

Twenty-four Win 1957 Goeppinger Award

In an assembly held today, 24 members of the sophomore class each received a medal for winning the Goeppinger Award.

Mr. Louis Goeppinger provided in his will for awards to be made annually to members of the Boone junior high school who have completed the ninth grade work. These awards were first instituted in 1923-24.

In past years two girls and two boys out of the sophomore class were winners. To be eligible, the students had to attend Boone junior high school for at least four semesters and their average scholarship rank for all semesters in junior high had to fall in the upper 10 per cent of their class. The student's conduct and general attitude toward school were also considered in making the award. The judges were Mr. Seaton, the superintendent; the high school principal, Mr. Moore; and the junior high faculty. Ten dollars or a medal, whichever the winner wanted, was the award.

By approval of the Goeppinger estate, this year a change has been made in the awards. The top 10 per cent of the girls of the sophomore class and the top 10 per cent of the boys of the sophomore class, all who have attended Boone junior high school for at least four semesters received the award.

The following girls received the award: Charlotte Ashbaugh, Karen Bennett, Dixie Enslow, Susanne Frohardt, Kathleen Gibbons, Luanne Hauge, Lynne Hohenshell, Karen Hubby, Rachel Lansing, Ann Senholz, Janice Ward, and Nancy Westfall.

Homeroom Winners Announced at Game

During half-time festivities at the homecoming game Friday, over which Karen Trulin reigned as queen, winners of the homeroom decorations were announced. Mr. Stock's homeroom, whose theme was 'Winners Losers,' won first place. The room was converted into a saloon complete with swinging doors, wanted signs, a hand-made player piano which played honky-tonk music continuously, a bar, painted windows, roulette table set up on a football field, and also an array of bottles surrounding the smoke-filled room.

Miss Plum's homeroom, whose theme was 'Hold Back the (K)Night,' included a large hand-made and painted silver castle complete with a drawbridge and water-filled moat. Surrounding the castle were trees and grass with a blue sky complete with stars and a moon. Leading from the castle was a football field with a goal post and lighted scoreboard. On the field could be seen a toreadro with spear in hand standing over the fallen knight. The scene was lighted by blue and white spotlights.

Members in the first place homeroom each received two free tickets to the Rialto Theater and those in the second place homeroom received one.

Those homerooms which received honorable mention were: Miss Osborne's, Miss Linderblood's, Mr. McLeran's, Mr. Riemenschneider's, Mr. Brookhart's, and Miss Plath's.

Karen Trulin
Crowned Queen
at Assembly

As tension and spirits mounted, Bill Herman, master of ceremonies, welcomed students, alumni, and friends to the 1957 Boone High School homecoming assembly.

Then, to the music of 'A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody,' all eyes were turned to see five beautiful girls being escorted down the aisle by 10 senior members of the football team. These girls were, of course, the five candidates for homecoming queen: Priscilla Chinstedt, escorted by Jerry Lind and Tom Pestotnik; Pat Curran, escorted by Bob Musser and Denny Elliot; Karen Mustapha, escorted by Jack Langmade and Jerry Benjamin; Karen Trulin, escorted by Dale Elsberry and Mike Hyatt; Mary Wiemer, escorted by Paul King and Glenn Lee. At last, the moment awaited by all had arrived, the crowning of the queen was at hand. As the rolling of the drums was heard, co-captains of the team, Jerry Benjamin and Glenn (Buzz) Lee, moved down the line of candidates and stopped before Karen Trulin. An ear-chacking applause arose as Jerry presented her with two dozen red roses and Glenn crowned her 1957 Homecoming Queen.

Following the crowning, the cheerleaders led two cheers for the newly crowned queen and her court. Later in the program they introduced a new cheer, 'Boone High Fight!'

Tommy Grasso, a sophomore, then did an impersonation of Elvis Presley to the records, 'Mean Woman Blues' and 'Treat Me Nice.'

