

Four Receive Goeppinger Awards Today

Boone on the Radio

This year's actors, directors, and writers for radio have come both from the Speech Activities Club and from the advanced speech class. Last year's programs were all done by the speech club, all being sponsored by that activity councilor.

Tuesday, October 20, at 7:30, marked the second program of the season. Tom Sandell and Jean Becker were in charge of the production. These programs appear every two weeks. Most of them are of the 'variety program' type, featuring different classes and activities of Boone High. At some future date dramas and seasonal plays (Christmas, Thanksgiving, and Easter) will be given.

All these programs are done by the students and offer a wealth of experience as well as enjoyment.

JUST BUZZIN'

Students who wish to become members of the Speech Activities Club will find that it is not too late to join. The meetings are held on the second Tuesday of every month at seven o'clock.

At the last meeting, the Constitution was presented. The program for the evening was led by Karen Finley and Bonnie Carter. Play crews and ticket selling committees were selected.

The club also held their second radio program on Wednesday, October 14.

Dan T. Moore, a former counter-intelligence chief in the Middle East, really made a hit with Boone High students. In an assembly October 13, he related many exciting experiences in the Office of Strategic Services. Among other things, he talked about the training necessary to become a counter spy, described how spies are taken in and out of enemy country, and told of his relationship with King Farouk. It was the opinion of most of the students that they could have listened another hour.

Boone High's Future Nurses held their organizational meeting October 1, with 37 girls present.

This club meets the first Thursday noon of each month. On November 5 will be election of officers. All junior or senior girls interested in nursing are urged to join.

Have you heard Mr. Scholl's version of 'Dragnet'? It's real!

The Junior-Senior High P.-T. A. is under way for 1953-1954 with the first meeting, October 20, at the high school. Dr. Leonard Murray, of Iowa State, was speaker; his topic was, 'Social Hygiene.'

The programs are: November 17, 'The Home's Responsibility in Building Better Citizens.' This will be a panel. There will be no meeting in December. January 19, the Ministerial Association will present, 'Spiritual Guidance and Citizenship.' February 16 is Founders' Day. March 16 brings the election of officers and a panel on, 'Responsibilities to Youth.' April 20, the officers will be installed, closing the year's work.

Clarke, Grant, Kruse, Arringdale Winners

During the fourth hour today the junior high and sophomore class attended an assembly at which two girls, Suzanne Grant and Helen Clarke, and two boys, Darrell Kruse and Wallace Arringdale, were presented the Goeppinger Awards.

Our principal, Mr. Glen Moore, introduced the superintendent, Mr. Donald Seaton, who gave a short speech explaining the Goeppinger Award and encouraging all junior high students to work toward this award. All 23 candidates sat on the stage and were introduced by Mr. Seaton, who presented the awards to the four winners.

These awards were first presented in the school year 1923-1924 through the generosity of Mr. Louis Goeppinger. In his will he provided that four awards be given to the two outstanding girls and the two outstanding boys who have completed their ninth grade work and are members of the sophomore class. The students eligible to receive these awards must have attended and completed four semesters of Boone Junior High School.

The students must be in the upper ten per cent of their class and have performed praiseworthy and outstanding service in their community. Good conduct and attitudes are considered in making the awards.

The winners have a choice of $10.00 or a medal suitably engraved. Up to this year they have all taken the medal award in preference to the money.

The students to whom the awards were presented were determined by the superintendent, high school principal, and the junior high faculty.

Hats for Halftime

If you were to look back at some of your childhood stories, you might recall Bartholomew and the 500 Hats. Our Mr. Bartholomew is also interested in hats; only he is 495 hats behind the story book character. This all leads up to the theme of Friday's half time band performance, for which Mr. Bartholomew is drilling the band on a show forming different types of hats.

The first one will be a top hat, and the song, 'How Do You Do,' will be played. The next hat is a derby, with 'The Bowery.' Then the band will form a cowboy hat and a revolving lasso to the tune of 'Red River Valley.' The last hat will be a military one and will be accompanied by 'American Patrol.' The welcoming 'N' for Newton and the loyal 'B' for Boone will close the show. Since Newton's school song is the same as ours, the 'Illinois Loyalty' will be played for both formations.

