Junior-Senior Reception

Under a roof of old gold and silver, in a Mah Jongg Garden, May 23, 1924, the Juniors entertained the class of "24," the faculty, and a few invited guests.

The garden was enclosed by a white latticed fence with cherry blossoms and wisteria twined artistically through it. In the center, a large fountain splashed merrily under the spell of a huge, brightly colored lantern. The tables were arranged to represent one of the bamboo characters. They were designated by a large Chinese sun, bearing the name of a Chinese city.

Each table was decorated with bouquets of cherry blossoms and small mirror-pools, surrounded by water lilies and smilax. Each place was marked by a small character. The Mah Jongg Menus were written in Chinese by the proprietor of "The Twentieth Century", of Des Moines.

The dinner was a marvel, efficiently served by some "Chinks," borrowed from the Sophomore class.

Between the courses the following program was given:

Toastmaster	Mr. A. G. Umbreit
Welcome	Lyle Quinn
Response	Sherman Crary
Solo, "On the Road to Mandalay".....
.....	Harry Ringland, accompanied by Mildred Meyerman
Chinese Love Letter.....	Mary Lou Peters
Toast	Marlowe Williams
Ching Fu and Cherry Blossom".....	Mary Lou Foster, Helen Houghton
Dance	9:00 to 11:00, music by John Carpenter's Orchestra

Junior Hallowe'en Party

The Junior Hallowe'en party was held in the "gym", Saturday, November 1, when the ghosts and witches had gobs of fun—with everything they tried.

The time for arrival varied, but the Juniors finally got there and descended the stairs to the orange and black streamered room—the harvest moon casting enchanting rays of yellow, blue, and red, made the room a thrilling place for ghosts and witches.

The program started by a witch dance and was followed by the story of O'Brien—the Irishman; then Marion Yerkes swayed gracefully to "Spa'n." She was followed by George Killion, attired as a gypsy dame, who danced "Mosquito on the Railroad Track."

Lucille Cutler and dashing Jack Whitman were awarded the vanity case and Eversharp for the best costumes.

Everyone began to feel the need of food so they climbed to the rooms above and had a "mean" repast.

To the tune of "Home Sweet Home" they coupled together and dodging ghosts—"reeled" home.

Sophomore Christmas Party

"Last couple out," and "Oh, who is 'it' now", the "gym" resounded with such childish exclamations and gleeful sounds, when the Sophomores went back to their childhood days and had a Christmas party December 20.

And that wasn't all! Why, they even played "Drop the Handkerchief" and "Three Deep." Isn't that the limit?

Then came the stunts, in some of which the students were outshined by the dignified (?) teachers. You should have seen the "chariot-race" and the "suitcase race". They were rare! Oh, yes they did look just darling trying to win the "pigeon-toed" and "knock-kneed" race, and the "broad grin" stunt. Such cute expressions!

The following program was then much enjoyed by the "infants"::

Music	Sophomore orchestra
Reading	Alvina Steussy
Vocal solo	Mary E. Johnston
Flute solo	Marcella Bean
Reading	Helene Wissler
Vocal duet	Doris Shull and Clyde Stumbo, accompanied by Vivian Willis
Sorentina dance	Alvina Steussy and Lu Betty Merrick
Music	"The" orchestra

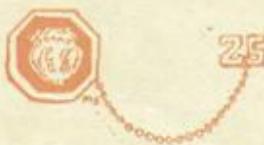

At last came the eats, and oh boy, weren't they good? We don't blame some of the class for being such big eaters, we would be too, on an occasion like that.

Two big Christmas trees were the chief decorations. They had pretty lights and decorations 'n everything. There was also a fireplace and the "children" watched longingly for Santa to come, but he didn't, so they went home having had a wonderful evening.

Mother-Daughter Banquet

The annual Mother and Daughter banquet was held Tuesday, February 17, in the First Christian Church. About three hundred and fifty mothers and daughters were present. The Christian Church ladies, assisted by the Hi-Y, served the dinner immediately after the dinner. Mrs. Ralph Cooper, assisted by Miss Opal Briley, directed a brief song service which was followed by the following program: Miss Hazel Ick, President of the Blue Triangle Club, presided as Toastmistress; piano solo, Dorothy Schmidt; musical reading, Jane Halliday, accompanied by Dorothy Sellers; toast—"To Our Daughters," Mrs. M. C. Jones; toast—"To Our Mothers," Elizabeth Ann Tucker; vocal solo, Mary Elizabeth Johnston; quartette, Hi-Y-Ette girls; Girl Reserve playlet, by a group of Girl Reserves. To conclude the program Miss Jean Russell presented to the following girls the "G. R." rings: Mary Fick, Elizabeth Ann Tucker, Helen Higbee, Gladys Nutt, Vera Forbes, Maretta Holmes and Helen Hanum. A "G. R." ring is the highest honor any girl can win in the Y. W. C. A., and requires a period of two years' work. Miss Opal Briley was also presented a ring for service as leader of a "G. R." group for nine months.