'Stouthearted Men,' dedicated to the football team, was next sung by the boys' octet.

Mr. Stutzman, a well-known faculty member, was the speaker for the afternoon. His talk was in the serious vein, rather than the usual humorous line. He told the team that in order to win the game at hand and the four remaining ones, they must put football first, above all, and have a deep desire to win.

Following Mr. Stutzman's talk, a newly organized dance band, consisting of junior and senior high students, played 'Around the World in 80 Days' and 'Stardust.'

The assembly ended with the singing of 'Loyalty' and Queen Karen and her court being escorted up the aisle.

The Rev. Roy P. Fields spoke at the first of the character education assembly for this term, on October 1, during the first period. The time of the senior high assembly was 8:40 a.m., and the junior high at 8:10 a.m. Tom Pestotnik was the chairman for the senior high and George Hannum for junior high.

Criminologist to Lecture

All criminals, attention! On October 18, Peter Tanis, a criminologist, will lecture on various aspects of his field, in the Boone High auditorium. Senior high students will go to the auditorium at 1:15 p.m., and the junior high will go at 2:15.

In his talk Mr. Tanis, who was a former prison chaplain in the Cook County Jail in Chicago, Illinois, will discuss reasons for criminal behavior and men's reactions to prison. He will also give a word picture of the time he led his first condemned killer to the electric chair. At the end of the lecture there will be a period for questions and answers.

'Dirty Work at the Crossroads' Progresses

At 8:00 o'clock, Wednesday, October 30, the curtain in the Boone High auditorium will rise on 'Dirty Work at the Crossroads.' For, with cries of "Curses! Foiled!" by villain Munro Murgatroyd, played by Robert Sharp, the audience will be swept back to this Gay Nineties melodrama directed by Norman Bissell.

They will see the evil, mustached villain plot the downfall of the sweet, innocent young heroine, Nellie Lovelace, played by Jean Abbott, with help from the notorious Ida Rhinegold, played by Betsy Lorentzen. Dave Otto will take the part of hero Adam Oakhart, for whom Munro plans all sorts of awful fates in true melodrama style.

Mookie Maguggins, played by Richard Hunter, a brave though bashful friend of Adam's shall stand by faithfully through thick and thin.

Others of the cast will be Beth Severtson as Widow Lovelace, Karen Anderson as Mrs. Upson Asterbilt. Liz Hinz, her daughter, Francine Belhassen as their French maid, Fluette, and Linda Lainson as Little Nell, Nellie's young daughter.

The audience should be in for the funniest proof that crime does not pay they have seen. They will believe "I laughed until I cried" is not just an old saw.

The admission charge will be 50 cents or an activity ticket.

Dave Williams is assistant director; Dorothy Redfield, stage manager; and Ed Harris, house manager.

Janet Guenther heads the stage crew. Other members of the stage crew are Karen Klinkefus, Charlotte Parish, Martha Fields, Fred Erickson, and Randy Holland.

Karen Trulin, Karen Toot, Hugh Jensen, and Priscilla Chinstedt are the stage crew.

The costume crew includes Etta Mae Grady, Martha Jensen, Laurel Rans, Lelia Liden.

The light and sound crew is composed of Jerry Lind, Fred Martin, Gale Price, and Don Woods.

The prop crew is Karen Bennett, Cynthia Case, Dee Craven, Jennie Dixon, Bonnie Bass, Kathy Carroll.

Barb Bush and Karen Culberson are prompters.

Delores Deal, Carolyn Vesey, Doris Morgan, Phyllis Paris, Gail Raettig, and Dianna Caywood will usher.

A laugh is worth a hundred groans in any market.—Lamb.

ATTENTION

Only a very few copies are left of the 1958 Scroll. Four hundred copies of the book, which is to contain between 120-140 pages, were ordered this year.

Sophomore, junior, and senior class and faculty pictures are contained in the first 40 pages, which have already been sent to the printer.

