

'Kiss and Tell' Is Chosen for Fall Play

JUST BUZZIN'

Boone graduates were leading contenders for a scholarship awarded as announced in a letter received by Mr. Seaton from the Iowa chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa Society. This award is given each year by the society to the high school whose graduates made the highest grades during their freshman year.

Because of the state teachers' convention in Des Moines there will be no school on Friday, November 2.

The Student Council has voted to purchase a new Iowa flag to replace the one given to the school by Mrs. Hoegh last fall.

Boone High School Chorus is again sponsoring their annual Christmas card sale which expires October 20. This money is being used to purchase additional robes for the chorus and to help finance a chorus trip this fall. Prizes are being offered again this year for sales. They include portable radios for the two people with the most sales and additional cash prizes for runners-up.

The Bumble 'B' is sponsoring a talent show to be held on November 21, the fifth and sixth periods. The admission charge will be 50 cents. All those who do not attend will have to report to their regular classes. Prizes will be awarded as follows: first prize, $15; second prize, $10; and third prize, $5. All those interested should sign up with Mr. Stock. Everyone get into the act!

Beggar: "Have you a nickel for a cup of coffee?"

B.H.S. Student: "Oh, I'll manage somehow, thank you."

Staffs Attend Conference

Members of the Bumble 'B' and Scroll staffs will travel to Des Moines on October 19 for the Iowa High School Press Association conference.

The conference will include a number of panels, a luncheon, and an address by Henry Felsen, the noted author of such teen-age books as 'Hot Rod' and 'Two and the Town.' The Bumble 'B' will be represented on two of the panels by Mr. Stock, Sandra Atherton, and Betsy Otto. Mr. Stock will moderate a panel on editing sports news and Sandy Atherton will be a member of the panel. Betsy Otto will appear on a panel about high school radio programs.

Those who will attend the conference are: Bumble 'B'; Sandra Atherton, Judy Eastberg, Betsy Lorentzen, and Betsy Otto. Scroll: George Eckstein, Wanda Eklund, Judy Malcom, Karen Mustapha, Denny Hora, Joy Pollard, Karen Trulin, and Lyla Swain. Advertising: Joyce Clarke, Etta Mae Grady, Myra Nelson, Judy Parisho, Joanne Rinehart, Karen Williams.

There has been a slight misunderstanding about what songs we should stand for at the games.

Everyone should stand when the Loyalty song is being sung. But only the students need stand for the others. Let's hope this will be corrected at the remaining games.

Captive kangaroos are easily taught to box men in exhibitions. The main problem is teaching them to forego their terrible kick.

Senior class officers for the coming year: president, Dave Dearing; vice-president, Jon Ewing; secretary, Carolyn Kirk.

The other class officers are, Junior class: president, Bill Herman; vice-president, Bob Musser; secretary, Mary Wiemer; treasurer, Paul King.

Award Candidates Annonnced

Candidates for the Goeppinger Awards this year are: Lynne Anderson, Janet Carter, Emily Grabau, Anne Gruenig, Delores Hampton, Leila Kemmerer, Barbara Krah, Glenda McCambridge, Claire Reis, Sandra Suthern, Millicent Stutzman, Donald Josephson, Charles McGriff, James Moore, Rodney Morley, Alan Munson, Glenn Ohlman, David Otto, Benjamin Pollard, Steven Shaler, and David Tucker.

Goeppinger Awards were first instituted in 1923 and 1924. Mr. Louis Goeppinger provided in his will for awards to be made annually for members of Junior High School who have completed ninth grade. These awards are intended to improve scholarship and conduct and are made under the following regulations:

1. Only those students who have attended Boone Junior High School at least two semesters shall be eligible to receive awards.
2. The student's conduct and general attitude toward school shall be considered in making awards.
3. These awards shall be made each year to those two ninth grade girls and two ninth grade boys whose average scholarship rank, for all semesters in junior high, falls in the upper 10 per cent of the girls and the upper 10 per cent of the boys in their class and who have performed the most praiseworthy and outstanding service for their school and community.
4. Awards shall consist of $10.00 or medals suitably engraved, at the option of each winner.
5. The superintendent, high school principal, and junior high faculty shall determine the students to whom awards are made in accordance with regulations.

