Question of the Month

Do you think Prom should stay formal?

Debbie Stumbo - Yes, it wouldn't be traditional otherwise.

Cristy Thorngren - Yes. It's nice to have one dance that is special.

Mike Ninneman - No, because I think we should be able to come in blue jeans and t-shirts.

Gayla Godwin - I think it should because it's the only dance that hasn't been changed to semi-formal.

Laurie Holden - Yes, because I think it's good to have a formal dance when all the others are semi-formal.

Lee Hook - No, for some people it's too expensive.

Bill Hove - Yes, because that is what makes it different from the other dances.

Meliea Huffman - Yes, because Prom should be something special for Juniors and Seniors to remember.

Tim Duffy - Yes, because it makes it special from all the other dances.

Editorial

Beginning with this issue and continuing for the year, we are publishing editorials written by nationally known persons. This month's editorial is written by Gale Sayers.

(A legend in our time, Gale Sayers, 27, began his remarkable career in football as an All American selection in both 1963 and 1964 while playing for the Jayhawks of the University of Kansas at Lawrence. He was drafted in the first round by the Chicago Bears in 1965 and became the rookie of the year. For five years he has been a unanimous National Football All Star selection, and was further honored by being voted the halfback on the All Time NFL team selected by the pro football Hall of Fame. To date, he has broken seven NFL records and fourteen other Bear team marks.

When he led the NFL in rushing in 1969, it was the first time on record that any running back had ever hit the 1,000-yards plus total the season immediately after knee surgery. For that, the Professional Football Writers Association of America voted him the George S. Halas trophy as the most courageous player of 1969. On the evening of the presentation at the Pro Football Writers dinner in New York City, Sayers expressed his gratitude but said he would give the courageous trophy instead to his close friend and room-mate on the road trips, Brian Piccolo, who was to die of cancer on June 16, 1970.

Recognized in 1969 as one of the United States' ten outstanding young men by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Sayers now resides in Chicago in the offseason, where he is a stock and bond broker and is currently serving as the youngest Chicago Park District Commissioner.)

As a result of my football career, I have been very fortunate. Many awards have been showered upon me. I was named NFL Rookie of the Year, and have received All-American honors and All-Pro selection. I am grateful for all these things, but the have not "swelled my head." In pro sports when you think that you are the greatest or the best, your game suffers as an individual and this hurts the entire team effort.

Participation in athletic events, whether you are a pee-wee leaguer, a high school or college player, or a professional, teaches you some very important values that should be carried through your whole life. Just as every player works for the benefit of the whole team, each person on this earth must work for the benefit of all mankind.

Today with all the modern technology at our command, we seem to improve everything except people. We seek peace but seem to breed war. We hold human life to be sacred but each day we send young people off to fight in foreign lands from which they may not return.

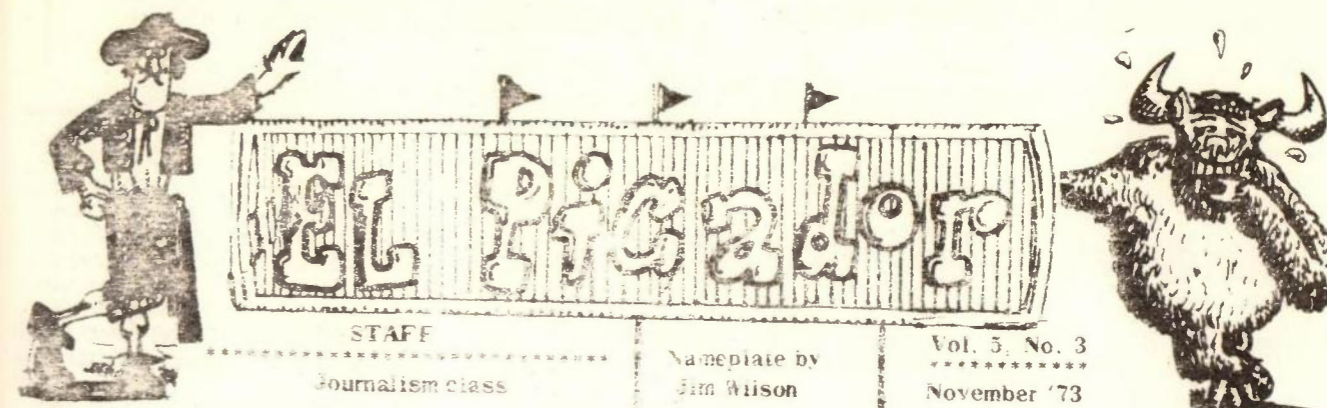

Here then lies our greatest challenge - our interest in the welfare of all mankind. Just as it is important for me to gain yardage on the football field for the Chicago Bears, it is equally important for me to inspire and motivate by word and deed the young people and students, that I meet during my travels and through youth groups I am associated with.

