

Many Scholarships Available to Senior Students

For anyone wishing to receive financial aid in going to college, there are several types of scholarships available. There are three specific types: honor scholarships, competitive scholarships, and special scholarships.

The upper 10 or 15 per cent of the class is eligible for honor scholarships. These are approximately $100 and are applicable to tuition cost and other fees. This type of scholarship can be renewed if the student maintains high scholarship ranking.

Merit Scholarship

The top 10 per cent of the senior class is considered for the freshman merit scholarship based on results of achievement tests given in May.

The scholarship recommendation is made by someone in the administration. They are made available by the State University of Iowa and Iowa State Teachers College.

Competitive scholarships extend over the four years, their continuation depending on scholarship and citizenship. Some are highly restricted, that is, limited to a few.

Grinnell College makes available a four-year scholarship issued by the Union Carbide Scholarship Fund which covers basic tuition, books, and fees. Ten of these are given in technical engineering and five are given in business administration. They are renewable and require no special examinations.

The American Cancer Society offers a special scholarship to girls who are planning to go into nurses' training. $500 for a three-year period is given if the beneficiary agrees to work in Iowa for two years after graduation.

Veishea Award

The Veishea Award is offered to two people in each school. From these, three are chosen to receive the amounts, in order, $750, $300, $250. They are given on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and character. The 20 winners are honored guests at Veishea.

Scholarships are given by the Farm Bureau to 18 rural girls in the state who agree to teach in a rural school for a period of two years. $140 is given each year for two years. Those interested can apply at their local Farm Bureau Federation.

One boy and one girl in each district in Iowa may receive the scholarship offered by the Board of Managers of the Chicago North Western Railroad Women's Club. In order to receive the $400 given, the recipient must have one parent who is an employee of the railroad, be in the top 10 per cent of his class, need financial help, and be recommended by someone on the board.

Clubs Help

Three scholarships amounting to $500 each are given to worthy girls by the Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs. The person to whom the award is given must have a club recommendation by a local Federated Club and have received a high grade in the Ohio State Aptitude Test. The receiver must also interview state representatives of the club.

Local clubs, such as Business and Professional Women's Clubs and the chapters of the P. E. O., give loans with low interest rates to interested and reliable citizens who would like to arrange a meeting with their scholarship committees.

Certain churches offer awards which range in amounts from $100 to $300 for members of their churches who desire to attend church-sponsored schools.

Teen Talent Contest to Be Held in Boone

Orchestra Performs Here

The High School Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Konrad Scholl, presented a concert for the public February 14 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. This concert was held February 13, during the fifth hour for senior high.

The program opened with Overture to 'Oberon,' which was written in the middle of the 19th century by C. M. von Weber.

'The Great Gate of Kiev,' by Moussorgsky, was a musical picture of the gate at Kiev, Russia. The composer was so impressed by Victor Hartman's painting that he put his impression into music.

Richard Alber was soloist in 'Concerto for Trumpet.' This concerto was written by Haydn two hundred years ago. He was considered the first great composer for orchestra music.

Symphony in B Minor, 'Pathétique,' was the sixth and last symphony of the late 19th century composer, Tchaikovsky. By deliberately drinking a glass of water containing typhus germs, Tchaikovsky committed suicide.

A very clever selection on the program was 'Mosquito Serenade,' written by Kreutz, in which the mosquito was swatted in the end.

'Paul Bunyan Suite,' including 'Dance of the Blue Ox' and 'Night—Paul's Work Completed,' was composed by Bergsma when he was a senior in high school. His work was highly accepted by the public.

Last selection on the program, 'Bacchanale' from 'Samson and Delilah,' written by Saint-Saens, was an Oriental march from the opera depicting the scene in which Samson was led to the temple.

Members of the symphony orchestra include the following:

Violins: Keith Josephson, concertmaster; Barbara Beckett, Donald Josephson, Mary Lynn Hauge, Darrell Kruse, Carolyn Kirk, Sonja Reedholm, Caroline Stephenson, Marilyn Pesek, Joyce Anderson, Paul King, Mary Wiemer, Millicent Stutzman, Barbara Nelson, Sandra Sutherland, Susan Werner, Deanna Eldien, Susanne Frohardt, Cynthia Case, and Leland Dahlin.