Presentation of the Goeppinger Awards will be made at an assembly October 25.

Dolphin Probate Tests Finished

The Dolphin probate tests were completed Tuesday, October 9, at the B.H.S. pool. Out of 34 hopefuls, only 16 were skilled enough in aquatic stunts and strokes to meet the standards of the Dolphin Club's first test. To those who didn't make it, the Dolphin Club urges you to work this summer on your weak points and try out again next fall.

Applicants are judged on smoothness of strokes, floating and treading ability, sculling, and ability to do simple stunts. The scoring runs from one to 10 points, and those who overage 6.5 or over have passed. Probates are considered members of the Dolphin Club until they take a final test, later in the year. Each girl is assigned to a regular Dolphin member, who helps her improve her skill in preparation for the second test. If she passes the finals, she hasn't anything more to worry about but initiation, which is held in the spring at the annual Dolphin Club banquet. First-year members take part in the spring Dolphin show.

Those who were able to pass the tryouts this fall are Jean Abbott, Charlotte Ashbaugh, Suellen Caldwell, Kathy Disney, Barb Fetzer, Danielle Hartsell, Cynthia Hayes, Sharon Heaps, Karen Hubby, Leann Rans, Janice Rinehart, Clare Reis, Sandra Shadle, Janet Smith, Nancy Westfall, and Margaret Wilhelm. They are considered members until they take the final tests.

Judges for this year's tryouts were Janet Guenther, Kay Loveless, Betsy Lorentzen, and Joan Harvey. Sponsor and advisor is Edna Vanderbeck.

"How does that big tackle of yours always come in for all-conference honors? What's his secret?" asked a rival coach.

"Why," replied the big guard's coach, "he's the type of player who never hits an opponent when he's up."

'Kiss and Tell,' a former Broadway hit, has been chosen as the annual fall play. The play, written by F. Hugh Herbert, will be presented on Friday evening, November 9.

This is the story of Corliss Archer, not quite 16, who can be a trial and a joy at the same time. Corliss hates being grown up, yet when she does decide to act like a young lady, something is bound to happen. Trouble does start when Corliss discovers that her brother Lennie has married Mildred in spite of the family feud between Mildred's family, the Pringles, and the Archers. In fact, Mildred was the cause of the feud because she is considered a bad influence by the Archers.

Many more complications arise when Corliss is accused by the Pringles of being married, but since she has been sworn to secrecy, she will not reveal that Mildred is the one who is married instead. In a hilarious climax the truth is known and Corliss is cleared.

The cast includes:

Louise: Enid Anderson.
Mr. Willard: Gale Price.
Corliss Archer: Liz Hinz.
Raymond Pringle: Harley McCoy.
Mildred Pringle: Carolyn Kirk.
Dexter Franklin: Keith Parkinson.

Mr. Archer: Mervin Eastberg.
Mrs. Archer: Betsy Otto.
Pvt. Earhart: David Williams.
Lenny Archer: Larry Jackson.
Mr. Franklin: Jay Fisher.
Mrs. Franklin: Karen Culberson.
Mrs. Pringle: Janice Rinehart.
Mr. Pringle: David Tucker.
Uncle George: David Otto.

The play is under the direction of Mr. Bissell. Two junior college students will serve as assistants. Daryl Murken will be the assistant director and Art Robey will be the stage manager.

All students wishing to work on back-stage crews should see Mr. Bissell immediately.

Music Program to Be Oct. 23

Charles Ramson will present a unique musical assembly to both the Junior and Senior High on October 23. Mr. Ramson will play his electronic novatar, the only instrument of its kind in existence.

He can get music from electrically charged rubber bands. By waving a hand over this instrument a three-dimensional tone is achieved.

