Cheerleaders Chosen

Cheerleading tryouts for senior high were held on April 23. Each of the 13 candidates was required to perform two cheers. Her abilities then were judged by a committee of eight.

Those on the judging committee were: Mrs. Taylor, Miss Hall, Mr. Carroll, Mr. Stutzman, Lynn Anderson, Linda Berglund, Carol Peterson, and Jerry Raettig.

The winning contestants who will be seen leading cheers are: Janet Smith, Mary Jo McLeod, Pam Parrish, Mary Shaler, Helen Sinn, Linda Lainson, Janna Weston, and Melinda Moffitt.

The Rev. La Rue Jensen was the speaker at the monthly Character Education Assembly, held May 5, during the second period. He was introduced in junior high by James Stumbo, and in senior high by Alan Munson.

A Scroll party is again being held this year for the students to have an opportunity to get autographs and a sneak preview of this year's edition. It will be held May 20, 7:30 p.m.

Visit New Hospital, Special School

On April 29 the Future Nurses of Boone High were the guests of the Mercy Hospital in Des Moines.

The Future Nurses, along with the Future Teachers Club, left the high school at 12:30 p.m. on a chartered Greyhound bus, which was furnished by a local organization because of the girls' help in the Easter Seal drive.

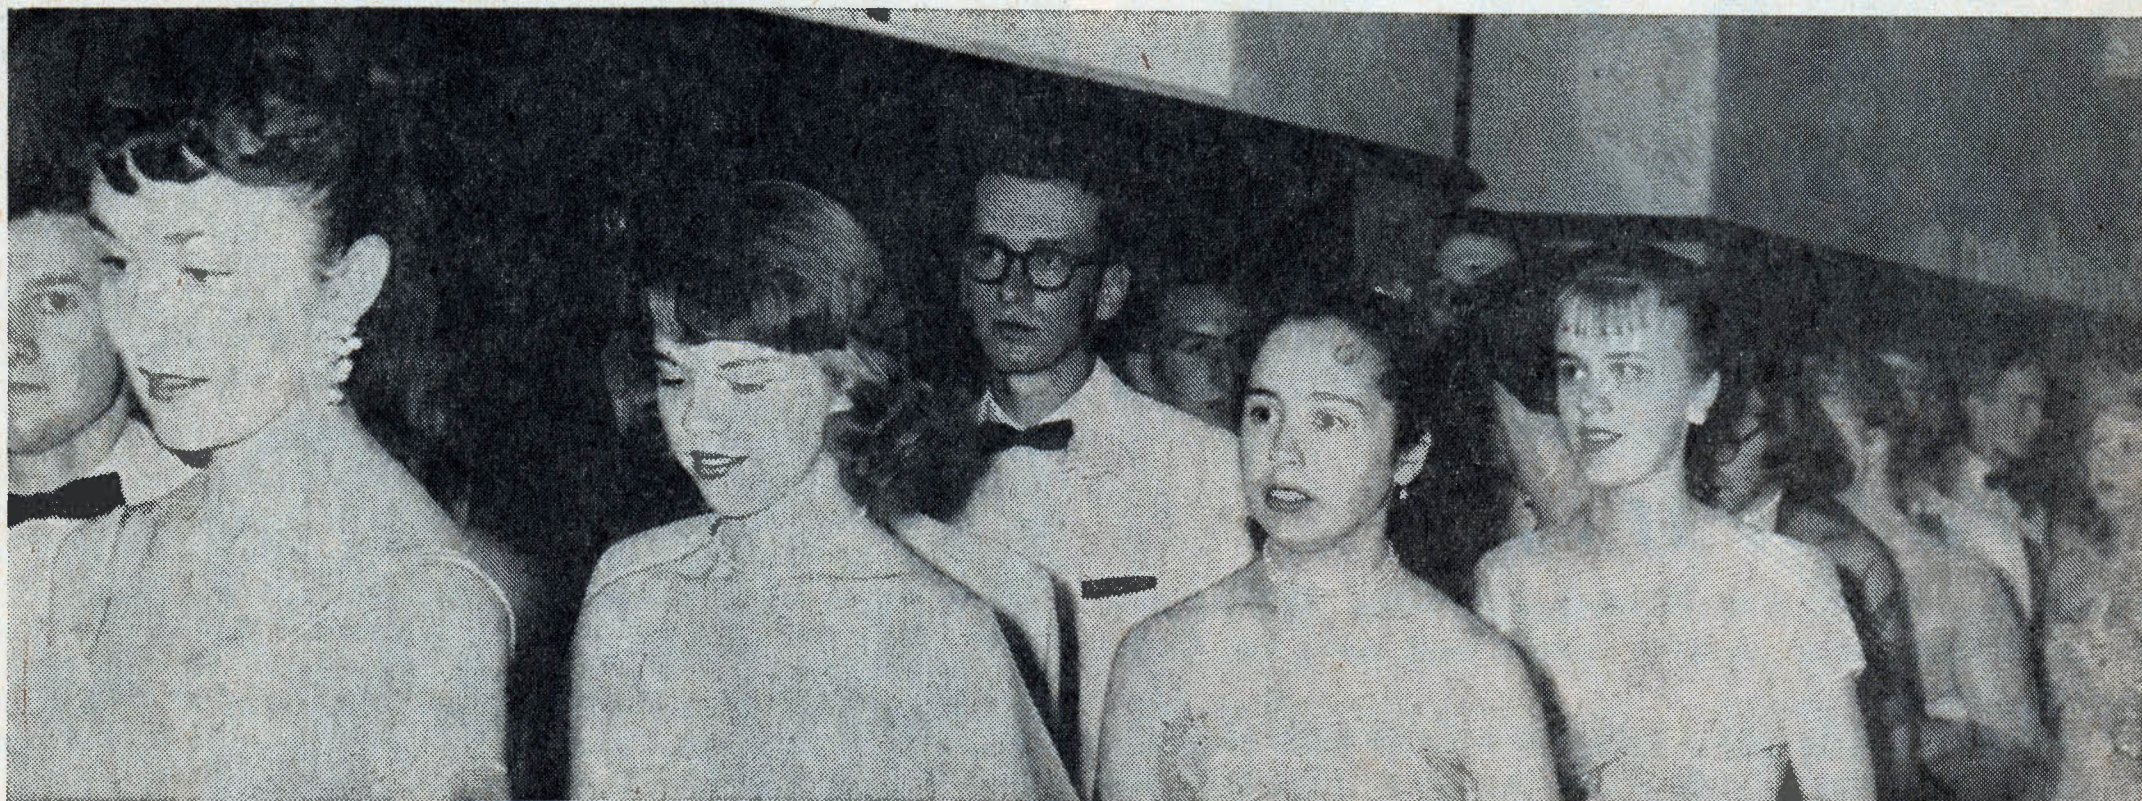

Upon arrival at the hospital, they were greeted by a registered nurse, who showed them around the entire new part, which covers five floors and includes the latest and newest equipment.

In each of the rooms are two-way telephone systems, which cut walking time in half. Also, there are two floors of rooms which take care of the pediatric department, not to mention the numerous modern conveniences in them.

