News Briefs

The geometry aptitude test was administered to ninth grade algebra classes on February 5 and 6. All eighth grade arithmetic classes received the algebra aptitude test on February 6. The tests are given to determine the student's aptitude in the particular area of math which they cover. This is the second year that the geometry aptitude test has been given in the Boone school system, although the algebra aptitude test has been given for a number of years.

The Rev. Robert Balsinger was the speaker for the character education assembly held the second period on Tuesday, February 4. Don Flockhart introduced the minister, who spoke on the subject of 'Elijah.'

Boone High Bids Farewell to Iyer

Mr. Iyer, a familiar figure in Boone High School during the past few weeks, left for Des Moines Sunday, his observation of our school concluded. He was scheduled to join other members of the party there to evaluate experiences gained from observing schools in Iowa and across the nation. The trip to America from home in India was made possible by a Fulbright scholarship.

From Des Moines Mr. Iyer will return to Washington, D. C., and on March 6 will leave America for his home in Kollengode, India, where he is principal of a school about the same size as Boone High.

Mr. Iyer made good use of his time here. He visited many classes, often speaking to them, and answering questions on everything from government of India to elephants. He also attended orchestra, band, and chorus sessions. Boone sports fans saw him as an interested spectator at swimming meets and basketball games.

Boone will probably be remembered by him as the place where he learned to drive. For, while here, he took the drivers' training course, and passed the final test with flying colors. The gentleman from India found the driving of a car an easy goal to achieve. An interesting note is that in India vehicles are driven on the left side of the road.

The wintry weather in Iowa is in direct contrast to the climate of India. Before coming to America, Mr. Iyer was afraid that he would not be able to stand the cold temperatures. But fortunately, and much to his surprise, he has adjusted himself to the climate here remarkably well. "I have not even had one cold," he remarked happily. Before he came to America, Mr. Iyer had never seen snow. "It was a thrilling experience to see snow for the first time," he said.

Mr. Iyer has visited several schools in the United States, most of them in the New England States, and has come to the conclusion that "Boone is one of the best schools in the country. The many facilities are impressive. I am also impressed with the high degree of discipline and the well-organized extra-curricular activities."

As to the individual, Mr. Iyer has found that each student has a keen interest in other countries. He summarized, "I was pleased with the intelligent questions I received from the students. It shows that they have a real interest in India."

After school on February 6, the faculty held a tea in the cafeteria for Mr. Iyer. They presented him a photo album and took some pictures for him to put in it. He thanked them for the hospitality they had shown to him, and wished everyone the best in life.

Orchestra Presents Concert

Last night, February 12, the Boone High School symphony orchestra presented its annual concert. The orchestra played the following numbers: 'Symphony No. 1, C Major' by Beethoven, 'Scherzo' by Schubert, Concerto for Cello and Orchestra (guest soloist, Margaret Shultz) by Boccherini, 'Morning, Noon, and Night in Vienna' by Suppe, 'Andante Cantabile' by Tchaikovsky, 'Tango' by Gillis, and 'Rosenkavalier Waltzes' by Richard Strauss.

Margaret Shultz, who comes from a high school of 3,000, reports she likes smaller schools like Boone High better. In her homeroom at Evanston, Illinois, there are 260 students. Margaret likes to travel and enjoys watching football and basketball games especially basketball. She thought that the students in Boone High were very friendly.

Boone Band Invited to March in Veishea Parade

The Boone High School band has been invited to Veishea in Ames for the 1958 Centennial Parade. The theme of the parade, which will be held on May 17, is 'Echoes of a Century.'

Usually only the best marching bands in the state are invited, and large and small bands are equally represented.

Once Again Seniors Top Honor Roll

The senior class topped the honor roll again this nine weeks with 25% of the class making the honor roll. The sophomore class was next with 19% making the list, which was an improvement over last nine weeks when 18% made it. Last was the junior class who improved from 13% last nine weeks to 16% this nine weeks.