The husbands and wives of members are cordially invited

Priscilla Chinstedt, Pat Curran, Karen Mustapha, Karen Trulin, and Mary Wiemer were the candidates selected by the football team for the homecoming queen. The candidates were voted on by the student body in homeroom on Thursday, October 10.

Priscilla's activities include Pep Club, Hi-Tri, Future Nurses Club, of which she is the president, basketball, a member of the make-up crew for the coming play, a member of the Scroll staff, and a member of the choir at the Christian church.

Being cheerleader since eighth grade, a member of the Dolphin club, Future Nurses club, and Hi-Tri, Pep Club vice-president, and homeroom secretary make up Pat's list of activities.

Karen Mustapha is co-editor of the Scroll, a member of Hi-Tri, Future Nurses, National Honor Society, Quill and Scroll, the girls' basketball teams, Pep club, and homeroom secretary.

Mary Wiemer is president of her homeroom, vice-president of the Future Nurses Club, secretary of Pep Club, vice-president of Walther League, a member of Hi-Tri, Dolphin Club, and senior orchestra.

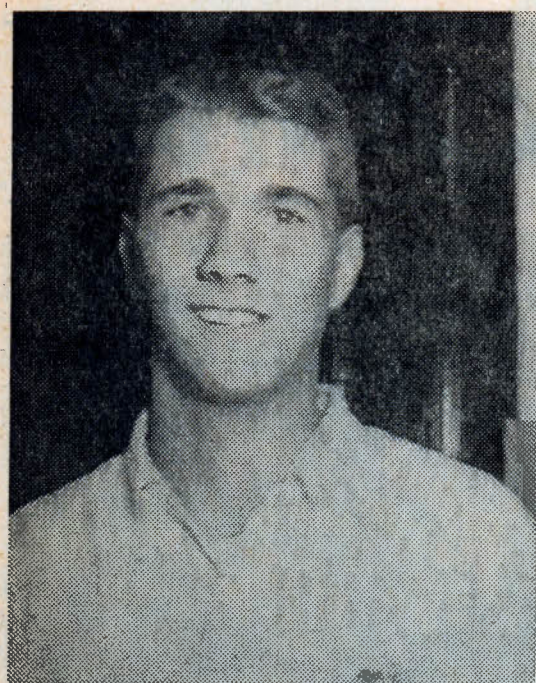

Karen Trulin, another active member of the senior class, is a cheerleader, Worthy Advisor of Rainbow, homeroom secretary, senior class secretary, a member of mixed chorus, and Scroll staff.

The most completely lost of all days is the one on which we have not laughed.

WANTED:

BOB MUSSER

Boy of the Week

The boy most wanted this week is the newly elected president of the senior class. We're referring, of course, to Bob Musser, more commonly known to all his friends as 'Satch.'

This six-foot three-inch, 155-pound boy was born July 31, 1940, in Portland, Oregon. When Bob was three years old, his family which consists of his parents, three brothers and one sister, moved to Boone.

Swiss steak, chocolate cake, trigonometry, and 'Hula Love' rate as favorites with Bob.

Sports? His specialty! Bob participated in football, basketball, and tennis, and is good at each one. When asked his pet peeve, he replied when someone comes up and congratulates you when you lose a game.

Enrolled in the college preparatory course, he plans to attend either Grinnell or Iowa State College.

Don't worry if your job is small
And your rewards are few;
Remember that the mighty oak
Was once a nut like you.

DIANA CAYWOOD

Girl of the Week

Wanted! A five-foot four-inch, blue-eyed senior girl with good looks and loads of personality, known to many as 'Murgatroyd.' We're referring to none other than Miss Diana Caywood.

Born in Carroll, Iowa, in 1940, she will celebrate her 17th birthday November 23.

Some of the various activities she participates in are Future Teachers, Pep Club, and Hi-Tri.