The surgical floor included such things as 10 operating rooms, each having a place for a television camera to televise operations, which in turn are watched by the student nurses in the auditorium in their dormitory. This helps in several ways because it gives the doctors and interns more room in which to work, and at the same time gives each student a better look at what is going on.

The other two floors include the laboratory rooms and the cafeteria and snack bar.

'Music Man' Theme of Junior-Senior Prom

Boone Alumni Complete College

GRINNELL, IOWA.—Two 1955 graduates of Boone Senior High School expect to complete the requirements for graduation at Grinnell College in June. Dennis K. Collis, son of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth O. Collis, of 222 Story Street, and David J. Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Fisher, of 833 South Story Street, will be candidates for the bachelor of arts degree at Commencement exercises June 7.

Collis is majoring in biology and has taken several courses in chemistry. He has been the recipient of a Fred A. Little Scholarship for four years. This fall he plans to enter Washington University Medical School in St. Louis.

Fisher is majoring in economics and business and has done considerable work in political science and literature. This fall he plans to enter law school.

While at Grinnell, he has served as treasurer on the house council of his residence hall and has been a member of the Y.M.C.A. He has also played varsity basketball.

Law Day in Boone

Seniors from County Attend

Law Day, which was held May 4 at the Boone County Court House, was attended by 300 seniors from Boone County. The schools which participated were: Boone, Sacred Heart of Boone, Grand Community, Ogden, and Madrid.

