Student Body Elects Officers

On Thursday, September 25th, election for class officers was held in homerooms. The following candidates were elected:

Shaler Takes Over S.C. Presidency

Steve Shaler, running on a platform based on co-operation, was elected president of Student Council over his opponent, 'Bud' Munson. The campaign managers were Larry Ford and 'Charlie' McGriff.

The campaign speeches were given in a special assembly held at 1:40 on September 17.

The Student Council elected the other officers at the September 18 council meeting. They are as follows: vice-president, Jim Cross; secretary, Marilyn Smith; treasurer, Terry Ferry; sergeant-at-arms, Jon Gustafson.

B.H.S. Welcomes New Students

Homeroom Officers Elected

Homeroom officers were elected in their respective homerooms. The following are listed homeroom teacher, then president, then secretary:

Twelfth Grade

Miss Heaps, Steve Shaler and Irene Smart; Mr. Clifton, David Reynoldson and Glenda McCambridge; Mr. Brookhart, Barbara Craun and Don Pritchard; Mr. Harris, Alan Munson and Doris Lundstrom; Miss Plum, Ron Rosengreen and Donna Deal; Mr. Parr, Sharyn Thompson and Marie Guenther.

Eleventh Grade

Junior homeroom officers are: Miss Osborne, Nancy Westfall and Beth Stevenson; Mrs. Plath, Donna Pesek and LuAnn Hauge; Mr. Lein, Bill Gilliam and Clifford Elliott; Mrs. Taylor, Susanne Frohardt and John Clymer; Mr. Carroll, Jim Pritchard and Dennis Bennett; Mr. Stock, Janet Schroeder and Ronald Carter; Mr. Riemenschneider, Keith Ablett and Sue Robinson.

Tenth Grade

Sophomores elected are: Miss Elwood, Mary Goodwin and Sue Pestotnik; Miss Hall, Mike Fleming and Barbara Murkin; Mr. Anderson, Marvin Lestina and Barbara Erbe; Mr. Tillson, George Hannum and Judith Stotts; Mr. Hartley, Sandra Burke and Tom Sellers; Mrs. Ick, Ann McDermott and Carl Saubert; Mrs. Thompson, David Moeller and Jim Mylenbush.

This year instead of having the homecoming bonfire and snake dance, the Student Council and Pep Club members decided to have a different program.

There will be an assembly at 1:00 p.m. At this time one of the five candidates will be crowned queen.

Toreador Costume

Clinton Sandeen, a graduate of the 1928 Boone High class and a former cheerleader, will present to us a Toreador outfit which he obtained in Mexico. Mr. Sandeen, who is now a costume designer for 20th Century Fox in Hollywood, California, came to Boone for the presentation of the 30-year class and to present to us the Toreador outfits.

At approximately 1:45 p.m. the students will snake dance to Goepinger Field for a Pep Assembly.