Violas: Caryl Achenbach, Judith Loveless, Duane Eckhart, Kae Nelson, Kathryn Disney, Barbara Anderson, Judith Braklow, and Karen Bennett.

FNC Has Interesting Program Planned

The Future Nurses' Club of Boone High is now making plans for its first banquet in honor of the pinning ceremony. Previously the pins were bought by the receiving members and no special ceremony was held for the occasion. Upon request by several members, the new program has been adopted. Final plans for the banquet are incomplete since the pins for the new members haven't arrived.

A physical therapist from the Easter Seal Society in Des Moines spoke to the nurses group at a meeting on February 6. He have the girls some new aspects on the field of nursing by an informative talk and by answering questions.

On Saturday, February 4, four girls of the F. N. C., Rosemarie Kiddie, Evelyn Schoff, Jacquie Conn, and Joan Cornelius attended Nurses' Career Day at St. Joseph's Hospital in Fort Dodge. The girls reported that they listened to speakers, student nurses, and instructors and then toured the hospital in small groups, each led by a student nurse. They then went through the nurses' home after which refreshments were served.

Cellos: Patricia Braklow, Sandra Richmond, Joan Stotts, Elizabeth Hinz, Janice Gumtau, and Lee Ann Hauge.

Basses: Richard McCoy, Gloria Peterson, Suellen Tonsfeldt, and Joyce Peterson.

Flutes: Bonnie Pestotnik, Ruth Josephson, and Sandra Hick.

Piccolo: Ruth Josephson.

Clarinets: Barbara Long, David Gibbs, and Phil Standley.

Bass Clarinet: Ray Guenther.

Oboe: Joanne Hamilton.

Bassoon: Lynn Anderson.

Trumpets: Richard Alber, Mary Ann Moeller, and Jo Ellen Sparks.

French Horns: Shirley Carter and Janice Carter.

Trombones: Richard Long and Kay Wiley.

Tuba: Keith Parkinson.

Tympani: Rex Chadwick.

Percussion: John Kost and James Roberts.

This orchestra concert was held February 13, during the fifth hour for senior high.

My Bonnie looked into the gas tank, the height of its contents to see; She lit a small match to assist her, Oh, bring back my Bonnie to me!

F. F. A. Boys on Tv. and Radio

Three television programs and one radio program will feature the local F. F. A. chapter during National F. F. A. Week from February 20 through February 27. These programs will explain the purposes and functions of the F. F. A. on a national, state, and local basis.

WOI-TV will present the first program on February 14 from 9:30 to 10 p.m. The next two programs are scheduled for February 20 on KRNT-TV at noon, and WHO-TV from 12:30 to 1 p.m. Time has been allotted by radio station KWBG but the schedule has not been announced.

All boys in good standing in F. F. A. will go to Des Moines on a field trip February 28. They will go through the Swift & Co. packing plant and the State Capitol.

The boys are also making plans for their local speech contest.

JUST BUZZIN'

Larry Tobler, King of the Banjo, was featured in a senior high assembly, January 9, during the second hour.

Banjo imitations, novelty tunes, and trick playing methods were illustrated by this "Dynamo of the Banjo."

One of the outstanding features of his concert was the presentation of some difficult classics on this little known instrument.

Character education assemblies were held February 7 during the first hour.

Donald Nystrom, student chairman, introduced the Rev. Palmer Rupp of the Christian Missionary Alliance.

'I heard a Forest Praying,' was sung by the girls' trio composed of Carolyn Kirk, Marlene Sesker, and Caryl Achenbach. Mary Lynn Hauge accompanied the group.

Dean Canakes of 1121 Story Street, Boone, is a member of the cast of the Grinnell college production of 'Dark of the Moon,' to be presented February 24 and 25. A folk play, it also includes song and dance elements.

A sophomore at Grinnell, Canakes is a 1954 graduate of Boone High School.

Closing Dates Near On Photo Contest

Students at Boone High School still have time to get in on the opportunities to win fame and fortune in this year's National High School Photographic Awards, contest headquarters has announced.

Closing date is March 31, 1956, and entries mailed up to midnight of that date will be accepted. Winners will be announced in May when a total of 256 cash prizes, amounting to $5,000, will be awarded.

You don't have to be an expert to enter and win prizes, either, headquarters points out. In past years some of the top awards have gone to boys and girls who have used just the simplest 'box' cameras to snap prize-winning photos.

