

B.H.S. Band to March at Veishea and at Pella

Committee Chooses Cheerleaders

Cheerleaders for the coming 1960-1961 school year were chosen Thursday, April 28. Those selected were Mary Shaler, Pam Parrish, Janna Weston, Helen Sinn, Melinda Moffitt, Linda Lainson, Mary Lea Cleaveland, and Pam Gustafson.

There were 14 applicants from which three juniors, three sophomores, and two seniors were picked.

The candidates were graded on pep and enthusiasm, ability and techniques, leadership ability, general personality, and citizenship or the ability to represent us away from home. A score ranging from 1 to 10 was recorded in each division and the total of all the divisions was used as the basis for the selection.

All of the candidates were required to do two cheers—"Give Me a B" and "Go Toreadors" individually, and one group cheer, "Boone High Fight."

Previous to the tryouts all interested girls met with Mr. Riemen-schneider. They were given several rules which every cheerleader must adhere to. Those who thought they could not obey these rules were asked to dismiss themselves from tryouts.

Seniors Like Lavender

A committee consisting of Janet Smith, Marilyn Smith, and Keith Ablett nominated the colors of lavender and French lilac with the flowers, a lavender rose or lavender mum, and the colors of pink and rose with either a red or pink rose. The lavender color combination with a lavender rose was selected by the senior class for their class color and flower.

I often pause and wonder
At Fate's peculiar ways,
For nearly all our famous men
Were born on holidays.

Legion Selects Representatives to Boys' State and Girls' State

Two boys, Tim Pepper and Mike Ahlstrom, and one girl, Judirae Hendricks, were chosen by The American Legion to represent Boone at Boys' and Girls' State, respectively.

Boys' State will be held at Camp Dodge near Des Moines in the late part of June. Judirae will attend Girls' State at Iowa State Teachers College in Cedar Falls.

Local Hospital Sponsors Career Contest

Juniors in Boone High School are invited to compete with junior students in 123 other high schools in a 16-county area for cash prizes and Junior Internships in the third annual Hospital Careers Contest sponsored by Iowa Methodist Hospital and Raymond Blank Hospital Guild in Des Moines.

All contestants and their parents will be invited to a program and free luncheon at Iowa Methodist Hospital on Career Day, Saturday morning, May 14, according to Donald W. Cordes, Hospital Administrator and Mrs. Vern Schroeder, President of Raymond Blank Hospital Guild. Contestants are asked to write essays on their favorite hospital vocations.

There will be two $500 first prizes—one for a boy contestant and one for a girl contestant. One second prize, $25, and one third prize, $15, will be awarded to boy or girl winners. All four winners will be entitled to Junior Internships—three day, all expense paid visits—at Iowa Methodist Hospital in departments of their choice.

The Career Contest is being conducted in connection with National Hospital Week, May 8-14.

Come and Get It

The annual Latin banquet will be held Tuesday, May 10, at 5:30 in the Boone High School cafeteria.

Both sophomores and freshmen class members will wear costumes of Roman flavor and the decorations will emphasize Roman styles. Jupiter and Juno will be crowned at the beginning of the banquet.

Committees are, menu: Barbara Goepfinger, Maureen Grabau; decorations: Jan Thatcher, Cindy Moore, Melinda Moffitt, Sandra Weber; entertainment: Judy Muench, Jim Stumbo, Linda Lainson.

Pictured above are several members of the cast of 'H.M.S. Pinafore' presented by the music department on April 27.

Poem Wins National Honor

"The Eternal Question," a poem submitted by Jan Thatcher, has been accepted for publication in the annual Anthology of High School Poetry. The announcement was made by the National High School Poetry Association. Jan's poem is reprinted below:

The Eternal Question

What is love? ...
Does anyone know?
Is love as pure
As fresh as fallen snow?

Or should it be passion,
With flaming desire? ...
Should not love be tender
Mixed with care hour by hour?

Can not love dwell within?
Is love always on the go?
What is love? ...
Does anyone know?

400 People Visit Annual Art Show

An estimated 400 people visited the Art Show held in the Boone High School gymnasium Sunday afternoon, April 24.

On the balcony of the gym were exhibits of junior high work, while the gym floor contained only senior high exhibits. Various medias, including watercolor, pencil sketching, tempera, and chalk drawings were on display.