She enjoys her favorite hobby of dancing, especially when it's to the hit song, 'Wake Up Little Suzy.' Devil's delight and pizza are only a couple of many of her food favorites. She lists problems as her favorite subject.

After graduation Diana would like to attend a teachers' college, but no definite plans have been made. And get this—her pet peeve is 'pop' quizzes. So no more of those, teachers, or you'll feel the wrath of this week's cutie.

What Is a Teen-age Girl?

"Sugar and spice and everything nice—that's what little girls are made of." After years of acceptance, that little phrase has been swept aside for the modern version: "Rhythm and blues and rubber-soled shoes, THAT'S what little girls are made of." Responsible for this dramatic change is a fun-loving, unpredictable, unmanageable bundle of vitality known as a teen-age girl. Years ago, one could tell the girls from the boys by the way they dressed. Now that girls have adopted boys' haircuts, shirts, blue jeans, and jackets, it is not so easy, until they walk away from you.

In an average day a teen-ager frustrates her mother, charms her father, irritates her kid brother, puzzles her teacher, befuddles her young boy friend, and in the process, thoroughly confuses herself. In spite of it all, she has a boundless enthusiasm for everything—rock and roll music, disc jockeys, Elvis who-know-who, sleeping late, clothes, gossip, increased allowance, chewing gum (with the mouth open, of course), charm bracelets, baby sitting, and large football sweaters, especially one with the star halfback in it.

When she's not under your feet, she's on your mind; and when you need her, you can find her under pin curlers, in front of mirrors, over homework (started at bedtime), behind movie magazines, and between phone calls.

A teen-age girl loves to complain. She can't stand anything about her hair, girls who flirt with her date, nosy parents, and boys who don't dance, although she'll probably marry one who doesn't dance at all. Teen-age girls' amazing energy comes from a steady diet of pizza pie, cheeseburgers, hot fudge sundaes, malted milks, French fries, and sometimes even fingernails. Today's teen-age girl would rather learn pursuing than pursue learning. Nevertheless, she has the unique quality for applying things learned in school. Carrying out the fundamentals of lend-lease, for example, she lends and leases her comb, bobby pins, autographs, shoes, bus fare, and even homework answers. She is unique in other ways, too. Nobody, for instance, can guard a secret so loyally, or spoil it so easily. No one has gone steady quite so often, or suffers quite so much when in love.

At home in the evening, a teen-age girl relaxes by listening to the latest and loudest rock and roll records. Her mother in the kitchen, although busily preparing the meal, feels a warm glow as she realizes that her teen-age daughter really is enjoying life to its fullest. Overcome by these sentimental thoughts, she wipes her hands, goes to the foot of the stairs from where the music is coming, and in a sweet, motherly way says:

"For heaven's sake, will you turn that blame thing off?"

Band Aid: Fund for needy musicians.

Are students getting too activity-minded? This question is being voiced by parents and teachers more and more. Are important home relations and school studies being neglected for the sake of getting a letter? The evidence points to this fact for as one mother puts it, "The children participate in so many activities that they don't have enough time to do justice to their studying which is the first and foremost purpose of going to school. Also, they don't have time to enjoy and contribute to family fun. But the good thing about activities is that the children are always under proper supervision."

One teacher agreed that activities take a lot of the student's time. However, he thought the tiring effects of strenuous activities leave the students tired in class, the time when they should do most of their studying. He also said, "At times several teachers may give heavy assignments to the students when they have less time than usual to study. If the teachers would get together on assignments they could spread out big ones so the students would be spared those rushes."

In other words, activities aren't bad. It's just the over-indulgence of them (or the over-indulgence of teachers in assignments). Moral: Teachers and activity-minded students, take it easy.

Daffynitions

Paradox: Two doctors.

Illegal: A sick bird.

Fountain: A squirt that never quit.

Conscience: Something that hurts when everything else feels good.

