Boone Triumphs Over Marshalltown

Amid the cheers of excited spec-Amid the cheers of excited spectators, the Boone High Toreadors upset the Marshalltown five with a 66-62 victory Friday night on the home floor. Outstanding teamwork and ball handling contributed immensely to the outcome in the meeting with the Bobeats. Kenny Snaks took scoring hop-

Kenny Sparks took scoring hon-ors with the total of 19, followed closely by Collis with 16, and Fisher with 10 points. Larry Bergloff and Merrill Peterson hit for seven each and Bill Larson tallied five counters and Bill Larson tallied five counters. Outstanding rebounding was turned in by Boone's Larson, and Ballard of Marshalltown. Top scorer and playmaker for the 'Cats' was Zwemke, with 17 points to his credit. Boone hit 43 per cent of their field goals and 44 per cent on free throws. Although the score changed hands several times, the Boone five held the upper hand most of the way. Mr. Moore spoke about his experiences leading to his job as principal in the Boone schools at a recent meeting of the Future Teachers' Club. He said that many of the men who have risen to that job or the one as superintendent of schools have begun by coaching and teaching other subjects.

Every student in senior high has the chance to become a first rate photographer. Two different classes meet with Mr. Shadle first period meet with Mr. Shadle first period to learn the art of photography. The first semester the students are taught the basic steps such as learning to develop their own films, making contact prints, using the enlarger, and getting acquainted with the parts and uses of the camera. They also take several outdoor pictures.

The second semester, which is camera. They also take several out-door pictures.

The second semester, which is not compulsory, is a more technical study. In this phase, the students learn how to use some of the larger cameras in the photography field, especially the press camera, which is most widely used. They are informed on the use of flashbulbs and strobe lights, and they also learn the tricks of photography such as overlapping other pictures and getting the different effects of surfaces.

The boys in the two classes learn to take moving pictures of Boone's football games. Mr. McClaren uses them quite extensively to study plays and players. Another big asset is that the seniors have learned to print their own senior pictures for the low cost of 75 cents a

Christmas Assembly

Four homerooms, Mrs. Mark-walder's, Mrs. Henry's, Mr. Lamb's, and Mr. Rohde's, gave a Christmas program December 17.

The program began with the student body singing carols and Christmas songs. It was directed by Mr. Mische, and Joyce Peterson accompanied. Some of the songs' words were shown on the screen. Santa came and read some of the Christmas letters that had been written to him. Mr. Scholl directed the practice of a group of instrumentalists who formed an orchestra playing a 'Melody of Christmas Carols.'

The ushers dismissed the assembly one row at a time in order that each one could quietly carry the story away with him as he left the building.

Girls Lose in Tournament

Not being able to hold their first quarter lead, the Boone Toreadorettes were put out of tournament action when they were downed by the Jordan Eaglettes 48-46, Monday, January 3, at Madrid.

Leading the Boone scores was Judy Maleom with 19 points. Following were Ann Clausen and Rita Howard with 13 and 12 points respectively.

At the half-time the local club left the floor with a slight 28 to 26 advantage, but after a few minutes if third quarter action, the Jordan girls pulled ahead and never lost their lead.

'The Curious Savage' Advances

'The Curious Savage,' a comedy in three acts, will be presented February 9, at 8:00 in the high school auditorium. The story revolves around the efforts of three grown selfish children trying to get the family millions from their eccentric step-mother. They have her committed to a private mental institution, 'The Cloisters,' hoping she will reveal the bonds' whereabouts. All this to no avail, the children go desperate extremes to find the money. At this point the inmates and staff of the rest home come to Mrs. Savage's aid.

Students can graduate when they have completed 60 semester hours, providing that they owe no tuition fees to the school. Upon graduation the student receives a degree of Associate in Arts. The grading scale employed here is the same as that commonly used in many colleges and universities throughout Iowa.

Two types of scolarships are available to worthy students. Work scholarships are issued on the basis of need, scholastic ability, character, and qualifications for work performed. There is also a service club scholarship reserved for students in the teacher training course. In the spring of 1951, the graduating class of Boone Junior College established the J. R. Thorngren Scholarship Fund in honor of Mr. Thorngren, who had served as dean for 23 years. This fund is awarded for character, reputation, industry, honesty, and scholarship. The money is granted by the trustees, composed of the senior class of Boone Junior College, and the Superintendent of schools. Upset for Boone

A second half rally by the Little Cyclones of Ames kept them on the victory path by outscoring the Boone Toreadors 70-59.

Although Ames held a strong height advantage, the Toreadors controlled the boards for the greater share of the game.

Kenny Sparks got Boone's indi-vidual scoring honors for the night with 18 points. He was matched by Ames' six foot six inch center who also got 18 points.

The game was much closer than the score may indicate. At the end of the first quarter, the score was knotted 10-10. eNither team seemed to gain on the other, and the half-time score was 32-32.

The third quarter was the turn-ing point of the game as the Little Cyclones outscored the Toreadors 18-12.

Ames dominated the play through the rest ofo the game and handed Boone their second of three C.I.C. starts.

Character Education

Junior high character education assembly was held Tuesday, January 4, at 2:30. A piano selection was played by Ruth Josephson. John Harrington was unable to do his vocal selection because of illness. Barbara Long was to accompany him. Larry Olander, student chairman, introduced the Rev. Russell E. Otto. His interesting talk was on the tests of life.

udents?" Loren Vogler: "I don't know." Mr. Honeck: "Correct."

Officer: "Hey! Pull over to the curb, lady. Do you know you were doing seventy-five?"

Karen Trulin: "Isn't it marvelous, and I just learned to drive yesterday."

Student Congress

At Christmas time the Student Council collected food and money for the Christmas baskets. About $62 was collected and over eight baskets of food were donated by the Boone Junior High students. Thirteen hams, eight 10-pound bags of sugar, eight large bags of candy, and eight cans of shortening were purchased for eight needy families in Boone. The senior high helped contribute some of the money.