The future of the world is in the hands of the young people, just as it is tossed in each and every generation. Today young people have greater opportunities to achieve a higher and better education than ever before. Each subject that is offered in school increases our knowledge of people and societies throughout the world. Each worthwhile article that one reads whether in a textbook, a newspaper, or a novel increases our understanding of the world's people.

It is the duty of every person to strive to make this world a better place in which to live. Young people today seem to be better motivated in this sense of caring. This has been illustrated in the concern of young people to campaign wholeheartedly for election candidates and by their participation in hunger marches. Whether you agree personally with their beliefs or not, we must admit that they do care and are doing all they can for what they believe in.

The ideal tomorrow may be only a dream. But if young people become a constructive influence in our society, not destructive, if they become producers, not consumers - then tomorrow - yours and mine - will be a dream that has come true. That is certainly worth waiting for. And believe me the goals when achieved will be as rewarding as any touchdown ever scored.

This is the beginning of a new day. God has given me this day to do as I will. I can waste it or use it for good. What I do today is very important because I am trading off my life for it. When tomorrow comes this day will be gone forever, leaving behind something I have traded for it. I want it to be gain not loss, good not evil, success not failure in order that I shall never forget the price I paid for it.

Student Council, Congress Reports

The chief topic of discussion at the March 29 meeting of the Student Council was that of the talent show scheduled for April 13. The judges, Mr. Mahlon Smith, Mr. Richard Humeston and Miss Susan Livingston, selected ten acts for the show. Judges for the evening performance were selected from out-of-town and will be paid ten cents per mile from the student council treasury.

There will be cash prizes for first, second and third place in the talent section and freepizzas for the winners of the follies. Tickets will be sold in homerooms for 50 cents.

Cindy Casotti and Lynda Johnson collected $32.85 for the Muscular Dystrophy.

Mary Berglund reported that although the AFS dance lost $40.61 that the AFS students enjoyed themselves.

Student council also voted to pay $15 for the Honor Society tea.

Junior homeroom representatives are reminded to discuss the proposal of the Kenny Samson Memorial brought up by Mrs. Tays. Get a list of those people willing to work.

The next meeting is April 16, 3rd hour.

Eric Nystrom gave a report on the state meeting that will be held May 7 at the YM-YWCA. Delegates from the nine districts of Iowa will be there in participation.

Girls' sports were then discussed. Some seventh grade girls are now working to get seventh grade girls basketball. The major problem for these girls' activities is that there aren't coaches.

Mr. Roger Cook, senior high counselor, began the Easter holidays early with a visit to San Diego, California, from April 10-13.

Mr. Cook and 65 counselors from Iowa schools flew to visit the Naval installations in San Diego. The counselors were invited as guests of the Navy to bring back information for students interested in a Navy career.

The counselors toured the school command and observed the training methods presently used by the Navy.

Navy personnel gave an orientation explaining the guaranteed school and self-paced instruction programs now employed in Naval training. The counselors visited classes and observed the training procedures.

A highlight of the trip was a tour of the U.S. Constitution battleship. According to Mr. Cook the new Navy offers a wide variety of opportunities for many young men and women.

Seniors interested in Navy careers should contact Mr. Cook for more information.

Projects For Samson Memorial

Dave Briley, vice-president of the junior class, reported that many projects are being started for the Kenny Samson Memorial tennis-basketball court.

One of the ladies' clubs of Boone, Soroptimist, is asking the merchants around Boone to let students work in their stores until they make at least $20 to be given to the memorial.

Kiwanis Club is sponsoring a dance for the adults this summer. They are bringing in the Dixie-land Jazz Band from Des Moines. All proceeds will go to the Juniors.

Tom Foster and the Boone Underwater Rescue Team are going to finish laying the tile. Ames Asphalt is laying asphalt next week.

what cat lived in a garbage can? who was yogi bear's small friend?

For those of you who think you are experts in cartoon trivia, here are a few questions that should challenge your memory. If you get all of them right, you need to grow up. If you only get half right, then you probably missed the other half. And if you missed all of them, you ought to be embarrassed.

