Show, as she is directing the rehearsal. There are ten girls in the show, and each of them models twelve costumes. They must have the ability to remember very well, for each time they appear on the stage they follow a different walking pattern.

Time is a very important element in the show. By the time the twelfth girl has left the stage, the first girl must be out of her first costume and in her next one. But all this isn't dependent entirely on the girl, for she is assisted very efficiently by a clerk from a downtown store. Another very helpful person to the show participants is the girl who directs the entering and departing persons from the stage. My, my, such efficiency.

One of the most perplexing problems concerning the Style Show has been the date of its actual happening. Several times it has been set for a certain night, but has had to have been cancelled because of various reasons. Now the date has finally been set, March 24.

We all hope there will be no further cancellations, for we all are looking forward to the Live Y-ers Style Show.

I.S.C. Concert Band Plays in Boone

The 75-piece Iowa State College Band, under the direction of Frank A. Piersol, presented a concert Monday night, March 10, in the high school auditorium. The concert, which was very well attended, was composed of a mixture of classical and popular numbers, including five solos and ensembles and three marches. Playing with the skill and appeal that have made them one of the most popular bands in the midwest, they were forced to play four encores, two after solos and two at the end of the concert. The featured soloist was Mrs. Elizabeth Worden, an instructor at I.S.C., who sang 'Carmena,' and a group of numbers from 'The New Moon.'

The program was as follows: 'Procession of the Nobles from 'Mlada,' by Rimsky-Korsokov; 'Symphony in C Minor—First Movement,' by Williams; 'Ten More Days Till School Is Out,' by Klein; 'The Minstrel Show,' by Clapp, featuring the trombone quartet made up of Dale Conner, Bob McVicker, John Allen, and Rollie Ristine, which also played an encore, an arrangement of 'You Turned the Tables on Me,' by O'Conner's mother; 'Second Suite in F—March' by Holst; 'Carmena,' by Lane-Wilson; and Selection from 'The New Moon,' by Romberg, sung by Mrs. Worden; 'Manhattan Beach,' a Sousa march, conducted by Mr. Baldwin, B.H.S. band director; 'Meditation from 'Thais,' by Massenet; 'Interlude,' by Morrissey, a clarinet solo by Jerry Dean; 'The Blue Tail Fly,' arranged by Grundman; and the 'Stars and Stripes Forever,' by Sousa. The two encores were 'Parading the Brasses,' a march by Ostling, and 'Sleighride,' by Anderson.

Although all the numbers were extremely well-received, some of them gained more acclaim than others. Among these were the Williams Symphony, a modern and fairly recent composition, both numbers by the trombone quartet, the clarinet solo, the soprano solos, 'Sleighride,' and of course, the ever-popular 'Stars and Stripes Forever.'

The program was the fifth in the 1,000 Club series and it marked the fourth time in recent years that they have played in Boone. Two Boone High graduates, Joyce Stephenson, a bassoonist, and Lorene Collis, who plays the clarinet, are members of the band.

Television Story

The sixth hour American history class, under Mr. Lovin, and the world history class, under Miss Skilling, are really in luck. They watch television on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays from March 10 to April 18.

The tv. program, which lasts half an hour, consists of lectures on Versailles and Yalta given by Dr. Mattheison of Iowa State College.

This is an experiment to find out the results of teaching by television. Questionnaires are sent by the teachers to Iowa State College after each lecture to report the reaction of the students toward the lecture.

The Hamilton Hardware is making this study possible by making available a television set during this series of lectures.

A new crop of short haircuts has appeared. Carol Haberer, Shirley Mestdagh, Lloyd Courtier, and Bob Carpenter head the list.

The music students who went to 'South Pacific' all report a good time both there and on the bus.

JUNIOR HI-LIGHTS
TOMORROW

People in Boone may disagree on many things, but I think everyone agrees that we have a team that's tops! We hope they know that winning or losing we're behind them.