In the art room, several students demonstrated other art activities. Cherlyn Henderson and Sharon Williams alternately demonstrated portrait and figure drawing. Silk screening was shown to guests and explained by Rachel Lansing and Margaret Haleen. Lois Howard and Leslie Schroeder pointed out the various phases of ceramic sculpture. Other students demonstrated linoleum black printing and showed mural possibilities.

Miss Grace Osborne and Mrs. Frazier are in charge of the art department.

FLASH!

Get out your summer Bermudas and plan to give them a full day's use the last day of school, May 31.

On that day students will be permitted to wear Bermudas but no treader pants, shorts, or slacks. This is not to encourage students to buy Bermudas or shorts, but to give those who have them an opportunity to wear them.

"I need a job, Senator," said the man from his home state.

The Senator thought for a moment. "Well, I'll tell you," he said. "There aren't any jobs, but here's what I'll do: I'll get up a committee to investigate why there are no jobs and you can be the head of that."

Journalism Students Win Honors

Kenny Shafer, a senior photographer for the Scroll and Bumble 'B,' has been named to the All-State journalists who will be honored at Iowa State University and will help to publish the Veishea edition of the Iowa State Daily on May 6.

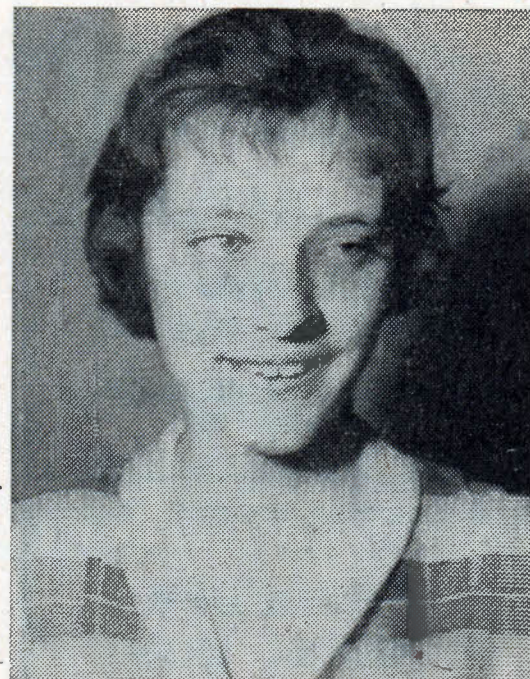

Kenny won second place in the photography division of the fall state-wide contest sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, National honorary journalism fraternity of Iowa State University.

Lynne Hohenshell received an honorable mention in the spring contest for news story writing. An honorable mention was given to Nancy Westfall for editorial writing. Nancy also received honorable mention for editorial writing in last year's spring contest and this year's fall contest.

Council Completes Activities

During the week beginning April 15-22 the Student Council members participated in a candy drive to raise funds for various activities they will sponsor next year. The members set their goal at $125 and finished their campaign with $143 profit. Of the 900 cartons sold, the faculty purchased 120, the students 160, and people of the business district 620 cartons.

New Student Council representatives will be chosen in the grades nine, ten, and eleven during the week of May 16 for the coming year. This week will also include the election of the Student Council president for next year. The other officers of Student Council will be elected in the fall.

Shown above is Karen McAlpine, named Flower Queen of 1960 by a committee of 15 Boone County school students. These students were selected in March to vote and to name a Flower Queen. Karen will reign at the Boone County Fair this summer and may represent Boone County at various other summertime activities.

The Boone High School Marching Band has been invited to march in the annual Veishea parade on Saturday, May 7, and in Pella's 'Volk's Parade' on Friday, May 13.

The theme for this year's Veishea parade is 'Fairy Tale and Fiction' and will be carried out by the band as they play 'Bibbidi-Bobbidi-Boo.' Each year 25 bands are invited to attend the parade, but the same band is never invited two years in succession. This is the second time in three years that the Boone band has marched in the Veishea parade.

This year is the 25th 'Tulip Time' festival in Pella and the second time in two years that Boone has participated. The festival is held three days, May 13-15. Five bands are invited each day and three final winners are chosen from these on outstanding appearance, precision, and musical ability. The following qualities are considered in judging:

1. Marching and carriage of players 30%
2. Music (intonation and quality) 50%
3. Originality (fancy steps, music, etc.) 20%

Last year Boone, being the winner of the day, was chosen as one of the top three bands.