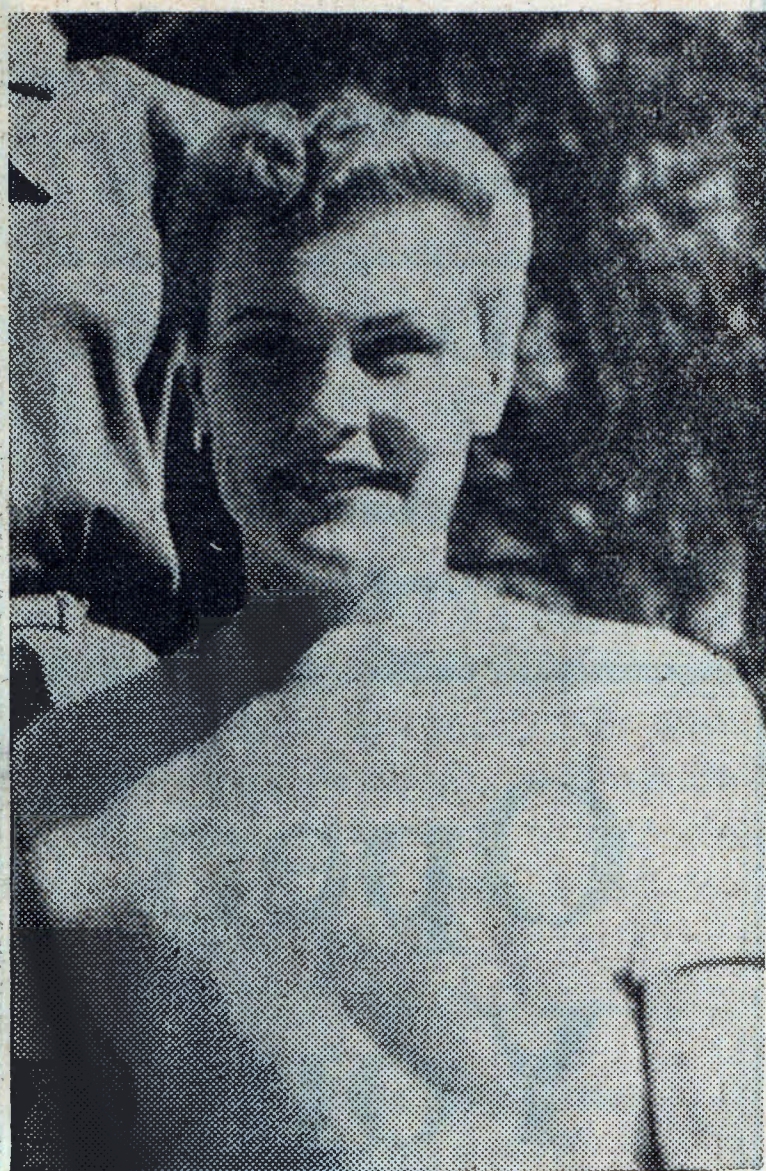

With his electronic novatar, Mr. Ramson can make the sounds of an airplane, a bombing raid, and of certain animals and birds.

This instrument will sound like a violin, a bass fiddle, an organ, a tom-tom, or an Hawaiian guitar.

Lovers of all types of music will enjoy this assembly because the music played will be classical as well as popular.

Mines at Yellowknife in Canada's District of Mackenzie produce gold molded there into 60-pound bricks. A ton of ore yields three-fourths ounce of the metal. Each brick, about the size of a building brick, is valued at about $25,000.

B. McElyea Elected Queen

Betty McElyea, a pretty brunette cheerleader, was chosen Homecoming Queen by the senior high student body.

Her activities include cheerleading, Pep Club, mixed chorus, Rainbow, Hi-Tri, and Scholastic Honor Society. She also works at White's Dress Shop.

On Thursday, October 4, the voting took place in homerooms, and she was chosen over four other candidates, who then became attendants. The other candidates were Sandy Chance, Judy Houston, Dorothy Reedholm, and Janice Stevens.