The attendance at these banquets has increased annually and this year the attendance was the largest ever.

Faculty Picnic

The Faculty of Junior-Senior High, together with the "in-laws" and families, and some members of last year's faculty, also our County Superintendent, Mr. Wissler and wife, enjoyed the annual Faculty Picnic at Herman Park on Wednesday evening, September twenty-fourth. Mr. Umbreit, Mr. Daehler and Miss Crawford were general executives, and they showed good judgment in appointing Miss Crooks, chairman of the "eats" committee, as everyone present can testify. The camp fire, presided over by Mr. Baker, and others of our new faculty members, was very fine, in spite of the fact that Ferdinand Daehler was busy elsewhere. After supper the time was spent around the camp fire getting acquainted with our new members, and singing songs of special interest to the Newly-Weds.

Bumble "B" Picnic

NaCL, NrG, SteAk, and conversation centered about chemical formulas made the Bumble "B" steak fry seem like an extension of the seventh hour chemistry class. Can it be that the staff members are behind in Chem., or are they going to be chemical journalists?

A huge camp fire, assisted by a full moon, gave plenty of light for the cooks, who turned out rare, juicy steaks for the hungry picnickers. Some even ate four sandwiches, they tasted so good. Mary Fick decided that she had too much NaCL, but Esther Jane changed her mind for her. By the time the frying pan had been burned off, and the marshmallow forks disjointed, it was time for a few to go to choir practice. Those who stayed to watch the fire burn down amused themselves by singing old favorites and new classics to the music of a "uke".

Domestic Science

After the Home Economics girls had learned seemingly all there was to know about meal planning, preparation and serving, they invited their mothers to a luncheon, which they planned, prepared and served.

They chose a color scheme of red and green, for it was near Christmas, and besides, the girls felt a loyalty to their school. The table decorations suggested Christmas and the dining rooms were made to look as if a real honest to goodness party was going to take place. At last, when the day arrived, the savory odors that ascended from below and floated through the corridors, assured those unfortunates not invited, that the mothers were enjoying a most tasty luncheon.

The Hi-Y Feeds

The Hi-Y boys have been socially active this year with a lot of scrumptious feeds. At each of these good times leading men of Boone have talked to the boys, telling them the ways of life. Mrs. Herman served the Hi-Y with a lovely dinner, and a good time "was had by all".

The Father and Son Banquet, sponsored by the Hi-Y boys, was a great success, with over two hundred Fathers and Sons there.

The biggest event, however, was the Ladies' Night, and everyone (who went) had the very best time. The room was prettily decorated in Saint Patrick's colors. Marlowe Williams acted as toast master for the evening.

P. S.—Lyle Quinn says that the trip to R'veria was a social engagement.

"B" Men's Picnic

At the Ledges Park on April 22nd, the "B" men entertained themselves and their girl friends, at a "whee" of a picnic. Each one entertained himself as he wished, before the meal—and such a meal—"Hot Dogs," buns, salad and some more.

The indoor baseball proved safe for the girls to play with and so they played! Fun? We should say the noises sounded that way.

Then the folks left, and that's all we know about the couples—"Chick" and Mrs. "Chick" chaperoned and were some chaperones.

The New Poor

The "New Poor" cast of the Masque and Buskin Club of Boone High had their feed in the Tea Room, April 8, 1925.

The cast, together with the stage managers, enjoyed a very fine three course dinner, amid flower decorations, suggesting the echoes of Spring.

"Dick" Canier acted as toast-master for the evening and called on a few of the members to give toasts.

In the end "Sheeny" and Col furnished the crowd with Radio music. They wanted to dance, but dance music wasn't to be had.

Finally as they couldn't get music over the radio, they coupled off and went home to their "Victrolas" (?)

Hi-Y-Ettes

The Hi-Y-Ettes have had a number of good times, socially, this year. With Gadys Nutt, as president and leader.

A Hallowe'en party started the year off—with lots of ghosts and witches. The color scheme was yellow and white, with corn stalks and pumpkins in every corner.