The following students make up the honor roll:

Boone Grad Joins Marterie Band

Richard Alber, a 1956 graduate of Boone High, recently joined the Ralph Marterie Band in Chicago. Alber, who was an active member of chorus, orchestra, band, and various small groups while at Boone High, has been attending the University of Nebraska.

He is one of the four trumpeters in the band, which makes Mercury recordings. The Marterie Band appeared in Des Moines Saturday, January 25.

Alber is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Alber, who live at 1209 Crawford Street.

"How are you this morning?"
"All right."
"Well, then why don't you notify your face?"

Jack Langmade has begun his term of office as Student Council president. He won the election over his opponent, Mary Wiemer. In an assembly the second period on Monday, February 3, the candidates gave their campaign speeches. First Mary was introduced by her campaign manager, Karen Trulin. The second man said, "No sheriff."

The sheriff turned to him and said, "Who's talking to you?"

The third man said, "I didn't say anything."

VALENTINE TEENS

Our senior Valentine sweethearts are Miss Karen Kaye Dutton and Mr. Robert Allison Harris. More commonly known to all their friends as 'Dutt' and 'Bob.'

Besides her good times with Bob, Dutt lives her family life with her parents and three younger brothers at 812 Argo Street. Many of her spare hours are spent at the Peerless Dairy, where she has been employed for the past year and a half. Some of her extra-curricular activities include pep club, majorette in band, basketball, Student Council, and secretary of Future Nurses' Club.

Bob's life, aside from dates with Dutt, which seems to be his favorite pastime, is quite a busy one. Born November 10, 1939, in the Boone County Hospital, he lives with his parents and a younger brother and sister on R. R. 1. When asked what activities he's in, he replied, "My biggest activity is five subjects, but others include president of the Boone County Boys' 4-H Clubs, reporter for the Pilot Mound 4-H Club, and sports correspondent for the Boone News-Republican."

Sports seem to be favorites for both. Dutt enjoys basketball, while Bob prefers baseball. On favorite color and song they seem to agree on blue, and 'Don't' by Mr. Presley. Other favorites include: food, steak for Bob and chicken for Dutt; subject, homemaking for Dutt and trig for Bob.

After meeting at a Junior Legion baseball game in the summer of 1956, they started dating and have been going steady for 17 months. Their favorite pastime together is double dating with Etta and Larry, in either Bob's '53 blue Chev or Larry's Chev.

Futures for both include college. Dutt will either attend Parsons or Iowa Methodist. Bob's looking forward to engineering at either Grinnell or Iowa State. Plans after that? Looks pretty rosy!

Rock and Roll

"Why, land sakes, doesn't that look vulgar?" "Why, when I was that age, I wouldn't even think of doing such a thing!" Those are the opinions that a lot of older folks have on the subject of rock and roll. Since I am a teen-ager, I naturally like it, but I also know of parents who like it just as well if not better.

The reason that so many of the young people like this kind of music is because of its strong, steady beat, and because it fits their way of dance. A lot of kids use it to blow off a little steam when they are mad, and it also helps them to express their feelings, which is a very hard thing for a teen-ager to do. There are some kids who would rather, though, sit and listen to some long-haired orchestra play. Sure, most kids would enjoy that once in a while, because we don't live, eat, and sleep rock and roll, even though most parents think that. We wouldn't even be normal if we didn't like rock and roll.

Question of the Week

The question is, "What would you do if someone gave you a guh enit-nelav?" It doesn't seem like many of the people interviewed would pass this test, but, on the other hand, some would have passed with flying colors. Anyway, here are their answers:

Howard Swain: "I'd take her and try to..."

Mike Hyatt: "Scream and run."

Gene Strandberg: "Easy."

Carol Peterson: "I'd take it to the basketball game."

Janet Guenther: "I'd try to figure it out first."

John Kost: "Back off."

Diana Caywood: "I'd shoot 'em."

Sandi Shadle: "Oh, I'd just—ah—take it!"

