

Record Offered for Memento of Boone High

Boone Grad in Army Division

Private Janice S. Parisho, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Parisho, 1124½ Benton Street, Boone, recently completed the Clerical Procedures and Typing Course at the Women's Army Corps Center, Fort McClellan, Alabama.

A graduate of Boone High School, Private Parisho enlisted in the Wac in June. She has been transferred to West Point, New York, for duty as a clerk-typist.

The Clerical Procedures and Typing Course is unusual in that the women may be graduated when they have attained the proficiency necessary for assignment. They are not required to attend the maximum limit of the course to graduate if they do not need the training.

No previous typing training or experience is necessary for the clerk-typist section. Classes are taught at all levels of learning, from beginners to skilled personnel. Each student in the typing classes as well as the stenographic courses receives individual instruction to aid her progress.

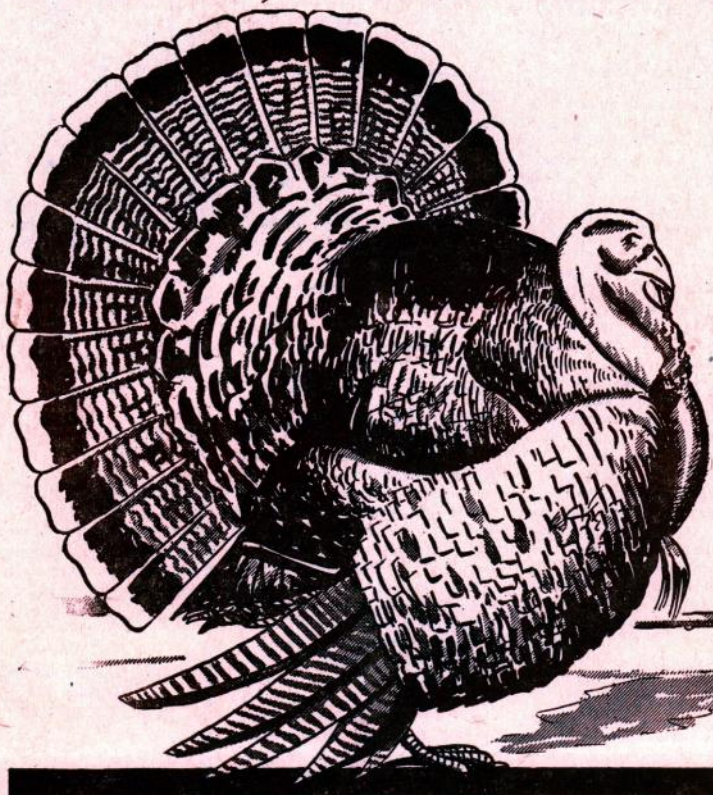

The clerk-typist course is from four to eight weeks in length, with the stenographic training scheduled for a maximum of 12 weeks. Students may be graduated after a minimum of four weeks, during which time they are also taught such military subjects as correspondence, pay and allowances, official procedures, military security, and legal affairs.

The Clerical Procedures and Typing Course and all WAC officer training are conducted at the Center by the WAC School. There is also the Basic Training Course, which initiates the transition from civilian to military life.

James Tait, of 1420 First Street, Boone, was a member of the publicity crew for the homecoming play, 'The Braggatt Warrior' by Plautus, presented at Grinnell College on October 27 and 28.

A freshman at Grinnell, Tait is a 1955 graduate of Boone High School.

TURKEY, Thanks and All!

Leaves blanket the ground beneath barren trees, the wanderer out of doors blows little puffs of fog with each breath of nippy air, darkness falls a little earlier each day, and suddenly it's fall. The 'buffer' season between the shirt-sleeve heat of summer and the bundled-up cold of winter comes silently and quickly.

Around this time of year America, as America is so often doing, likes to set aside a day and celebrate. It's not the birthday of a famous man... or even a memorable date in the history of a great nation. In truth, Thanksgiving is a mixture of both. It's a time we remember all the builders of our country... all the dates and milestones in its past... and offer thanks in thought and word for them, and for life itself.

The spirit surrounding Thanksgiving is its own, and unique. Mere mention of the word brings visions of a perfectly browned turkey, a bright dining room filled with easy chatter of family and friends.

The order of the day is an easy chair, a favorite book, and relaxation. Headaches and ulcers of the business world are left far behind. School day textbooks and assignments are locked up and forgotten till Monday comes again.

America may well take this Pilgrim-begun holiday to rest, reflect on her many blessings... and be thankful.—Medford Hi-Times, Medford, Oregon.

Record Sales Start

Something new in school memories can be yours. Your Scroll preserves the scenes you love so well. Now the sounds are captured on a seven-inch 45-r.p.m., vinylite unbreakable record.

Although arrangements for production of the record are not complete it will probably contain numbers representative of the chorus, band, orchestra, and Pep Club. The songs and cheers will never be forgotten as they are permanently recorded for your souvenirs.