Boone Loses to Osky

In the Boone-Osky football game of October 4, Boone yielded by eight points in the fourth quarter for a loss of 15-7. Boone scored first again for the second time of the season and held their own until during the last quarter when Osky pulled a fast one and got in the lead.

Boone's touchdown was made by Jack Langmade, as he flashed around left end and down the field for 61 yards. With the help of many key blocks he made it into the end zone. Jerry Benjamin kicked the placement attempt for a Toreador lead of 7-0.

Oskaloosa's first touchdown was made by a 17-yard pass to the right end and a run into the end zone. The conversion attempt succeeding, Osky pulled up to us in a tie, 7-7.

Their second touchdown came on a 21-yard pass and a 13-yard run. They were momentarily stopped at the scrimmage line but managed to sneak across the goal for six points. The point after touchdown was attempted by running, but was stopped by Charles McGriff. A few minutes later a safety by Oskaloosa gave them a leading score of 15-7.

This game showed marked improvement in the Toreadors, and was their best performance of the season.

George: "If you were locked in a room with no windows or doors and all you had was a baseball bat, how could you get out?"

Joe: "That's easy. Strike one, strike two, strike three, you're out."

The Boone sophomore football team scored twice and then hung on for a 14-9 triumph over Perry here Monday night, September 30. Fullback Terry Ferry and left half-back Brad Beckett were Boone's best on offense. Ferry carried 13 times for 68 yards. Once he got loose on the 26-yard jaunt and he romped 16 yards on another try.

Beckett picked up 91 yards rushing but lost four when bad passes from center got him penalized for 46 yards in losses.

Left guard Bill Gilliam, center Don Reeves, and reserve captain Fred Martin were standouts in Boone's defense.

Boone finished with a net of 139 yards, nine more than Perry. The winners also had a 9-6 advantage in first downs.

A fumble recovery by Tompkins on the first play from scrimmage gave Boone the ball on the Perry 29-yard line.

Five plays later they had a T.D. when Beckett barged over from the two. He also ran for the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

On a fourth down running play Boone took over on the visitors' 35. It took nine plays to score with Beckett smashing across from the two. He passed to end Keith Ablett for a P. A. T. on a fake kick play.

Ferry's 16-yard end sweep to the five was the big gainer on a touchdown push.

In the closing seconds Perry drove 31 yards to the Boone 49 before guard Bill Gilliam came through with two smashing tackles that pinned Perry for 12 yards in losses as the game ended.

Boone Downs Carroll Knights

The Boone Toreadors won their first football game this season against Carroll, Kuemper, with a score of 26-13.

Boone's first touchdown came in the first five minutes of the game. A 12-yard smash by Benjamin helped Lee make it over the goal for the first six points. A 51-yard run by Jerry Collison of Kuemper tied the game at the end of the first quarter, 6-6.

Sparking the Toreadors' touchdown in the second quarter was Ferry's 51-yard run. A four-yard sneak by Langmade completed the play for Boone's second touchdown of the evening. Another run by Langmade, this time one yard, gave the Toreadors their third touchdown, and a successful point-after-touchdown kick by Ferry made the score at half-time 19-6.

At the beginning of the third quarter the Toreadors stopped a 73-yard Kuemper march by holding them back for four downs.

In the fourth quarter the Carroll T. D. came on a run by Collison, and Wench made their point-after-touchdown. Lee punted and Elliott recovered the fumbled ball on the 10-yard line. The touchdown came on a two-yard run by Gragg and Ferry's placement was good, ending the game 26-13.

Y-teens

The eighth grade Y-teens participated in a hayride Saturday evening, October 5. Refreshments were served afterward. The initiation of officers was held a few weeks ago.

The ninth grade group had a pot-luck supper Thursday evening, October 10, at 5:30. The group is also planning a hayride to be held in October. Plans for a Hallowe'en party are being discussed as well as plans for the rest of the year.

The seventh grade Y-teens have elected and initiated their officers. Plans for a Hallowe'en party are being made.