The court began at 9:30 a.m., and several of the lawyers of Boone participated. The three of them involved with the fictionalized case were Richard Jordan, Ted Doran, and Al Doran.

The case was that of an O.M.V.I., and the person involved was again fiction; he was Stanley R. Simpson. It was explained how and why he was convicted, and then the court proceeded.

A jury of 16 seniors was selected and narrowed down to 12. Those from Boone High were: Sharyn Thompson, Alan Munson, Emily Grabau, Dave Otto, Lynn Anderson, Denny Ferry, and Jerry Bechtel.

District Judge for the day's case was Mr. Kelly of Ames.

The first witness to be called to the stand was Boone County's sheriff, Steve Beaulieu. The 'Dr.' Robert E. Mahoney was next, followed by Standley R. Simpson, and finally Miss Marilyn Stocking.

Court was dismissed at 12:30 for lunch, and resumed at 1:45 p.m. The verdict was announced "not guilty," and thus ended a day in court.

Martha Raye was playing at a Catskill resort one summer and heard a woman shouting to her son, who was recklessly climbing a tree.

"Joey, come down, do you hear? Come down or you'll break your legs. Joey, Mamma's telling you! All right, Joey, but when you fall and break both your legs, don't come running to me."

ATTENTION LES ELEVES (Attention Students)

Boone High French Club members held their banquet Tuesday, May 5, at 6:00 p.m., in the Boone High cafeteria.

Carol Pieper, president of the Boone club, welcomed the students and their guests, five members of the Jordan club. A play, 'Leave It to Susanne,' was presented by the Boone members, followed by movies of Tahiti.

Pictures of France decorated the walls, and on the tables were storybook dolls dressed in French costumes.

The annual Junior-Senior Prom of Boone High was held at the Boone High School last Friday night.

Beginning the 12-hour festivities, the junior and senior Boone High students assembled at the school cafeteria at 6:00 p.m. for a three-course banquet.

The 230 students attending sat at tables decorated with white table cloths and individual centerpieces of white music staves covered with silver glitter, representing a tune marked by purple notes. Tiny pipe cleaner figures dressed in lavender and white garments holding trombones surrounded the staves, contributing to the 'Music Man' theme.

Program

After the dinner, Darrell Richards, acting as Master of Ceremonies, introduced the Harmonettes (Lonette Alber, Judy Stotts, Barbara Murken, Mary Goodwin, Sue Moore, and Lynn Clark, accompanied by Joyce Utterback) who sang 'True Love' and 'Bewitched.'

They were followed by Keith Ablett, junior class president, and Denny Ferry, senior class president, who welcomed the group.

A return appearance was then made by the Harmonettes, this time singing 'An Affair to Remember.' This first phase of the four-event evening concluded about 7:30 p.m., giving the students a chance to change clothes for the dance which followed, and to pick up their outside guests.

Prom

Eighty-three marked the beginning of the Grand March, led by Keith Ablett and his date, Linda Boyd, in the canopy-covered gymnasium, decorated to emphasize the 'Music Man' theme even more completely.

Cookery the Latest Homemaking Project

The junior-senior homemaking classes have been having teas, buffets, outdoor barbecues, and foreign dinners. The girls have planned their own menus, made their own decorations, and sent invitations and acceptances.

Italian and Hawaiian meals were featured. The Hawaiian party was most elaborate. Girls sat on the floor in the authentic native tradition. Hostesses were costumed in native fashion, and the decorations were from Hawaii.

Another class featured food from China, Mexico, France, and Italy.

In sorrow he learned this truth—One may return to the place of his birth, He cannot go back to his youth.—John Burroughs.

Streamers of purple, lavender, and white covered the gym walls and hung in a draped fashion over the platform, which held Ralph Zarnow and his orchestra, who furnished the music for the dance.