Barb Fetzner: "Throw it away."

Gary Bryant: "Put it on a motorcycle."

Dave Reynolds: "I'd shot it."

Mr. McLeran: "I'd drown it and make the best of a bad situation."

Karen Williams: "Give it to Mr. 'X' to analyze."

Lois Hicks: "Give it back, only more so."

Mr. Bruns: "I'd eat it."

Darrell Marlowe: "I'd climb the nearest tree and yell, 'What's going on down there?' Then I'd fly through the trees with Sheen."

Jack Marty: "I'd grab my girl and kiss her."

In case you're wondering, guh enit-nelav is just valentine hug spelled backwards.

Slander's Column

Dear Miss Slanders,

I have a problem. I'm the most beautiful girl in the world. People are afraid to admit it because Marilyn Monroe and Jayne Mansfield would beat me up. When I enter beauty conatsts, the judges don't think it's fair for me to compete with plain, common girls, and they always give the prize to somebody else. Boys don't go out with me. They are so awed by my beauty they think they aren't good enough to associate with me.

How about it, Ann? Shall I gain 20 pounds, mess up my hair, wear sloppy clothes, and have a good time? Or shall I stay the same, beautiful, devastating way, and live in a glass case? Please answer quickly. I'm desperate!

Cleopatra O'toole

Dear Cleopatra O'toole,

Ordinarily I advise people to follow the straight and narrow, but in your case, yes! Live a little before Marilyn Monroe and Jayne Mansfield hear of this new competition and beat you up.

Ann Slanders

YOUR D. Q. (Dance Quotient)

Are you a sharp character? Quick on the uptake? Everywhere, that is, but on the dance floor? And once there, well, let's face it... sort of a clod?

Check these questions 'Yes' and 'No' to see how you rate. The answers are elsewhere on this page.

1. Is it ever proper for a girl to ask a boy to a dance?
2. As a boy, what do you say if a girl does ask you to dance?
3. As a girl, if you are with a date, is it all right to dance with another boy who asks you?
4. If you are on a double date, can a girl properly suggest trading partners for a dance?
5. In going to and from a dance floor, should the boy take the girl's arm?
6. If you bump another couple, should the girl apologize?
7. If you should bump toes in dancing, should you ignore it and say nothing?
8. As a boy, should you thank a partner for a dance whether you enjoyed it or not?
9. If you should stumble or not get along well at the beginning of a dance, does this mean that your partner is a bad dancer?
10. Having traded partners, and assuming that you are enjoying yourself, is it all right to stay away from your date as long as four dances?
11. Should a boy ask the hostess (mother, chaperone, advisor, etc.) to dance?
12. At a mixer dance, say you've been with the same partner for three or four dances and you'd like to dance with someone else. You feel stuck—but you don't want to hurt any feelings. Would you say, "I'd like to dance with some of the others"?
13. Does dancing with the same partner all the time make you a good dancer?
14. Should you tell your partner that he or she is a good dancer?

Answers

1. YES, in some situations, such as a sock dance or mixer, it's all right for a girl to ask a boy. At a semi-formal or formal, no. An exception would be if it were her brother.
2. YES, always, unless his leg is in a cast. Remember, it takes a certain amount of courage for a boy to ask a girl to dance, and in some cases it takes even more, because she's not used to asking the boy.