A Christmas party for the poor girls was a new experiment much enjoyed by every one. A delightful lunch was served before the girls piled in and took each other home.

There were several "teas" on the special days of the year. Strange, but more girls are "in attendance" on these occasions.

Of course "The Mother and Daughter Banquet" was the climax of the social activities of the Hi-Y-Ettes.

Now picnics and hikes are being planned and carried out. Each girl is "Seeing the Beautiful."

Captain Crossbones Feed

On March 16, 1925, in the Tea Room, Mrs. A. G. Umbreit entertained the cast of the "Captain Crossbones" Opera.

The tables were laid for the sixteen main characters and the members of the faculty who helped keep the "Pirates" quiet. St. Patrick's colors were carried out through the flowers and place cards.

After a sumptuous dinner, "Sheeny" Erickson acted as toastmaster and presented Harry Ringland, hero of the Opera, who in turn, presented Mrs. Umbreit with a wee gold fountain pen, with a Skull and Crossbones engraved on the end.

Then, in behalf of the cast, "Sheeny" gave Harry a lemon to be used in future vocal engagements.

Each and everyone present was called upon to give a short, snappy toast. These were very much enjoyed by 'most everyone (although a few were slightly embarrassed by some of them.) The "party" finally broke up after Mr. Umbreit remarked that he had to go home and put the cat out, (or something to that effect) and everyone left, by twos and three, declaring they had had a "keen" time.

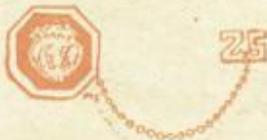

Commercial Club

In the Junior High Study Hall on December 13, 1924, the Commercial Club students entertained each other at a Backward party. The Icebreakers started the evening off backwardly, and then the good time started.

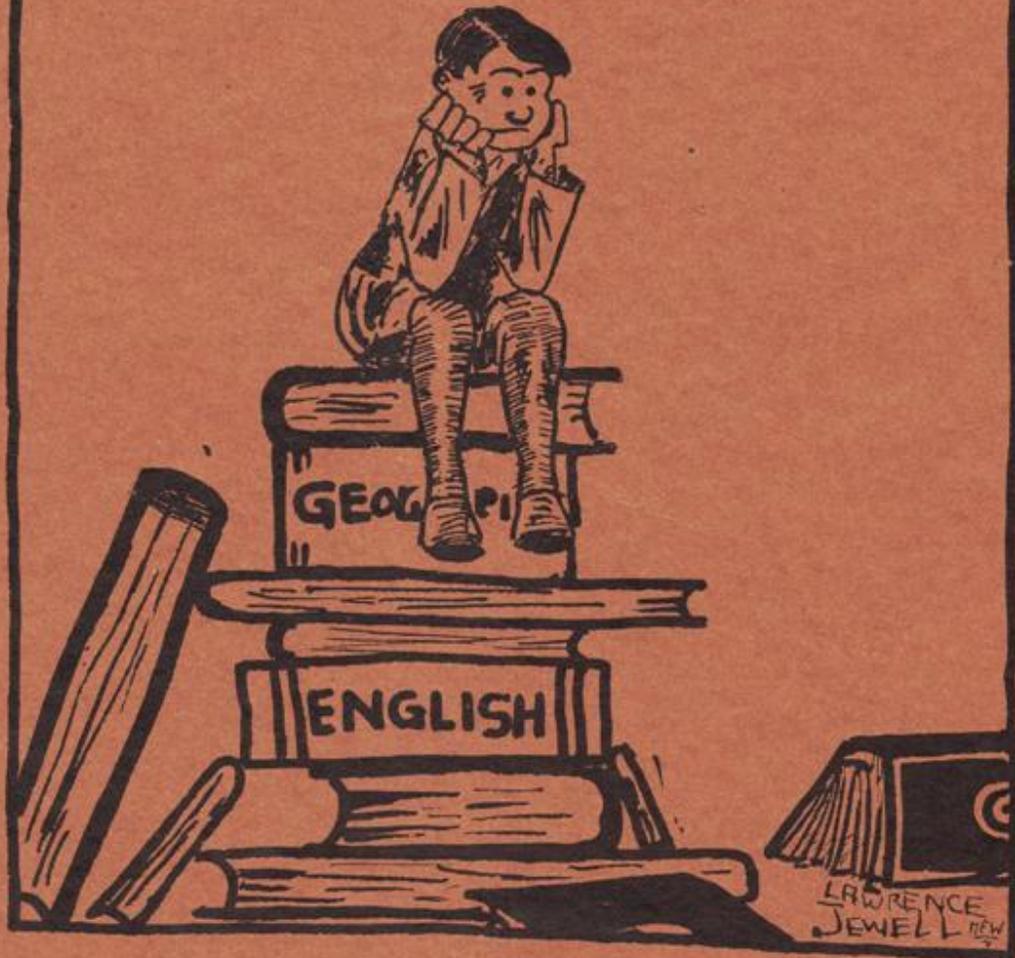

The following program was given:
Good Night Song -----Inverted Trio
Dance -----George Killion
"A Literary Romance" -----A Play

