

• 'Out of This World' Describes 1956 Senior Prom

Student Government Day Is Scheduled for May 9

Student Government Day will be held on May 9, the entire school day. On that day student-elected officers will take over the local government positions in order that they will appreciate the function of their city government. Local officials will stand by to interpret the operation of their particular field.

The officers to be elected are: the mayor and three councilmen from the senior class, two councilmen from the junior class, and two councilmen from the sophomore class. The officers to be appointed are: Chief-of-Police, Fire Chief, City Nurse, and City Treasurer from the senior class. The City Engineer, City Clerk, and City Attorney will be chosen from the junior class; and City Coroner, Building Inspector, and Water Inspector from the sophomore class.

Although the schedule for the day is subject to change at the request of the Mayor and Councilmen, the immediate plan is as follows:

- 9 a.m.—All elected and appointed officials will meet in the Council Room of the City Hall.
- 9:30 a.m.—All officials will go to their respective stations.
- 1 p.m.—Council meeting in Council Room of City Hall. Officers report on their departments.
- 2 p.m.—Fire drills of Boone High School and Sacred Heart School.

Howard, Peterson Mayor Candidates

I would like to take this opportunity to thank every student who voted for me in the preliminary balloting for the office of Mayor.

I strongly feel that the position of city mayor should be taken as seriously by the student mayor as it is by Mr. Senholz, who now holds this office. Through the co-operation of the faculty, Mr. Moore, and the city officials, I have a plan which, I think, will be beneficial to both the student body and the city of Boone. It is the duty of the elected Mayor to appoint 10 important city officials with the help and approval of the council. It is my policy to fill these offices with students who have interest in these respective positions.

I hope that my strong, well-organized plan for Student Government Day will not only benefit the class of '56, but will also set a pattern for future classes to follow, so that they too may enjoy and obtain a better appreciation of city government.

If I am elected I will endeavor to carry out the program which I have presented to you.

Candidate for Mayor,
Ken Howard.

Darryl Trulin and Sandra Chance are shown working on decorations

First of all I would like to thank the senior class for nominating me as one of the candidates for Mayor on Student Government Day.

Every Boone High student should help make this a successful day. If this year's students and candidates can show that they are capable of handling the government, then this day will continue to be a tradition for the future classes to carry on.

Student Government Day and its planning is actually a challenge for both the candidates and the student body. If you vote wisely and if the chosen candidates act wisely, we will prove that we are capable of handling our own affairs within the school without help from others.

Candidate for Mayor,
Jay Peterson.

I wish to express my appreciation for being given the opportunity to run for city councilman and to ask the support of the junior class on election day.

Larry Jackson.

In the coming election for Student Government Day, I would appreciate your vote for councilman from the sophomore class.

Dick Hamilton.

Junior Class Officers Lead Grand March

'Out of This World' is the theme for this year's Junior-Senior Prom to be held tonight in the Boone High School gym. The grand march, which starts the evening's events, will be led by the officers of the junior class and their dates followed by the senior class officers and their dates.

Decorations include a mural extending around the walls and a rocket ship in the middle of the floor. Sophomore girls are in charge of refreshments and the check room. Entertainment consists of acts by Jim and John Manriquez, Bill Monen, and John Coleman.

The decorating committee is composed of Sandra Chance, Carolyn Kirk, Ed McAlpine, Barb Narey, Denny Schmickley, Donald Sternquist, and Lyla Swain.

The faculty committee is composed of Miss Osborne, decorations; Mrs. Absher, refreshments; Mr. Lein, props; Miss Plum and Mrs. Stevens, invitations and tickets. Mrs. Williams is general chairman and supervises the entire production.

I wish to thank those who elected me as a candidate for councilman. If elected I can only promise one thing—to do my best.

John Manriquez.

Kiwanis Club Entertains All in Night-long Party

Atmosphere of Movie Premiere Effected

Following the Prom tonight the Boone Kiwanis Club will again entertain the juniors and seniors at the Ki-Hi-Kapper. The Kiwanis Club assures all that they have a fine program arranged and urges all to attend.