3. YES, maybe, if you know him and want to dance. But you must always turn to your date and say something such as, "Is it all right?" or "Do you mind?" The boy's stock reply in this case must be to give permission, or else he would betray that he's jealous or overly possessive. A girl, in such a case, should remember that she's always safe in saying, "No, thank you," or "Not right now, thanks."
4. NO. Suggesting trading partners by the girl assumes too much and it might be taken as meaning she's tired of dancing with her date. Whereas, on the other hand, if the boy suggests a trade, it is usually interpreted as just a gracious gesture.
5. YES. Taking the girl's hand or arm is all right. In a strictly formal situation, however, the proper way is for the boy to offer the girl his right arm and for her to take it. At the end of the dance number the girl should wait for the boy to escort her back to her place. Nothing is so exasperating to a boy as having a girl take off, with him tagging along behind like a puppy dog. Give him a chance to be a man.
6. NO. The boy assumes the responsibility for navigating about the floor.
7. NO. Say something, even if it's only, "Whoops, I goofed!" It will relieve tension and help your dancing to be relaxed. Best of all say something like, "Let's try that over again, see if we can get it."
8. YES, always. Thanking a partner is just good manners.
9. NO. It takes a while to get warmed up to dancing, same as with any sport. If you have trouble to begin with, stick

10. No. Trading a dance means, usually, 'one' dance, unless the music is played in sets of three. Then possibly three, but no more. The girl can take the initiative here and say something like, "I ought to find my date."
11. YES. Even if she doesn't care to dance she'll be pleased that you asked.
12. NO. The suggestion is a little blunt. For the boy it's easy. He can just lead the girl back to where he got her and thank her very much for the dance. For the girl it's not so easy. One way, though, is for her to say that she would like to sit down for awhile. If the boy accompanies her, she is still free to accept a dance from another boy.
13. No, usually not. It's especially bad for the girl as she gets used to the boy's one style of dancing, whereas a good girl dancer must be adaptable to many styles. It can be bad for the boy, too, in this sense, that as the girl gets used to him, his lead usually gets weaker.
14. YES, unless you have an unusually difficult time. It will put your partner at ease and actually help your dancing.

Arctic Distinction

From EB Film "Eskimo Children"

Eskimo boats have sexes. The name "qajaqsut" is properly applied only to the boat used by an Eskimo man; that used by a woman is called an "umiak."

From EB Film "Productivity—Key to Plenty"

The earliest Scottish reference to golf was a 1457 decree which forbade it in the interest of defense, because citizens were abandoning archery in favor of the game.

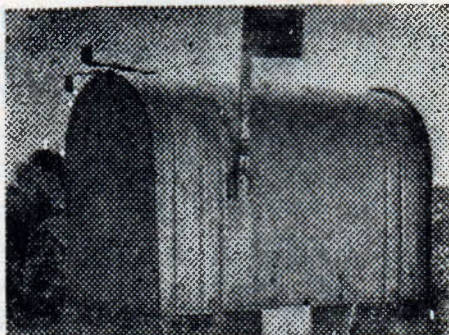

Somber Sailing

From EB Film "Venice"

The gondolas of Venice are black because of an edict of 1562 which forbade the richly embroidered awnings that were the custom before that time.

From EB Film "Mailman"

On the first R. F. D. route in 1896, 214 letters were delivered in the first week. By 1950 there were 32,000 such routes serving 30 million persons.

Rock and Roll Tops in Tunes

The top tunes of today are of the species known as Rock and Roll. It began its fabulous climb in about 1950. Since then it ranks higher than all other types of music. Whether or not a song becomes a hit depends largely on two things: first, it must have a good rhythm, and second, it must rate high with the teenagers. After all, they purchase about 85% of all discs sold.

It is my job to keep you posted on all the newest discs released, and how the older ones stand in KIOA's top 50 poll.

Last week a disc was previewed on the new teenage program on KWBG. It was Doris Day's "Teacher's Pet." It has a good rhythm, and is easy to understand.

Speaking of new discs, there were quite a few released this week, and played over American Bandstand. The Mark Four's disc of "Make with the Shake" is real cool, and will probably sail to the tip. Bill Justis has a new one called, "College Man," and is on the same level as "Raunchy," mostly instrumental but neat to dance to.

The Royal Teens, the group that wrote and sings "Short Shorts," has one of the most controversial discs of the day; and even though there has been a great deal of criticism about it, "Short Shorts" is destined to become one of the greatest hits of the year.