Officers of the band have been elected. They are: president, Judy Reed; vice-president, Dick Conard; and secretary-treasurer, Marilyn Du Bois.

The band has taken trips to the Iowa State College Band Day and to the Marshalltown football game. More trips are being planned, most of them to be exchange concerts.

Senior Boys In Co-op

Sixteen boys are participating in industrial co-op this year. These boys must have completed carpentry or machine shop; at present the class is open to seniors. The boys and their employers are: Eddie Abbott, Duke Lindstrom; Harold Bloomquist, Al Harrington; Dick Downing, Duke Lindstrom; Don Engnell, Conard & Johnson; John Efkamp, Sears Roebuck; Ray LeMaster, Olsen Chevrolet; Eugene Martin, Lippert Bros.; Bob Marshall, Marlow Super Service; Roger Whitman, Leonard McVicker; Tom Maynard, Duncan Machine Shop; Gary Mallicoat, McCartney Cities Service; Ray Moorman, Boone Dairy; Carl Surfus, Don G. Peterson Motor Co.; Leo Wisecup, Boone Dairy; Alan Price, Irvine Appliance; and La Vern Anderson, Boyd's Ice Cream.

Newest of Boone High's many clubs is the Chess Club. About 12 boys indicated that they are interested in joining.

Meetings will be held at the Y. M. C. A., Wednesday evenings at seven o'clock, starting next Wednesday. These sessions will include classes for beginners and classes for those who wish to learn the general fundamentals. Anyone interested in joining is invited to the meeting.

Why don't you join?

Future Teachers Elect Heads

The year-old Future Teachers' Club of Boone High met Friday, October 16, to elect officers and establish memberships. Membership has increased two-fold since last season, this year's membership being 22. Of these 22, only four are returnees.

The club decided that a monthly meeting should be held every first Friday at noon. The next meeting will be November 6. The program committee, made up of the chairman, Janice Runyan, and her committee, Rosalie Bullock, Helen Foltz, Jeannette Stotts, Pat Rinehart, and Bonnie Carter, are making plans for speakers for future meetings.

Election of officers was the chief business of the day. Leta Winans was elected president; Janice Runyan, vice-president; and JoAnn Quantz, secretary.

It is the purpose of the Future Teachers' Club to present teaching as a career for students. During the year the members will be able to practice-teach in the grade schools and to discuss the career with teachers, principals, and superintendents.

Every year boys and girls who have learned to run the movie projector are given assignments in this work during their library periods. There are 26 names on the list in the library this year.

'Y' Conference At B. H. S.

The Y.W.C.A. groups of northwest Iowa held their annual fall Y-teen Conference October 17, at Boone High School. The theme of the conference this year was 'Carry On, Young Citizen.'

The conference opened in the morning with registration and closed in the afternoon with the installation of officers. Carolyn Herman, Boone's candidate, was installed as vice-president of the Northwest Area.

Mrs. Reed Wilson, Mr. Moore, and Martha Lauritsen gave the welcoming speeches. Later in the morning session Mr. Ray Cunningham, Director of the Y.M.C.A. at Iowa State College, gave a speech entitled, 'No Man Stands Alone.'

A campaign stunt was presented by the following girls: Koreen Ballard, Sue Grant, Carol Briggs, Karen Erickson, Janet Day, Joan Lyons, Cay Munn, Irene Nelson, Mary Longworth, and Donna Whitaker.

In the afternoon a panel composed of Bonnie Carter, Jeslyn Pearson, Jean Becker, Don Taylor, Conrad Faber, and Jim Tait discussed, 'My Place in Community Citizenship.'

Some of the out of town girls spent the night at slumber parties in the homes of some of the Boone 'Y' members.