The proceeds from this sale will go to the Bumble 'B'. This money will be used to better the finances of this organization and and extra funds will help to bring a better school paper with more and better news and pictures. This will, we hope, make the use of student photography possible.

Reserve your recording today. Clip the coupon from the Bumble 'B' and turn it in to room 309 or 323. You may order without the coupon if you like, but do it soon.

Teachers' Day Observed

Prospective Teacher Day was observed at the Boone Junior College on Monday, November 7. This event is sponsored yearly by state education groups, colleges, public and parochial schools, and leaders in business, industry, and civic organizations. About 70 persons, high school and junior college students, were in attendance.

The program for the afternoon was opened by Dean Robert D. Heyen. Lavonne Berggren led the group in singing. The featured speaker was Mr. Virgil Kellogg, superintendent of the Madrid schools. He gave an interesting report on 'Teaching As a Career.'

After Mr. Kellogg's address, the group divided into two sections, one of prospective high school teachers and the other of future elementary teachers. The group discussion leader for the high school teachers was Miss Frieda Pagel. Mr. Marlin Bechtel led the elementary discussion section.

Mrs. Harold Honohan explained the scholarship loan program to the combined audience. A discussion was then given on 'The Role of the Iowa Future Teachers of America in High School and College.' Speakers for this were Lavonne Berggren, Rosemarie Chance, and Lavonne Groth.

Following the program, refreshments were served by the Boone City Council P.-T.A.

The planning committees for the day consisted of Dean Heyen, Miss Berggren, and Miss Naomi Davitt.

One week from today, November 24, is Thanksgiving Day. On that Thursday and the Friday following school will be dismissed.

Practical Jokes— A Lost Art

By Ferdinand

Boys and girls, you are missing life's goldenest opportunities that are right under your fat little red noses. Where is your intestinal fortitude? Where are your vigor and ingenuity? Where in the Sam Hill are your guts? What I mean is where are all these pleasant little pleasantries that the ignorant folk call practical jokes?

Oh, but we have the idea! Leave us nurse the teeny-weeny spark of life engendered by the coffee-cup business and fan it into a flame of good-natured juvenile delinquency.

The mysterious disappearance of teachers' answer books will serve as a starter, although it appears rather elementary when compared to the stunts perfected by our forefathers, the most noble alumni.

A goat would work as well. After all, who has not heard of the remarkable feat of depositing a cow in the bell tower of Old Washington building? (Observe that the aforementioned is now a parking lot.) One can only hint that the high school roof is quite accessible, although a goat might serve as well under the circumstances. The chemistry department was surprised by a skeleton arranged tastefully on the desk along with assorted chemicals from the laboratory.

The emphasis placed on creativity and willingness to work stands each clever prankster in good stead with faculty and administration alike.

But I must close now, kiddies; I left my fingerprints on a fire-water bottle I planted in a senior's locker, besides I just got a telegram reporting that my grandmother is very ill and calls for me.

Boone Girls Victorious in First Two Games

Defense Outstanding

Defense was the main issue in the Boone gym when the Boone Toreadettes smothered the Ogden girls 34-18. Both teams showed outstanding defensive outfits but neither team could get in scoring range of the bucket. There were only 18 field goals made, 14 by Boone.

Judy Malcom hit for 19 points for Boone on nine field goals and one free throw. Ann Clausen, hitting below her usual standards scored five points. Etta Mae Grady and Karen Mustapha scored four points apiece with Rita Howard accounting for two. The three C's again exhibited their splendid play in the back court. Although Ogden was below par in scoring, Roney Chance, Joan Cornelius, and Jacqueline Conn were mostly responsible for the low scoring of the Bulldogs. The Ogden guards probably accounted somewhat for the low number of points the Toreadettes chalked up too. Cecile Kruse, a 5-5 junior, Shari Jones, 5-7 junior, and Karen MacPherson, 5-7 senior, made up the Bulldog guard court.

Ahead 9-6 at the first quarter, the Boone girls boosted their lead to 20-8 at halftime. In the third period Ogden outscored the Toreadettes to slice the margin to 26-16. However, the Boone guards tightened their defense and held their opponents scoreless during the last five minutes.

In the reserve game Ogden won by the score of 21-17. Boone's top point makers were Sandy Hick with eight, and Etta Mae Grady with seven to her credit.

That which is striking and beautiful is not always good; but that which is good is always beautiful. —Ninon de l'Enclos.

Toreadors Play North

The Boone High Toreadors will take the floor for their first basketball game of the season Saturday night when they meet North High of Des Moines in East High's gym.

Probable starters for Boone will be 'Chuck' Musser at one forward, J. Peterson at center, and Larry Meyers at one guard. Richard Byerly and Larry Land are battling for the other guard position and either Don Stevens or Larry Bergloff will fill the other forward slot.

No information has been received regarding the North team, but they are expected to provide tough opposition for the Toreadors.