On Friday at the pep assembly the queen and her attendants were presented to the student body. The five girls were escorted to the stage by the senior members of the football team, and the queen was crowned by Jon Ewing and presented with red roses by Dick Ray. Following the assembly, which included a tap dance by Danielle Hartsell, a piano solo by Dan Siegler, and a solo by Mike Herman, the queen and attendants were escorted back up the aisle by the seniors on the team.

During the half-time of the game, the queen and attendants were presented to the crowd and saluted by the band. The band's half-time performance included a drill in lights.

Mr. Stock's and Miss Osborne's homerooms were judged as having the most outstanding decorations. Mr. Stock's room featured Snow White, the witch, the seven dwarfs, and such slogans as 'We're putting a hex on Grinnell!' A Humpty Dumpty, complete with a wall and eyes that lit up, won the second prize for Miss Osborne's homeroom.

"Howdy, pardner."
 "Howdy."
 "Howdy."
 "Howdy."
 "How—awright, awright! What blowed you inta Windy Gulch, pardner?"
 "Let's go inta th' saloon and talk about it, pardner."
 "Okay, pardner."
 (Go into saloon and order certain, unmentionable, intoxicating beverage which we won't mention.)
 "Glug, glug, glug. Well, sir, pardner, ahim huntin' fer a mean, dirty, low-down polecat named Loco Loco. Has he blowed inta Windy Gulch lately?"
 "Yeah. He's right over yonder at th' bar, drinkin' sasparilly."
 "Huh? Over yonder? Reach, Lopo Lolo! I got y' covered! Drop them guns! Th' law's cotched up ritch you at last!"
 (Music builds up tension. Men duck behind tables.)
 "Okay, lawman. Y' got me now, but just wait!"
 "There ain't gonna be another chance, Lofo. Now drop them guns."
 "You ain't takin' me alive, lawman. Draw."
 "I'm already drawn. Whyn't you think up sumpin' original? That line's gettin' corney."
 "You asked for it, lawman. Bang, bang, you're dead."
 "Aw, shucks! I'm supposed to shoot you! Let's do this part over again."

Boy of the Week

The spotlight among males this week falls on Dave (George) Dearinger, a well-known senior at Boone High. He was born October 27, 1938, in Marion, Iowa, and if you take the trouble to figure it up, you'll find that he's 17. He's taking the college preparatory course, and after graduation plans to head west to find a good job, nice city, college, and go to school. Since physics is his favorite subject, by some standards he would be classified as a glutton for punishment.

'Football,' in red, capital letters, is his favorite school activity, as it is with so many boys, and T-bone steak and fruit salad are preferred foods. He has surprisingly good taste in music, and favors Benny Goodman, especially 'Sing, Sing, Sing' and 'Stormy Weather.' His favorite television show is 'United States Steel Hour.'

Anyone who knows Dave knows who his special girl is, but just for the record we'll tell you again: It's Mom. His pet peeves are Monday morning, quarterbacks, and phoney women.

Letters to the Editor . . . er . . . Editor

(The opinions expressed here are not necessarily those of the editor.)

000 Nutt Street
 Any Date

Dear Friendless Friend:

Because Monday comes on Friday instead of Wednesday, you are invited to a Christmas Eve party, Easter morning, July 4. The party begins at 12 below zero, provided the sun shines brightly that night. Admission free for all children over 80. Orphans are requested to bring their parents. Dinner will consist of castor oil cocktails at 50 cents per pound and spaghetti at 10 cents per yard.

The boat leaves the airport at 13:00 p.m., and if you miss the boat, swim out to the train and wait. Leave immediately, or you will be early. When you get to the drugstore in the middle of the block on the corner, you have taken the wrong way, so jump into the little red boat painted green, and race back down the street. My address is at the top of the letter. We don't live there anymore. We live at 33333 8/8 Street in the house on the vacant lot.

Two shots will be fired at each guest once. Anyone found dead will be tried for murder and shot before the sun goes up.

A three-legged man will run to greet the guests as they leave.

Never yours,

I'm nuts and I'm crazy.