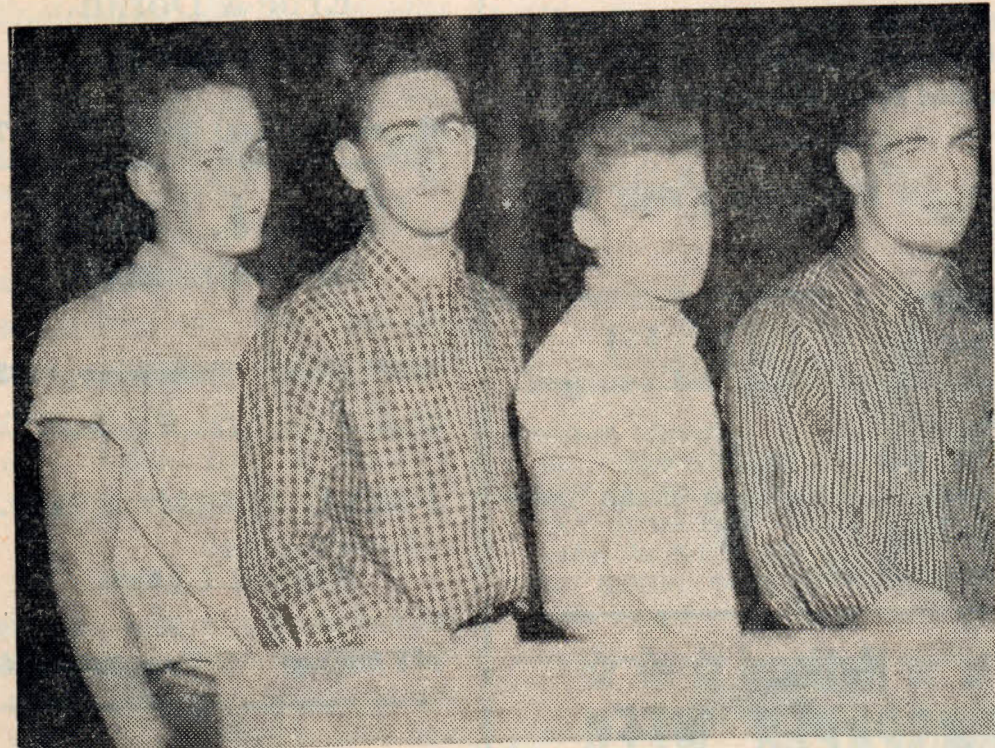

The annual alumni tea will be held from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Proudfoot and His Five

An annual dance will follow the game. This dance will also be a break from the pattern that has been followed in the last few years. It will be held in the high school gym, and Van Proudfoot and his five will furnish the music.

Sport jackets and suits are quite appropriate for the boys and dress-up clothes for the girls.

Senior high homerooms have decorated windows up town for the homecoming this year, which is also a switch from last year's decorating homerooms. No prizes will be given this year. Instead, the decorating is for promoting school spirit.

Y.W.C.A. Groups Meet

Live-Y'ers met September 15, and Hi-Tri met September 17 at the Y.W.C.A. for the first meetings of the year.

Officers of the Live-Y'ers are: president, Lynne Doran; vice-president, Sandra Burke; secretary, Barbara Murken; treasurer, Lynn Clark; devotions chairman, Jenna Watson; program chairman, Sharon Anondson.

The Live-Y'ers will meet every first and third Wednesday of the month. The second Saturday of the month will be their social night. At their first meeting they planned a hayride for October 25th.

The Hi-Tri officers are: president, Leslie Schroeder; vice-president, Gayle Ohlmann; secretary, Ann Senholz; treasurer, Gerry Raettig; devotions chairman, Lynne Hohenshell.

The group will meet every first, third, and fourth Monday of the month; and the last Saturday of the month is their social night.

After the juniors left the meeting, the seniors made initiation plans.

Pep Club Has First Meeting

Lynn Anderson, president of the Pep Club, called the first meeting to order Thursday, September 9, after school in the junior high library. The other officers for the present year are: secretary, Linda Berglund; twelfth grade recorders, Barbara Krah and Janice Lind; eleventh grade recorders, Karen Anderson and Ann Senholz; tenth grade recorders, Barbara Murken and Sue Moore.

A new addition to the Pep Club is the formation of a drill team under the direction of Mr. Riemenschneider, sponsor of the Pep Club. It will work in connection with the Boone High Band and may perform during the half-time exercises. So far, 20 girls have enrolled in this activity, but still more are needed.

This year the Pep Club members are selling pennants, pins, megaphones, balloons, and pompons, besides operating the concessions stand at all the games, in order to raise money for new uniforms for the cheerleaders.

Violin Maker Visits Orchestra

A. C. Gengler, violin maker and collector of rare violins, visited the Boone High Orchestra September 29th. Mr. Gengler, of Seattle, Washington, is touring the western part of the country selling his violins and violas.

In Seattle he has a repair shop from which he handles many orders from Alaska and the rest of the country. He regrets that it leaves him little time for making new violins, violas, and mandolins.

One hundred thirty-five instruments are kept in stock and 50 for tours. Among these is a 1619 Paolomaggini made in Vercia, Italy, which he greatly prides.

It was 40 years ago in Warren, Ohio, that Mr. Gengler learned his trade. Many orchestras, including Boone's, have bought his products.

Mr. Gengler will visit Des Moines, Salt Lake City, and Los Angeles before returning home. His next tour is planned for May.