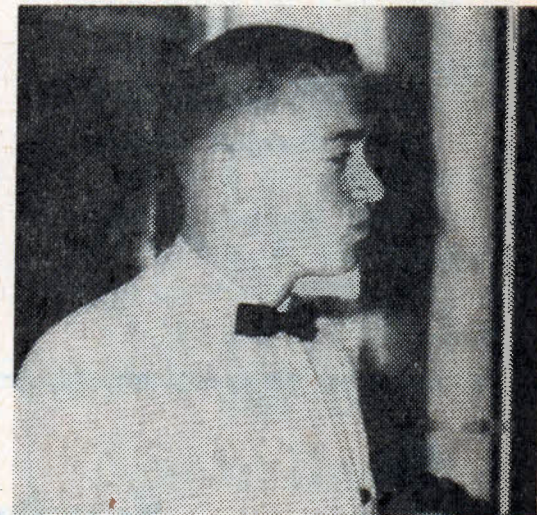

A small foot bridge built by the shop class was placed in the center of the gymnasium, with life sized characters of the theme standing at both ends. A revolving mirror-covered ball hung from the ceiling, reflecting different hues of the rainbow over the dancing couples.

Zarnow and his men continued playing until about midnight, when the couples left for a new movie, provided for by the Kiwanis Club.

This year a light-hearted comedy about a teen-age romance, entitled 'Gidget,' was presented. The theater resembled a movie premier, complete with spotlights, recorded music, and a white carpet, over which the attending couples entered the show.

The final phase of the evening was located in the Elks Club rooms, where more dancing was provided for by Jimmy 'Ding Ding' Van and his combo, and was temporarily interrupted by a smorgasbord furnished by the Kiwanis Club and a floor show consisting of a singer and comedy-musician act. Afterward dancing continued until 5:30 a.m. During the Ki Hi Kapper party at the Elks Club, Ron Rosen-green and Sharon Garvey were crowned King and Queen. They were chosen from a field of 10 candidates, consisting of Kathy Disney, Emily Grabau, Susan Peterson, Jerry Raettig, Tim Croxen, Steve Shaler, Alan Munson, and 'Chuck' McGriff.

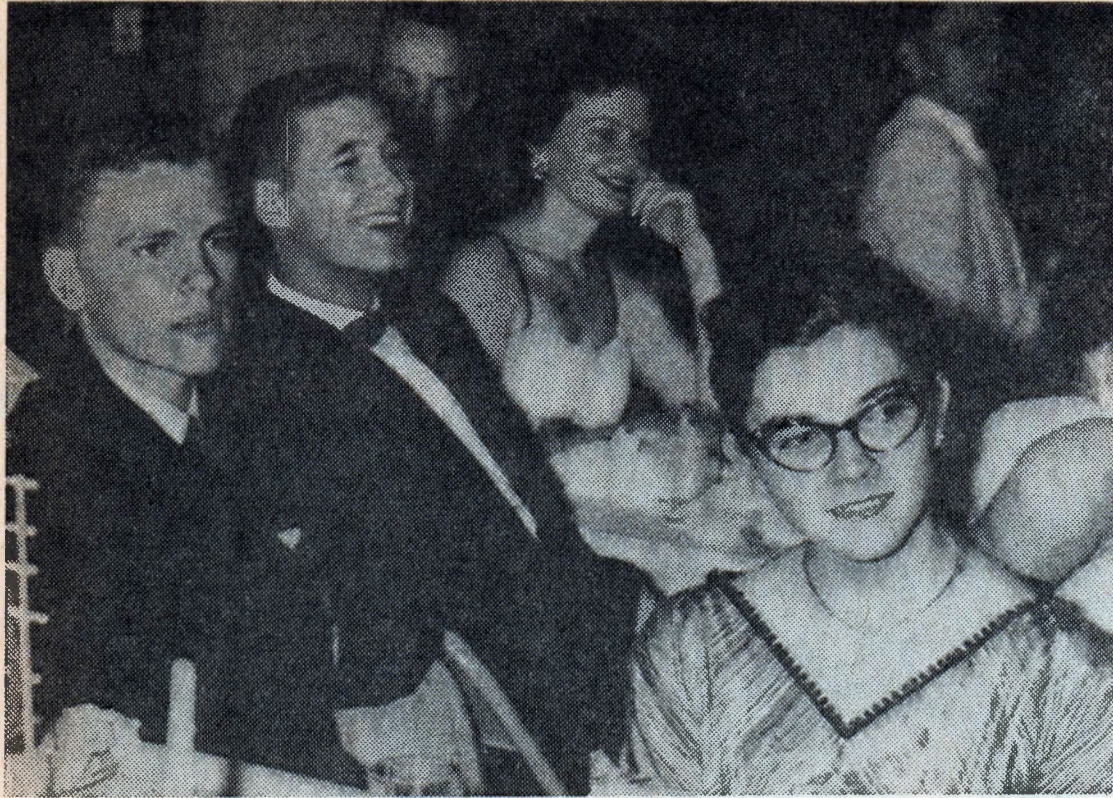

It is said that all good things must come to an end. So with this thought in mind, the students left the all-night occasion to return to their homes.

