

Teachers to Tour Europe

Three Boone High School teachers—Miss McCoy, Miss Ulferts, and Mr. Swanson, and Bryant school teacher Miss June Drewelow, are planning to travel to Europe this summer.

Miss McCoy and Mrs. Drewelow are leaving from New York on July 12 on the Queen Elizabeth. The six-week conducted tour is arranged by the American Express Company. All transportation and rooming accommodations are taken care of ahead of time. They plan to visit the following seven countries: England, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, and France. They hope to meet Miss LouCelle Nelson, former Boone music teacher, in Heidelberg, Germany.

Miss McCoy and Mrs. Drewelow will arrive back in the States on August 21 by way of the Queen Mary.

Miss Ulferts is also planning on a summer tour. She plans to leave by plane the first part of June and end her air-borne journey at Milan, Italy, where her sister will meet her. Miss Ulferts' sister, whose husband is in the service, lives in Italy. During her two months' stay, Miss Ulferts will tour the countries of central Europe in their car.

Mr. Swanson will leave by plane from Des Moines on June 10 and will fly to Montreal, Canada. From Montreal he is to leave by boat for Europe where he'll spend the entire summer touring 19 countries. A language instructor from St. Olaf College at Northfield, Minnesota, will conduct the tour. All the major cities of Europe will be visited. Highlights of the tour will include the Salzburg Music Festival in Austria, visiting Edvard Grieg's home in Norway, and the Shakespearean Theatre Festival at Stratford-on-Avon.

His return trip will be by plane from London. According to his plans he will arrive in Iowa by August 30.

'One Foot in Heaven' in Rehearsal

Story Based on Life of Iowa Minister

'One Foot in Heaven,' the spring play, will be presented to the public March 20.

Those in the cast are Darrell Kruse, Rev. Mr. Spence; Betsy Otto, Mrs. Spence; Jayne Clark, Mrs. Cambridge; Betty Lincoln, Mrs. Jellison; Carolyn Kirk, Eileen Spence; Beberly Garner, Mrs. Digby; Betty Hicks, Mrs. Sandow; Caryl Achenbach, Molly; Judy Bass, Maria; Pat Saylor, Louise; Fern Abramson, Letty; Wayland Swain, Hartzell; Ron Bullock, Doc Romer; Den Elliot; Art Robey, Mayor Cooper; Rod Von Krog, Ronnie; Jim Louk, Georgie; Larry Coghlan, Bishop Sherwood; and Daryl Murken, Fraser Spence.

Members on crews are as follows: Costumes: Joan Mishlove, Karen Dennis, Kay Wright, and members from dramatic class: Lights: Bonnie Pestotnik, Dennis Schmickley, Tom Pestotnik, and Keith Josephson. Props: Doug McLeod, Dick Long, and members from the dramatic class. Stage: Hans Goepfinger, Larry Oghe, Gary Scott, Daniel Williams, and members from dramatic class.

The story is based on true facts about Rev. Spence, a minister from Iowa. When Rev. Spence, his high school age, trouble-getting-into-children, and attractive wife walk into the run-down, dilapidated parsonage at their new parish, its quite a shock . . . but that's only the beginning. Rev. Spence finds the church building starting to disintegrate, the congregation split into warring factions and the choir 'a cross between the devil's grandmother and a swarm of mountain wildcats.' That's not the worst! The town is being poisoned by bigotry. Eileen and Hartzell, the teen-age children, are pretty disgusted at having been yanked out of a comfortable parsonage and a swell high school. But then Hartzell meets pretty Louise, and Eileen is introduced to Ronny, the football captain. The uproarious complications that result make even more difficulties for Rev. Spence. His struggle to build a new church, organize a new choir, and crush intolerance, leads to a pitched battle among his flock, and then the very threat of his being dismissed from the clergy. On the day he is to leave for the conference to defend himself, Rev. Spence has a minor accident that puts him in bed. At the same time, Hartzell's personal complications have led him not only to the brink of romantic disaster, but right into the local hoosegow . . . and just when the entire future of the Spence family depends on him. The surprising, whirlwind conclusion rings down the curtain on an inspiring, and yet laugh-packed evening's entertainment.

Band Will Give Concert

On March 23, at 8:00 p.m., the Boone High band, consisting of 55 pieces, will present a concert for the public.