The entries will be judged in four classes: (1) School Activities; (2) People; (3) Pictorials, and (4) Animals and Pets. The first award in each class will be $300, second will be $200, third, $100, and there also will be a $50 special award in each class. In addition 240 honorable mention awards of $10 each also will be given.

Any student in the ninth through the 12th grades may submit any number of photos taken since April 1, 1955. Each entry must have been taken by the contestant without professional help, but it is not necessary for the entrant to do the developing and printing.

Additional details on how to enter your photos in the contest, which is sponsored by the Eastman Kodak Company, are available from ??? or can be obtained by writing to National High School Photographic Awards, 343 State Street, Rochester 4, New York.

Boone was awarded eighth place honors in the state swimming meet last Saturday night in the new East pool. Clinton noded out Roosevelt of Des Moines for the first place berth. Dave Nelson tied for third in the 100-yard free style and then captured fifth in the 150-yard individual medley. Wally Arrandale finished sixth in the diving competition and Tom Reed swam sixth in the 200-yard free style.

Bill Riley To Preside

Bill Riley, KRNT and KRNT-TV master of ceremonies of "T-V Teen Time" will appear at the Community Building at the fair grounds March 24, at 7:30 p.m. The Boone teen contest is sponsored by Lincoln Encampment No. 26 Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Boone, Iowa. The winning act will appear on the Des Moines telecast.

The age group between 15 and 19 is preferred because they have developed their talent to a greater extent than younger ones, and would have better chance on the broadcast if they win on the Boone show.

The rules for the competing acts are as follows:

a. Any teen-ager from 13 through 19, inclusive may compete.

b. Not more than four in any act. (This excludes piano accompaniment, and accompanist may be an adult.)

c. ACT MUST NOT RUN MORE THAN THREE MINUTES.

d. Dance acts and other visual-only acts are acceptable.

e. Act must be at Community Building at 7:30 o'clock, one hour before show time.

Bill Riley will act as master of ceremonies for the show and will be at the Community Building at the fair grounds at 7:30 to visit with the acts and get set for the show.

The sponsoring group will award prizes to winning acts:

$10.00 for first place.
$7.50 for second place.
$5.00 for third place.

The championship act also will earn the opportunity to perform on the "TV. Teen Time" telecast over KRNT-TV at some future date.

More than one act may be taken for the TV show—if Riley has the spot for additional acts.

Eliminations for talent will be held at I. O. O. F. Hall, third floor, on Saturday, March 10, 1956, with impartial judges presiding. Talent should register with Mrs. Francis Brown, 409 Eleventh street ('phone 1080-J) by February 15.

Miss Handy would like to thank all the students and teachers for the flowers, gifts, and cards. She is recovering from an operation to pin a broken leg suffered February 1.

TEENS of the WEEK

As this is the month of hearts and flowers, etc., we thought it might be appropriate to have our teens of the week, a couple 'going steady.' The two picked are Jacquelyn Conn and Bob Sellers.

We'll start out with the prettiest half of this twosome. No offense intended, Bob!

Jacquie is 17, a senior here at Boone High, and she is taking the vocational course. Pep Club, Hi-Tri, Future Nurses Club, and being secretary of her homeroom tend to keep this girl pretty busy.

She would like to become a registered nurse and plans to attend Iowa Methodist for her necessary training.

Besides being active in school activities, Jacquie is also an honor student and hasn't missed being on the honor roll since she's been in senior high.

Since this paper is long on words and short on pictures here's what our keen teen sees in her mirror: blond hair, blue eyes, and a light complexion. What the mirror might not show is her wonderful personality and friendly attitude.

Jacquie's favorite sport and activity is basketball. She has been on the team since ninth grade, plays guard position, and has won a letter. This year she is a captain. She also enjoys swimming and riding and her favorite food is "lunchroom pork chops." Perhaps they give her more energy to participate in all of her activities which include those already mentioned, an after school job at a local dairy, working in the lunchroom, and keeping a certain football player in condition.

In the Hall

TO THE HALL

I must go out to the hall, my friends, to the thundering crowd and the mass,

And all I ask is an even break to get to my next hour class.

To the strong shove and the mad pace and the multitude's fighting, And the sweet thought of that clear spot I'm almost sighting.

I must go out to the hall, my friends, where the thought of that jam-packed stair,

Is a reckless one and a wild one that summons up a prayer.