On April 27, our high school band played for the kick-off breakfast for Norman Erbe's gubernatorial campaign. The band left from the school at 7:30 a.m. and marched until 8:00 for this political rally.

Future Nurses Hold Party, Tour Hospital

The purpose of the Future Nurses' Club in Boone High School is to further interest and acquaint its members in the professions of nursing in related fields—dietitian, physical therapy, and technology.

A party was held for any sophomore interested in nursing on Tuesday, May 3. The various officers gave a review of the past year and introduced the functions of the Future Nurses' Club.

Any member of the junior or senior class of Boone High School or Boone Sacred Heart High School who has indicated an interest in becoming a nurse is eligible for membership.

On Monday evening, April 18, the Future Nurses' Club was the guest of the Boone County Registered Nurses at the Boone County Hospital. Dr. Wicks presented his views on 'Future Nursing.' Refreshments were served in the cafeteria at the meeting. Thirteen girls from Boone attended.

The Future Nurses' Club toured Broadlawns Hospital in Des Moines the afternoon of May 4. The members made the annual field trip by chartered bus, which was sponsored by the Boone County Society. This was their way of showing their appreciation of the various drives in which the members of the Future Nurses' Club have taken part.

There's a flurry of cannibal stories in the air at the moment, giving an elbow to the 'sick' stories. Seems there was a cannibal who would eat only tobacco users because he liked a smoking man's taste. And then there's the poser, "If people who eat vegetables are vegetarians, are cannibals humanitarians?" A fellow from Jersey City says flatly that as far as a cannibal is concerned, "One man's meat is another man's person."

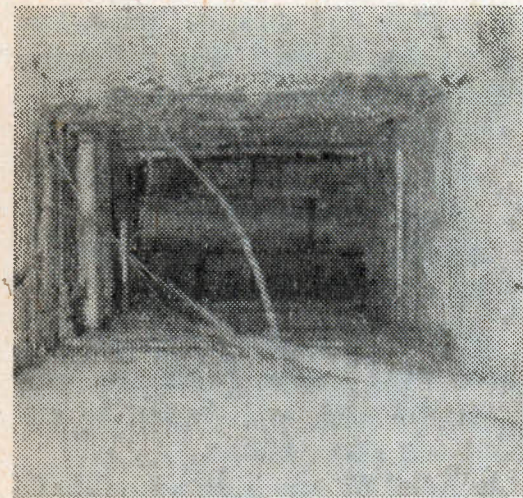

Arbor Day

"The largest living thing, the oldest living thing, the most important product used for our basic need, shelter, and perhaps the most universal symbol of nature's beneficence to mankind; all these are recognized on this day for trees."

There is more to Arbor Day than just planting trees. It is significant of many things: shelter for wild life, protection for the soil and water, a thing of beauty for all who see it, and a strong hope in the planter that he may watch it grow and develop.

A tree symbolizes many things. To the conservationist it means preservation of the soil; to the homeowner it means shade in the summer; to the child on Christmas Eve, a tree with lights stands for spiritual joy.

Iowa observed its first official Arbor Day on Friday, April 29, of this year. The last legislature designated the last Friday in April in each year, beginning in 1960, as the day and the week which shall be proclaimed annually by the governor of the state as Arbor Day.

TRICKPIC

This unusual picture was taken in Boone High. It is unusual in that many students have the opportunity to see it, but are not aware of it. The student will bring his name and answer to Room 308. The next morning there will be a drawing to select the winner, and his name and the correct answer will appear in the next issue. Last week's winner was Gary Alexander, an eighth grader, who correctly identified the picture as snow on tree branches.

Warped Witticisms

As scarce as truth is, the supply is always greater than the demand. Man is the head, but woman turns it.

If at first you don't succeed, try, try again. Then give up. There's no use being a darn fool about it.

Everything has its beauty, but not everyone sees it.

Books are the quietest and most constant of friends: They are the most accessible and wisest of counselors, and the most patient of teachers.

If you don't get what you want it is a sign either that you did not seriously want it, or that you tried to bargain over the price.

Anger is a short madness.

He who forgives ends the quarrel.

To acknowledge our faults when we are blamed is modesty; to discover them to one's friends is confidence; but to proclaim them to the world, if one does not take care, is pride.