Darrell Richards, a junior, was master of ceremonies at the Prom banquet.

The Bumble 'B' staff wishes to thank Miss Osborne, her committees, and the Kiwanis Club for making the Prom so enjoyable for the students of Boone High and their guests.

GOOD LUCK, SENIORS!

As We See It . . .

Someone is always trying to label everything. Bottles get labels—so do flour sacks, gasoline pumps, soup cans, and then, too, generations.

They always want to put a label on a generation of high school and college students. The one that they first tried to slap on us was the 'beat generation.' It didn't stick. Why? Well, for one thing the beatniks followed one pattern too much. And for another thing they did too much thinking, didn't go to dances, and didn't try to fit into the usual pattern of American life.

And so another name came along. It's right, you just can't fight it. We're just the 'generation without a cause.' No one seems quite sure what life is all about, but there's plenty to keep you busy, and keep your mind off these questions. There's enough so you just go along with what's the current trend, or what your folks say. Don't bother to fight it. It'll be all right. There's nothing you can do, anyhow.

Just live, and have a good time, with that big WHY staring you in the face. Don't look at it. Ignore it. If you once found out and tried to tell anybody else, they might label you as a fanatic.

It's much 'better' to be a good Joe.

Scroll Endorses New Plan for Next Year

This year seven new ideas are being put into effect by the Scroll staff for the 1960 year book.

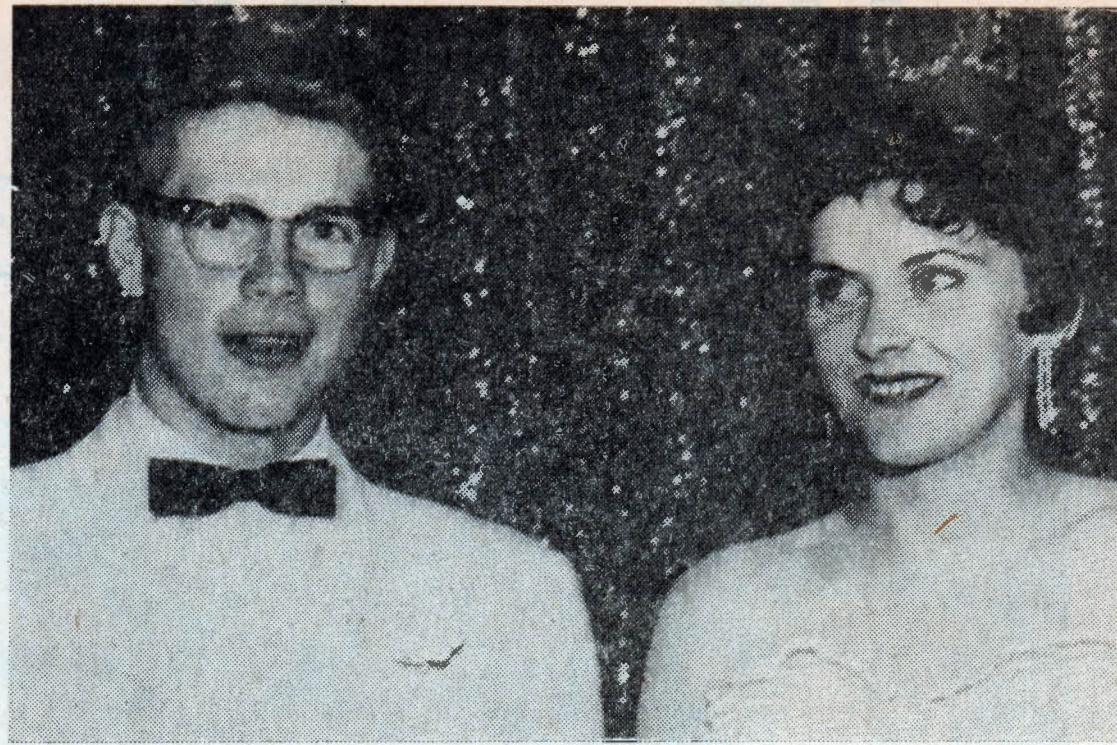

Below are stated these new ideas:

1. There will be colored signature sheets at the beginning and end of the annual.
2. Scenic photography will be used throughout the book.
3. A special section will be inserted to honor outstanding students.
4. Four sophomore students will serve their apprenticeship in tenth grade.
5. The junior high staff will be made up of eighth grade students.
6. To improve the quality of the annual there will be a slight increase in price.
7. Most of the advertising will be sold this summer instead of next fall.

