Work on the Prom Progresses

May 3 is that special day—the day of the Junior-Senior Prom. A lot of the work has already been done toward making this the biggest night of the year.

Both the theme and the orchestra have already been chosen, but they will not be revealed until that day.

Everyone attending the prom is invited to the Ki-Hi-Kapper all-night party afterwards. A senior boy and girl will be selected as king and queen of this party.

It is a night that no one should miss; so get on the ball, boys, and get yourself a date. Remember that girls want to go too and she is just waiting for you to ask her.

Mrs. Williams, as junior class sponsor, has charge of over-seeing the whole event. The other faculty advisors are Mr. Carroll, Mrs. Plath, Mr. Lein, Miss Osborne, Miss Plum, and Mrs. Stevens.

At this time only two of the prom committees have been chosen; the others will be announced at a later date. The orchestra committee is composed of Mary Wiemer, Don Cross, Pat Curran, Judy Overbeck, Mike Hyatt, John Kost, and Joanne Rinehart. The following students are on the decorating committee: Pat Curran, Wanda Eklund, Denny Elliott, Janet Guenther, Lois Hicks, Jack Kelly, Judy Malcom, Eddie Mondt, and Joy Polard.

Salute to Spring by Chorus

Dennis Schmickley Places Fourth

Three Boone High seniors, Keith Josephson, Dennis Schmickley, and Fred Vitt, accompanied Mr. Curtis Paulsen, instructor of the advanced math class, to Vermillion, South Dakota, March 29. Saturday, March 30, at 10 a.m., they competed with 487 students in a Scholarship Math Examination at the University of South Dakota.

Dennis Schmickley, fourth place winner, received an award consisting of a book of math tables and a certificate of achievement. The other students placed well.

Cleveland Heights Presents Concert

Cleveland Heights High School Symphony Orchestra presented a concert in the Boone High School auditorium, April 17, at 8 p.m. The Ohio students were on a three-state tour, Indiana, Illinois, and Iowa, and played their final concert in Boone, which was the western terminus of their 1,800-mile tour.

The 70-piece orchestra also played at Iowa City and Ames prior to coming to Boone. The students were guests of the Boone High orchestra members in their homes Wednesday night and left for home Thursday morning.

the hospital while the Future Teachers Club visited the State House. They sat in on sessions of the Iowa Senate and House of Representatives. Representative Cleveland introduced them to the House and to Governor Loveless.

Class Day Plans Now Under Way

Members of the Class Day planning committee are carefully guarding the top secret theme of the senior program to be held May 15, at 10:15 a.m., in the Boone High School auditorium. Sandy Chance, chairman of the committee, announced that the traditional presentation of the key and spoon will open the program. Also included will be the class will and class song. The entire presentation will last one hour.

Committee members are as follows: Sandy Chance, chairman, Jay Fisher, Carolyn Kirk, Betty McElyea, Dave Dearing, Jon Ewing, and Sherwood Selim. Mr. Bissell and Mr. McLeran are the faculty advisors. The class song committee includes Carolyn Kirk, chairman, Dennis Schmickley, and JoEllen Sparks.

Wednesday, May 3, the senior class met during the sixth period in the auditorium to discuss the up-coming activities. Class president, Dave Dearing, presided over the meeting. The class voted to have Rev. Russell E. Otto as baccalaureate speaker. To receive their diplomas in alphabetical order was also decided upon by the seniors.

Junior College Offers Promotion Program April 16

Boone Junior College presented an assembly Tuesday, April 16 during the second period. This was a promotion program to acquaint high school students with the junior college. Each of the four divisions of the college presented a short program. They were a skit by the liberal arts department, a skit by Delta Law chapter of the Future Teachers' Association, a play by Delta Phi Omega dramatics fraternity, and a skit by the engineering department. Tom Anderson, president of Boone Junior College, gave a short speech about the college.

On Thursday, April 18, the students in the government classes visited the junior college. They toured the college and classrooms and were served refreshments following the tour. Dean Heyen also spoke to the students concerning the courses and running of the college. This was mainly for entertaining the seniors while the assembly on Tuesday was for the promotion of the college.

Calendar for Next Year Announced

The calendar for the school year 1957-1958 has been announced. School will begin September 3, following Labor Day, as it did this year. There will be two days vacation at Thanksgiving, as usual, but Christmas vacation will last for two full weeks. Students will be dismissed Friday, December 20, and will not have to report back to school until Monday, January 6. There will also be a full week's vacation at Easter next year.