The feature numbers on the program will be a French number, 'Peace and Production,' by Gabriel Pares, a composer and arranger for the top French band and 'Richard III Overture,' by Edward German.

Among the other selections included on the program are 'In the Hall of the Mountain King,' which is easily recognized by everyone; 'Mississippi Suite,' by Ferde Grofe; a colorama, 'Fantasy in Color,' based on 'Deep Purple'; 'Autumn Serenade'; 'White Orchards'; and 'Royal Blue'; 'Kiddie Ballet,' by Ralph Herman; 'Strolling the Baby Stroller,' which is about a nurse who, while strolling a baby carriage through Grand Central Park, meets a policeman, falls in love, and finally marries; 'Lullaby for a Naughty Girl,' a modern mother who sings blue tunes to baby who sleeps through it all; and a novelty selection consisting of 'Victory Gardens,' 'Danse of the Rhubarb,' 'Boogie Woogie Broccoli,' and 'Carrot Capers.'

Also featured on the program will be a saxophone quartet consisting of Robert Hamilton, Jack Brannon, Ray Guenther, and Don Dede.

Activity tickets will be honored; the general admission price is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Spirit was fairly exploding and taking a good hold on every Boone spectator at the Boone vs. Ames District Tourney game at the I. S. C. Armory in Ames Wednesday night, March 7.

Despite the foul weather, Boone fans flocked to the game in an enthusiastic style unlike anything this city has ever witnessed. A long caravan of cars, in the interest of safety, paraded to Ames to join the throng of Boone cheerers.

Although the game was not won, Boone backers have set a fine example that can and will be continued for the following years. A team cannot help but have the desire and will to do their best and win the game if they are backed so earnestly by the school and by the community. We can be proud of our team, our school, and our city.

Give the Student Council a Second Chance

By Joanne Rinehart

"Busier and Better" is the new slogan for the Boone High Student Council. We needed a slogan such as this because we were doing practically nothing (compared to this semester that is) the first semester. A few of the representatives were dropped before we realized we needed more projects and duties to really become a worth-while organization.

Starting with the first meeting of the second semester, we settled down to business, electing Kay Narey as President. It was decided a new set of rules should be drawn up and abided by. Since it took quite a while to draw it up, we decided to obey even the slightest rule.

Our first big project was collecting Christmas cards for children at orphanages and hospitals. If you pass the Conference Room at any time of day, you'll see boys and girls getting the cards ready to send. The student council made this a city affair by making an announcement over the radio and placing an article in the paper. We placed a box at Eighth and Story for card use.

Statistics on the Young Driver Problem

Here is the substance of three separate reports recently released which come to the same conclusion—young drivers are responsible for far more than their proportionate share of accidents. Because statistics on this subject are so difficult to obtain they are presented here for your information.

A study by two University of Nebraska professors, in which they clocked cars by radar, found that drivers in the 16-25 age group have the least regard for speed laws.

Drivers 25 and under held only 17.5 per cent of the licenses among drivers checked, but they were responsible for 36 per cent of the speed law violations.

The survey also shows that 50 per cent of the total violators were under 30 years of age.

A recent report from the Province of Ontario shows that drivers in the 18-24 age group were involved in almost twice as many accidents as the average of the other age groups.

The State of Minnesota recently issued a report which shows that the 15-24 age group had 17.6 per cent of the drivers in that state, but they accounted for 23.7 per cent of all accidents.

We're having special homeroom meetings in charge of the homeroom representatives. During these meetings students can voice their opinion and give their ideas to us. Also, for homeroom the minutes of all our meetings are placed on the bulletin board.

Going to out-of-town schools is another project. Ames, Jefferson, Ogden, and Fort Dodge are some of the schools we plan to visit. Our purpose in going to these schools is to see how others run their councils and if we can improve ours. United Community organized their council just this year. We have written to them to see if we can be of any help. As you can see, we are trying to help others as well as being the receiver of help.

I, a Student Council member, hope you will consider giving us a second chance. We are really trying to reach the approval of all the students.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

"Oh, what manners!" you hear again and again, usually in connection with boys, so we just decided to see what some of the girls thought about the manners of Boone boys. And these are the answers we got to our question: "Do you think the boys of Boone High are well mannered?"