P. S. Why didn't you answer my next letter? I sent it tomorrow, so be sure and answer this on the day before yesterday and mail it last week.

Band and orchestra members are selling candy bars to make money for the purchasing of new instruments. A box of five candy bars sells for 50 cents.

Girl of the Week

Girl of the week this week is a pretty, tall brunette who is much too modest about her weight. She's Janet Moeller, as you may already have guessed, 17 years old, and born in Boone on April 7. Her blue eyes are a definite asset; also her height, which is five feet nine inches. Not many of us are so beautifully tall.

About her grades, she says they are 'passing.' Again we suspect her of being much too modest. She's taking the college preparatory course in school, and has no special favorite subjects, possibly because she is equally good in all of them. Future Nurses' Club is privileged to have her as a member. She plans to take up nurses' training after graduation, which is a worthwhile occupation.

Janet prefers records by Pat Boone, 'Medic' and mysteries or adventures top her list of television programs, malts are her favorite food, and her hobby is reading. Perhaps the fact that she hasn't any pet peeves helps to make her a very likeable and much-liked girl.

Conversations I Know Take Place

"Hey! Pssst! Buddy!"
 "Yeah?"
 "Don't look now, but there's that girl over there that always eats by herself. You know, the one that takes a book everywhere she goes."
 "Yeahh . . . say, this setup has possibilities. One empty seat on each side of her."
 "Do you suppose you could manage to spill your peas down the back of her collar and maybe smear a little butter in her hair?"
 "Shucks! I'm an old hand at that!"
 "Good! And I'll put my elbow in her potatoes and knock her milk off into her lap. And Buddy, when she gets up to clean her tray off, could you maybe stick your foot out in the aisle? Boy, I'll bet those dishes fly clear down to the other end of the room!"

"Say, Annie, do you still carry that nail-file around with you?"

"Yeah, why?"

"Well, there's that girl with the big, long string of beads that sits right in front of you in assembly."
 "Hmmm . . . I thought that pointy head looked familiar."

"Look, if you could sort of saw back and forth on the string with your nail-file without her knowing it. Those cheap kinds of beads usually always have weak strings, you know."

"Yeah. And if I know her, she'll chase every last bead all over the auditorium. She looks like the stingy type."

"Man, I can hardly wait till the fun begins."

"Hey! Jack! How many senior high kids have you knocked down yet today?"

"Oh, five or six."

"Boy, this seventh grade is fun. More big kids to run into!"

"Yeah. Hey, look at that fat girl over there, trying to balance all those books. She looks like an easy push-over. I'll bet I could send her flyin' in nothin' flat."

"Well, let's see you do it, man. Don't just stand there."

"Okay! As soon as I hit her, why don't you tromp around on her books and papers and things?"

"Cripe! What did you think I was gonna do, stoopid, just stand around and watch?"

I PREDICT...

I, Silas Crankshaft, licensed predictor, being of sound body and, er... mind, do hereby make the following predictions:

1. That Mr. Cunningham's physics students will eventually die of nervous tension.

2. That we'll have a green Christmas.

3. That B.H.S. will win all of its basketball games this season.

4. That the typewriters in room 327 will give out before the school year is over.

5. That Mrs. Ick will do half of the mathematics problems in library assigned to students this year.

6. That Danny Seigler will follow in George Shearing's footsteps.

7. That in two months everybody's lockers will be filled to the brim.

8. That this year's Dolphin Show will be a smash hit.

9. That Sandy Atherton, the Bumble 'B's hard-working editor-in-chief, will eventually prove herself worthy of a paper route with the Boone News-Republican.

10. That everyone in the world is insane but me. Ha! Ha! Ha!

11. That somebody in cooking class will die of indigestion.

12. That nobody will be disappointed with the Scroll pictures.

13. That nothing will explode this year in chemistry class.

14. That the Bumble 'B' will pull itself out of its present financial predicament.

15. That nobody reads this article anyway. Dagnabbit!!

Boone High sophomore football team brought its third straight victory here Monday night, October 9. The score against the Fort Dodge Sophs was 20-12.