Is Miles Duley slated to be a financier or a big time gambler? It seems he has had several 'investments' recently, some profitable and some otherwise.

Our vote for trampoline 'champ' goes to Joyce Roberts. Of course, several others are running a close second with a variety of skinned elbows and knees.

How many girls have eyes turned toward Bill Newbold? It looks like Centerville's loss was Boone's gain.

Attention

All juniors and seniors must register outside partners for the Prom with Miss Hicks by April 1.

Boone Loses To Spencer

The high-flying Toreadors hit a downdraft at Rolfe last Friday night, March 14, and an underdog Spencer five cashed in a 41-38 victory to enter the field of sixteen teams in the state finals.

Again it was the troublesome last half that spelled defeat for Boone, as they netted only seven points during the first thirteen minutes of this period. Another factor in the heart-breaker was the 21-degree temperature on the charity line, the team sinking four in nineteen opportunities.

The first half looked somewhat like the two previous tourney games, and found Boone ahead, 25-19. As they emerged from their dressing room for the second half, however, the ice man was with them. He allowed the Toreadors only five points in the third canto, while the Tigers tallied eight to draw a 30-27 deficit. The freeze continued into the last quarter until the final two minutes when Morris Kelley entered the contest. Torching in two long sets and a lay-up in three attempts, he nearly broke the spell but Spencer matched him to win the sub-state final, 41-38.

Dependable John Musser led all scorers with 15 points, although submerged in a tough second half Spencer defense. He was followed for Boone by Kelley with six, Johnstone, Knowles, and Seaton with four, Harder with three, and Huddleston with two.

The Toreadors ended the season with a 12 won 10 lost record against very tough competition. It was the last game for six of the boys: Harder, Musser, Huddleston, Knowles, Johnstone, and Brunner.

Crowds Cheer On Toreadors

It was not only the Boone High cage team that changed toward the end of the season, the fans joined in promoting the enthusiastic support that was rightfully due the Toreadors.

This onslaught of overwhelming anxiety had been smoldering in the ranks of the Boone High crowd for some time and was finally sparked off by the opening of the 1952 state tournament series.

The cheering throng at Webster City was really great! Two buses full of students and numerous fan-packed cars made the trip.

The roaring at Adel was unbelievable. The Boone supporters almost doubled the number as four buses were chartered for that game. The crowd showed their loyalty to the team while they cheered for them as Boone was ahead and shouted probably twice as hard when we were behind. That is what really boosts a team.

Distance didn't prove to be an obstacle in the way of the Boone crowd, as five buses were used to transport students to Rolfe.

Just because we lost that decisive game to Spencer is no sign we should completely drop our enthusiastic ways; remember we have many other activities that can stand our vigorous support.

Now that this glorious fire has been successfully kindled, let's keep it burning!

Boone High's Dick Longworth conquered some of the best competition in the state Sunday, March 16, at Cedar Rapids when he won the Iowa Junior Table Tennis championship.

Dick also plans to enter the Boone County tournament, the Central Iowa Meet, which will be held here, and the Western Open which is to be held at Des Moines.

Boone Defeats Abe Lincoln

A determined Abraham Lincoln five from Council Bluffs felt the sting of defeat at the hands of the Toreadors Tuesday night, March 11, in the second round of the tourney at neutral Adel.

A devastating first half attack by the Toreadors, who began the contest with 14 points before the Lynx could drop a charity toss, left Boone cagers in nearly complete command throughout the first two periods. Leading at the quarter mark 16 to one and at intermission 31-15, they seemed to have the situation well in hand.

However, the one-time poll leaders from the West emerged from their dressing room with a checking press that temporarily stunned the Boone offense. The revived Lynx dumped in their next 15 points while Boone could muster only two free throws. The Toreadors were still in front 40-33 at the third-quarter mark.