Anne Hannum—The boys of Boone High are well mannered to a certain extent but, of course, they could do better.

Bev Long—Most of the boys are well mannered, but there are always a few in every crowd who have to be different. They think they're being real smart when really they're only making fools of themselves.

Teen of the Week

While wandering around the golf course one day, we chanced upon a young lady feverishly digging away at a ground hog hole. After inquiring why she found this an interesting pastime, our gal informed us she had misplaced a few golf balls last summer and hoped to recover them.

"How about resting a minute and telling us a little about yourself?" we asked. Here's what we found out.

To begin with, her name is Ann Elizabeth Clausen. She's a senior here at Boone High, 18 years old and is taking the College Preparatory course.

Ann is in Pep Club, Hi-Tri, Quill and Scroll, and the National Scholastic Society.

Her mom is the lady who plans our cafeteria meals for us.

Miss Clausen plays basketball well enough to letter four years and plays forward on our girls' basketball team. Her favorite foods, she informed us, are banana cream pie and mashed potatoes and gravy. Her favorite subject is homemaking and Ann would like to make a career of some phase of home economics.

She's pretty active at this golf game. Seems she was in the quarter finals of the Junior Girl's Championship and won the Women's City Championship last summer.

We would have liked to find out more, but she had left us in search of nooks and crannies where she might have lost her golf balls. Oh, well, good luck in everything, Ann!

"Well," said the doctor to a certain B. H. S. boy, "Your girl's mind is completely gone."

"Well, I'm not surprised. She's been giving me a piece of it for about two years."

Advertisement: What is the reason so many of our Boone school teachers are getting married? It is because of the special inducement F. M. Stowell is offering in the furniture line for wedding outfits.

Del Kline—I think most of the boys in Boone High are as well mannered as some of the girls are. But, like Bev says, there are a few rotten apples in every barrel.

Judy Houston—As a rule I'd say that most of the boys in Boone High are quite well mannered, but you can usually count on being hit or tripped by a certain few.

Sandra Richmond—I think the boys are just as mannerly as girls except when it comes to pep assembly and games and then they get a little out of hand at times.

Karen Mustapha—Most of them are but, of course, there have to be some smart ones in every crowd.

Jo Sparks—I think the boys of Boone High are, as a whole, well mannered. But there are a certain few who from my own experience get rather smart on subjects pertaining to games, cheering, etc. But, excluding these, I think the boys of Boone High are pretty swell.

Dot Reedholm—Most of the Boone boys are well-mannered, but then there are those who aren't. On the whole, most of them are really nice, though.

Barbara Jones—I think most of the boys in Boone High are well-mannered, but, of course, some of them can't be helped.

Caroline Stephenson — On the whole most are well-mannered, although a few try to show off once in a while. You can't expect them to be perfect angels.

Our Yesterdays

(From High School Review,
June, 1897)

Robena Benson, on her way to school last Monday morning, met with quite a serious mishap. As she was passing by a coal wagon, one of the horses kicked her upon the hand, bruising it badly, and dislocating her small finger.

The queer fish which Mr. Canier caught in the Des Moines river was shown to the high school pupils sometime ago. The fish was taken to Des Moines and placed in an aquarium. It is a kind of lizard with its lungs on the outside. It is known as the axolotl, a species of the salamander and is a native of Mexico.

Love is like an onion,
We eat it with delight,
But when it's gone, we wonder
What ever made us bite.

Ames Game Ends Season for the Toreadors

Boone almost, but not quite, ended the Ames Little Cyclones' bid for another state tournament berth Wednesday night when they lost a close one, 55-53. More than 1,100 Toreador fans turned out for the game—something that hadn't been done in a long time. There's no doubt that the enthusiastic crowd stimulated the team players and if effort was awarded, Boone would have won.

The Little Cyclones hit the first goal, but Boone held a 10-3 lead at one point in that quarter. At the second quarter buzzer Boone was ahead by a 17-9 margin. The Toreadors had a 10-point lead at one time in the second period, 19-9. Larry Bergloff and 'Chuck' Musser widened the margin to 22-13, but Ames came back to trail 26-20 at the halftime intermission. A set shot and four free throws by Gary Ellis enabled the Cyclones to tie the score at 26-all. The Toreadors hit two quick buckets but Bill Stuart scored to tie the score again at 32. Thirty-nine to 38 was the third quarter score with Ames holding the one-point lead.