Boone had defensive lapses and yielded 209 yards rushing—including an 80-yard touchdown gallop.

The plays of Steve Shaler, halfback; Larry Ford, center; Bob Wright, tackle, along with the runs of Denny Ferry were the features of the evening for our boys.

Coaches Carroll and Jones watched their squad squander a 6-0 lead and fall behind by 12-6 in only six minutes. Then by the work of Ferry and Wright, they came ahead 13-12.

Carroll Clabaugh and Brad Beckett and Shaler gave a lead of 19-12. Ferry's boot clicked for a 20-13 Boone margin.

Their next game will be Nevada on October 15. Let's hope they continue the good work.

The ninth grade football team, under the supervision of Coach Lyness, played an exciting game at Fort Dodge October 6. The team was at its best and really played a good game. The final score was in Fort Dodge's favor, 14-7, but they had a hard time getting it. Darrell Richards made the only touchdown for the Boone Matadors.

Ted Handlon, who did a very fine job at his defensive position, along with Keith Johnson and Glen Forster, was injured. Ted and Glen were able to play Wednesday, but Keith will be out until a later date.

Quiet: Donna Pesek.
Friendly: Melinda Moffett.
Best all around: Linda Boyd.

We, the undersigned, hereby promise to back our team, the Boone High Toreadors, to victory by:

1. Attending all home games.

2. Going to as many out-of-town games as possibly can.

3. Yelling loud and long with our cheerleaders.

4. Refraining from booing the referees or the opposing team members no matter what.

Boone High sophomores for the second week in a row battled to gain points and obtained a victory. On October 1, the sophomores were victorious over Perry by a score of 21-20 and a week before overpowered Webster City to make the final score 15-13.

Perry paraded 64 yards for a touchdown the first time they got the ball and were successful in the first point after touchdown. The second touchdown was also made by Perry, but the entire Boone line foiled the extra point by smothering Perry's Jim Wagner.

Steve Shaler set up Boone's first score by pouncing on a fumble on the Perry 36. Following the attempts of 'Chuck' McGriff and Bill Monen, Denny Ferry swept around right end for our first touchdown. Our touchdown by Ferry made the score 13-7.

Monen, who had two teeth broken, returned to the game to aid Brad Beckett for our second TD.

A Near Miss

for Boone

Grinnell got a 19-18 win over Boone with a TD. and a conversion with just 38 seconds to play. It was a blow to the Toreadors who had played a magnificent ball game both offensively and defensively all evening and apparently had the game sewed up 18-12.

Jon Ewing made Boone's first two touchdowns, with Von Krog carrying for the third. Had they made the conversion, this might have been a different story, but all three attempts were blocked.

Half-time score was 12-6. Grinnell tied things up the first time they got their hands on the ball in the third quarter. With just 1:13, Rod Von Krog cracked over the one yard line to send Boone ahead 18-12.

Don Stevens was a demon on defense and offense and played the entire game. Larry Meyers and Glen Lee also played a good game. All in all, the entire Boone team looked plenty good and showed a lot of spirit.

Ferry sped around left end for the all-important point and a lead of 14-13. Ferry also scored on the next play and kicked the point for a 21-13 Boone lead.

A pass from Wagner to Nelson and a point by Wagner made Perry's final score.

Good tackling and blocking led the sophomores to a winning score of 21-20.

Bobcats Shade the Toreadors

It was a determined team that ran onto the field Friday night, October 6, to meet the Marshalltown Bobcats. Perhaps it was their over-eagerness that brought about the four fumbles in the first period.

Statistically, the Toreadors outplayed the Bobcats. On the ground, Boone outgained Marshalltown 229 to 128 yards; via the air lanes, Rod Von Krog gave Boone a 162 to 49 edge.

Red Von Krog scored all three of the Toreador TD's and his 76-yard scamper was the thriller of the evening. It was a belly play in which he faked several hand-offs, then swept around end, cut up the middle and ran away from the Bobcat secondary.