Already, the Scroll staff, under the direction of next year's editor, Marilyn Smith, has started to put these new ideas into effect, and Marilyn has stated that she believes these ideas will make a better book for the student body.

THE WELIN CHAPEL

714 Arden St. Telephone: 44

Early Saturday morning Ki Hi Kapper king and queen, Ron Rosengreen and Sharon Garvey, were chosen by a large group of Boone High students and their dates who attended the annual Prom.

Sharon, a cute, brown-eyed senior, is five feet seven and has brown hair. She was born January 1, 1940, in Minnesota, and now lives at 1623 Carroll Street with her parents and two sisters and a brother. In her spare time Sharon likes to write letters. Her favorites are: color, red; food, spaghetti and meat balls. When asked how she felt about being crowned queen she replied, "I was really surprised. I didn't realize what had happened."

[Courtesy The Boone News-Republican]

Ron, also a good-looking Boone High senior, was very much surprised at becoming king. He is five feet 11 inches and has brown hair and blue eyes. Ron was born on February 24, 1951, in the Boone County Hospital and has lived on a farm east of Boone all of his life. His family consists of two sisters and his parents.

His favorite color is blue; pastime, hunting and fishing; and food, ice cream.

When asked what part of the entire evening he liked best he answered, "The entertainment, of course."

Prom goes awaiting movie

The Way It Was in '49

by Beverly Ross

By the time this article is read, all the anticipation and excitement of the Prom will be an event of the past. But ten years ago the seniors would be still looking forward to it. Their Prom wasn't till May 20.

This issue of the 1949 Bumble 'B' surely is interesting. It says seniors will graduate on May 31. On 'skip day' they are going to Des Moines. On student government day it was suggested a youth center be started.

Here are some of the 1949 seniors' plans after graduation: slave away for the juice line, plan to raise pigs, and find a blacksmith job. (?)

Well, seniors, what will the lower classmen read about you in another ten years?

The Boone netmen met Marshalltown on the Bobcats' home court and came out on the little end of the horn, 7-0, in match scores.

Carroll Clabaugh, playing in the number one slot, fell in straight sets, 6-0 and 6-1.

Don Josephson lost 6-4 and 6-1. Number three man, Basil Hicks, also fell in straight sets.

Kent Smith was defeated 6-2 and 6-1.

Jim Pritchard lost in straight sets.

In doubles, Hicks and Josephson, Smith and Clabaugh fell by straight sets.

Outstanding performance by the entire team gave the Toreador netmen a victory over Ames, 5-2, April 30. Winning this meet gave the tennis team a 2-2 won-lost record.

Singles results:
Toreador Don Josephson fell to Moke Wolf, 6-3; 6-1.

Carroll Clabaugh defeated Mark Anderson, 6-0; 6-3.

Basil Hicks won his sets, 4-6; 6-3; 6-0.

Kent Smith topped his opponent, 4-6; 6-0.

Jim Pritchard lost by 6-1; 4-6; 6-3.

In doubles competition: Clabaugh and Josephson, Smith and Hicks were victorious.

Meeting Marshalltown here for the second time this season, April 23, the Toreador hardcourtiers fell 7-0. Even though Boone did not win, several team members showed improvement, in both singles and doubles.

Playing their second meet of the season the Toreador netmen evened out their record, 1-1, in a 4-3 victory over Webster City, April 21.

In singles:
Don Josephson defeated his opponent by 6-1, 6-4 for Boone.

Toreador Carroll Clabaugh won 6-3, 6-0.

Kent Smith of the Red and Green triumphed 6-3, 6-4.

In doubles:
Josephson and Clabaugh were victorious with scores of 6-2, 6-1.