In the last eight seconds the score was tied five times and the lead changed hands six times. With only 50 seconds left to play and the score deadlocked at 51, J. Peterson fouled Stuart sank both tries. Jim Taylor committed a foul then and soph Jim Dresser netted both chances. A fast break gave Boone two points, and after Ames was called for traveling, the Toreadors gained control of the ball. Only seconds remained—not enough for a basket for Coach Clifton's boys. The Little Cyclones probably had never worked so hard for a victory, and they realized that they, perhaps, were the lucky ones.

J. Peterson counted for 15 points, 'Chuck' Musser canned 14, and guard Larry Meyers received 11.

Larry Meyers is shown on the way to two points in the Ames tilt.

Four Wins, One Loss Is Finale

North of Des Moines was on the wrong end of an upset Monday night, March 5, as they were blasted by the Toreadors, 81-61. Eight of the Toreadors were involved in an automobile accident earlier Monday night and the team had to play without the services of Co-captain 'Chuck' Musser and reserve Larry Land. Coach Clifton's boys were rated underdogs in the contest but by hitting a furious 55% in the second half, they were able to post the 20 points deficit in their favor.

Boone never trailed in the game, owning a 24-15 lead at the first quarter mark. At halftime the Toreadors were leading by 11, 44-33, and at the third quarter buzzer it was 64-45.

There is no doubt that the victory was a team victory, for each player played his role well.

Rich Byerly, suffering from a wrenched back received in the accident, scored 15 points and was able to hold their Polar Bears' Jim Long to only six points in the second half.

Larry Myers finished with 20 points for second high. He set up the majority of Toreador plays and accounted for many more points.

Larry Bergloff had a big hand in the rebounding situation and scored 10 points. Larry held 6 foot, 6 inch pivot Jim Hall to only 11 markers.

Bob Musser took over after Jim Taylor had trouble finding the nets to can eight points.

J. Peterson led all scoring with 24 points. His rebounding was an important factor too.

The victory set Boone's record at 9-10, lacking one win to become balanced.

Two girls from Boone were named on Jack North's honorable mention all-state selection. Joan Cornelius and Romey Chance, both Toreador-ette guards were the only girls from Boone that received the honor. In the Iowa Daily Press all-state balloting Romey Chance was the only Toreador-ette to receive the necessary four all-state ballots to make the honor roll.

A mark of 10-11 was posted this season by the Boone High Toreadors. Starting the year with four victories, the cagers lost to a strong state contender, Webster City, by 10 points, 61 to 71. Marshalltown, the state tournament favorite, took Boone in stride, 77 to 57. Ames and Newton downed the Toreadors before they were able to score a victory over Tech of Des Moines, 67 to 38. Denison also fell, 75-54. Six straight defeats were then written in the books against the Toreadors, all C. I. C. games, but the Toreadors here received a surge of power and won their next four ball games. The ball club was well on the road to a state tourney berth until arch-rival Ames won a close one, 53 to 55. This ended the '55-'56 season for the Boone High Toreadors. The complete record is as follows:

Boone	69	North, D. M.	47
"	59	North, D. M.	47
"	61	Perry	44
"	70	Carroll	63
"	61	Webster City	71

"	70	Oskaloosa	65
"	77	Grand Junction	63
"	81	Jefferson	68
"	81	North, D. M.	61
"	53	Ames	55

The boys' varsity team will go to Des Moines tomorrow afternoon to watch the teams remaining in the state tournament play. The games are being played in the massive Veterans Auditorium and are being televised by WOI-TV.

Spring Track Begins

An indication of another sport starting is the snow melting and the weather getting warmer day by day. With basketball ending, sports enthusiasts are turning their attention to track. Twenty-five boys have been practicing in a pre-track warm-up during the last few weeks. A list of those and others reporting from basketball will be in the next issue.

The 1956 track schedule which is tentative is as follows:

- April 6: Dual meet with Marshalltown.
- April 10: Tri City meet with Carroll and Denison.
- April 13: Tri City meet with Fort Dodge and Webster City.
- April 17 (Possibly 10th): Quad meet with Carroll, Audubon, and Harlan.
- April 20: Eagle Grove Relays.
- April 24: Dual meet with Jefferson.
- April 27, 28: Drake Relays.
- May 8: Open.
- May 12: District.
- May 18: Conference at Newton.