The second TD. came for the Toreadors when the Von Krog to Ferry to McCool combination clicked for 56 yards. This gave Boone the ball on the Marshalltown 15. Quarterback Von Krog bootlegged the ball around right end for six points. Ewing's kick made it a 20-13 ball game and the crowd began to sense the Toreadors' determination to win.

Again the Toreadors came within one foot of the goal line, but the Bobcats' defense tightened and held the McLeran men.

With less than two minutes to play Von Krog made his third TD. for the evening and Ewing's kick was blocked to make the score 20-19.

Dick Ray nabbed a fumble on the Boone 30, but four aeriels only netted a gain of eight yards and the Bobcats took over and stalled out the remaining time to win them their first C.I.C. game of the season.

The entire Toreador team played a good game and fought hard to win and if they show this same determination and spirit, the Grinnell team will be in for trouble when we meet them October 12.

Al Bell Entertains Junior High

Junior high students enjoyed a trip to Fort Dodge, Saturday, October 6.

Although the outcome of the game wasn't what everyone was hoping for, it was a very exciting game and a lot of fun for those who attended.

Everyone met at the school at 7:30 a.m. on Saturday morning. They boarded the buses and started off for Fort Dodge. On their way up and back they entertained themselves by singing songs and cheering at the top of their voices.

We had a very good turnout, but would like to have more next time. There were two buses chartered, with 27 in one bus and 25 in the other.

Come on, let's all sign up for the next out-of-town game and really back our teams.

CLASS NEWS

History

The students of Mr. Abbott's eighth grade history class are working on a map project indicating the claims of Spain, France, and England in the New World immediately prior to the French and Indian War.

Geography

Mr. Lovin's seventh grade geography classes are reporting on the seven wonders of the world.

Miss Thompson's class is making reports on the lives of the ancient European rulers.

Civics

In an attempt to predict the outcome of the forthcoming election, Mr. Honeck is having his civics students predict the electoral votes for the president, name the governor, the senators, and tell the number of representatives of each state. They will also tell a little bit about the past history of each state, how it has voted previously, about the campaigning in each state and if they think the electoral votes will be cast for the Republicans or the Democrats. The results will be recorded and the prediction for the presidential election will be reported.

Tea Dance Discussed

Student Congress held its fourth meeting October 9. The suggestion was made that they sponsor Tea Dances after school from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in the lunch room about once a month. An admission fee of 5 or 10 cents would be charged and a coke machine would be set up. It is to be discussed in homerooms.

It was also suggested that a cheerleading class be conducted after school one night a week to interest more students and to train better cheerleaders.

The problem of disorderly halls was brought up and more investigation is to be done.

Plan Ticket Sales

In order to get better support in the Junior High football games, tickets are being sold by the homerooms for 10 cents. These tickets have the homeroom teacher's name on them. The number of tickets from the three home games are combined and the homeroom with the most tickets sold gets two movie tickets for each student.

In the seventh grade Mrs. Martin's homeroom leads with 20 tickets sold. Mr. Lyness's eighth grade homeroom sold 26 tickets.

Mr. McCargar is ahead in the ninth grade. His homeroom sold 17 tickets.

MUSIC NEWS

The chorus and music groups of the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades, under the direction of Mr. Mische, are in full swing and working hard.

The boxes of Christmas cards you see floating around, are being sold by the eighth and ninth grades in addition to the senior high to help raise money for the senior high robe fund.

There are 71 in the ninth grade girls' chorus, and 45 in the ninth grade boys' chorus. The seventh and eighth grades have regular music classes of various sizes.

A ninth grade girls' sextet has been organized, and this group meets once a week. There are boys available for a ninth grade boys' octet, but at present rehearsal time cannot be arranged.

Junior High football tickets sold:
Seventh grade: Miss Engen, 44 tickets.

Eighth grade: Mr. Lyness, 61 tickets.

Ninth grade: Mr. McCargar, 79 tickets.

Boy of the week is Max Highland.