The final quarter proved to many that the 1952 Toreadors are definitely top-notch contenders with dependable depth. Fouls had benched three of Boone's main cagers, Mike Huddleston, John Seaton, and top-scoring John Musser. At this point a fighting band of reserves entered the game and sent Boone reeling into the final round of the sub-state.

Led by Jim Cowhick and Kenny Knowles, who each contributed two timely baskets, the Boone cagers spurred from a mid-quarter deficit of one point to a final 54-50 advantage.

Boone's scoring machine was again led by John Musser who dunked 17 points in the game to lead all scorers. He was followed for Boone by floor-general Paul Harder and mechanical-armed Jim Brunner with eight points each. Musser and Huddleston also turned in sterling performances at rebounding off both boards.

Council Bluffs was led by Dunlap and their outstanding center, Henderson, who dumped in 12 points each, and Kates with ten.

A very definite contributing factor in the Toreadors' recent surge to the fore as a power in Iowa basketball was the pressure of about a thousand supporters in the bleachers. Coach Johnson feels that as long as the squad has that kind of support, the Toreadors will advance continuously in the tournament.

Wonder how the Boone reserves or Jay Vees could do in Class B competition? This question was raised about the time that Boxholm was coming within four points of tourney-bound Roland in a sub-state semi-final tilt Wednesday night. The Jay Vees, with a bit of help from a couple of the reserves, came within inches of downing the Swedes, as they lost, 62-60, in a double overtime, after leading by 19 points at the half. Also, the Rockets came down for a practice scrimmage mid-way through the season, and with several Jay Vees seeing action, were sent home with a 12-point deficit. Of course, since they usually have the crowd, a terrific factor, behind them in a tourney, they are always tougher at that time.

CEMENT WORK BASEMENT WORK

Meet Boone's Top Twelve

John Musser, a six-foot five-inch senior, is out for his third year of varsity basketball and is one of the tops on the team. He is number 30 and plays center and forward.

Six-foot three-inch Mike Huddleston, usually our starting center, also plays forward. He is number 42 on our team and is out for his third year of varsity basketball. Mike is a senior.

Out for his first year of varsity basketball, is Larry Hall, a junior. Playing center on the team, his six feet four inches have been an asset.

Coming to another senior, meet Kenny Knowles. Playing center and forward, he is in his third year of varsity basketball. Six feet three inches tall, he's number 35.

Another among our starting five is a guard, Paul Harder. Number 23, he's six feet tall and in his third year of basketball.

Jim Brunner, a senior, is number 22 on our team. He is also six feet tall and is a guard in his second year of basketball.

In his first year of varsity ball is junior Morris Kelley. Standing at six feet one inch, he is number 31 and plays both guard and forward. 'Brick' Johnstone, number 41, stands at six feet. This is 'Brick's' second year and he plays mostly guard.

Number 40, John Seaton, is a third year guard and stands at six feet. He is one of our starting players.

Gary Grosnickel, in his first year of varsity basketball, plays a guard position. He is five foot ten inches tall, and is number 35 on our team.

Number 20, Charles Hancock, is also playing his first year at guard and forward positions. He stands at five foot, ten inches.

The shortest, but quick, is Jim Cowhick in his third year, playing forward position. He is number 21.

John Seaton, Paul Harder, Mike Huddleston, John Musser, and Jim Cowhick are retiring lettermen. Congratulations, boys, we've had a wonderful season.

It seems that not many of the students know that Boone High has a golf team, even though last spring Boone had a team that set a very good record. They are the champions of the C.I.C. and also the district champions as a result of their effort last spring. They also placed third in the state tournament, which is quite an accomplishment. This coming spring, why not help boost a golf team that represents its school so well?

Coleen Casserly's driving seems to be 'out of this world.' We hesitate to say where it is though!

Toreadors Maul Dodgers

It was a changed Boone High team that whipped the Dodgers from Fort Dodge on the neutral floor at Webster City, Thursday, March 6.