The famed Toreador Relays is being planned for May 1. Twelve schools have indicated they will participate in the meet to this date. Others may enter later on. In competition so far are: Fort Dodge, Nevada, Iowa Falls, Jefferson, Grand Junction, Perry, Eagle Grove, Webster City, Colo, Carroll, Tech of Des Moines, and Valley of West Des Moines.

Coaches Brookhart and Clifton are assisting Coach Stutzman this season.

Just by Chance

Golf and tennis are two more sports besides track that will begin soon. And you know, Mr. Stutzman could never have been more right in what he said to the students Monday morning. It seems as if everybody would like to blame the athletic department whenever Boone has an unsuccessful team, when really the students are to blame. If more and more boys and girls would try out for a sport and keep at it, competition would get tougher and the team as a whole would get better.

The varsity basketball squad will lose three seniors of the first string and three other senior reserves. The Ames game proved to be the last for Larry Bergloff, Rich Byerly, and J. Peterson. Tom Miller, Dave Gibbs, and Bob Harder did not see action in that game but did play important roles throughout the season. Although there are some fine junior and senior prospects for next year, the loss of these six seniors will be felt by the team.

The girls were less fortunate. Losing the three first team guards and two forwards, Coach Lovin will have to start the next season with almost an entirely new squad. The Valley game in Des Moines was the last one that Romey Chance, Joan Cornelius, Jacquie Conn, Ann Clausen, and Sandy Hick played for the red and green. Marie Roby had graduated in January. Coach Lovin does have prospects though in junior high this year that will be eligible for varsity next season.

Ben Pollard, Glenn Ohlmann, Bill Anderson, and Steve Krasean were in charge of music. Soda pop could be obtained by turning in your ticket. Everyone present thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

You Don't Have to Be Able to Draw

You can sell cartoon gags to magazines without being able to draw, yourself. Here are our suggestions to you:

1. If you draw fairly well you can "rough" in your drawing. The magazine will have a staff artist take it from there. If not, get a classmate to draw it for you. The finished drawing, in expert style, need not be made. Magazines are looking for fresh gags.

2. Put the caption or gagline at the bottom directly under the cartoon.

3. Draw in your backgrounds, if indoors, chairs, tables, rugs, etc. If outdoors, trees, building, outlines, people in the distance, etc. Use faint lines in drawing backgrounds so as not to distract from the main idea.

4. Usually best to have characters in "action" positions. Never have their hands hanging down straight unless for special character effect.

5. The character who is speaking should have an open mouth. Usually best to have two opposing characters, not two fat men, but a fat man and a skinny man, etc.

6. Batches should not exceed 10 cartoons. (You can send just one if you wish). Don't write letters to the editor. Enclose your name and address and return postage.

Ed: Why did the moron jump from the Empire State Building?

Bob: He wanted to try out his new spring underwear.

Hopeful Author

One thing the average hopeful author cannot understand is why nobody recognizes him for the literary genius he concedes that he is.

The answer may be that almost every boy or girl, man or woman, has the "great American Novel" up his sleeve, but the chance of his selling the world on it is much smaller than his chance of winning an Irish sweepstakes.

The reason nobody concedes your writing is great is that everybody has a great story of his own to write. And literary pieces are like babies—no matter how attractive the other guy's is yours is cuter.

The trouble with most of those who aspire to write for pay have this trouble. They get a half-cooked idea and think it's great.

They don't realize the idea is only one per cent of the job. The 99 per cent between the idea and financial profit on a writing production is the merchandising and selling.

A great share of the home-grown novels are ideas that have been done better before, or would be either impractical to write or impossible to sell.

NOSEY to NEWSY

Is Buddy Munson taking home-making? It seems Buddy darns socks and hems pillow slips pretty good in Latin.

Is everybody getting all decked out in their new Easter outfits?

Wanted: More people at junior high basketball games. Let's back our teams!

Anne Gruenig, what are the new words to the Mickey Mouse song?

Answer: S-H-A . . . L-E-R S-T-E-V-E.

Did everyone enjoy the junior high music program?

Joe: Why did the moron tiptoe past the medicine cabinet?