Jerolyn Dixon Is Miss Dairy Queen

Jerolyn Dixon, a junior at Boone High, won the Miss Dairy Queen contest, under the sponsorship of Charles and Ruth Lauser, owners of the Dairy Queen.

First prize was a $100 gift certificate, presented by Riekenberg's. Jeri's picture will now be sent to a national contest. The winner of the national contest and her chaperone will get a free trip to Bermuda.

Second prize winner, Lois Kristianson, won a piece of luggage. Third prize winner, Karen Bennet, won a $25 gift certificate. Other contestants were Carole Schroeder, Janet Schroeder, and Marlene Bancroft.

Twelve New Teachers Join Faculty

This year there are 12 additions to the faculty. The new senior high teachers are listed below, and the new junior high teachers on the junior high page.

Mr. Robert Anderson graduated from Augustana College, located at Sioux Falls, South Dakota. He is teaching math.

Miss Margaret Elwood teaches 10th grade homemaking; she graduated this June from Iowa State College.

Mr. Merle Harris, head football coach, graduated from Iowa State College. He also teaches science and physical education.

Miss Jean Heaps, a graduate of the University of California, teaches Latin and French.

Miss Rosemary Hall teaches math and social studies and will coach junior high girls' basketball. She is now doing graduate work at Iowa State College.

Mr. Lawrence Parr teaches social studies and is a football coach. He graduated from Simpson College.

Mr. James Sanders graduated from Iowa State College this June and teaches math and social studies in Boone High.

Mr. Charles Schaeffer, the new speech teacher, graduated from Culver-Stockton College at Canton, Missouri. He holds B. A. and M. A. degrees.

BULLETIN

Lynn Anderson and Jim Hartley have been named semi-finalists in the National Scholarship program.

Three Bumble 'B' Staff Members Attend Summer Schools

David Tucker and Carolyn Dahlin attended a week of schooling this summer at the State University of Iowa School of Journalism on The Boone News-Republican scholarships. David Otto received a half tuition scholarship to Northwestern University at Evanston, Illinois. He attended a six-week course in journalism there.

New Pep Club Members 'Broken In'

The melody of 'Around the World in 80 Days' echoed through the halls a few weeks ago. It was sung by the new Pep Club initiates as part of their initiation requirements.

Instead of the annual, one-day initiation, as in previous years, the new members were put through their paces for a week. These girls were easily spotted during the initiation by their bright red ties and white bobby socks spelling out the words 'Pep Club.' Other distinguishing features about these girls were their lack of make-up and the wearing of the complete Pep Club uniform on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

On Friday, September 19, a pep assembly was held in the auditorium, and the initiates were called to the stage, where they sang the required song and supported the cheerleaders in a few of the school chants.

BULLETIN

Homecoming Queen candidates are: Deanna Eldien, Emily Grabau, Gayle Ohlmann, Sue Peterson, and Millicent Stutzman.

There was a young fellow named Sid

Who kissed a young girl on the eyelid.

"Your aim's pretty bad,"

She said to the lad;

"You should practice for awhile."

So he did!

As We See It . . .

It isn't a particularly large fly. It's just another black fly sitting on a desk, the sort of thing that wouldn't attract anyone's attention on an ordinary day (unless it happened to be in a person's food, or maybe his eye).

But this is no ordinary day. This hot September day happens to be the first day of school. After a long summer of fun and work, some 1,200 students have returned to Boone High for another year and are suffering from what might be called the first day doldrums. Everyone is bored because there is nothing to do. Oh, there're a few things, like filling out schedule cards and receiving book cards and locker keys, but they take little time for the most. And the homerooms drag on.

You all remember this first day other years when the pupils got bored, usually tried to make some diversion, and so set the teachers' nerves on edge.

This year things were different. The week before school started, each student merely went to the office, shelled out the allotted sum, signed on the dotted line, and departed, to come back to the halls of Boone High the first day—minus the seemingly endless homeroom period. In its place was a short homeroom and then the regular class routine.