Again this year Al Bell presented one of his interesting programs. September 28, Mr. Bell presented 'Sons of Austria.' He wore the native costume of Austria. He brought many interesting articles such as a cow bell, Austrian shoes, and he even taught a song in Austrian. His film told of a frustrated musician and his adventures in Austria. The sounds, such as the tinkle of cow bells, and Austrian train whistle, and rushing of mountain stream, were actually recorded in Austria. His film showed the life of an average Austrian family, as well as interesting landmarks.

October 2, the Rev. Robert H. Balseuger was speaker at Character Education. He was introduced by Ralph Patterson. The Rev. Mr. Balseuger's topic was the Prophet Elijah.

Junior high had a pep assembly Tuesday, October 3. With the help of projected slides, Mr. Mische, music director, taught the Boone Loyalty Song. The junior high pep band, under the direction of Mr. McLean, accompanied.

Newly selected cheerleaders taught the more popular cheers.

The seventh graders really proved their enthusiasm by out-yelling both the eighth and ninth graders. It has been reported that the cheering could be heard by the senior high down on first floor.

Boy of the Week

The boy of the week is a brown-eyed, crew cut seventh grader. He lives at 1530 Mamie Eisenhower Avenue. Among his interests are football, most other sports, dancing, and girls (Melinda Moffitt). When asked about his favorite foods he thought awhile and replied, "Hamburgers, malts, and French fries."

His favorite colors are pink and black. Elvis Presley ranks first as a singer and 'Love Me Tender' his favorite song. Among his friends, Tom McGriff, Roger McCoy, Tom Curran, and John Malcom, are the ones he is seen with most. He has not decided on what his life's ambition will be, but he loves the study hall. Look elsewhere on this page for his name.

Junior High Fashions

The fashions for junior high this year are plain and casual clothes. One of the girls' fashions is the long-sleeved sweater with a peter pan collar. The girls also wear light-weight saddle oxford shoes. The stylish suspender skirt is in fashion. Many of the girls' skirts and blouses have the modern 'ivy league' look, which is a little band in the middle of the back of the skirt or blouse.

In sports, Bermudas and knee high socks lead the popularity list. Car coats are the leading sports coat.

In boys' clothing there are the 'ivy league' pants worn with a V-neck, long-sleeved sweater. Another fashionable outfit is the popular khaki pants. As in the past, western-style jeans are still popular. The boys also wear orlon and nylon jackets. In shirts the boys favor the 'ivy league' look and plaid sport shirts.

Girl of the Week

The popular girl of the week is 12 years old and is in the seventh grade. She lives at 501 South Linn Street. Her favorite pastimes are horseback riding and dancing. She is very good at both.

Her favorite foods are hamburgers, French fries, cokes, and chocolate malts. Elvis Presley is her favorite singer. Her favorite records are 'Don't Be Cruel' and 'Love Me Tender' by Elvis. Her favorite subject in school is English. If you haven't guessed who this popular girl of the week is, look elsewhere on this page.

During the week of October 1, the students of Boone Junior High were allowed to register to vote. They registered during their study halls or after school. When they vote they will be shown the procedure of how the voting machines work and will be able to vote for whomever they wish. The turnout for registering was very good.

I've come to one conclusion, I've studied it in all degrees; They shoot too many pictures And too few referees.

Girl of the week is Melinda Moffitt.

Y-TEENS

The seventh grade Y-Teens have been planning programs for the meetings ahead. After their meetings they have been playing games for recreation.

The eighth graders had a covered dish dinner October 9. They had a lot of fun during dinner and afterwards. For Hallowe'en they are planning a hayride.

The ninth graders had a covered dish dinner October 10. There was a large turnout. Many of the girls left right after the dinner to attend the junior high football game. Others stayed at the Y.W.C.A. for some fun. A hayride is planned for October 31.

EIGHTH GRADE FOOTBALL

On October 6, the Boone eighth graders played Fort Dodge there. At half-time Fort Dodge was ahead 19-0. The final score was 32-0. The next game will be played here on October 10. We play Perry. The game starts at 6:45 p.m.