1. What was it about Atom Ant that gave him his power?
2. What cat lived in a garbage can?
3. Who was it that chased Tweety Bird?
4. Who ate all of the hamburgers on "Popeye"?
5. Who was George Jetson's boss?
6. What was the name of Tom Terrific's dog?
7. Who accompanied Mr. Peabody when he went back in time?
8. Who were two villains on "Bullwinkle"?
9. Who was Underdog's girlfriend?
10. What was the favorite saying of Jinx on "Pixie & Dixie"?
11. Who was Yogi Bear's small friend?
12. Who was the cartoon character that carried a magic bag around with him?

March is here and gone, yet kite days linger on. This year like every other year kids have gotten all excited, teenagers and adults have been out flying kites too.

Out in the open empty fields you see people of all ages flying their kites and seeming to have the time of their lives. When going out on a windy day, look up in the sky and you'll see kites of all kinds. From hand made to store bought. And while walking, look around and see how many kites are tied up at the moment!

Locker Litter Eliminated

Popcorn, pencils, sandwiches, umbrellas, tennis shoes--no, it's not inventory time at Woolworth's but a once-a-month locker clean-out.

In a recent survey (We just love that word. Makes it sound like we're really efficient and hard-working around this place!) taken during a locker clean-out, the following things showed up: a set of six wine glasses, doughnuts that were so hard they couldn't even be broken in two, boxes of Cheese-its, bread with more mold on it than one could possibly grow in a biology class, balls of hair pulled out of a hair brush, notes from people who are no longer friends, that "F" math test someone thought he had really hidden, nose plugs someone forgot to take off after swimming, gym socks that were so stiff they could stand alone, an empty fifth of sloe gin left over from some big Christmas party, and finally a pair of panty hose. Anybody recognize anything?

Juniors Know All

Why are juniors so neat?

Dave Briley: Because we're all self-disciplined.

Chris Lyness: Because we are all clean-cut, law-abiding citizens.

Jim Long: Because we have studability.

Mutt Knight: Because we're so athletically inclined.

Tom Linderblood: Because we drive such neat cars.

Dave McGlynn: We're No. 2, but we try harder.

Deb Quam: We take such good notes in Large Group English.

Tom VanDenBaard: Because we will be seniors next year.

Gayla Godwin: I feel that we are intellectually and morally superior because we all eat lunch at school.

Meliea Huffman: Because we are the most perfect ladies and gentlemen in the whole school.

Jane Digmann: What can you say about us, we are already neat.

SPRING SPORTS REVIEW

Girls' Golf

Coach Grider - "I am pleased with the progress so far and by tournament time we have a good chance to be stronger as a team."

Karen Russell - "We have three lettermen back and some new ones who have never golfed before. Last year we lost one meet to Ames by one stroke so we should come back pretty strong this year."

Boys' Golf

Coach Hitcheson - "I think we are a much improved team. The thing that concerns me the most is the amount of toughness. There are a lot of decent golfers this year and if they stay tough mentally they will do well in the conference if not it will be another long season."

Bob Tays - "We ought to be pretty good. We have five lettermen back. We have a couple of freshmen who come in with pretty good scores. Our conference is tough this year with Urbandale, Ankeny, and South Tama but we'll be in the thick of it."

Girls' Tennis

Coach Burke - "I expect to have a good season with five returning lettermen. We are hurt by the loss of Lynda Johnson, due to illness, but we expect a lot of things from Jennifer Davidson."

Chris Bass - "I think we should have a good season because we do have a lot of returning lettermen. This is my first year out and I really like it. Mr. Burke makes us run a lot, but I think everyone is getting in good shape."

Boys' Tennis

Mr. Wick - Due to Mr. Wick's busy tennis schedule, our reporter could never track (sorry Mr. Harris) him down. So both Mark and Rick took care of it.

Mark Tingwald and Rick Carper - "Mr. Wick makes us practice in the morning, but we don't think it helps. We would like to commend our manager, Wes Eckhart, on the fine job he has done so far. We really think we can beat Tech again this year."

Girls' Track

Mr. Pospisil - "We have a very young team with a lot of ninth graders. The upperclassmen will be very helpful too. The girls are anxious to do well in their meets because of all the practicing they've done so far."

Jody Knight - "I think it is great they have girls' track finally and I think we're going to have a good season. I think Mr. Howard (Jodi's coach) is a good coach and I am looking forward to all the meets."