Band Is in Full Swing

During the weeks of September 15-22, members of both the marching band and junior band sold book covers to the student body at 10 cents apiece or three for 25 cents. The purpose was to help raise funds to purchase new uniforms. Each year the size of the band increases, and therefore the purchase of uniforms at this time would not only supply the needs of the present band members, but also for those in the future.

Do Sacks Appeal?

"Do sacks appeal, or don't they?" This was the question asked at the half-time performance during the Boone-Oskaloosa game, as the Boone High marching band presented an array of the latest fashions through formations.

As the band went from one formation to another, the dress corresponding to the formation on the field was modeled by a girl from the Pep Club.

The first dress to be modeled was the sack (Millicent Stutzman and Kathryn Disney); next was the trapeze (Karen Madden); formation three was the barrel dress, and for this Jean Goepfinger wore a pink barrel with black polka dots; the last dress was the sheath, modeled by Sue Peterson and Joyce Alsin.

The band concluded its half-time entertainment by forming the 'B' and playing 'Washington and Lee Swing.'

Homecoming Half-time

To begin tomorrow night's half-time entertainment, the marching band, the Pep Club Drill Team, and the new Toreador mascot will escort the queen and her attendants around the track, after which the band will provide entertainment featuring variety baton twirling.

The only way in which to fit a people for self-government is to entrust them with self-government. —Macaulay.

New Faces Seen in Junior High

On September 2nd the doors of Boone High School opened to 1,084 students, 567 of them in junior high.

There are 196 in the ninth grade, of which 102 are girls, and 94 are boys. In the eighth grade there are 180 pupils, 91 of them girls, and 89 boys.

Of the 191 seventh graders coming into Boone High from the sixth grade schools in Boone, 98 are girls, and 93 are boys.

Where Are They Now?

Several of the Boone High teachers of last year are no longer in the Boone system.

Mr. Abbott is now teaching at Ames High School; Mr. Crozier is teaching at Lincoln High in Des Moines; and Mr. McLeran is teaching at Woodland elementary school in Des Moines.

Some of last year's teachers are themselves attending school: Mr. Bissell is attending the University of Iowa; Mr. Olson is going to the University of Nebraska at Lincoln; and Mr. Porter is going to school in Cedar Falls on a scholarship.

Mr. Hove is a salesman for Walnut Grove Feeds.

Miss Louise Linderblood, a well-known teacher at Boone High, retired last year after 35 years of teaching here.

Dear Lord, I ask nothing for myself, but please bring my dear mother a son-in-law."

One girl to another: "My trouble is that the sack dresses fit me."

Iowa Development Tests Are Given

Much mumbling, grumbling, and "Oh no, those tests again!" was heard in Boone High on September 9th, 10th, and 11th, when the Iowa Educational Development Tests were administered to grades nine through 12.

These tests covered the areas of science, social studies, English, literature, vocabulary, spelling, and mathematics. The tests were divided into two main divisions, background in each subject and interpretation of it.

The tests were given first, second, fifth, and sixth periods.

The Iowa Educational Development Tests were given primarily to establish the abilities of the individual student by revealing his strengths and weaknesses in the different subjects.

Although the high schools put much emphasis on these tests, they aren't required for college entrance, because not all students put forth their full effort.

Results of the tests will arrive in about three weeks.

Orchestra to Feature Pianist in February

Mr. Scholl, director of the orchestra, announced that Miss Penny Ball, of Birmingham, Michigan, will be the featured pianist for the orchestra's February 17th concert. Miss Ball is a senior in high school and a straight A student.

This summer she was chosen out of 108 participants to play the concerto with the Honors Orchestra at Interlocken, Michigan.

Miss Ball will arrive a week before the concert to rehearse with the orchestra.

Vocal Music Department Enlarged

To improve the vocal section, a part-time teacher, Mrs. Peterson, has been added. Mr. Mische is back for his fifth year as full-time teacher.

There is a tenth grade boys' octet, two tenth grade girls' sextets, a twelfth grade mixed quartet, and a boys' octet, made up of juniors and seniors. Seven soloists are now working with Mr. Mische.

This year's mixed chorus is the largest it has ever been, with 90 members. They will sell Christmas cards again this year, because of the need for more robes.