Coming back after a previous beating at the hands of the Dodgers, the Toreadors showed what kind of ball they are able to play.

The alert Boone team really had the will to win as they made the slower Fort Dodge team try to hit the basket from 'way out. Putting their zone defense to good use, the Red and Green kept the frantic Dodgers away from the territory under the basket and forced them to shoot wild.

It was a team victory for the Toreadors, as every member of the squad who saw action played inspired ball. Paul Harder, Toreador guard, played one of his best games of the season, as he netted a grand total of 20 points. Mike Huddleston and John Musser followed close behind Harder with 19 and 14 points respectively.

It wasn't only in offensive play that the Toreadors showed polish; they also displayed fight and enthusiasm by capturing the greater share of the rebounds.

Boone's early scoring spree left Fort Dodge on the tail end of a 17 to 5 point margin. The Toreadors increased their lead to 33 to 11 by the half. The Dodgers came back in the second half to pot an equal number of points holding the Boone lead to 51-29.

SPORTLIGHTS

The school spirit since the Toreadors hit the tourney trail has been fabulous, as pep rallies, slogans, demonstrations, and snake dances have been a dime a dozen. If you want an opinion on how much it helped, just ask Coach Johnson.

Because of the success of the basketball team, the regular track season has had a slow start this year. The team plans to work out at 'Goep' when the weather permits.

Our sympathy to Jim Cowhick on his bad sprain suffered in the final seconds of the C.B. game. With his terrific competitive spirit, it must be extremely tough for Jim to be forced to sit on the sidelines during the remaining games. The sprain came for a good cause, though, as Jim had helped immeasurably in capturing the victory before he was injured.

Being a member of one of Coach Johnson's history classes is a good racket when the team is winning. Before the Abe Lincoln game, he made a promise of no more tests for the remainder of the nine weeks if Boone won, so it looks like no more history homework for the juniors for a while. In addition, the discussions around tourney time often run more to last night's game than to the Industrial Revolution.

Junior High Hi-Lights Friday

Art, Music, Library, And Shop on Display

The junior high Hi-Lights, our first junior high all musical production, will be presented Friday at 7:30. There will be more than 250 students participating in the Hi-Lights. The price is 40 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

When the doors open at 6:30 p.m. there will be exhibits on the second and third floors. The junior high library will feature a series of four book displays built around the themes of Sport Stories, Adventure Stories, Historical Novels, and Outdoor Activities. Popular books from these four fields of reading will be on display for the parents and students to inspect and review. Also a new feature recently introduced to protect books and give them longer wearing qualities, plastic jackets, will be displayed. The shop Hi-Lights will be a display of tools, projects in both wood and metal, and drawings made by the students. The ninth grade class will have electrical experiments on display. There will also be charts showing the outline of the course, the teaching methods used, and reasons for boys having shop training. In the third floor art room 50 students will demonstrate a dozen different art activities such as wood carving, all phases of painting and lettering, and the materials used in ceramics. A model used in teaching driver's training will also be on display.

The musical portion will begin with an operetta, 'Sourwood Mountain,' by Underwood and Perry. The setting is a mountain gathering, or frolic, in the American back-country. Susie Adams, played by Carla Zagel, is greatly alarmed when her sweetheart, Bill Jackson (Wayland Swain) appears as their two families are feuding. The crowd at the outdoors supper begins to square dance under the direction of the caller (Dick Ray) while the two fiddlers, (Larry Madden, John Harrington) play. When Billy starts to leave Aunt Glory (Rhoda Newland) sings 'Morning in May.' Bill lingers too long and Susie's brothers (Charles Peterson, John Nelson, and Jon Pecknor) arrive. The clash is averted when Uncle Jim (John Harrington) swings them all into another dance. Other members of the cast are David Nelson, Wallace Arringdale, Judith Raettig, Caroline Mullins, Gloria Hughes, James Tait, Richard McCoy, and La Vonne Groth. The chorus of 125 voices and 24 square dancers are from the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades.