And all I ask is the strength to push when my doorway I have found, And there's thanks in my heart for all mankind that I haven't hit the ground.

I must go out to the hall, my friends, to the risky, daring lot, To the rough way, the dangerous way, where hope is all I've got; And all I ask is a chance for the door when I finally part the swell

And a quiet class, a peaceful class, when at last I hear the bell! (With apologies to John Masefield) —The Electron, Franklin, Indiana, High School. (Quoted in the S. P. 4-15-55.)

Although one might think her favorite or at least most used expression, is "Robert, don't hit me!" she actually prefers, "I'm glad."

She usually is.

Now for that "certain football player" who is of course, Robert Sellers.

Bob has been out for football since seventh grade. This year as a varsity guard he won his letter. He also enjoys golf and tennis.

He is a senior, 17, and is enrolled in the college preparatory course. Someday, Bob hopes to go to Iowa State where he will study engineering.

Mr. Sellers' other activities include Hi-Y and MYF which he is president of.

Bob has worked at Cook's Paint store for three years, but he has found time to collect a few favorites too! He likes to listen to the Crew Cuts, eat chicken and French fries, and his favorite subject is "Trig." His pet peeve (Jacquie take note) is waiting for people. Both he and the other half of this article enjoy hearing 'The Great Pretender.'

Bob also has a friendly personality and is well-liked by his friends.

So much for our teens except to wish them the best of luck for the present and future.

Buzzin' with Benji

Well, hello there fellow members of the Benji 'B' fan club. Here it is February. For those who were habitual dozers in grade school, this is the month of valentines and Abraham Lincoln.

Valentines come in several shapes, sizes, and with various forms of endearment. The favorite of course is the ever popular 'Roses Are Red, etc.'

Why not a card with just 'Roses are red, Violets are blue' printed on it, letting the sender write in his own ending. For example, a teenager might write—

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
I think you're real crazy
And beautiful, too.
Oh well, so much for that.

Since we're on the subject of love, it is a wonderful subject isn't it, here's a joke appropriate of the times.

One wedding guest to another: "Her 'something borrowed' is my boy friend."

Oh well, not every story has a happy ending.

Not that I'm a nosey bee, but a certain senior girl got 'cold feet' while up town the other night. The question is were her shoes stolen or did she forget them in the first place? Anyhow I'll bet that cement was a bit chilly!

Have you gotten your valentine from that special 'one' yet? No? Well, Christmas is only 11 months away and there's always the Easter bunny.

Must buzz off now, see ya later, 'gators! Crazy, huh?
'B' seeing ya!

"Sir, may I have your daughter for my wife?"

"Bring your wife around, and we'll see."

Three Little Pigs

By Dan Siegler

It seems that once, a coon's age ago, there were three little pigs. The first little pig was a real cool hep cat, likewise his brother. Oh, they were gone. But that third one . . . a real square; a classic.

One day, the square one up and said, "Brethren, due to unfortunate atmospheric conditions, I fear we shall find ourselves sorely in need of a dwelling. In short, let's throw up a shack, Joe. The H₂O's gonna be thick come sundown."

So off they went. The first hep cat built one of straw, the second of sticks, and the Einstein made his of bricks.

Soon a wolf came along and spied the first shack. He went up to knock on the door, but, being as there wasn't a door, he pounded on the wall. Now this particular wolf was a hay-fever fan, so when he pounded his knuckles on the straw sides, he was amazed to find himself breathing more straw than air. To remedy this, he let loose with a regular typhoon-type sneeze.

With three snorts, a chomp, and a gulp, the enclosed pig was soon a real gone hep cat.

So the canine cannonball rolled on to the next pork shack, the stick one. That particular pig, having had a slight touch of brains, had built his of thorn sticks to keep out the wolf. But the found that he couldn't get in without getting pinched. Minus number two hep cat.

So the pork chop fiend proceeded on to the brick house. Meanwhile the square one had gone out in search of his real gone brethren. Old ham-hunter met him on the path. Another snort, another gulp.

The classic calamity was rather hard to digest, having read too much Shakespeare. So the wolf went on into the square's home. Bingo! A loose brick bopped his head, also knocking him for a loop. So . . . no pigs, no wolf, no story.

(This story with many other student efforts will be published at the end of the school year in an all-school publication. Watch for the first issue of the school magazine.)

