

145 Seniors Leave Boone High Halls

Dearinger Runs City on Government Day

Dave Dearing was elected Mayor of Student Government Day which was May 8. Seniors elected Marilyn Pesek, 'Chuck' Musser, and 'Chuck' Westberg to city council positions; juniors elected Paul King and Bob Musser; and sophomores elected Denny Ferry and Steve Shaler.

The following were appointed to office by their class council members: Seniors—Jim Taylor, city clerk; Don Smith, police chief; Denny Hora, fire chief; Janet Moeller, city nurse; Carolyn Kirk, chairman of airport commission. ### Seniors Reveal Past, Present, and Future

Boone High class of '57 presented its class day program Wednesday, May 15 to the senior high student body in the auditorium.

The traditional presentation and acceptance of the key by the class president opened the show. Past class day programs, activities, and traditions were portrayed by the seniors. ### Two Faculty Members Graduate from B.H.S.

Students of Boone high school may well envy two well-known faculty members who have achieved this year, the ultimate goal:

No more school,
No more books,
No more teachers'
Dirty looks!

Mrs. Zoe Stevens, after 32½ years at Boone, is looking forward with genuine anticipation to an opportunity to enjoy her hobbies, to read, and to take an occasional trip.

Probably more students can say they know Mrs. Stevens than any other teacher since she has been working in a required course area, English. The large majority of Boone graduates have passed through her English 113 (American literature) course.

The respect of students for her as a person and instructor, is demonstrated by the fact that this year's annual, the Scroll, was dedicated to her. Mrs. Stevens, a Grinnell graduate, was for 24 years, Scroll advisor, and for 18 years she was high school librarian. For three years she sponsored Hi-Tri and she has been a sophomore and junior sponsor at various times.

Mrs. Stevens taught at Jordan for two years prior to service at Boone. She was principal there for one year.

No Rockin' Chair for Her

"I don't plan to retire to a rocking chair for a few more years," says Mrs. Harriett Williams, Iowa U. Graduate, who has been teaching general mathematics, algebra, and geometry, in Boone for nine years.

Having taught 12 years in Minneapolis, (where, incidentally, her most famous pupil was Randy Meriman of 'The Big Payoff' fame), and 12 years in Iowa towns, she looks forward to freedom from the restrictions of school hours to spend time reading, traveling, and enjoying her son and daughter.

Mrs. Williams is remembered by many as chairman, organizer, ticket-seller, date-maker, etiquette teacher, parade marshal, and corsage-pin-ner-on-er at the annual junior-senior prom. She has masterminded these 'spectaculars' for four years and is undoubtedly now qualified for Producer's Showcase.

With her sister, Mrs. Williams operates their jointly-owned motel, the Milestone, on highway six, west of Des Moines. Their opening was

Seniors Win Scholarships

As this article is being written the following students have received scholarships or other scholastic honors. Other scholarship results have not been announced.

Keith Josephson has been named a winner of the highly coveted National Merit Scholarship. These scholarships were awarded to 800 seniors all over the country and will apply at any accredited college. Scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board, a record of activities, and recommendations are the basis for the selection of the scholarship winners. Keith plans to attend Wheaton College in Wheaton, Illinois.

Carolyn Kirk and Denny Schmickley are among the 20 finalists for Vieshea scholarship to Iowa State College. Out of these 20, three will be awarded scholarships.

They were chosen by the Vieshea scholarship on the basis of their high school records, recommendations, and activities.

Friday they went to Iowa State and were interviewed by two faculty members and a student member of the Vieshea committee. The winners, judged on their personal interviews, were announced at a luncheon Friday noon.

Jim Taylor has been named as one of the eight recipients of the George Baker scholarships to Grinnell College.

Thirty finalists were chosen for their high school records, recommendations, and activities. These 30 finalists were invited to Grinnell for a week end. There they took tests and were interviewed. These tests and interviews were the basis for the selection of the winners and the amount of each scholarship was based on need.

Betsy Otto has received a full tuition to Northwestern University. This scholarship was given because of scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board.

featured in the Des Moines Register.

With sincere respect for years of service and best wishes for a happy life, Boone High says a fond bon voyage to Mrs. Stevens and Mrs. Williams.

They Danced Till Dawn in 'Fantasyland'

May 3 was a big night for many Boone High students. This was the date of the junior-senior prom. At 8:30 the guests entered 'Fantasyland' through a huge stone castle. The grand march, played by Keith Killinger and his nine-piece band, was led by Bill Herman (president of the junior class) and Dave Dearing (president of the senior class), followed by the members of the decorating committee.

The decorations consisted of huge murals of Fantasyland characters covering two walls of the gym. The highlight of the decorations was a huge revolving centerpiece of elephants. During the evening, refreshments were served in the homemaking room by sophomore girls under the direction of Mrs. Plath.

At 11:30 the students and their dates left the prom to start on the first round of the Ki-Hi-Kapper, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. This was the movie, 'Bundle of Joy,' shown at the Rialto theater. After entering the theater, the guests registered their votes for king and queen of the Ki-Hi-Kapper.