This, however, has one drawback—school will not be dismissed for the year until June 5.

Mervyn Eastberg, a Boone High senior, received a 'I' rating at the state speech contest for his reading of Allen Tate's poem, 'Ode to the Confederate Dead.'

A 'I' rating is the highest rating given and is received by only a limited number of students.

This is the first year that Mervyn had participated in speech contest work. This year he had a leading part in two all-school plays, 'Kiss and Tell' and 'Mousetrap,' and the two-act play, 'The Doctor in Spite of Himself.'

This Year in Speech Work

Under the direction of Mr. Bissell, the Boone High speech department has had one of its most successful years. Speech activities have received more support from the townspeople than ever before.

A record crowd attended the fall play, 'Kiss and Tell.' This comedy about a high school girl with a penchant for getting into trouble, had Keith Parkinson and Liz Hinz in the starring roles.

Something different was tried with the two-act French farce, 'The Doctor in Spite of Himself.' This play was presented to several groups and also at the grade schools. The students presented the play at four grade schools during one day, traveling between the places in cars.

'The Mousetrap,' by Agatha Christie, was chosen for the spring play. This suspenseful comedy drew large crowds when it played on the London stage.

Six students received 'I' rating in the preliminary speech contest which was held in Grand Junction. These students then advanced to the district contest at Rockwell City where Jay Fisher and Mervyn Eastberg won top rating. At the state contest at Denison, Mervyn Eastberg received a 'I' rating and Jay Fisher received a 'II' rating for his radio speech.

Thespian Club

The newly-formed Thespian Club had received its charter from the national organization.

The members of this club are: Susan Jones, Jay Fisher, David Williams, Mervyn Eastberg, Lelia Liden, Karen Culberson, Howard Swain, Gale Price, Robert Sharp, Enid Anderson, Carolyn Kirk, and Betsy Otto.

This organization recognizes those who participate in any phase of play production—acting, directing, work on stage crews, makeup, and costuming.

Each member paid a $1.50 membership fee which entitles him to a year's subscription to Dramatics magazine and a lifetime membership in the National Thespian Organization.

The high school speech department entered the one-act play, 'The Twelve Pound Look,' in the Drake play festival held at Drake University, April 10, 11, 12, and 13.

The play received a good rating and La Vonne Green was given honorable mention as an actress.

'The Twelve Pound Look' is the story of Harry Simms who is just about to be knighted. He hires a typist to answer his letter of congratulations and she turns out to be his first wife, Kate. Harry tries to make her jealous with tales of all the fine things his second wife has but Kate leaves, happy that she left him.

The cast was Harry Simms, Bob Cramer; Lady Simms, Darlene Van Cannon; Kate, Lavonne Green; Toomles, Robert Sharp.

By ANNA

"Please, Ida, just one more sandwich! Look at that big panful you've got. You can surely spare just one." "Hey, Grandma! Can I have one?" These are phrases Mrs. Ida Wells, known to many students as Grandma, Ida Mae, or Ida Belle, hears every day between the hours of 10:45 and 1:15.

Ida is the sandwich lady in the school cafeteria. She lives at 528 Cedar Street and is the mother of three children, two boys and one girl. Vacations when they will be home are her most looked forward to events. Although she is 62 years young and eligible for retirement, Ida plans to keep working. When asked what she liked so well about the cafeteria, she promptly replied, "The kids."

Are you satisfied with the way the cafeteria operates? It is run for your own well-being. A lot of hard work goes into it for your comfort and health every day.

The cooks come at 7 o'clock each morning and work until 4 o'clock every afternoon. Into this time they pack the work of preparing the day's meal, serving that meal, and starting on the next day's meal. These are just the main divisions of their work. But in each there are many technicalities to be paid attention to. For instance, the supervisor must watch the work of the others to see that everything is sanitary. Also she must plan meals that are balanced.

Many students complain about the menus, but they don't seem to realize that a certain diet must be met to get state aid. Also there are complaints about the price, but the amount and quality of this food for 30 cents excels by far the food for that same price downtown.

In other words, the cafeteria lunch is a bargain that only the uninformed and thoughtless students fail to appreciate.