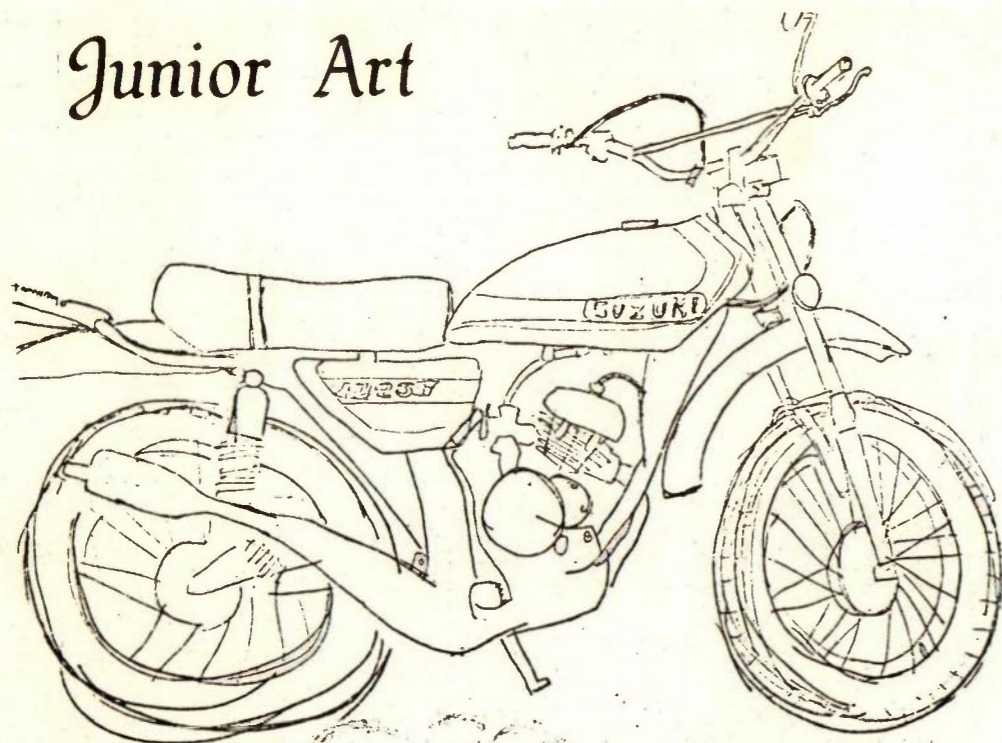

Boys' Track

Coach Harris - "We're doing pretty good except we don't have enough half milers. So far we've done a good job. I think we're competing well. Next year we lose a lot of seniors and we don't have too many juniors and sophomores out."

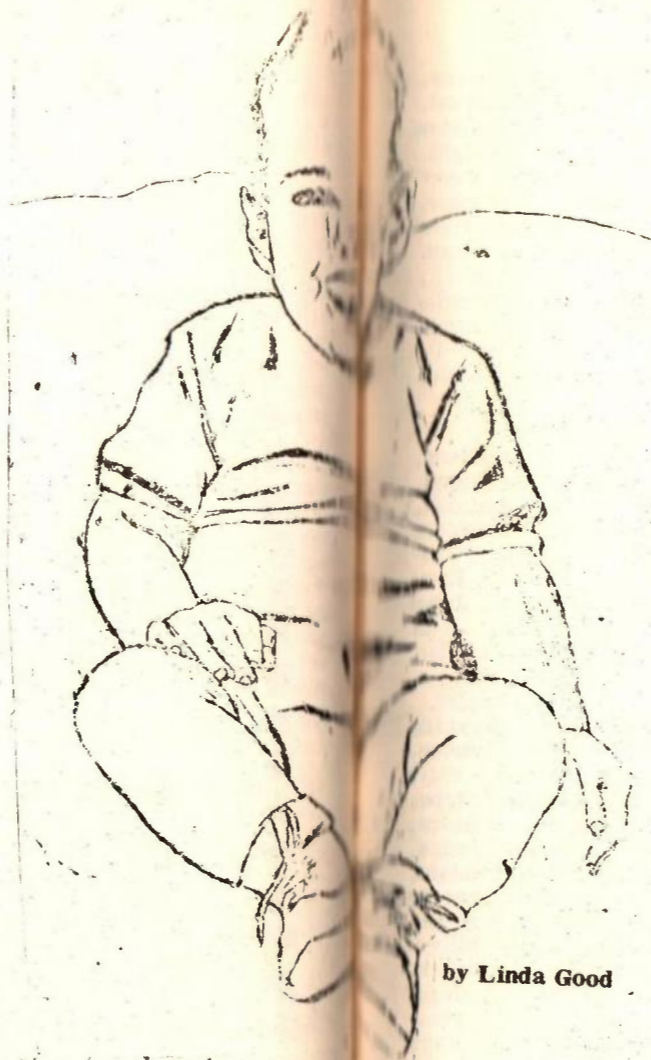

Mike Ninneman - "We should be pretty good. We plan on placing high in the conference, first or second maybe third. There might be some records broken this year too."