Following the movie, everyone went to the Elks Club for the final phase of the evening. This party was in the form of a night club with waiters, a master of ceremonies and floor show, and the band of Ralph Zarnow to provide music for dancing. The acts in the floor show were: comedian, Wally Black; gentleman 'Pick-Pocket,' Bud Jacobson; juggler, Roger Hollingsworth; and the Mary Joyce Lind dancers.

Carolyn Kirk and Dave Dearing were crowned king and queen of the Ki-Hi-Kapper at approximately 3 a.m. They were seated in the throne chairs and reigned over the rest of the party. A buffet table was provided from which the students could help themselves during the evening.

Around 5:30 the guests began heading wearily for home, following a night they won't soon forget.

As a result of their trip to Woodward State Hospital, the senior class members brought homemade candy and cookies for the boys at Pine Hurst Hall. The seniors collected more than 75 individual boxes for those at the home which they visited.

One hundred and forty-five seniors will participate in the commencement exercises to be held Tuesday, May 28, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Seniors will enter and take their seats to the traditional 'Pomp and Circumstance' by Elgar. This will be played by the orchestra under the direction of Konrad Scholl. The string trio composed of Don Josephson, violin; Sandra Richmond, cello; and Ruth Josephson, piano, will play 'Andante' by Rubinstein.

Following this will be the commencement address by Rev. J. Alan Justad from the Trinity Methodist Church at Grand Island, Nebraska.

The presentation of the senior class by Principal G. B. Moore will be next on the program, followed by the presentation of the diplomas by R. E. Patterson, Jr., chairman of the Board of Directors. After receiving their diplomas, the seniors will file out during the recessional.

The number of seniors receiving diplomas in the different courses are as follows: college preparatory course, 50; general course, 35; vocational course, 32; stenographic course, 17; clerical course, 11.

Baccalaureate

Baccalaureate ceremonies will be held on May 26 at 8 p.m. in the Boone high school auditorium.

The ceremonies will commence with the processional, 'The Coronation March' by Svendsen. Conrad J. Scholl will be the conductor. Then the Boone high school mixed chorus will sing 'America, Our Heritage' by Hader. Rev. Russell E. Otto will deliver the commencement address, and the Boone High girls' sextet will sing 'Prayer' by Humperdinck. The program will end with a recessional.

New Changes in Curriculum

Mr. G. B. Moore, Principal of Boone High School, revealed to the press Wednesday plans for a dramatic new change in the school curriculum. Major changes will occur mostly in the library. Installation of slot machines will take the place of pencil-vending machines in an effort to combat students betting on which color pencil they receive. Also, each table in the library is going to be equipped with a built-in roulette wheel.

Bets on horse races and ball games may be placed at Mrs. Ick's desk and results broadcast over the intercom at 20-minute intervals. Also, dice and poker games are permitted on the library steps, under supervision of Mr. Tillson, who will participate in all games. Slot machines will replace all book shelves, lining the east, north, and west walls. For those desiring something less active, Mrs. Ick will conduct Bingo games at 10 cents a card, with such prizes as answer sheets for tests and all phases of homework. Mr. Tillson's desk will be replaced with a huge electronic brain that can do everything from figuring advanced calculus to homemaking questions. Use of this machine will be 25 cents. It is necessary to include a slight fee to pay for upkeep on the machinery.

Coffee, rolls, candy bars, and soft drinks may be purchased at any of the monitors' desks, as well as dice, cards, and cigars. For those who don't wish to participate in the events, Mr. Tillson's office is being converted into a dark room furnished with beds and a juke box that plays a wide selection of Brahms' lullabies.

If you want to study, you may do so in any of the restrooms or down in the furnace room, where janitors will be prepared to answer all questions and help with homework.

?? JOKES ??

His Version:

You sing a song or two,
You have a little chat,
You make a little candy fudge,
And then you take your hat,
And hold her hand and say,
As sweetly as you can,
"Ain't that a heckuva evening
For a great big healthy man?"

Her Version:

You play for his ready tenor,
Spill fudge on your second best frock,
You smother your yawns behind your hand,
And try not to look at the clock.
You listen to football dope and slang
Till your head's in a perfect whirl,
Ain't that a heckuva evening
For a nice intelligent girl?

From the Athlete's

By ROD VON KROG

On April 30, the Boone High Toreadors came through with an unexpected victory in their own relays. According to Coach Stutzman, the Toreadors were figured to take only third or fourth. Some brilliant running on the part of Toreadors Denny Ferry, Jerry Lind, Jerry Wright, and the rest of the Toreadors climaxed the victory.

Boone took 15 of the total 18 possible events to gather 69 points. The Red and Green took first in five events: the football throw, won by Jack Robertson, 100-yard dash, won by Jerry Lind; the 120-yard low hurdles and 180-yard high hurdles, both won by Don Stevens. For their fifth first of the contest the Toreadors won the 880-yard relay.

There were 14 teams, including Boone, which gave the relays plenty of good competition and exciting races. Boone is again having a good year in track although they lost a couple of good meets by the bare margin of one-half point. With just a few more track meets left, the Toreadors are looking forward to adding those meets to their winning season.