The Creator's Skill

In the evening at dusk
When the air is filled with silent hush,
I marvel at the Creator's skill
I see the mountains rising high—
The plains that go rolling by
With fields of wheat and corn
To feed the mighty nation, now at rest.

I gaze up into heaven,
To see the myriads of stars beating down.

(Thousands of years,
It took their heavenly glow to reach us!)

I can hear His marvels too,
Listen—Hear the crickets chirping,

The wild thrushes warbling.
And the sea billow's roaring refrain.

All so the earth again will come to life

With people bustling here and there.

But never worry, never fear,
The dusk will come again,
You see, we can rely on the Creator's skill.

Famous Last Words

We won't have a quiz today.
I'm going to bed at 9:30 tonight.
I just hate boys.

You won't catch me giving my ring to any silly girl.

I've got a five dollar bill that says I'm right.

I think my hair will look okay if I dye it blonde.

I'm a very conscientious driver. I haven't had a wreck yet.

I can hardly wait to see my blind date. All the girls say he's just a dreamboat.

I'm going to college to study. None of this fooling around.

I don't have to try it on. I know it's my size.

I can work any problem with my trusty slide rule.

I haven't broken any training rules yet.

Mr. and Miss May

Nickname, Hud; place of residence, 927 Aldrich Avenue; number of children in family, five, are the facts that give us the name of one boy—namely Hudson Lainson. Hud drives a '52 Ford and works part-time at the Safeway as a carry out boy. Among his favorites he lists: Tv. shows, Cheyenne and Rebel; color, bright red; music, rock-n-roll with a fast beat; foods, pizza and 7-Up; sport, golf; favorite season, summer, "because it's nice and warm." When asked his favorite expression he gave this as a reply, "Ours is not to reason why, but ours is to do or die!" Since the beatniks are rapidly becoming a name of the American scene, Hud had this to say about them, "I like their slang, jokes, and crazy food, but their beliefs are too crazy for me."

Spring Has Sprung

Spring, with all its splendor, is the awakening of nature after winter's sleep.

Flowers break their winter prison to push tender green sprouts through the earth and then grow and form buds which burst into riots of color.

A soft south wind is the first herald of spring. This breeze turns the snow to slush, the hard frozen ground to mud, and swells the streams and rivers into rapid-brown, greedy torrents rushing to the oceans.

Buds on trees burst their shells to soften the harsh outlines of the tree. Then some send forth flowers, sweet scented and delicate, which will later form fruit.

Spring's a time for scents, gardening, and general awakening and refreshing interlude between winter and summer.

A rainbow after a spring shower changes the world from a gray, cold thing into a golden promising world in which to live.

Mary had a little lamb,
The lamb had halitosis,
And everywhere that Mary went
People held their noses.

Blue eyes mean you're true
Grey eyes mean you're gracious
But black eyes merely mean
You're blue in other places!

Famous lost words: "The End"

Kathy McCambridge, born on June 26, 1943, had lived in Boone all her life. She is the youngest girl in a family of five children.

Kathy may be seen driving either a '53 Buick or a '58 Ford convertible. French fries and malts are her favorite calorie adders. In the field of classical music she prefers 'Blue Danube.' Other favorites are: color, baby blue; television program, 'Hennesy'; pastime, listening to stereo; season, spring, "because everything is so much fresher and not too hot and not too cold (usually)."

"What's new?" is a common greeting associated with Kathy. She says she learns more that way. When asked her opinion on beatniks Kathy replied, "Some of them are kind of cute."

Once upon a morning drab,
As I worked in the lab,
Some acid spilled and fell on me,
And I said ouch, o-ee.
I yelled out loud because it hurt,
Mr. Bruns said pack it with dirt.
I ran outside and sniffed around,
Then someone asked, "Are you a hound?"

Basil Hicks smashed Webster City's Roger Larson 6-2; 6-3.

Boone's Don Dutton and Jay Pieper beat Mike Boozell and Kalzer 7-5; 7-5 in doubles competition.

Marshalltown Slips By Golf Squad

The Toreador linkmen lost to Marshalltown's golfers, 174-172, on April 12.

With gusting winds making play difficult, Mike Ahlstrom, Jay Knezevich, and Marshalltown's Pat Trowbridge carded six over par 42, to share medalist honors.

Roosevelt Nips Linksmen

Boone linksmen lost to Des Moines, Roosevelt, 161-164, on April 14. Medalist honors went to Roosevelt's Paul Nixon, and Jay Knezevich took honors for Boone with a 39.