Teacher of the Week

An advisor with a varied and rich background is now often seen in the corridors and rooms of Boone High. The person to whom I am referring, as you may have guessed, is Miss Holmquist, the new girls' senior high counselor.

Miss Holmquist's home town is Centerville, South Dakota.

She has done considerable work in both the fields of business and education. Before coming to Boone, Miss Holmquist worked in an office doing secretarial work in Minneapolis, Minnesota. She reports that her first job was in a bank in Des Moines, and while she worked there she often came to Boone to watch the streamliners go through the city. Thus, she is no stranger to the city of Boone. Miss Holmquist has held a position which most of us could never experience. At one time, she was a secretary to Senator Mundt and worked in Washington, D.C., in the capitol of the United States. Of course, she has also had much experience in the teaching profession. She previously taught Latin and English in a junior high school in Rochester, Minnesota, and senior high in Rapid City, South Dakota.

To get her training in the business world, Miss Holmquist attended the American Institute of Business in Des Moines, Iowa. She has also had an extensive college education. She attended Iowa University from which she graduated and received her Bachelor of Arts degree. She then attended the University of South Dakota where she got her Master's degree. This, by no means, ended her education. Since then, she has done graduate work at Columbia University and the University of Minnesota.

When asked if she liked Boone, she said, "I like it very well, the friendliness of the people especially. I also think that Boone has a very good school system."

As almost everyone in Boone High knows, Miss Holmquist has double duties, not only is she the girls' counselor, but she also teaches senior grammar. She says that she likes working with this combination. She especially enjoys her counselor's job, because, she says, "Although every teacher is a counselor, this job gives me the opportunity to work more directly with the girls as individuals."

Miss Holmquist, when asked why she entered the teaching profession, said, "I think teaching is a very rewarding field, and it offers a lot to a person. Also, especially women, can go farther in the field of education than in another field, such as business."

Miss Holmquist is very well liked around Boone High, and it is hoped that she will remain in our school for many years.

Should all members of the junior class be required to pay class dues? This question has arisen many times this spring, as prom time rolls around again. Below are the opinions of several students and teachers at Boone High.

Betsy Otto, senior: "Yes, because the prom is for the benefit of the students. Also, since they are called 'class dues,' each member of the class should be required to pay."

Larry Anderson, junior: "I think so, because this is the best source of getting money for the prom."

Mrs. Taylor, English teacher: "Since the class dues are used only for the prom, and some students are unable to attend the prom because of various beliefs, I don't feel that they should be required. If however, class dues were used for things besides the prom which would benefit the entire class, the dues should be required."

Eddie Mondt, junior: "Yes, because the prom is a class project and why should everyone get the credit for the work and money of a few?"

Joyce Peterson, junior: "Yes, because the dues supports one of the most important events of the year, and the class should try to make the prom as successful as possible."

Jim Hartley, sophomore: "No, because if a student doesn't wish to attend the prom, he shouldn't be required to pay."

Mr. Stutzman, athletic director and biology teacher: "Yes, it seems to me that class dues are the best means of financing the prom."

Mr. Carroll, coach and social studies teacher: "Yes, if the students want to have a prom, they should be willing to pay class dues, or else raise the money in another way."

By ROD VON KROG

We were sorry to hear that Mr. Knowlton will not return to Boone High next year. Mr. Knowlton has been a physical education teacher at Boone High this year. At the beginning of the football year he volunteered to help Coach McLearn with the team. The players and Coach McLearn all feel that he was a great help.

Mr. Knowlton as of now does not know where he will be next year but is hoping to receive a coaching offer from a school in Iowa. We would like to wish Coach Knowlton all the luck in the world and are sure that he will be a success wherever he goes.

Duet Goes to Finals

Kay Wiley and Linda Boyd went to Des Moines for the State Synchronized Swimming Meet Saturday, March 31. They swam at North High in the preliminaries at 2:00. Their number, 'In My Ladies' Mirror,' was one of the 11 numbers to go to the finals. They placed seventh. The number gave the effect of a girl's reflection as she looks into a mirror.

Their costumes were white suits with Dolphins sewed on the front. They wore crowns in their hair. Those who went to the Dolphin show were fortunate in seeing the girls perform their duet during the intermission.

The clerk looked at him and then at his license plate, and witheringly replied: "Take your hands off that olive."