The disc that I pick to go over big in the next few weeks is a song called, "The Walk," by Jimmy Mc-

Cracklin. This disc has created an entirely new dance step and has the most unusual rhythm of any record out. Even though this disc has been out a very short time, it has already begun to sky rocket to the top.

As I said, KIOA's poll of the top 50 tunes is about the hottest in this part of the state. Here are the top five from KIOA's top 50 of last week's list. 1. "Don't" by Elvis Presley; 2. "Sugar Time" by the McGuire Sisters; 3. "Swinging Shepherds Blues" by Johnny Pate; 4. "Oh, Julie" by the Crescendos; 5. "Get a Job" by the Silhouettes.

In our next issue Billboard's nationwide poll will also be featured.

One 16-year-old girl to another 16-year-old girl: "Imagine his nerve! Here I was all ready to refuse him, and he didn't even ask me!"

Joe: "Marcia, since I met you I can't eat, I can't sleep, and I can't drink."

Marcia: "And, why not?"

Joe: "I'm broke."

Steve: "Why didn't you tell me you were buying chandeliers?"

Camille: "Don't be silly—those are my new earrings."

Dancing Hints

Boys Like—

A girl who seems 'glad' when asked to dance.

A girl who pays attention to 'him' when she's dancing, and is not looking all around the floor.

A girl who can laugh it off if something goes wrong. One who encourages conversation—but not too much, and who doesn't become 'yakky.'

A girl who takes her example from the boy's dancing and doesn't show off with wild or eccentric dancing.

A girl who holds herself up and isn't a dead weight—doesn't hang all over the boy.

Especially a girl who moves easily, lightly, whichever way he puts her, or goes. The highest compliment a boy can pay is when he says, "Gee, she's like dancing with nothing in your arms."

Girls Like—

A boy to hold her in a strong, but relaxed dance position.

A boy who has variety in his dancing, and who doesn't do the same thing over and over.

A firm, decisive lead. When the lead is weak or wishy-washy the girl feels helpless, and she's tempted to start leading herself.

Conversation, again. Not too much, but then, dancing is for fun.

A boy who is sociable and lets her mix with other friends, and who doesn't treat her as some sort of a 'captive.'

A boy always to be charming and a gentleman, no matter what the situation.

Worker: "What a doctor! He told me to bury myself in my work."

Friend: "Well, what's wrong with that?"

Worker: "I'm a concrete mixer."

HOME HYGIENE HISTORY

Women in Elizabethan times did not realize the value of washing or creaming the face at frequent intervals. Many suffered from ugly skin blemishes. Modern women have smooth, creamy complexions because of excellent skin care.

The first American settlers got plenty of healthy exercise in the outdoors just by doing their daily work. Many modern men who spend working days in offices, must plan their exercise through week-end and after work recreation.

Early American children were not encouraged to brush their teeth until after their "second" teeth had grown. Dentists today say a child should be taught to brush his teeth at the age of two. Modern brushes for children are treated with an anti-bacterial that destroys or inhibits germs that fall or settle on bristles. *Source: Dr. West's Laboratory Survey

By following the rules of good hygiene, American families are the healthiest in the world.

Speaker: "Thank you, Sir, for staying to listen to me when everybody else walked out."

Listener: "Oh, don't thank me—I'm the next speaker."

Tact is hard to define, but as I get it, it's a combination of flattery, lying, and wisdom.

First Buzzard: "That was a new two-engine jet that went by. Don't you wish you could fly that fast?"

Second Buzzard: "Listen, if I had two tails and they were both on fire you wouldn't even see me!"

Teacher: "Which month has 28 days in it?"

Jimmy (thinking a minute): "They all have."

Small boy to father: "Here's my report card and one of yours I found in the attic."

Where is the speaker to compare With him who rises from his chair, Bows and smiles; then gains renown By sitting down!

To eat and run is not polite, But frankly, girls and chaps, It also doesn't seem quite right To eat and just collapse.

Jerry: "How'd you make out in your car smash-up?"