Facts About Faculty

Miss Thornburgh, the girls' advisor, has been here for 12 years. Before coming to Boone, Miss Thornburgh was a high school principal for 10 years and a math teacher before that.

Her work is not all signing admits. She handles disciplinary problems for the girls and makes the contact between the home and school on problems of attendance and class work. Her schedule also includes subject counseling for junior high.

Miss Thornburgh says she loves her work and the closer contact with the students. Besides that she teaches eighth grade arithmetic. She feels that this or some teaching is necessary in her job so she can better understand the students she deals with as an advisor.

Experience is a hard teacher. She gives the test first and the lesson afterward.

Question of The Week

In keeping with the season our question this week was about a little phrase seen on most valentines.

What would you do if someone said "ai amari voi," to you?

Carolyn Kirk: Depends on whether it's a boy or a girl.

Don Smith: Probably run.

Rita Howard: Tell them they're nuts.

Mike Ferry: Ask H. L. Cunningham.

Janet Land: Shout 'Yea!'

Freddie Vitt: Ask it for a date and find out.

Jo Sparks: Oh, Bob!

Morgan Tompkins: Let's eat.

College Counsel

An article in the Saturday Evening Post on 'How to Choose a College,' by Clarence Lovejoy, is of interest to many high school students. In the United States there are 2,049 colleges with a total enrollment of 2,800,000. Statistics prove that six out of every ten elementary school pupils graduate from high school, and three out of every ten graduate from college. Of the three out of ten, many go to small colleges. In fact there are about 140 small colleges with an enrollment of under 300. Twenty colleges have an enrollment of over 15,000.

Many of these colleges offer strange courses, such as the University of Miami which offers all types of fishing and bait casting, and Mount Hood College in Maryland, which offers a course in education for marriage, including a few tips on how to catch a man.

Some odd sounding courses are practical. Among these are wine making, truck driving, embalming, taxidermy, and home economics for men.

One of the 'better' colleges is often not the 'best' for a certain person. Sometimes a two-year technical course is practical as well as a saving in time and money.

For the people with limited incomes there are what Mr. Lovejoy calls 'earn-and-learn' colleges. In these colleges students do the cooking, work on the college farm, in the library, or in the offices.

Thirty million dollars is available each year in the form of scholarships given away by foundations, colleges, lodges, and service clubs.

Mr. Lovejoy feels that what is needed most is better high school counseling.

Jim Cross: I can tell you the score of a game before it starts.

Neil Jackson: Oh yeah? What is it?

Jim Cross: Nothing to nothing.

There was a little girl,
She had a little smile;
She sent it to a little boy
Across a little aisle.
He wrote a little note,
But he made a little slip,
And so they went together
On a little office trip.

Bachelor: A chap who believes in wine, women, and so long.

Fran Duncan: Say it back if I could.

Bruce Tohill: Turn around and run.

Barb Beckett: Slap them in the face.

Jon Ewing: Say "Ai amari voi" back.

Charlotte Sawyer: Probably kick them and run for my life.

Dick Rinker: I'd say he was crazy.

Elaine Germer: Wouldn't you like to know?

Kenny Shuey: Take it on a date.

For those of you still in the dark, "ai amari voi" means "I love you" in Italian.

"Any physical defects?" asked the draft board doctor.

"Yes, Sir," replied the hopeful inductee. "No guts."

Radio announcer: A man who talks until you have a headache, then tries to sell you something to relieve it.

Just by Chance

In this lazy world of automation, more and more people are neglecting their much-needed exercise—girls even more so than boys. We must admit, however, that Boone does not offer too much to solve this problem. If a girl isn't interested in or capable of playing basketball or taking part in synchronized swimming, she is left out of athletics.

It would be surprising to many Boone High students, and even teachers, if they knew of the many schools that have activities for girls other than basketball. A good example would be the various schools that have girls' tennis or softball teams. Surprisingly enough, central Iowa has quite a few of these teams.

Someone should take hold now and in a few years Boone could be recognized as a leading school in athletics. Even this year a program could be started to enter girls in competition.

Toreador cager Bob Harder turned his ankle in practice last week and as a result was an crutches for a day, had a wear a slipper for three days, and had to miss the game Friday night. But Bob says he is back to normal now and will be ready for tomorrow night's game.