PEP MEETING

On March 4 the seventh and eighth graders attended a pep assembly preceding the junior high tournament games which were held at Jordan. The speakers at the assembly were Mr. Jones and Mr. Lovin, who hoped that more people would attend the games.

The pep assembly on March 7 for all the junior high was for the junior high tournament finals. The speaker at the pep assembly was Les McIntyre, who gave a pep talk about team and school spirit.

The 45 members of the junior high band will play four marches and three waltz numbers, 'Rifle Regiment,' Louise; 'Father of Victory,' Goune; 'Little Annie Rooney,' Nolan-Hummel; 'Caissons Go Rolling Along,' Gruber; 'Waltz from H. M. S. Pinafore,' Sullivan; and 'The Jolly Coppersmith,' by Peters. This band is under the direction of Mr. Ellsworth Baldwin.

The evening's entertainment will be concluded with a half hour concert by the junior high orchestra under the direction of Mr. Konrad Scholl. Their numbers will be 'Overture in D,' Taylor; 'Dutch Wooden Shoe Dance,' Rerfurth; 'Marionettes,' which is a Pizzicato novelty for strings, Isaac; and 'Grand March,' by Mendelssohn.

Tournament Games

The first game of the tournament played March 5, in the Jordan High School gym, resulted in a one-sided victory in favor of Boone. They defeated Pilot Mound by 40 points, the score being 61-21.

In the second game of the tournament the Boone Junior High boys walked away with the championship, after defeating Ogden, who had defeated them last year in the finals. The Boone Junior High boys proved to be a good ball team when they won by a score of 44-19.

For the second year in a row the junior high girls have shown outstanding basketball ability, by winning the first place trophy in the junior high county tournament. Boone and Ogden had quite a time deciding which team was going to win the trophy. Since last year the team lost its height but gained a lot of speed. This year Ann Clausen took the scoring honors followed closely by Sue Grant. The other forwards showed outstanding work too. Playing defense for Boone was Phyllis Phipps, Sherrill Barstad, and Joan Cornelius.

The second team was used and needed during some of the most thrilling parts of the game.

Attention! Everybody should be on the lookout for the animals running around the hall—or could it be these boys with peroxidized hair?

What happened to La Vonne G., Beany L., Carol A., and Jo L. Tuesday night? Did they have fun?

We just thought we'd mention Bill Flockhart's name. He's such a nice guy, isn't he, girls?

So far there are only a few poodles enrolled in junior high. Karen F. and Corkey B. have them. How do they look, boys?

We hear that few mothers and fathers have been attending P.T.A. meetings. Come on, let's urge our parents to go to these meetings.

Have you realized there are only nine more weeks of school; or 45 days; or 720 hours; or 43,000 minutes; or 2,592,000 seconds

Spelling Contest

The preliminary spelling contest was held in the study hall at 3:30 on March 6. Thirty-eight contestants from the grade schools and junior high took part in the written and oral competition. Of these 38, 12 were chosen for the city competition. These finalists were: Betsy Lorentzen of Franklin school, K. Marie Brightwell, Janet Cofer, Raymond Guenther, Joanne Jacobi, Patty Johnson, Lennice Jones, Keith Josephson, Janice McBernie, Janice Patten, Marie Roby, and Joleen Wade, all of junior high. Mrs. Ana Belden pronounced the words. The judges were Miss Ruth Ulferts, Miss Ella Wilson, and Mr. Jack Tillson. Mr. Dale Peer acted as statistician.

The city finals of the annual spelling contest were held Saturday, March 15, at 9:30 o'clock, in the study hall. Mrs. Harold Honohan pronounced the words to the 12 contestants; Mr. Harland Reed and Miss Marie McCoy judged the event; and Mr. Dale Peer acted as statistician. Medals were awarded to Marie Roby and to Janice McBernie second place winners by the Senior High and the Junior High P.T.A.