New Teachers Listed

The following are new junior high teachers:

Mr. Highbarger

Mr. Highbarger teaches arithmetic and algebra. He has 20 years of teaching experience and holds a bachelor of arts degree. Before coming to Boone, he was superintendent of the Jamaica schools.

Mrs. Peterson

Mrs. Peterson comes to us from Cleghorn. She teaches vocal music in classes seven through 12; her seventh and eighth grade classes are mixed, and her ninth through 12th grade choruses are composed entirely of girls. In addition to this, she teaches instrumental music in the grade schools.

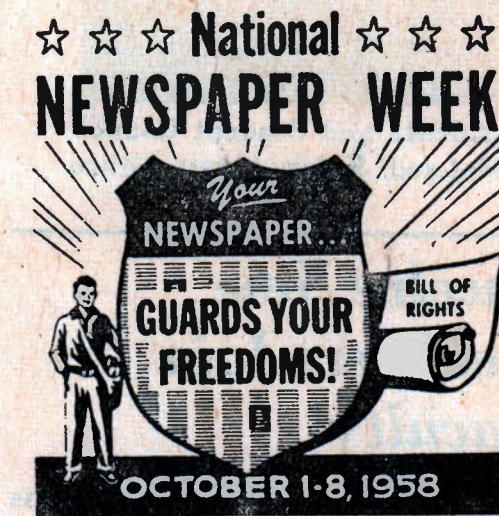

Mr. Morgan

Mr. Morgan, a graduate of Parsons College, at Fairfield, holds a master's degree from Drake University. He teaches social studies and is also a coach.

Miss Saftig

Miss Saftig teaches art. She attended college at Iowa State Teachers College in Cedar Falls and graduated from there this June.

Me an' the Toreadors

In the past there have been many great 'Reds' in the field of sports. Red Grange, the galloping ghost of Illinois; Red Barber, famous sportscaster and writer; Red Smith, a nationally syndicated sports columnist; Red Schoendienst, well known second casker for the St. Louis Cardinals and now for the Milwaukee Braves.

Now comes a new 'Red' into the field of sports. Here, folks, is the beginning of the sportswriting career of a fellow you all know—Alan 'Red' Walker.

[EDITOR'S NOTE]

There has been a new regime installed at Boone High in the football staff. The new mentors are head coach Merle Harris and line coach Larry Parr.

The two new coaches were greeted by 29 prospects, including five returning lettermen. The lettermen are backs 'Chuck' McGriff, Denny Ferry, and top defensive back Steve Shaler. Heading the core of the line are tackle Gary McVicker and all-conference honorable mention winners center Larry Ford and end Brian Knezevich.

During the football season I'll try to pick who I think are the top offensive and defensive players of every game.

Offensively speaking for the 14-13 defeat the Toreadors suffered at the hands of the Fort Dodge 11, left half Bill Monen turned in what I think is an A-1 job of broken field running. I will hand out this week's burlap wall plaque to Bill especially for the fine 65-yard run to the goal line in the first period of play.

The canvas medal for outstanding defensive play goes to rookie end Keith Ablett, who cut down the Fort Dodge attempts on off tackle slants from his right end slot.

In the Oskaloosa tilt, top offensive honors go to the right arm of senior quarterback Alan Munson, who threw his second touchdown pass in as many games, both on screen passes to Bill Monen.

In the defensive line we find it tough to decide between Larry Ford and defensive signal caller Charlie McGriff.

A young surgeon received a telephone call from a colleague who invited him to make a fourth at bridge.

"Do you have to go out, dear?" his wife asked suspiciously.

"I'm afraid so," was the brave reply. "It's a very important case. There are three doctors there already."

Toreadors Fall to Indians in Conference Opener

Quarterback 'Bud' Munson picked off an Oskaloosa pass on the Indians' second play from scrimmage, beginning the drive for the lone Toreador score, as they fell prey to the Oskaloosa Indians, 20-7.

The score came on a 17-yard screen pass from Munson to halfback Bill Monen. Denny Ferry booted the conversion.

The lion's share of the yardage on the drive came on Munson's belly series keepers.

The Boone gridders took the opening kickoff, gained nothing on two plays, but McGriff's quick kick set the Indians back to the Toreador 47. Two plays later came Munson's interception.