Cast Listed For Fall Play

'Curtain Going Up!' a three-act play to be presented Tuesday, November 10, is something that no one will want to miss. It is a play within a play, since the plot concerns high school students striving to put on a play. It is also different in that the stage includes the whole auditorium.

Miss Burgess, a young dramatics teacher, tries hard to put on her first production, hampered by: a grouchy janitor with a sharp tongue, the mysterious disappearance of the play books, a set of crossed-up high school romances, a stagestruck heroine, and perhaps the most unexpected of all, a romance for herself. All these situations and others go together to make up one of the most hilarious plays to be put on at Boone High.

Those participating are Virginia Doran as Miss Burgess; Karen Finley, Nancy Leveridge; Jeannette Stotts, Lorry Fuller; Alice White, Miss Carolyn Moran; Carolyn Elsberry, Miss Henrietta Rivers; Sharon Sowle, Elsie Hunter; Judy Otis, Sylvia Moore; Marcharene Harrington, Janet Young; Joan Lyons, Joan White; Joyce Larson, Kyle Roberts; Dean Canakes, Mr. Norman Carter; Rock Severtson, Andy Fullbright; Jim Tait, Jocko Guthrie; Wayland Swain, Milt Sanders; 'Chuck' Peterson, Buck O'Hara; Tom Sandell, Mr. Tony Peterson; Kenneth Aldag, Mr. Richard Leve-ridge.

Besides making up the stage crew, the Speech Activities club members will also be in charge of the sale of the tickets.

Your Scholastic Marks

With that time of year at hand when the Goeppinger Award is the matter of consideration, our attention is directed toward such matters as student attitudes, student service to both school and community, and grades.

Let us dwell for a moment on the importance of grades. What is reflected in that grade of 'B' in biology or that grade of 'A' in English? Is it purely a mark with no other significance than its being the first or second letter of the alphabet? No, that grade is a very meaningful item that is entered on your report card and on the school's permanent record. That grade, be it an 'A' or a 'C,' is usually a good indicator of the student's attitude and the degree of eagerness with which the student approaches his or her subject matter.

Too often we hear the remark that ten or fifteen years from now the grades earned in any or all subjects in high school will be of little consequence. The grades may appear valueless, but the habits acquired, the attitudes developed, and the zeal fostered in your determination to make good grades will be exceedingly important to you as the adult of tomorrow.

That grade you earn silently says many things about you. A number of instances are recalled where students have brought to my attention the fact that their capabilities only allow them a 'C.' They do everything possible, but on report card day nothing looms up but the grade of 'C.' It is true with Boone Junior-Senior High School as well as with any other school that the bulk of our students are average students and 'C' is an average grade. However, we must not hide behind this fact and complacently coast along with average marks if we are capable of doing better.

On report card day, after you have carefully evaluated your grades and have possibly discussed them with friends, make a silent inquiry about yourself. "Do those grades represent the best that I might have done?" —Mr. Abbott.

Vox Populi

The time to improve an event is to find out how the people want the event improved while the ideas for improvement are still fresh in mind. Therefore the following question was asked of several students, "How do you think the future homecomings could be improved?" Here are their replies:

Gracia Conard: "The queen candidates should be nominated by the football team but elected by the student body. The Junior College should not be included in competition for floats and maybe 'Y' groups and other groups like that included in the parade. Parade should move more slowly."

John Cooper: "I think parade could be bigger by letting more money be used in financing the floats. More people should support the homecoming dance. The skit for homecoming should be longer."

Janice Carpenter: "I think the students should either nominate or elect the queen. Let the football team do one or the other. The parade could be held before or after the bonfire."

Karen Finley: "The queen should be elected by the student body. The parade should include floats by extra curricular activities as well as the ones in school; i.e., Dolphin, Speech, Y-groups, et al."

Donna Ades: "I think the queen should be nominated by the football team and voted on by the student body. The parade could include other various groups, and decoration of homerooms would be nice. Have more figures like the one that stood on second floor by the boys' advisor's office."

Roger Murken: "I think that the homecoming attendants should be elected by the football team, but I think the student body should elect the queen."