B.H.S. vs. Perry in Golf

Perry, April 19.—Winds and high temperatures accompanied Boone's win over Perry in a nine-hole golf meet. This was the first win in three meets for Coach Paul Lambert's links.

Mike Ahlstrom, Larry Pearson, and Jay Knezevich shared Boone's medalist honors with 54's, while Perry's Jim Worrell collected meet honors with 41. The final tabulations showed the Links 178 to the Bobcats' 188.

Boone won the reserve meet.

Linksmen Face Marshalltown

Marshalltown, April 22.—The Toreador golf team lost to Marshalltown by a margin of 23 strokes with a score of 182-158 in their second encounter of the season.

Jay Knezevich carded a five over par 41 for the Toreadors.

Medalist honors went to Marshalltown's Pat Trowbridge with a 38.

Boone Participates in Drake Relays

Although Boone had several entries in the Drake Relays Friday, April 29, only two of the Boone High participants placed.

Darrell Richards, a senior, shared first place in the pole vault competition with Dave Chipman and Dave Martin of Ames, Ulrich Sielaff of Cedar Rapids, Washington, and Dennis Marcellus of Humboldt.

Darrell's first try was a 10-6, followed by a 11-foot vault, and then his 11-6 final. Rain ended the event at this point.

George Hannum, a junior, grabbed a fourth place finish in the high school football throw with a distance of 200 feet 6 1/4 inches.

The Toreadors did not qualify for the finals in the 880 or medley relays, but had their best times of the season in both.

Mickey Cornelius had a :22.4 in a 1:35.6 performance in the 880. The best previous timing this year was a 1:36.8, ran by Mickey, Ed Blaess, Ron Long, and Terry Ferry.

These same four boys ran in the medley with a 2:07.7 performance.

Neither Ron Long in the 100-yard dash nor Bill Guenther in the high hurdles qualified.

Teen-age girl to chum: "For his birthday, I'd like to get Jimmy something for his car that he would never think to get himself but all I can think of is gasoline."

Overheard in the halls of B.H.S.: "She's so skinny that if she drank pink lemonade she'd look like a thermometer."

HUNK'S BUNK

By HANK HARRIS

While looking through the records in Mr. Stutzman's office concerning the letter winners since 1914, I ran across an interesting fact about the history of sports at Boone High.

According to the records, there has never been a four-letter winner in one year at Boone. However, during the season of 1958-1959, Darrell Richards claimed this title by lettering in football, basketball, track, and baseball.

Richards recently proved his track ability by vaulting 11 feet 6 inches to tie for first place in the high school division at the Drake Relays on April 29.

As a junior, he lettered in football, holding an end position. This year Darrell moved up to the quarterback spot for coach Harris in football. Richards also made second team All-C.I.C. in basketball at guard this year.

Although the newly organized summer baseball program enabled Darrell to obtain his fourth letter, baseball was started in 1941 and was continued until 1943. The records do not show anyone getting four letters during this period.

Larry Paulsen, who has lettered in two sports thus far in 1959-1960, is the Toreador most likely to tie Richards' record.

Paulsen has developed himself into a miler for coach Gordon Brookhart's track team. This has assured him a letter in that sport. He lettered in baseball last summer and is looking forward to the 1960 season under coach Bill Sapp to bring him a fourth letter.

Paulsen, a reserve forward on Paul Lambert's basketball team this season, should play a key part in the Toreadors' offense next year.

Back to School

[Editor's note: The catchy title above intrigued us, as did the editorial from the Davenport High School Blackhawk. It seems that this problem is universal.]

As winter winds give way to sunshine and balmy breezes and flowers begin to lift their faces to blue skies, the heart turns to love and students become afflicted with that most contagious disease—Spring Fever.

In the halls students wander aimlessly arm in arm, hand in hand, starry-eyed, oblivious of all else.

Few are aware that school is an educational institution where they are expected to maintain gentlemanly and lady-like conduct, not a lover's lane for those so inclined.

Whether these dreamers realize it or not, they are being stared at in aghast and disapproval by faculty and their own classmates. They are not being praised or envied. Conduct such as this is not only disgusting to all who witness it; but untimely, out of place, and casts a poor reflection on the training of the participant and the fine standing of Boone High School.