After the program all of the party adjourned to the Library for the exciting field meet. The races caused a lot of fun, but the prize awarding was more fun, so we hear.

Then they had the eats, and oh! what eats. Finally they decided it was bed time and announced to the chaperones that it was; and took themselves away.

JUNIOR HIGH

Junior High

One of the important phases of the school improvement program during the last year was the change in the general type of organization. The usual form of educational organization, up until September, 1924, was eight year elementary and the four year high school plan.

Boone has followed this form of organization with but one modification, the adoption of a plan whereby all the eight grades of the ward schools were combined into one grade, in one building—our Grammar School. This was the first step toward a Junior High School. As our school organization did not meet the needs of our schools, the 6-3-3 year plan was presented, a plan which we have found fulfills the needs.

But before defining a Junior High School and before enumerating its merits, it would be well to point out a few of the defects in the 8-4 plan.

First—In the 8-4 plan there was a distinct gap between the eighth grade and the high school. This gap was the result of poor contact between the eighth grade and the high school, in regard to subject matter.

Second—The 8-4 plan did not make possible the highest realization of one fundamental education objective. The elementary school is designed to give the pupil command of his future working tools, reading, writing, language, arithmetic, etc. This is usually accomplished by the end of the sixth grade.

Third—The 8-4 plan did not provide for the needs of early adolescence. This is a period of storm and stress, of intense emotions and high aspirations. Boys, and girls, feel restless under the restrictions found in the elementary seventh and eighth grades.

It is very difficult to find a definition of Junior High School. Here are two of the best definitions:

First:—"A Junior High School is a school made up of the upper grades of the elementary school and the lowest grade of the secondary school, and organized after the general plan of the secondary school as regards curriculum, nature and method of recitation, instruction and supervision."
—Wiles.

Second:—"The Junior High School is a definite constructive attempt to make the school serve the community, by bridging the gap between the grammar grades and the high school, by offering some form of pre-vocational work to those who can never attend high school, and through its ability to give them more vital, and wider interests."
—Stetson.

At present the Boone schools are organized on the 6-3-3 plan. For purposes of administration they are one school, but in instruction, courses of study and other details they are two schools.