Moe: Because he didn't want to wake up the sleeping pills.

The eighth grade boy of the week is Ronnie Moran.

Teacher of Week

The teacher of the week, Ray Lamb, was born in Boone, Iowa in 1902. After attending elementary school at Bryant, he attended two years Junior High in the old Washington building. In high school he played both basketball and football. With his help we had an undefeated football team in 1918. During his athletic career, in 1920 Boone High won the State Basketball Tournament and went on to win fifth place in the national tournament which was held in Chicago. His position on the team was that of a standing guard who wasn't allowed to make baskets.

Ray graduated from high school in 1920, then attended Coe College in Cedar Rapids. After college he was a coach at Vinton for three years. He then went to Clinton for two years as an assistant coach. After which he moved back to Boone where he was an assistant coach in 1928-29 and was one of Boone's outstanding coaches. He is now teaching General Science and one class of eighth grade history. He has also taught ninth grade civics, tenth grade world history, and eleventh grade physiology.

He especially wanted everyone to know he married a Boone girl and has one son, Richard, who is now in the seventh grade.

Ninth Grade Dance

The ninth graders will hold their second dance of the season on Friday, March 19, from 7 to 10 p.m. The dance will be held in the school cafeteria. A large number is expected to attend. Ben Pollard, Glenn Ohlmann, Stephen Krasean, and Bill Anderson will be in charge of the recorded music. Some of the ninth grade homeroom teachers will be chaperones.

'B' Game

On February 18, 1956, the Boone Matadors played the Marshalltown Bobcats. The score ended, 35-18, in favor of the Bobcats. For Boone, Marion Jones was high scorer with nine points. Larry McAnnally scored five points. Bob Harter and Bob Warrick each got two points.

Do you know that your nose and ears live on the same block?

Girl and Boy of the Week

The eighth grade boy of the week came to Boone Junior High from Bryant and is in Mr. Stone's homeroom this year. Brown hair, brown eyes, and 98 pounds describe this 13-year-old. His address is 1127 West Sixth Street.

On Tuesday nights you'll probably find him in front of the Tv. set watching 'Soldiers of Fortune,' his favorite Tv. program. Other favorites are: color, red; subject, history; and sports, football. In the future he plans to become a doctor. We wish him the best of luck.

If you haven't already guessed who this eighth grader is, look elsewhere on this page.

Our eighth grade girl of the week is Mary Jo McLeod. High among her interests is Buddy Munson, followed by Dolphin Club.

Her beauty is often seen at 1120 Greene Street. At the age of 14 she is already an experienced cheerleader.

Tipping the scales at 100 pounds and standing five feet five and one-half inches tall, she ranks history tops as her favorite subject. Often she is seen wearing red because that happens to be her favorite color. When asked about her favorite food on the menu she replied, after five minutes thinking, that fried onions were most desirable. Mickey Mouse Club ranks high among her Tv. viewing.

Boone Wins Two

Saturday was a bad day for the basketball players of Lincoln of Des Moines. Boone eighth and ninth grade players defeated Lincoln in the first team games. Boone eighth graders defeated Lincoln 25 to 24 with Darrel Richards as their leading player.

The ninth grade boys beat Lincoln in the first team game with a score of 40 to 38. Jim Moore made the high score of 16, with Carroll Claiborn closely following with 11 points.

Famous saying after a test: "Those who are about to fail salute you."

Is everyone having fun sewing in Study Hall?

Did You Know?

The old saying that "water cannot run uphill" is not true. Strange as it seems, the waterfalls of Lanai, in Hawaii, do that very thing. When the northeast trade winds sweep up through the pass of Mt. Lanai and rush up the rocky cliffs, visitors can hardly believe their eyes. The descending water from the falls is suddenly caught in mid-air and sent soaring back upward in heavy mists. The winds keep the falls aloft for long periods of time before they allow the water to fall to the river hundreds of feet below. So, not only can water run uphill, but it can also leap right up the sides of a mountain!

X-RAYS

This year as in the past, the seventh graders are having their X-rays. Each seventh grader going by his homeroom groups, from Sacred Heart, Trinity, and Boone Junior High is having these chest X-rays.

They are over half done now and will be finished soon. The results of these X-rays will not be known until they are all finished.

Is everyone going to the dance?