Webster City gained two singles victories over Basil Hicks and Carl Saubert, and a doubles victory over the Toreador team of Kent Smith and Basil Hicks.

This was Webster City's second loss, after having been whipped by Fort Dodge.

Shown above is Gary McCool running his section of the 440-yard relay in which Boone placed first in the Toreador Relays.

Gustafson Is Fifth in Football Throw at Drake Relays

Jon Gustafson was Boone's only athlete to place in the 50th annual Drake Relays at Des Moines, April 25. Gustafson heaved the football 188 feet 4½ inches.

The 880 relay squad placed first in their heat but failed to qualify for the finals. The 440 and the mile relay squads each had their fastest times of the year, with 46.3 and 3:43.4 respectively.

I.H.S.A.A. Assigns Tennis, Golf Districts

The I.H.S.A.A. has completed assignments of tennis districts for district tennis competition to be held on May 9.

Boone was put in the Ames district with Ames, Marshalltown, East Des Moines, Grundy Center, and Urbandale.

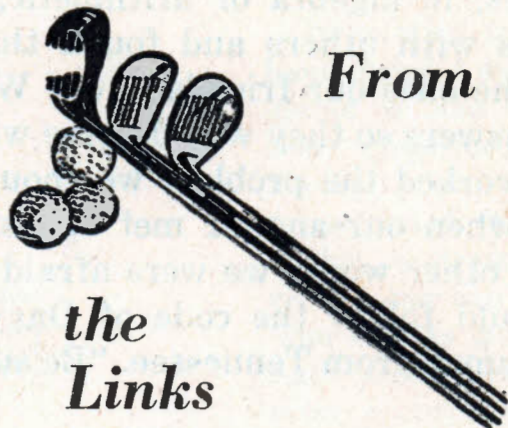

Singles and doubles teams winning in each district will compete in the state meet at Grinnell on May 23.

In setting up areas for the District Golf Meets, the I.H.S.A.A. chose Boone as head of this district in Class A competition.

Other schools in this district are Dowling, North, and Roosevelt of Des Moines; Ames; Fort Dodge; Webster City; West Des Moines.

From the district meet, May 9, the winning and runner-up teams, and the medalist and runner-up medalist will go to State meet. State meet will be held May 23 on the S.U.I. course.

the Links

Six strokes of luck aided the Toreador golfers to win over Marshalltown in their third meet, 168-169, April 23.

Two of these strokes came when a Marshalltown golfer played his putt from the wrong spot on the sixth hole. Four others came on hole nine when Pat Trowbridge of the Bobcats hit his ball in the pond and then out of bounds. Even with this bad luck the Bobcat linksmen put up a bit of a fight.

With his four-point penalty Pat Trowbridge finished low scorer for Marshalltown along with Jim Hildebrand, also of the Bobcats, both with scores of 40.

Heading Boone's squad, and medalist for the match, was Brian Knezevich, who finished with 38—two over par. To do this he got an eagle on par four No. 3 hole. He reached this hole in two shots to score his eagle.

Winning their fourth victory out of six, the Boone linksmen toppled Ames, 157-171, April 30.

This 157 is the best score tallied so far by the Cliftonites.

Medalist for the meet was Toreador Jim Moore with a one over par 37. Other scorers for Boone were Brian Knezevich and 'Chuck' McGriff with 39 apiece, and Larry Pearson and Alan Munson with 42 apiece.

In reserve competition the Toreadors suffered a 177-212 defeat.

Winning their third dual meet in five, the Boone golfers passed Carroll in an 18-hole bout, 354-365, April 28.

Toreador Brian Knezevich was medalist with an 85—15 over par.

Common Sense...

Are we afraid to be different? That is an important question. What's the answer? I'm afraid the answer is yes.

How many times, in algebra or arithmetic, have we compared our answers with others and found that our answers don't agree with the ones our friends have? What did we do? We changed our answers so they would agree with our friends'.

When we first worked the problem we thought the answer was correct. But when our answer met opposition, we didn't stand up for it. In other words we were afraid to be different.

More of us should follow the code of Davy Crockett, the legendary frontiersman from Tennessee. "Be sure you're right, then go ahead."

This lesson has three points, which are: (1) Listen to all sides of the issue. (2) Make a sensible decision. (3) After making the decision, stand up for it.