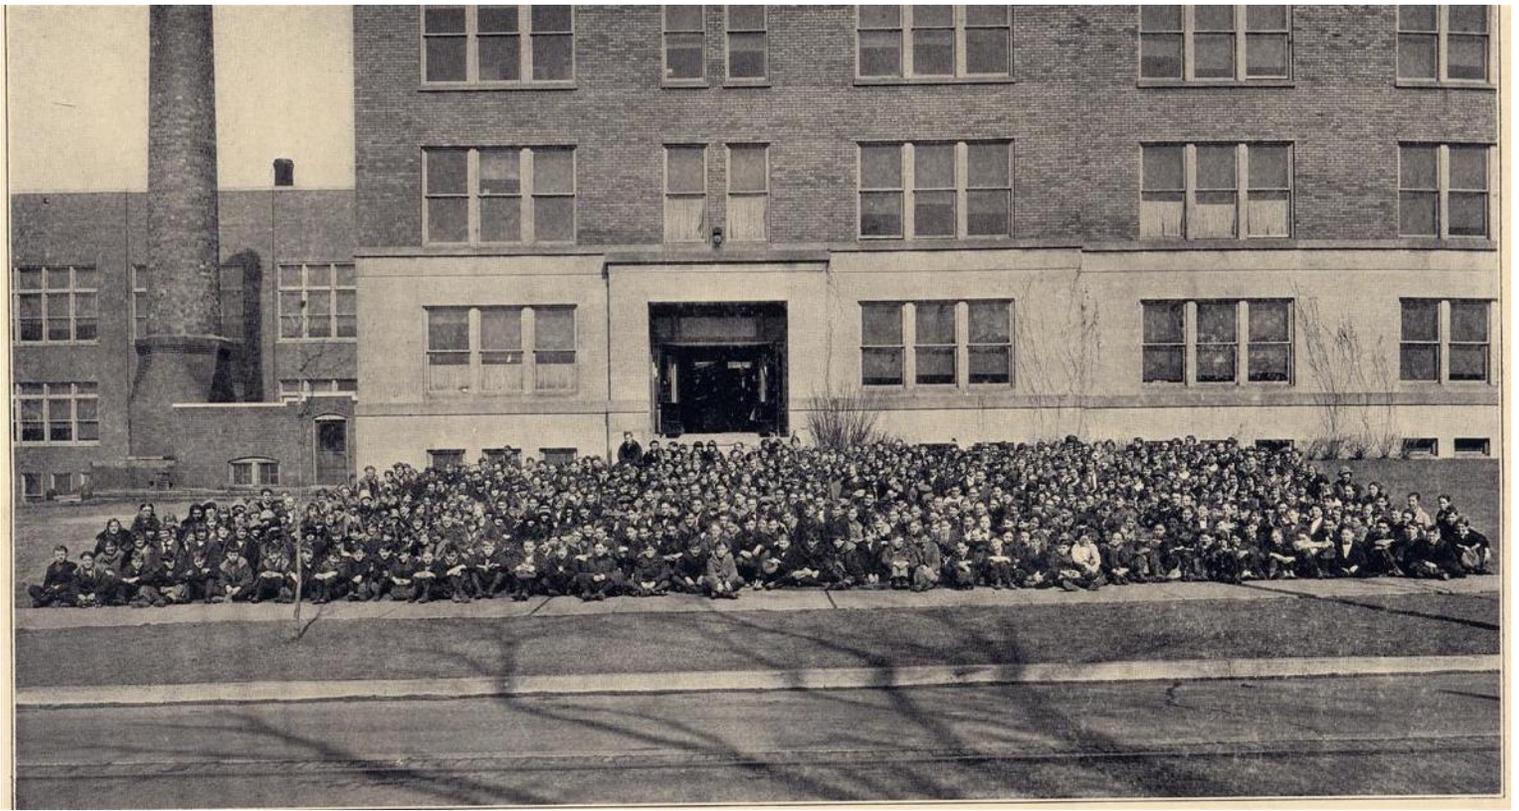

Pupils who have completed the first six grades of the Boone Public Schools are admitted to the Junior High School. Pupils from the rural districts, who have completed the usual elementary eight grades are admitted to the ninth grade of Junior High School upon presentation of certificates of graduation. Pupils are admitted to Senior High when they have completed the required work in Junior High School, a minimum of twenty-nine semester credits being required for full completion of the Junior High School and unconditional admission to the Senior High School.

Junior High is made up of the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades. Although some of these Juniors are rather young, most of them have entered into the spirit of Boone High and have become interested in its various activities and organization.

Until the whole student body becomes accustomed to this new plan, no doubt, there may be some confusion. But if we all co-operate to make a "better" Boone High, our new system will work to the advantage of both teachers and pupils.

We all appreciate our new quarters more than we can tell, and hope that the taxpayers of Boone will appreciate our gratitude, and we hope that some day we will be able to pay it back in useful service to our community.

WHO WE ARE— The Comrade Club of Girl Reserves.

OFFICERS

President—Felicia Jensen. Secretary—Ina Murray.
Treasurer—Vivienne Alsin. Reporter—Margaret Arringdale.
Advisor—Opal Briley.

MEMBERS—

A group of Freshmen girls banded together for the common purpose—"To find and give the best."

WHAT WE ARE—

At present part of the Young Women's Christian Association and also its future.

WHERE WE ARE—

We meet in the Y. W. club rooms after school every Wednesday during the most of the year. Campfires, picnics and hikes urge us out-of-doors in the fall and spring.

WHAT WE DO—

Lots of things! We plan four kinds of meetings in order to meet the requirements in the development of all-round girls.

SOCIAL—

All kinds of parties. We have Thanksgiving and Christmas parties, ice-skating and roller-skating parties, Washington, April Fool's and Hard Time parties, and a party for our mothers.

PHYSICAL—

The Boy Scouts gave a very instructive First Aid Demonstration the first semester. Hikes and skating furnished an outlet for surplus energy and also in physical development.

MENTAL—

We have to learn to talk before others, to take part in discussions, lead devotionals, display our talents and discover out latent talents. Interesting talks were given by outside speakers on subjects of interest to us such as Vocation, Dress, Manner, Friendship, etc.