Once upon a time there was a group called Benny and the Jets. Each Jet at least once in their life had been caught Smokin' in the Boys' Room by a Dark Lady who worked in the lunchroom. She had warned The Entertainer to keep his group out of the boys' room but Benny just told her to go Touch the Wind.

She had gotten mad and huffy and said Let Me Be There next time and you'll all be saying The Lord's Prayer on the way to see the principal.

Benny just replied Oh, My My the Last Time I Saw Him he said There Won't Be Any More, but I'm Hooked on a Feeling that if I don't smoke,

I'll die and I've Been Searching So Long for something that will help me stop.

The lunchroom lady suggested that she knew that if he didn't stop smoking, his search would be over and that he would die.

And Abra-ca-dabra he did die and Oh Very Young. And now he is Standing at the End of the Line in Heaven. But remember, no matter what, The Show Must Go On.

That is not a coincidence.

X Marks The Spot

That Spot Spotted

In grade school, many of us came across the great reading series about Dick, Jane, and Sally. In the reading series, the stories and the characters were simple. Here is our version of Dick, Jane, and Sally.

Dick and Jane were out playing in the backyard. Jane says to Dick, "Look, Dick, Spot is over there by the tree. He is getting Sally's dress all dirty. Come here, Sally."

Dick says, "Look, Sally, don't let Spot do that. Make Spot bark, Sally."

Sally says, "Bark, Spot, bark."

Dick barks.

Sally says, "Good boy, Dick. Now, can Spot bark?"

Spot says, "This is my day off."

Jane says, "Okay, let's play a new game. Any ideas, Dick? Don't answer, Dick. How about you, Sally?"

Sally, looking at Jane strangely, says, "No, I have a headache."

Spot begins to breathe hard.

The scene shifts abruptly to a mountain cabin in the Himalayas. The scene shifts back to Dick, Jane, and Sally just as abruptly.

Jane says, "Look, Sally, look. Look at Dick run. See Dick run into the tree. Oh, poor Dick."

Sally says, "Oh, let's go check him out."

Jane says, "See if he is breathing, Sally. No, check his mouth, Sally."

Sally says, "His head is right where Spot was."

After hearing this, Dick stirs and tries to get up.

Spot says, "What a dog."

Jane says, "Maybe I should give him artificial resp . . . rasber . . . resberition."

Jane starts. Ten minutes later, Jane gets up. Dick has a silly grin on his face. Dick grabs for Sally.

Spot says, "Barf, barf."

What will happen next? Will Spot show he is man's best friend? Will Puff streak the neighborhood? Will Sally accept the candy from the man in a big car? Will the man in a big car accept the candy from Sally? Will Dick and Jane learn any new games?

Taken from the Atlantic Needle.

Did you know that idiots read more fillers than any other part of the newspaper?

BHS S t r e a k s On

Since the recent outbreak of streaking we felt that it was time we bared all the facts to you our readers on this sport.

Streaking is running with shoes and socks on, just shoes and socks. Often a streaker wears a ski mask or stocking cap to cover up his identity. While wearing the ski mask make sure you also cover up any revealing marks such as moles, warts, tatoos, etc.- they may give you away.

After choosing the right shoes and ski mask you should wear, your next major decision should be where to streak. Most places are exceptable though. Formal affairs such as weddings and funerals are out unless you dress properly, perhaps matching collar and cuffs for you guys and neck-lace and car rings for the girls. You must also conduct yourself properly there will be no pushing or shoving we must act as ladies and gentlemen.

Weather is also a big factor in streaking if too cold you may end up frost bitten and if, too hot you may end up with blisters or unnecessary redness

Coed streaking is very popular, and does create the problem of keeping your mind on just streaking. During coed streaking tail-gates, tender-benders and an accual collision are definitely illegal.

Dear Edda,

Dear Edda:

I have a rather heavy problem-- I'm on the plump side. I am 5' 1" tall and weigh about 250 lbs. Every-time I get out of my desk, my desk comes with me. Boys don't ask me out and I have no social life. My doctor says that there is nothing wrong with me, such as diabetes or over-active glands, just an over-active mouth. What should I do?