Y-teens Make Final Plans

Seventh

The seventh grade Y-teens have been painting a variety of wooden articles such as boxes and dishes, as their handicraft project. They are planning a party before school is out.

Eighth

The eighth grade Y-teens have visited the telephone office and library museum. They are planning other field trips. The girls have helped the ninth grade with the cancer drive.

Ninth

On April 22 the ninth grade Y-teens went calling on homes for the annual cancer drive. The girls divided into groups. Three of the groups collected in homes near the Y.W.C.A. Gifts for a girl in Woodward have also been collected as a service project.

What They're Doing

Mrs. Henry—Eighth English.

This class is having speech this nine weeks. Among the speeches that are assigned them are an anecdote, a sales talk, and a panel discussion, all of which are leading up to a five-minute talk.

Mrs. Morris—Eighth Grade.

Mrs. Morris' history class is studying World War I at present. They have just finished the Civil War and have made a map entitled 'Battles of the Civil War, 1961-1865,' which has the dates of important battles.

Mr. Highbarger—Math.

Mr. Highbarger's seventh grade arithmetic class is studying graphs. His eighth grade arithmetic class is starting its first algebra problems.

His ninth grade algebra class is factoring equations.

Mr. Sapp—Ninth Grade Civics.

Mr. Sapp's class is studying money matters and banking. They have just finished studying labor and labor laws and problems.

Miss Thompson—Seventh Grade.

Miss Thompson's arithmetic class is studying graphs mainly, and also scale measurements. They have made many pictures of the different kinds of graphs and a scale drawing of a house.

SPORTS BRIEF

BOOK

SHOP

by Bob Bush and Dennis Askvig

Boy on Defense and Scrubs on Skates by Scott Young are two exciting stories about hockey players. In both stories the main characters are Pete Gordon, the star center, and Bill Spunaska, a boy playing hockey for his first year.

Scrubs on Skates tells how Pete Gordon reacts when the school districts are moved and he must go to the Northwest instead of Daniel Mac. Although his play suffers at first, he soon proves quite valuable. It also tells of how Bill Spunaska becomes part of the team.

Boy on Defense tells of how Bill becomes the star of the team but must work on Saturdays to help his father out.

These stories are very exciting, and anyone who likes sports stories will surely like these two.

Familiar Phrases

Mr. Sanders: "I did not!"
Miss Thornburgh: "Not one iota."
Miss Heaps: "You see?"
Mr. Sapp: "Get down in the trenches."
Miss Quinn: "Hurry up, you guys."
Miss Behrens: "People, the bell has rung!"
Mr. Hokanson: "Hustle! Die when you're older."
Mrs. Markwalder: "Very good, very good."
Mrs. Brunner: "Use your hands more than your mouth."
Mr. Highbarger: "Slow down, slow down."

The Junior High Scroll staff wishes to congratulate Mr. Sanders' homeroom for winning the Scroll selling contest in junior high. Also, congratulations to Ed Myers, a ninth grade student, who won the free Scroll.

FROSH FAVORITES

This 15-year-old, five-foot six-inch, blue-eyed blonde is one of the 'Frosh Favorites' this week. Pat Jule resides at 1220 Crawford Street.

Her favorite foods include hamburgers, French fries, and Pepsi.

Science is Pat's favorite subject. In her spare time she likes to bowl, sew, and listen to popular music.

Regarding popular music, 'Dream Lover' is her favorite song, and Fabian is her favorite singer.

The 14-year-old, five-foot, seven-inch, blue-eyed boy pictured above is Ron Grabau, the other 'Frosh Favorite' this week. He lives on Rural Route 3.

Ron's favorite foods include hamburgers, malts, and pizza.

English rates as Ron's favorite subject. Outside of school, he likes to ride horses, play the organ, and work on his father's farm.

Connie Francis is Ron's favorite singer, and the song, 'Three Stars,' is tops on his list.

Junior High Choruses Present 'Band Wagon'

Wednesday evening, April 15, the junior high seventh, eighth, and ninth grade students presented a program of music to an audience of approximately 700.

To begin the program, the seventh grade mixed chorus sang. Following their performance, the ninth and eighth grades presented 'The Band Wagon,' a musical comedy.

The cast was composed of ninth grade students, and the chorus was composed of pupils from the eighth and ninth grades.