J.V.'s Triumph

To get the boys' basketball season off to a good start, the Boone Junior Varsity boys triumphed over the Grand Junction five, 62-56. At the whistle, Boone took the tip and 'Chuck' Musser drove for the first bucket. At the end of the first quarter the score read 17-10 in favor of Boone with Larry Meyer sparking his team. The second quarter began with Boone again taking the tip and Jim Taylor scoring. The half ended 38-26 in Boone's favor.

No one can tell what happened in the Grand Junction dressing room during the half, but when they came out on the floor again, they were an inspired team.

By the end of the third quarter they had shortened Boone's lead to three points. Mike Newbold hit well on long shots. In the fourth quarter Grand Junction went out ahead two different times while both Bob Musser and Jim Taylor fouled out. Larry Meyers, Larry Land, and 'Chuck' Musser had a hand in checking Grand Junction's fast charging ball team during the last few minutes to give Boone the lead.

There seems to be a lot of discussion about the method used to cut the members of the basketball squad. It probably was hard for some of the boys to take, especially if they had played basketball until their junior or senior year, only to be eliminated after two nights of practice.

Everyone should be reminded that the new coach is responsible for this year's team, their morale, spirit, and their record. Perhaps we need to weigh more carefully the value of giving a boy an opportunity to play as a reward for working two or three years previously or eliminating such persons in order to get a winning team.

More and more emphasis is placed on winning and not on how the game is played. More and more emphasis is being placed on the individual and not the team itself. Maybe we should modernize our attitude toward the winning team for—and we can't get around it—every team wants to be a winning team. Maybe we should just ignore Grantland Rice's great lines, "For when the One Great Scorer comes to write against your name—He marks not that you won or lost—but how you played the game."

Boosters Reactivated

To increase pep the Boys' Booster Club, which was initiated last winter, will be put in action again as a regular club. The organization took place Tuesday, November 15.

The group, sponsored by Coach Les McIntyre, elected Jerry Johnstone as president. They will elect a secretary-treasurer later.

Apparel includes white shirts worn with or without bow ties.

The Boys' Quartet will start the ball rolling by singing at the assembly on November 18.

The club is not intended to compete with the Pep Club, but to complement it.

Civic Students Visit Mayor

The ninth grade civics classes elected four students from each class to interview Mayor Mahoney. Some of the things they discussed were: the council members, Boone's budget, chief expenses, the mayor's duties, curfew, laws, current problems, and the population of Boone.

After the discussion, the mayor personally guided the students on a tour of the City Hall.

The history of Boone is also being discussed in the civics classes. Each class is divided into groups of three and are expected to give reports on one of twelve topics. Some of the topics are: history of Boone press, townships, Indians, and industries of Boone.

Pamphlets were distributed among the students on which they are to give seven minutes reports. Some of the pamphlets are: 'When Children Face Crisis,' 'Baby Sitters Guide,' 'Where Are Your Manners?' 'Your Safety Manual,' and 'A Guide to Good Grooming.'

On November 16, Mr. Dave Workman appeared in an assembly in which he featured his musical bells. Mr. Workman makes, as well as plays the bells, and he finds it a very enjoyable hobby.

Y-TEENS

On October 31, the Y-teens of the seventh grade held their first party of the year, which was a Hallowe'en party, at the Y.W.C.A.

Upon arriving they were led through a 'Chamber of Horrors.' Most of the games were relays.

Each person brought buns and hot dogs, which they roasted in the fireplace. Some money from the seventh graders' treasury provided the donuts.

The party was well attended and they stayed from 7:20 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. Everyone had a good time.

The eighth grade Y-teens held their annual Hallowe'en party October 25, at the Y.W.C.A.

The party was started by the girls going through the 'Chamber of Horrors.' Over 60 girls were divided up into two teams for the games. Later on the girls split up into four teams, and they all went on a scavenger hunt. After it was over the girls enjoyed wieners, buns, marshmallows, a variety of cookies, donuts, potato chips, and pop.

On October 26, a Hallowe'en party for the members of the ninth grade Y-teens was held at the Y.W.C.A.

The party was started by a trip through the 'House of Horrors.' Prizes were awarded for the best costumes. Among the games played were 'Witches' Apple Stew,' 'Kisses Relay,' 'Coca-Cola Stunt,' 'Ballon Bust,' and 'Witches' Ride.' A scavenger hunt was featured. Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies, doughnuts, and pop were served. Fun was 'had by all.'

A committee has been appointed to paint lines around the water fountains.

Several committees have been appointed. These include a social committee, a sportsmanship committee, a publicity committee, and a constitution committee.

Latin Question

"What would you do if you were an 'equus'?"

Kathy McCambridge: "Go to see a doctor."

Alan Walker: "I'd eat it."

Elizabeth Hott: "Hire a secretary."

Leo Lortz: "Put four wheels on it and take it down to the fair for a race."

Nicky Miller: "I'd like school teachers."

"Chuck" McCubbins: "Buy a Cadillac and put an Offenhouser engine in it."

Carolyn Reed: "I'd play post office."

By the way, if any of you are interested, an 'equus' is a horse.