At midnight there will be a showing of a new movie at the Rialto Theatre. Following the movie we will go to the Elks' Club where they will dance to the music of Freddie Celsey and his orchestra. There will be a full hour floor show, complete with a dancing chorus line. The floor show will feature George Johnstone and Betty, a comedy act. They have made a repeat performance on Ed Sullivan's Toast of the Town. They have played at the Palace Theatre in New York, the Chez Paree night club in Chicago, and many famous theatres and night spots around the country. Another fine act will be the dancing of Teddy Quall, a tap dancer. He has just finished a tour of night clubs on the West Coast and without a doubt is the finest act of his type in show business. There will be another musical act plus entertainment by the girls in the chorus line.

Breakfast will be served in the early morning and by that time it is hoped everyone will be ready for some 'shut-eye.'

During the evening there will be the crowning of the King and the Queen. There will be ballots at the theatre and all who attend will vote for their favorite.

The nominees for the Ki-Hi-Kapper Queen are Romey Chance, Ann Clausen, Rhoda Newland, Koreen Ballard, and Kay Narey.

Romey Chance, first nominee is president of Hi-Tri, president of Future Teachers Club, sports editor of the Bumble 'B,' and a member of the First Methodist Church. Her other activities include Quill and Scroll, Pep Club, National Scholastic Society, Rainbow, and basketball.

Jay Peterson was also a co-captain of the football team and of the basketball team and is out for track. Student Council and Booster Club make up the rest of his activities. He is a member of the Augustana Lutheran Church.

Jim Anderson's interests include football, Booster Club, and Student Council, of which he was president first semester. He belongs to the First Evangelical Free Church.

Semester tests are scheduled for May 23, 24, 25, and 28. English tests are scheduled for the first day, Wednesday, and then social studies, mathematics, and shop in that order on successive days.

Scholastic Society Speakers

During the second hour on May 15, an assembly will be held honoring those students in senior high who have maintained a grade average of 3.2 or better. Sophomore students with this average will be recognized by announcing their names. The juniors and seniors fulfilling the requirements will receive certificates of scholarship; seniors will also get a pin at a later date.

Eight of the senior students with a high scholastic average have been elected to speak before the assembly on the phases of scholarship.

These people are: Darrell Kruse, scholarship; Bonnie Pestotnik, science; Romey Chance, social studies;

Cafeteria Wins Award

Boone High School's kitchen facilities have won a Food Service Award in the 10th annual national food service contest conducted by Institutions Magazine.

Only five elementary or high schools in the United States received such an award.

A plaque will be presented at a special luncheon at the Sheraton Hotel in Chicago on May 7, the first day of the National Restaurant Association Convention. Superintendent D. F. Seaton will go to Chicago to receive the plaque. The school's entry, along with other winners, will be on display in the Navy Pier throughout the restaurant convention, May 7-11.

Boone's entry was submitted by Bolton & Hay Company, who installed much of our equipment, assisted by Mr. Seaton and the School Lunch Manager, Mrs. Clarence Clausen and Kitchen Supervisor, Mrs. William McAlpine.

The Pep Club met on April 2 in the study hall for the election of next year's officers, and to plan the banquet which will be held May 24 at the Country Club.

Officers elected for next year are: president, Dorothy Reedholm; vice-president, Carolyn Kirk; secretary-treasurer, Roxanne Rose; senior class recorders, Caroline Stephenson and Kay Wright; junior class recorders, Joy Pollard and Wanda Eklund.

Bob Barry, mathematics; Sue Grant, English; Joan Cornelius, language; John Harrington, commerce; Ann Clausen, industrial art.

These people will explain the meaning and importance of each phase of scholarship and its application to every day living.

Councilmen (Cont'd)

Fellow students and classmates: It is not my goal in life to be a politician, but I would like a look inside our city government.

Tops in Tv.

When a poll was taken of a cross-section of senior high students to discover their favorite television programs, these were the results:

1. 'Perry Como Show' and 'Warner Brothers Presents' (Cheyenne) tied.
2. 'Alfred Hitchcock Presents' and 'Bob Cummings' tied.
3. 'Wyatt Earp.'
4. 'Robin Hood' and 'Father Knows Best' tied with 'I Love Lucy.'
5. '$64,000 Question.'