Such students as these have been approached in the halls, study halls and at their lockers by faculty advisors, often to no avail. Friendly hints and staring eyes do not seem to make an impression. What is to be done?

Strict regulation could be enforced but would be unfair to conscientious students, and impractical as well. The only thing to do is to leave it up to the romantically minded themselves.

It is their character and reputation that is being marred by their actions.

Only when they realize that they are distracting from their own educational opportunities as well as those of others will they come to their senses and refrain from such unbecoming conduct.

School is almost out and the long carefree summer months are yet to come. If we can only remember that Romeo and Juliet had no halls to roam, nor did Solomon and Sheba have study halls to meet in; and yet their love survived, possibly the last few weeks of school at B.H.S. can return to the normal ecstasy of education.

42 Girls Try Out for Cheerleading

This year 42 girls are trying out for Junior High cheerleading. To be a cheerleader a girl must fill the following qualifications:

1. She must have at least a C average.
2. She must be willing to attend all cheerleading practices.
3. She must be willing to attend all home games and the ones out of town which the junior high students go as a group.

The tryouts will be held in approximately two weeks in the auditorium.

Teachers Tell 'Pet Peeves'

Teachers, like everyone else, have pet peeves, or little things that bother or 'peeve' them. The following are some of the junior high teachers' 'pet peeves.'

Mrs. Frazier: "Students who don't pay attention."

Miss Anderson: "People who aren't courteous."

Mr. Lovin: "People who are late for appointments or meetings."

Miss Thornburgh: "Talking to someone who is chewing gum."

Mr. McCargar: "Students who come in for help, but are in a hurry to get it and leave."

Mrs. Markwalder: "People who walk down the hall one way and look another."

Mr. Wilhelm: "Students who don't work."

Miss Heaps: "People who don't shovel their walks in the winter."

Mr. Hokanson: "People who talk in study hall and those who cannot control their temper on the tennis court."

Miss Quinn: "People who leave their clothes lying around."

Mr. Parr: "People who don't take advantage of the abilities they possess."

Mrs. Henry: "People who sit on the newspaper before I've read it. It's gone to press once."

Battysburg Address

Four weeks and seven days ago our instructors brought forth in this school some new exams, conceived in tyranny and dedicated to the supposition that all students are created inferior. Then we were engaged in the great semester exams, testing whether we students or any students so stupid and so unprepared could long endure. We were met on a great battlefield of those questions. We have come to dedicate a portion of this school as a final resting place to those who gave their all that we might flunk. Is it not fitting proper that we do this? But in a larger sense we could not comprehend, we could not recollect, we could not copy answers. The brainy instructors, scheming and coniving, who rule here, had complicated it far above our poor power to analyze, compute, design, or describe. The faculty will little note nor long remember what we did here, but they will never forget what we tried to do here. It was for us, the victims, rather to be exterminated here by the unfinished work which they taught had thus far advanced. It is rather for us to be eradicated by the great task remaining before us—that from honored pedagogues we take increased devotion to that subject in which they gave their stiff measure of examination—that we highly resolve that we shall not have flunked in vain—that this school under Dirst et al, shall not perish from the earth before the onslaught of the hydrogen bomb.

Shop Activities

The ninth grade shop boys are working on an industrial arts project this nine weeks. The purpose of this project is to teach interpreting industry, particularly mass production techniques. It will also give them a background in the efficiencies of the method. This project allows the students to specialize as he would in mass production.

The students have an important part in supervising. Frank Tilley is superintendent and foreman. Neil Goepfinger has charge of publicity.

The projects are: step tables, night stands, coffee tables. The two types of wood being used are mahogany and ash. Each student receives one product to be presented to Mr. Moore.

'It Could Happen to You'

One fine day 'Angela Jones' took a walk in the 'Friendly World.' It had been a 'Lonely Weekend' for her with no excitement. Suddenly she saw a 'Wild-one' riding toward her. She cried out 'Mama' but the stranger paid no heed. When he stopped beside her she asked him his name, 'The Rebel' was his reply.

As he looked at her he said, "My Future Is in Your Hands." Angela was astonished! The only answer she could give his was, "Yes."

She felt like she was on a 'Stairway to Heaven,' 'Seeing Paper Roses,' and 'Greenfields.' As the sun set over the hill and the last shadow fell upon the earth, they rode off into the distance; he the most pleased boy in the world, and she vowing her 'Sixteen Reasons,' to last forever.