A special Pep Assembly will be held for students next Wednesday, February 22. This assembly will be a change of pattern in comparison with previous pep rallies. It is to be held in the gym to create more enthusiasm and student participation.

Although the committee has limited the information about this event, they have offered the following points: the five winter teams—girls' varsity, boys' varsity, swimming team, sophomore team, and junior college team—will be introduced.

A trampoline act will be one of the highlights of the day. The performer or performers are not named as yet. It may be a person outside of Boone High.

The Pep Club and Booster Club will have a definite section from which to watch and take part in the event. Instead of only watching students act, it is hoped that all of the audience will take more of an active part and generate some real pep.

"I won't get married," said he, "until I find a girl like the one Grandpa married."
"They don't have women like that today," she said.
"Oh, no?" said he. "He just married her yesterday."

Expert: A person who can take something you already know and make it sound confusing.

He is a wise man who knows what not to say—provided he doesn't say it.

Boone Draws Bye in First Sectional

Boone Loses To Tigers

The Tigers from Grinnell handed Boone its ninth loss in the Central Iowa Conference Friday night with a 61-53 decision. The Toreadors led only once in the ball game but threatened an upset many times. Trailing by five points at half time 33-28, the Boone cagers lessened the lead to only one point at the beginning of the third period. Fast breaks netted three fast buckets for Grinnell and then the Tigers went all out, scoring 12 points to Boone's six. The Toreadors could not pull within an eight-point margin in the last quarter.

Toreador guard Richard Byerly scored a total of 17 points, the same amount accumulated by Robinson of Grinnell. Chuck Musser was the only other Boone cager to hit in the double digit column. He accounted for 12.

The victory put Grinnell in a second place tie with Newton in conference standings while Ames and Oskaloosa share fourth ratings.

Chance Moves To District

Although the Boone girls were defeated in the first round of the sectional tournament at Jewell last week, one Toreadorette is still in the running for state honors.

By hitting 21 out of 25 free throws, senior Romey Chance, took second place honors in the contest. She was awarded a trophy and a free throw birth in the District Tournament.

Mary Snider of United Community was declared winner after hitting 22 out of 25 tries.

Both girls will shoot their second round at Harecourt, and the winner and runner-up will then advance to the state.

Osky Is Next

Coach Clifton is contemplating a starting lineup composed of five seniors for the Toreadors' tilt with Oskaloosa tomorrow night. If this plan does not materialize, the five boys that started the season will again be awarded the starting positions. This would put Rich Byerly and Larry Meyers at guards, J. Peterson and 'Chuck' Musser at forwards, and Larry Bergloff in the center slot.

In January the Indians won by a 72-54 margin. The final score does not tell the story of the game, however, for the Toreadors were in the race until the final four minutes. Jack McDonald was the main threat to the Boone cagers, scoring 28 points.

'Chuck' Musser was high for the Toreadors with 21 points in that game.

In the state swimming meet Saturday night, the Boone tankmen finished in eighth place. Clinton nosed out Roosevelt to win the meet. Dave Nelson tied for third in the 100-yard free style and finished fifth in the individual medley. Tom Reed and Wally Arringdale placed sixth in the 200-yard free style and diving respectively.

Boone Winless In C.I.C.

Hitting only 14 field goals, Boone was crushed by Newton, Friday, February 3, 63-44. The 44 points compiled by the Toreadors were the lowest of the year. The Boone cagers had a 22.9 percentage.

Boone lacked only five points at the end of the first period—12-7, but Newton extended its lead to a 28-19 halftime margin and then it was the Cardinal's game throughout the remainder of the tilt.

Lanky Cardinal Center Carrier was a main threat scoring 23 points and grabbing vital rebounds. McCarger finished in second running with 13 points.

Mike Newbold, who came off the bench in the second quarter, hit 10 of 12 free throws and one field goal for 12 points. He was the only Toreador to score in the double digit column. Jim Taylor, playing in the center slot, sank four well placed hook shots for eight points.

The defeat cinched a last place berth in the C.I.C. standings for the Boone team.

Seniors' Last Game

Five senior girls played their final basketball game for the red and green Friday night against Valley of West Des Moines. Valley won the tilt 73-45. Coach Lovin started all five of the seniors—Joan Cornelius and Jacquie Conn at the guard positions and Romey Chance, Ann Clausen, and Sandra Hick as forwards. Junior Hazel Deal started in the other guard slot.