Ronnie: "Bad; it was only my word against hers, and she had thousands more than I did."

Mrs. Black: "Jim, don't use those words."

Jim: "But Shakespeare used them."

Mrs. Black: "Well, I don't want you playing with him any more."

Betty: "Oooh! My new shoes hurt me!"

Teacher: "Well, no wonder, You have them on the wrong feet."

Betty (still crying): "I haven't any other feet."

Varsity, Sophs Down Grinnell

An old success maxim for sports says, "Just get a lead and keep it." And that's just what the Toreadors did, downing Grinnell 56-47 at Grinnell, February 7.

Jack Langmade garnered 23 points, making him high point man for the game, and Bob Musser dropped in 18 markers.

Alan Walker opened the Boone scoring with a long field goal in the first minute of play, and the scoreboard read 2-0. The Red and Green trailed Coach Ray Standerwick's Tigers only once; the first quarter ended with Grinnell holding a 10-9 advantage. At halftime the Toreadors were leading 25-23, and had built up a 39-33 margin as the third period closed.

Alan Munson added seven points to the Boone total, Alan Walker five, and Dick Hamilton three. Both Hamilton and Walker left the game with five fouls, Walker in the third chapter and Hamilton with only 3:21 remaining in the contest.

Robinson headed the Tigers' scoring column with 23, the only Tiger to get into double figures.

In the final 26 seconds of the game the two squads dropped in eight free throws, with Bob Musser accounting for four. Bob Clifton's squad scored on 10 charity tosses in the final three minutes. They now hold a 2-7 record in conference play.

Toreador rebounding was fairly well balanced as Musser took 12 caroms and Hamilton nine. Alan Walker, in his first starting berth, showed up well under the boards.

The combination of Jon Gustafson, Keith Ablett, and Howard Gilchrist banged in 48 of the 63 points scored by the Boone Sophs as they defeated the Grinnell Sophs 63-50 on February 7.

Boone held a 15-5 first period lead and never fell behind. Ablett was high for Boone with 17 and Gary Miller dropped in 19 for Grinnell.

Boone Loses to Ames

After leading in the first three periods the Toreadors bowed to Ames, 48-45, in the closing minutes of the game.

Ranking high in performance were Bob Musser and Jack Langmade. Musser did a good job in turning in 16 points in the game. Gary Ellis, the Little Cyclone ace, was held down to 10 points during the game by the fine defense of Jack Langmade. Langmade was also high scorer for the Toreadors, dumping in 18 points.

High rebounder for Boone was Dick Hamilton, taking seven off the boards. Musser and Sherbon tied for second with six apiece and Munson took five.

In shooting percentage the Toreadors put in 19 for 59 attempts, making 32.2%. This was the best percentage they've had since they beat Grinnell.

Shooting high for Ames were Stuart with 14 points, and Dresser with 11. All told, Ames hit 17 for 53 or 32.1%.

Mason City Edges Boone

After losing to Ames 48-45 on Friday, the Toreadors fell to the Mohawks of Mason City, 59-57, on Saturday night. It was the seventh game Boone has lost by a margin of eight points or less.

The Toreadors showed more improvement even in losing as they hit 30% of their shots. After trailing at the end of the first three periods, the Toreadors slammed in 23 points, but not quite enough to subdue the Mohawks. Musser, Langmade, Hamilton, and Clabaugh all had five rebounds but were outclassed on the boards 28-23.

Bill Monen and Alan Walker both gave good showings and Walker, who came into the game in the third quarter, dropped in three field goals from long range.

High scorer for Boone was Musser with 16, followed by Langmade with 15, and Alan Munson who had his best night of the year with 14 points. Walker had six, Hamilton four, and Tom Pestotnik two. High point man for Mason City was Connelly with 19, followed by Byerly with 16.

Girls Take Two

Leading the Toreadorettes to an impressive 65-55 victory Friday, January 31, Rita Howard scored high, putting in a total of 40 points against Rockwell City.