It is interesting to compare these findings with the national survey for the past week. On the national survey the '$64,000 Question,' which shows up fifth on our poll, was first. 'Warner Brothers Presents' did not make the national survey, and 'Perry Como,' our other first, was fifth. 'I Love Lucy' seems to be more popular nationally than it is here, because it is usually either first or second nationally and it is fourth here. 'Ed Sullivan,' the national third place, was not even mentioned by one person among the nearly 100 who were interviewed. Neither 'Alfred Hitchcock' nor 'Bob Cummings,' both rated third here, showed up among the national top 10. Two of our third places, 'Robin Hood' and 'Father Knows Best,' are seldom mentioned among the national favorites.

It seems as though the types of programs listed as the national favorites do not agree with the types preferred here.

Western programs, which are seemingly quite popular here are not very popular nationally according to statistics. 'I Love Lucy,' which is nationally the top comedy program, is topped here by 'Bob Cummings' and is tied by 'Father Knows Best,' which are not very popular nationally.

Among the other contending programs were 'Navy Log,' 'Hit Parade,' 'Lawrence Welk,' 'Red Skelton,' and 'Phil Silvers.'

Formal Fashions

With the Prom coming up, such remarks as, "Oh, Kid, you should see my new formal!" or "What's your Prom formal like?" have been heard often. Most of them sound pretty super, too. It seems as though the formal styles are really varied this year. The long formal, usually very feminine and fancy is holding its own against some pretty stiff competition from the new, shorter-than-ballerina length formals.

Most of the new shorter ones look a little more like dresses than formals, but they are still just as feminine looking in their own way. Net, to a certain extent, is being replaced as the favorite material for formals by brocade and cotton. As a rule, the favorite colors remain pastels and white. Whatever type of formal she's wearing, every Boone High girl will be looking her best on Prom night.

Some women make a fool out of a man, and some can make a man out of a fool.

TEENS of the WEEK

Boy of the Week

For this week we've chosen Darrel Kruse alias Mr. President as our boy of the week. Besides being the senior class president he also holds that position in orchestra. He is co-editor of the Scroll, and has been active in various speech activities. Last year, for instance, he went to the state finals in extemporaneous speaking. Our teen is also an honor student. He's never missed the honor roll and is now trying for a scholarship at Grinnell College where he would like to further his education.

Mr. Kruse has proven his abilities upon the stage too. He has been in four plays and has done well in each one.

Between studying and being president, Darrel likes to listen to classical music. He plays the violin in the school orchestra, and was in the boys' octet.

Outside of Boone High he is active in church affairs.

He is not sure yet just what he would like to be, but it will be something in the scientific or business world (if he isn't president).

Darrel is popular, well-liked, and has a very good sense of humor which has undoubtedly earned him his standing as class officer.

Junior High
Essay Winners

In the last issue we printed the first place winners and one second in the junior high essay contest. On this page are the other two second place winners.

Uncle Rink

By Sharon Hartley (second place, eighth grade)

Uncle Rink was a funny old man. He was of Dutch descent, short but thick through the middle, with a little goatee adorning his chin. In days gone by, I am told, he was as normal as you or I, but work in a foundry, where the heat was intense, left him with a little mental deficiency.

There are many humorous stories told about the dear old man, but my favorite is the time he upset the bread dough.

It seems Uncle Rink had a habit of striking out at any hour to visit the neighbors, leaving Aunt Gretchen home alone to do the chores. On this particular day Aunt Gretchen had prepared some bread dough for the next day's baking. She covered it with a blanket to keep it warm, as was the custom, and set it on a chair. When Uncle Rink arrived home from one of his visits, Aunt Gretchen was outside doing the chores. The day was cold and so was Uncle Rink. He spied the blanket and decided to wrap it around himself. With a flick of his wrist he managed to upset all the dough on the floor.

Uncle Rink feared neither man nor beast, but an angry woman was a different matter. In his hurry to escape before the mess was discovered, he chose the barn as his hideout. Dobbin's manger seemed to be the safest place to hide, so in he climbed and covered himself with hay.

Girl of the Week

Our girl of the week is also active in school activities. She is Caryl Achenbach who is in chorus, girls' trio, and orchestra. Her hobbies include horseback riding, swimming, ice skating, and a highly prized hi-fi set. She would like to become a nurse and she plans to attend Emmanuel Lutheran in Omaha which offers a three-year course.