Rita Howard took over in the early part of the game and captured scoring honors with 17 points. Romey Chance followed with 15.

Comicstrip Roundup

February 16 with like any other day for Herman (Fred Martin) when he went to visit Blondie (Susanne Frohardt) and Dagwood (John McIntyre) but it ended up to be the most exciting day in his life.

As he approached the Bumstead's house he rang the bell and Cookie (Marcia Bohlen) opened the door. When he entered the living room who should be seen but Booty Drip-ple (Dorothy Lindahl).

Soon they all decided to go on a picnic and visit the camp of Mark Trail (Glen Forster). On the way to the picnic they picked up Little Iodine (Susan Tohill) and Little Max (Jim Beckwith).

Meanwhile Davy Crockett (Junior Eckley) and Dennis the Menace (Dennis Siegler) were playing cowboys and Indians in the forest near Mark Trail's camp.

As the picnickers arrived at the camp, an arrow whizzed through the forest and pierced Herman in the back. Quickly they rushed Herman to town and called Rex Morgan, M. D. (Bobby Rinehart).

Soon they had Dick Tracy (John Malcom) on the trail of the hit-and-run arrow shooters. His adventures led him to Dogpatch (Fraser) where he saw Little Abner (Chuck McCubbins) and Daisy Mae (Lynn Hohanshell) who joined him on the hunt. Soon they met Little Orphan Annie (Anne Gruenig) and her dog, Sandy (Sandy Shadle). With the help of these characters, Dick Tracy cornered the hit-and-run arrow shooter in the home of Steve Canyon (Steve Shaler).

Then Dennis the Menace and Davy Crockett were tried by Judge Parker (Carl Saubert). Jane Arden (Delores Hampton) reported the trial for the Daily Gazette (Bumble 'B'). Joe Palooka (Denny Ferry) was called as a witness to testify in the offenders behalf.

The trial revealed that the wounding of Herman was all an accident. After Herman was dismissed from the hospital everyone in comic strip land lived happily ever after.

Did you hear about the old maid who is down in the dumps because she heard all men were trash?

School Activities

These are some of the activities of the eighth grade classes. Mr. Carroll's history class is studying the exploration and discovery of the West. Mrs. Henry's English classes have just finished reading 'A Man Without a Country' and 'The Gold Bug.' They are now beginning a unit on appositives and punctuation. The arithmetic class is studying designs and construction this week. Energy pretty well covers what the eighth grade science classes are studying. They are doing experiments to prove facts about the forces around us.

The activities of ninth grade class are few this nine weeks. Mr. Honeck's civics classes are resuming their reports on the 'Life Adjustment Booklets.' The algebra classes of Mrs. Williams are studying ratios. The gym classes of the Junior High are having several different tests to show the strength of their arms and legs.

Y-TEENS

The ninth grade Y-Teens program chairman has planned a full activity program for this nine weeks. Warm weather spoiled an ice skating party planned for February 8. Plans are made for a fun-filled "Sadie Hawkins" dance to be held February 22, at the Y.W.C.A. There will be more parties and activities to follow.

The eighth graders were able to have their ice-skating party, which was held at the McHose park. Fun was had by all who attended. A panel discussion on dating was also included in this month's activities.

The seventh grade Y-Teens had a White Elephant Party. After a dinner at the Y.W.C.A., they hunted white elephants. Then they were put into groups and gave sketches pertaining to their gift. This provided the entertainment for the evening. Also this month they have had a panel discussion on 'My Parents and I.' They too are looking forward to a full activity program.

Tournaments Completed

The seventh grade basketball players were divided into four teams to play an intramural tournament. The Skunks won with a 3-0 record, followed closely by the Polecats with a 2-1 record. Ranking third was the Bears team with two wins and two losses. The Whites ended in the cellar with a 0-3 record.

The eighth grade squad divided into two teams to play a tournament against the seventh grade teams. They were called the X and Y teams. The Skunks played and lost to the eighth grade X team. The eighth grade Y team was victorious over the seventh grade Bears. In the White and X team game the Whites suffered a loss. The game between the Y team and the Polecats came out victoriously for the Polecats. The eighth grade X team played the Polecats Friday, February 10 for the championship. It was won by the X team.

Mr. McLeran and Mr. Carroll have decided to have an all-star team for the seventh and eighth grades, each consisting of ten players. They will have a tournament in the near future.