'Chuck' Petersen: "I think the football team should nominate the queen. I think the whole student body should vote on the queen herself. I think the junior college should have a float, but I don't think they should be eligible for competition."

Editor: With the exception of one person interviewed, everyone thought the queen should be elected by the student body. Although this is only the opinion of a few people, it should be the Student Council's job to investigate the idea in more detail and possibly make some changes.

Have you noticed all the artificial blondes and redheads in our corridors? It seems a quite a few experiments were made over the summer with rinses, dyes, shampoos, peroxides, tints, or bleaches. The results: some odd concoctions.

Junior College Social Life

The J.C.'s social life started off with a picnic at the Ledges September 30, where the traditional and always popular potato salad, baked beans, and hot dogs were eaten.

Also as usual they have planned and produced, with many hours of hard work, a winning float for the Homecoming parade.

Two more parties are being planned for the future: a hayride and a party at the Legion cabin.

Toreadors Trounce Tigers

Boone's Toreadors kept the Homecoming spirit of the crowd keyed up Friday, October 10, at Goeppinger Field, when they defeated an unwilling Grinnell team 25-18.

The Toreadors got off to a poor start, but within four minutes of play managed to straighten things out when Ronnie Lind broke through the line and sprinted 82 yards for Boone's first T.D. Jack Becker then made the extra point, giving Boone a 7-0 lead.

Grinnell also made good use of the first quarter when White, on a quarterback sneak, plunged over to make the score 6-7.

Again in the first quarter Lind took the ball through the middle of the line for another six points. The after attempt was no good, and Boone then led 13-6.

Boone came back in the second quarter and again were first to score, when David Fisher recovered the pigskin on the ten. Lind charged through into the end zone for Boone's third touchdown. The after-point failed and the Toreadors led with a 19-6 margin.

After the Toreadors' line held for three downs, Ramsey threw a tower pass to Pearson, who lateraled to O'Brien, who went the rest of the way to make the score 19-12.

In the second half Grinnell was first to score with a pass from Ramsey to Reeves that covered 15 yards for a touchdown. The Tigers, with two attempts at the extra point because of Boone's off-side, failed in both. Boone then had only a slim lead of 19-18.

In the fourth quarter Lind carried the pigskin over for the final touchdown. The after point failed, leaving the 1953 Homecoming game Boone 25, Grinnell 18.

Hey, kids, what do you think about 'staying with' the cheerleaders? They are out there to lead us, so let's try a little harder to stay with them.

Boone to Take On Newton

Tomorrow night at 7:30 the Boone Toreadors will clash with the Newton Cardinals at Goeppinger Field. Boone's record stands at four wins and two losses. Newton's impressive record stands at no losses.

David Loupee, star quarterback for the Cardinals, suffered a broken leg two weeks ago, leaving a difficult position for Newton's coach Eidahl to fill.

This is the Toreadors' next-to-the-last conference game. Let's all be at the game and help them win.

Sophomores Mangle Ogden

The Boone sophomores rolled past Ogden 58-0, Tuesday evening, to win their third consecutive game of the season.

Playing on their home field, Larry Bergloff, Don Schroeder, Richard Byerly, and Bob Barry scored the Boone touchdowns. J. Peterson and Wallace Arringdale were particularly rugged on both offense and defense. The Boone eleven dominated play throughout the game.

The sophomores have marked down a good record. They have three victories: Fort Dodge, Toledo (Juvenile Home), and Ogden—and just one defeat, to Webster City.

The B.H.S. band has really been getting around this year. As you may or may not know the band went to Ames for their I.S.C. annual band day.

Every year the band goes to one out of town game. This year Marshalltown was the game. They gave a half-time performance.

During the half of all our home games the band also performs. They play during the games and a pep band plays at the pep assemblies.

Say, how about Mr. McLeran's 'pretty shirts'? Pretty cute, huh?

Toreadors Bow To Carroll

Boone's Toreadors were defeated by Carroll Friday, October 16, at Carroll, 33-19. This made the Toreadors' second loss this year.