She is also active in church where she sings in the choir.

Caryl likes acting and has been in a number of plays.

Aunt Gretchen carried in some oats for Dobbin's evening meal. She noticed that the manger needed to be cleaned. She stuck the pitchfork in the hay hitting Uncle Rink's posterior with one of the tines. With a howl, he jumped up and ran to the house as fast he his stubby little legs could carry him. In the poor light Aunt Gretchen mistook him for a tramp and ran quickly from the barn and up to the house. When she found that it was no one more frightening than Uncle Rink, she was so relieved she forgave him for upsetting her bread dough.

First Sight of America

By Francine Belhassen (second place, ninth grade)

Since I came from Tunisia, North Africa, America looked quite different in many ways to me. I had a big thrill and a wonderful feeling coming to America because I was to become a citizen of the United States.

I left North Africa, April 2, 1952. I went to Paris, a beautiful city, and from there my family and I took a boat, the 'Queen Mary,' to America. It was the biggest and most beautiful ship I have ever seen. Although I couldn't speak English, I got along fairly well.

After six days at sea, the Atlantic Ocean, I sighted the most beautiful scene yet, on April 14, 1952. It was the 'Statue of Liberty,' and the New York skyscrapers. That was a sight I'll never forget, especially because it was at night.

As the ship neared the harbor, I could hardly believe my eyes, after what seemed years to me, I was at last in America. I was sorry to leave the ship, but I had more excitement coming. The harbor and waiting room were much like any others, except for the surprising loud speakers.

The next day we visited the city. The buildings were so high and so well-constructed, they looked like artificial structures. What really excited me were the subways, mostly because I had never seen any before. I went from Brooklyn to New York so many times and still it wasn't enough because I was having fun.

I am very glad to know that I am going to become an American citizen, because now that I am here, in America, I would never want to live anywhere else. America is the most beautiful and most wonderful country in the world, I think, and you, its citizens, should know that you are the luckiest people in the world. I know I am.

Toreador Golf Team Is Undeclared to Date

Just by Chance

Over 400 people attended the Dolphin Club's presentation of 'As Time Drifts By' in the Boone High pool. This year was the first time that the annual show has been given three nights instead of the usual two. In addition to the large crowd of Boone people who attended, a busload of Perry girls, members of the Girls' Athletic Association, also was in attendance at the show Monday night.

Carrying out the theme of time moving on, the members of the club swam to themes such as Pilgrim's Prayer, Roaring Twenties, Peek-a-boo Blues, Swim Your Partner, Unknown Tomorrow, and many others dealing with the passing of time.

A lot of hard work was put into the show by the club members, not only in the routines but also on the different committees.

Each Dolphin was assigned to either the set design, the program, publicity, the finale design, or narration. Etta Mae Grady, Karen Mustapha, Sandra Hick, and Hazel Deal made up the lighting crew while Caryl Achenbach and Joan Mishlove had charge of tickets.

No show has even been presented without some little incident and the Dolphin show was no exception to the rule. Pat Curran forgot one of her costumes on the first night and one of the members became ill on the third night so that a whole new routine had to be worked out a few hours before show time. Sue Grant, however, filled the vacancy and no one seemed to notice the change.

All in all, the show was another success and the graduating seniors should feel that this year's show was one of the best. Miss Vanderbeck, who ably assisted the dolphins, should be proud, too, of what her hard work and long hours accomplished.

Relays Postponed

Good weather was not in favor of the Toreador Relays this year and failed to show last Tuesday, the day the meet was scheduled. Thirteen of 14 schools entered in the meet were present Tuesday afternoon for the time trials. A meeting of the coaches after the afternoon session decided the postponement.

How Junior High Spend and Save

Should I get a job? Should I ask my parents for a raise in my allowance? Am I spending too much money on one certain item? If you have been asking yourself these questions, read the following article to help you solve your problems.

Because it is harder for the seventh grade students than for the eighth and ninth graders to find a job, 65% of them receive an allowance and 46% work. 57% of eighth graders receive an allowance and 50% work. In the ninth grade 53% have jobs and 48% receive an allowance. Some junior high students work and receive an allowance also.