Oskey scored twice in the second quarter, in the opening minutes on halfback Steve Lewis' left end skirt. Conversion attempt was good.

Oskaloosa recovered a fumbled Boone pitchout on the Boone 32 and marched for their second TD of the contest, the drive ending as Lewis broke into paydirt once more, this time slashing across tackle. Monen deflected the try for point attempt.

The final Oskey score came on a 38-yard run around his own left end by fullback Larry White. The conversion was good, and the scoreboard showed the final total, 20-7.

Grinnell Score Final?

The final decision as to whether the Boone-Grinnell football game will be replayed was not announced at the time the Bumble 'B' went to press.

With the score standing 7-13 with 1:30 left to go in the third period of play, Bill Monen picked up a Grinnell fumble on his own one-yard line and streaked 99 yards to paydirt.

Official Wayne Coolie ruled the touchdown did not count on the grounds that the rules do not allow a defensive team to pick up a fumble and run.

However, Coolie later announced that this decision was not correct. The final decision now rests in the hands of the Iowa High School Athletic Association.

Girl of the Week

The girl of the week is 14-year-old Joyce Madden, who is in the ninth grade. She stands about five feet three inches tall, and has brown hair and blue eyes.

Joyce is taking English, civics, homemaking, and algebra this year. Outside of school she is president of the ninth grade Y-teens and is secretary of her 4-H club.

When asked what her favorite foods were, she replied, "I like almost everything, especially hot fudge sundaes and fried chicken."

Three Janitors Join Staff

Three names have been added to the list of Boone High custodians. The new head custodian is Ed Rachels, who lives at 101 Story Street with his wife and two children, Terry and Ronda. He formerly worked at Perry High School as superintendent of building and grounds. For relaxation he enjoys fishing and swimming.

Another new custodian is Arthur Kemmerer, who lives at 1604 Third Street with his wife and two children, Leila and Jon. He previously worked for the Chicago and North Western Railroad. He enjoys his work, and for relaxation hunts and fishes.

Last but not least is Larry Reed, who lives at 1119 Garst Avenue with his wife and son, Mearl Herman. He graduated from Woodward High School and, after spending two years in the infantry, took up farming. He is now the night custodian. His hobbies are collecting pencils, hunting, and fishing.

JUNIOR HIVE

New Faces Seen in Junior High

We welcome the new eighth and ninth grade students and, of course, those in the seventh grade, who are all new to Boone Junior High.

New eighth grade boys are: Robert Lebo, Theodore Craven, Douglas Crouse, Garrett Tracy, Frank Marrs, and Franklin Tilley.

New Girls

New eighth grade girls are: Dianne Lynn Marilyn Pestotnik, Janice Eytcheson, and Kathleen Dahlgren.

Marilyn and Kathleen transferred from Sacred Heart; Dianne is from Pekin, Illinois.

Lavina Duncan and Susan Rush are new ninth grade girls. Lavina is from Fraser, and Susan is from Stanhope.

Question of the Week

What would you say if someone would say, "Laeser du boger," to you? Here is what some students would say:

Joyce Ward: "Why don't you speak English?"

Kyle Dahl: "Go drown."

Mary Clark: "Oh, good heavens!"

Eddie Thrap: "Yep."

Beverly Beckett: "Same to you."

Bob Ingersoll: "You're nuts."

Dixie Elsberry: "Nope—don't want any."

Dave Harrington: "Me too."

William Hunder: "I agree."

Susan Harris: "You're nuts."

In case you don't know, "Laeser du boger" means, "Do you read books?" in Danish.

Boys Report for Football

Stumbo Is Student Congress President

Jim, his opponent Sue Caldwell, and their campaign managers, Mary Gilchrist and Bob Herman, made campaign speeches Wednesday, September 17th, in an assembly.

The election was held Thursday in homerooms.

Top Five in the Hive

Attention all you busy bees! Here are the top five tunes in the hive this week:

1. "Rockin' Robin."
2. "It's all in the Game."
3. "Tears On My Pillow"
4. "Over and Over."
5. "Devoted to You."

Students at 3:17—a bunch of eager leavers.