Mixed Chorus Sells Christmas Cards

Mr. Mische's ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade students are selling Christmas cards to help the mixed chorus. With the money received they are going to buy robes, stoles, and go on a two-day tour.

The cards are $1.00 for each box of 21. The religious box of cards contains a bookmark and a 1958 calendar. The person who sells the most receives a prize.

During the first period, Monday, September 22, the junior high students had an assembly in the auditorium. The Americana Troup presented a very interesting program of the popular songs down through the years.

A ticket contest is being sponsored by Student Congress to encourage students to support the football and basketball games. The tickets are sold by the student congress representatives of each homeroom. On March 22 of this school year a dance will be held in honor of the homeroom that was best represented at the games. A free ticket for a coke and the dance will be given to each member of the winning homeroom.

Other dances sponsored by Student Congress are held on Friday evenings after the games in the band room.

The Student Congress and Student Council are raising funds to purchase a trophy case to be placed outside of the gymnasium.

Next year it is planned for the junior high school to have a part in the senior high Scroll.

The boy of the week, Tom Sellers, is in ninth grade, and is 14 years old. He participates in football, basketball, and track. This five-foot four-inch, blue-eyed boy resides at 122 Cedar Street.

He can be seen often with Karen Oliver. 'Rainbow' is his favorite song and Pat Boone his favorite singer. Algebra and science are his favorite subjects. His favorite foods include fried chicken, hamburgers, and sodas. His birthday is on February 2.

Pep Assembly Held

Friday afternoon, October 4, at 3:00 o'clock, the Boone junior high held a pep assembly in the auditorium.

The school song and yells were shown on a screen in front for the benefit of the seventh graders and new pupils. Mr. Sapp then introduced the eighth co-captains for Saturday's game. They were Joe Reedholm and Bill Guenther. The ninth grade co-captains were introduced by Mr. Lyness. They were Tom Sellers and Gary McLeod.

GRID

The junior high students are invited to attend a weekly dance called Grid at 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock on Monday nights in the basement of the Y.M.C.A.

You may buy a ticket at the door for 25 cents for one-half semester, or pay 15 cents each time you go.

Popular records are played. If you like to dance here is the place to go.

Joe Combs, Barry Wills, Larry Swank, Jon Ewing, and Dave Dearinger help Mr. Carl Saubert, who sponsors the Grid Club.

Mr. Clifton's third and fourth hour classes went on a field trip to the Quinn Iron Works October 3. Forty-nine students went on two buses. They went from 11:00 to 1:20 p.m. Mr. Anderson took the group around to different parts of the factory.

Speech Program Begins for Ninth

This year the Iowa High School Association is sponsoring a program for all ninth grade students who are interested in speech work. If you are interested see Mr. McCargar in room 208 before or after school.

These activities include oratorical declamation, dramatic declamation, humorous declamation, and interpretive reading.

The contests included are the preliminary, pre-district, district, and state.

The purpose of the Iowa High School Speech Association is to interest more students in speech work.

Junior High Football Games

Coach Bill Sapp's eighth grade football team had a 6-0 victory over Fort Dodge here Saturday morning October 5. It was the second win for the Boone eighth graders.

The lone scoring play was a pass from Keith Cryder to Marv Duton, who made the touchdown.

Fort Dodge's ninth grade football team made a touchdown on the opening kickoff. Coach Hal Lyness Freshies lost 41-13, Saturday morning. The winners had a 21-0 lead at the halftime.

Tom Sellers passed 35 yards to Dennie McCool for a Boone touchdown in the fourth quarter and George Hannum cracked over from the four and ran for the touchdown and point in the same quarter.

Mrs. Brunner's four ninth grade homemaking classes finished making aprons. This was the first garment that they have completed. They also will have made a blouse before the end of the year. Lesson in grooming took up about four days, followed by the basic step in foods lab.

Diner: "Do you serve crab here?"

Waiter: "We serve anyone—s down!"