The tabulation showed that the average allowance per week for seventh grade is $1.10; for eighth grade $1.40; and for ninth grade $1.75. (If your allowance is more than this, don't show this article to your mother!)

The most common jobs which junior high students have are baby sitting jobs, household jobs, paper routes, and store jobs. (One junior high student seems to have the unusual job of 'borrowing money from Dad'.)

The ninth grade students earn the most money per week, for their average earning is $4.20. The eighth grade's average weekly earning is $2.60, and the average weekly earning for the seventh grade is $1.50.

Most of the money the junior high students earn is spent for clothes, the movies, church, food, and school supplies.

Every week a seventh grade student spends on an average of 15 cents for candy and gum; 25 cents for church, dues, and haircuts; 30 cents for books, magazines, and school supplies; 40 cents for food; 45 cents for the movies; $1.00 for hobbies; $1.10 for school lunch; $1.90 for new clothes; and for just anything else 40 cents.

The eighth grade's biggest expenditure is for clothes. An eighth grade student spends an average of $2.00 for clothes every week. He spends $1.35 a week for hobbies; $1.25 for school lunch; 90 cents on a date; 60 cents for movies; 45 cents for food; 35 cents for books; 30 cents for church and school supplies; 25 cents for haircuts, and 20 cents for candy, gum, and dues.

A ninth grade student spends 30 cents for candy, gum, books, magazines, and school supplies; 75 cents for the movies; $1.70 on a date; 35 cents for church; 50 cents for food; 25 cents for dues and haircuts; $1.35 for school lunch; for hobbies $1.05; $2.35 for clothes; and $1.00 for miscellaneous items.

It would seem that after spending all of this money, a student couldn't be able to save anything, but, nevertheless, a seventh grade student lays aside 65 cents every week on the average; an eighth grade student 85 cents; and a ninth grade student $1.90.

College, clothes, sports equipment, vacation, and a car seem to be the things for which most junior high students are saving.

However, a few of the students of junior high are saving for a miniature dog, a trip on a bus or plane, a horse, camp, and 'a wedding present for my cousin.'

Question of The Week

What are you going to do on your summer vacation?

Mr. Clifton: I'm going to spend my time at the swimming pool.

Harley McCoy: I'm going to sleep the first week and then work for my brother.

Sharon Garvey: Catch up with my sleep.

Miss Ulferts: I'm going to Europe as soon as school is out.

'Chuck' McGriff: I'm going to help Mrs. Bullock to hatch her eggs. Carolyn Vesey: Do my homework. (Boy's, that is!)

Mrs. Bullock: Teach summer school for a while and then go vacationing on that green acre I have been telling my science classes about.

David Otto: I'm going to stand on the fifth amendment.

Deanne Eldien: Go on a strict diet!!!

Tim Croxen: Keep as far away from school as I can!

Joyce Alsins: Hibernate for the summer.

Gerry Raettig: Think of Joe.

Mr. McFentyre: Escape from my algebra class.

Carolyn Dahlin: Count the days until school starts again.

Oscar Gordon: Go swimming and give Clifton a hard time.

Karen Madden: Anything but work.

Milly Stutzman: I'll be at Gayle Ohlmann's house all the time because you know who lives there.

Once again the sophomore class is selecting and voting on their class rings. A variety of rings was selected by the class officers who are: president, Paul King; vice-president, Denny Elliot; and secretary-treasurer, Karen Toot. Wanda Eklund was chosen as an alternate for Denny Elliot who was not able to attend.

The voting will take place on May 2. Rings may be ordered at Towle's and Kueck's.

Two other projects of the sophomore class will be the decorating for commencement and baccalaureate.

Class Activities

This nine weeks the seventh grade shop classes are working on leather projects such as belts, lanyards, and key-purses.

The eighth graders are also working on leather.

In ninth grade shop the boys are working on metal and also wood-turning. They are making such varied items as screw drivers, hacksaws, trowels, address signs, and baking pans.

Through all the work the boys are learning a very useful skill.

Miss Osborne's junior high art classes are doing some very interesting and enjoyable art work in different media. The seventh grade just finished papier-maché figures, some of which proved to be quite interesting. Miss Osborne's students are most enthusiastic over their work.

The Boone High vocal department's concert was held Tuesday, April 24, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. A crowd of about 700 was present.