The fact that this was only the fourth loss in 14 games for Rockwell City, served to make the game very exciting for the Toreadorettes to win over so powerful an opponent.

In the opening, Boone drove forward with an eagerness and haste that put them ahead 31-13 at the end of the first quarter. In the second period the Toreadorettes held their opponents down to 10 points and at halftime had a 43-23 margin over them.

In the first half Howard shot 19 times. Of these, 11 were direct hits. Rita scored 25 of her 40 points in the first 16 minutes of play and ended the evening with a 55.2% in shooting.

Coming next in the scoring column was Karen Mustaph with 13 points and a 41.7% shooting average.

All in all, the Toreadorettes shot a 51.5 from the floor in the first half and finished the game with a crushing 41%.

Other very outstanding performances were given by Barbara Wilhelm, Etta Mae Grady, Connie Ablett, and Marilyn Smith.

After getting off to a slow start in the first quarter, the Toreadorettes really let loose and bagged 62 points in the next three periods to humble Stratford 70-35.

Stratford was held to only 11 field goals for 26.2% while Boone hit 27 of 69 for 39.7%. Rita Howard and Joyce Alsin shared scoring honors for Boone with 28 points each, Howard hitting 10 of 13 floor shots for a torrid 76.9% and Alsin hitting 10 of 26 for a 38.5%. Pat Erickson bagged 17 to lead Stratford scoring.

ATHLETES of the week

Mary Jane Walker has been chosen Girl Athlete of the Week. She lives at 1221 Twelfth Street and her birthday is September 25. She is five feet seven inches tall and is a very good basketball player. She plays guard on the second team.

Mary Jane is in ninth grade and her favorite subject is homemaking. Her favorite colors are shades of brown. Cokes, vanilla malts, and steak rank high on her list of favorite foods. Right now Danny and the Juniors are her favorite singers and 'Oh Julie' is her favorite song.

Other than basketball, she likes to swim, ice skate, and ride horses.

This month Larry Paulson has been chosen to be the Boy Athlete of the Week. He is a 5-foot 11-inch freshman and takes part in three of the athletic programs provided by Boone High. First is basketball, his favorite, in which he plays forward. The highest number of points he has made in one game is eight. Second is football, in which he plays end. Also, he takes an active part in track, running in several of the events. Bob Pettit seems to be his favorite sportster. In his spare time Larry likes to watch television or listen to the radio, KIOA in particular. As to girls, he has no special favorite at the time.

Eighth Graders Suffer First Loss

Melinda Moffitt: "Pat it."

Donna Jay: "Look at it and if it was too big, I'd run."

TRY THIS RECIPE

Tommy was practicing for his cooking merit badge by trying to follow a layer cake recipe that was being broadcast on the radio. However, his radio set was damaged, and he got two stations at once. This is what he heard.

And now for a layer cake, hands on hips, place one cup flour on your shoulder, raise knees, and depress toes. Mix thoroughly in one-half cup milk. Repeat six times. Inhale quickly one teaspoon of baking powder. Lower legs and mash six hardboiled eggs in a sieve; exhale. Breathe naturally and sift in a bowl. Attention! Lie on the floor and roll in the whites of two eggs backward and forward until it comes to a boil. In 10 minutes, remove from fire and rub smartly with a rough towel. Breathe naturally, dress in warm, red flannels, and serve with tomato sauce.

"Don't be a Smoe, vote for Joe!" and "Finish the term with Herm!" are two sayings seen on posters placed in the halls, written on blackboards, and on separate pins last week. Why? Because last week junior high students elected a new Student Council president for the second semester.

Terry (Herm) Ferry and Joe Long were the candidates. Linda Boyd, former Student Congress president, was Terry's campaign manager and Marcia Bohlen was Joe's campaign manager. Both campaigns gave very convincing speeches at an assembly held Monday, February 3, during second hour.

Terry Ferry was elected the new president, following the election held Wednesday, February 5.