Signed,
Tubby

Dear Tubby:

Stop eating and get your mind on some hobby, such as stock car racing or birdcalling. Soon those pounds will melt away because you'll have no time to eat.

"New jeans! Gee, Ma, I wanted USED jeans."

Streaking Poll

We recently asked people what they think of streaking.

What do you think of streaking?
Gayla Godwin: I think it's alright, it's a way to find out what only your hairdresser knows for sure and it's a way the guys can show their shortcoming.

Debby Hammam: I think it's alright if the guy's good-looking.

Don Shearer: Come over to my house tonight and I'll tell you.

Janet Siders: I think the bare facts should be brought out.

Linda Majors: I think it's alright, it's about time they turned the other cheek.

Dawn Demery: If you have it, flaunt it.

Rick Pervier: It is alright, and it can be very amusing - and it can be fun to catch them.

Marla Dixon: I think it's alright because you can't judge a book by it's cover.

Cherie Watson: I don't know I only see them in a flash.

FASHION

Prom Fashion

Each year guys and gals worry about the fashions for the prom. Well, this article is going to tell you what's in.

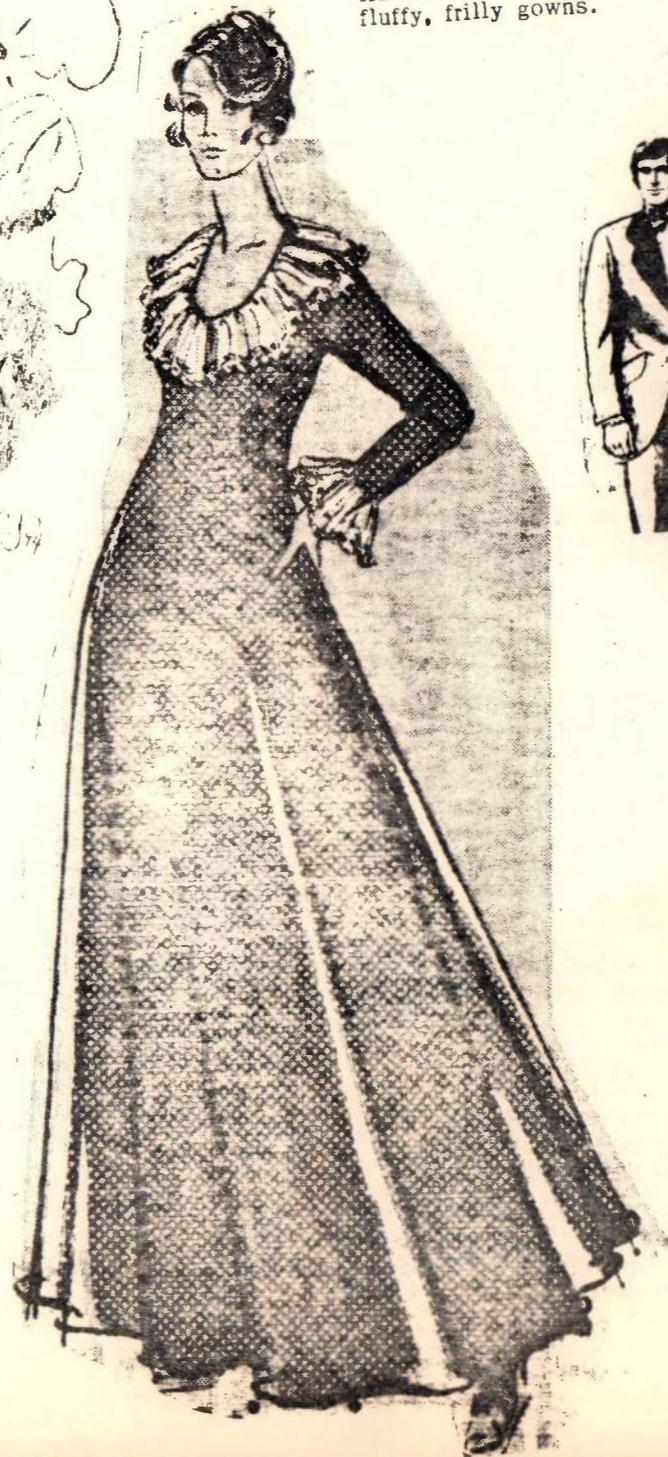

Most guys are wearing tuxedos, however, a good suit or sports coat is entirely acceptable. Tuxedos are available in any color and style you want.

The girls fashions are formal. Halters are popular along with fluffy, frilly gowns.