Boone held a seven-point lead early in the first quarter when Jack Becker took a handoff from Gary Barry and raced 73 yards for the T.D. His kick was good, and Boone led 7-0.

Boone scored again in the quarter, after a long run by Ronnie Lind to a foot short of a touchdown. Barry, on a quarterback sneak, scored. Becker kicked but failed to score. Boone then led the Tigers 13-0.

Then Carroll's homecoming spirit began to show. Larry Sabus caught a pass from Davis and raced over for Carroll's first touchdown. The point was good, and the score was 13-7.

A short time later Carroll again scored after a series of passes from Davis to Wilkens, Lanne and Short. The kick for the point was again good, and Carroll's lead was 14-13.

Boone fought back, determined to get the lead, and for the last time accomplished it on a pass from Barry to Becker. The kick was blocked, and the score stood 19-14.

With four minutes left in the first half, the Tigers again took the lead, 20-19. After four thrusts at the line the marker was made, Wilkens going over for the T.D.

The second half had just started when the Tigers again made a marker, with Wilkens going over for the six points. The kick was low. Carroll led, 26-19. A 14-yard run by the Tigers led to the last touchdown of the game, and Carroll won, 33-19.

Well, there's only a week or two left in this nine weeks. If you haven't received a failure letter, you might have a fair chance of passing. Hope we don't all end up burning the midnight oil cramming for tests or there will be some terrific electric bills presented to unhappy parents.

The injured list has claimed two more Toreadors. Dave Fitzsimmons suffered a broken finger in the Grinnell game. Don Schroeder suffered a broken thumb in the Carroll game. Neither boy's injuries have halted their football activities.

We wonder how many Boone High faculty members are well educated in the category of sign language. Apparently not many of the teachers are, by the looks of things in the classrooms. So far the students have kept their instructors baffled and their messages from being intercepted.

It has been discovered that the modern student no longer bothers with paper and pencil for note writing, but agilely uses his hands as a means of communication to someone across the room.

We know you teachers are very happy about this revelation, as it reduces the amount of waste paper on the floor and decreases the curiosity of onlookers.

Mr. McLeran's classes certainly have the powers of persuasion, although it doesn't bother Mr. McLeran a bit. Come on, kids, let's argue faster, shall we?

Football

Saturday, October 3, the seventh grade Matadors went down in defeat against Jefferson's and Madrid's football squads; one game was played in Jefferson and the other here. Although both teams played well under the direction of their coaches, Mr. Carroll and Mr. Honck, both teams underwent defeat 20-0.

One Win, One Loss

The starting lineup for Boone eighth grade in the game against Welch of Ames Saturday, October 3, was David Knudson, right end; Jack Langmade, left end; Gale Price, right tackle; Jerry Wright, left tackle; Tom Pestotnik, left guard; Dick Cofer, right guard; Larry Olander, center; Arnold Elsbury, right half; Don Dearborn, quarterback; Stannley Abrahamson, left half; and Glen Lee, fullback. Rod Von Krog, Don Dearborn, Stanley Abrahamson each made a T.D. and Jerry Linn was credited with two. All points after touchdowns were successful with the final score 35-0. Boone's offense and defense were outstanding throughout the game.

On October 10, the eighth grade team went down in defeat, 32-19, against a strong and determined Webster City team. Their next foe will be Perry, there, on October 17.

Ninth Grade

The Boone freshmen met Marshalltown here last Saturday, October 17, on Goeppinger Field.

Boone, not looking too good, was forced to give up two touchdowns after a series of fumbles in the second quarter. Rushing Gutter at the start of the second half, Boone set Marshalltown back and gained control of the ball after a short punt. The ninth graders kept control of the ball and soon were a threat to Marshalltown. Boone's rally was soon over after they ran out of downs. With no backing from the Boone fans, the Matadors went down in defeat 13 to 0 in Boone's fourth game.

The freshman record now stands at one win and three losses.