SPIRIT—

We learn to know God, not as someone apart from us, but as a part of us, one with us in school as well as in church. We learn the true meaning of Service in our Christmas and Thanksgiving service work for the poor in making valentines for the Children's Hospital, in entertaining the old people of the Eastern Star Home, etc.

We try to "Face Life Squarely."

B. I. B. Club

In September Miss Jean Russell of the Y. W. C. A. met with the girls of the Eighth grade, of the Junior High School to organize a Girls' Reserve Club.

A club was organized and Miss Esther M. Carlson was chosen advisor of the club. The following officers were elected for the first semester:

Chairman	Glendora McLain
Secretary	Bernice Needham
Treasurer	Elmira Erickson

Meetings are held every week and are well attended; interesting programs are given.

A Hallowe'en Party was given at the Y. W. C. A. Each Girl Reserve invited another girl and a dinner was served to seventy girls.

A Christmas Party was given at the Y. W. C. A. Each girl brought a gift for the Grab Bag and also a gift for the "Christmas Cheer" basket.

New officers were elected for the last semester as follows:

Chairman	Margaret Crooks
Secretary	Winnifred Crary
Treasurer	Jeanette Larson
Reporter	Ruth Allen

The girls selected as their club name B. I. B. At the Mother and Daughter banquet, the B. I. B. had its own table for which the girls were responsible in decorating.

Several of the girls took part in the program. A patriotic program was given in the J. H. Study Hall in February with the "Midgets" as guests.

Many interesting programs and social affairs have been planned for the rest of the year.

The Junior High section of the Boone High School Radio Club was organized in the fall of 1924.

The purpose of this organization is to study the elementary principles of radio, preparatory for membership in the Amateur Section.

The meetings of the club are held the third period on alternate Tuesdays of the school year. The Club has studied and discussed many of the simplest receiving circuits and sets. Several meetings were devoted to the fundamental theories of radio and electricity.

During this last semester of the year the club has taken a great deal of interest in code practice. Most of the members have memorized the International Morse Code and have shown much interest in the practices, which are held every Monday evening in the Physics Laboratory.

Several have constructed their own practice sets and hope to be able to pass the governmental examinations for amateur licenses by the time they are in the Senior High Radio Club.

Christmas Carol

In the fall of 1843, Dickens visited the worst part of London. After seeing these terrible sights, his heart was occupied by thoughts of man's inhumanity to man. Thus the conception arose within him, which later took form in the famous "Christmas Carol", which was presented on Friday, December 19th, by the Junior High School pupils.

The Christmas Carol, from the day it was first published, has always been one of the most widely read stories in the English language, and probably one of the most effectual for good to humanity.

The play and the music were woven into a beautiful drama, two hours in length. The cast of the play included at least one hundred characters, who seemed to step out of Dickens' wonderful old volume, before a full audience.

The character of old Scrooge was well portrayed in acts one and four by Walter Goeppinger and by James Benson in act three. Arthur Herman did exceptionally well in characterizing the part of Scrooge's nephew. The "Cratchit family" played a lively part. Mr. and Mrs. Cratchit being played by Lowell Morris and Glendora McClain, and Tiny Tim as Harold Fisher, were the outstanding members. The part of Marley, who was a partner of Scrooge, was well dramatized by Harold Adix. Old Fezzewig's character was seen clearly in Robert Countryman. The Spirit of Christmas Past, of Present, and Yet to Come, played by Ina Murray, Mary Kern and Mabel Finch, pictured before Scrooge the life he had lead, the kind he was leading, and what was before him.

The audience had the opportunity of seeing Scrooge as a small boy, whose part was taken by Arnold Cole, and also as a young man, who was none other than William Davis. Scrooge's sweetheart was Helen McIntosh. The business associates, news-boys and Christmas spirits aided to bring out the theme of this unusual novel. Mrs. Payne and Miss Harvey were responsible for its adaptation, which was written, directed and coached by them. Miss Patterson supervised the music. Much credit is due to all the Junior High teachers for its success.

BASKETBALL

Junior High Operetta

The Glee Club in Junior High have, under the direction of Miss Patterson, proved very successful this year. During the second semester, "Princess Chrysanthemum," a Japanese operetta in three acts, was presented.

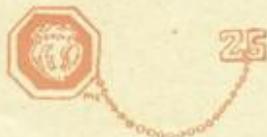

The cast was as follows:

Princess	Mary Kern
Emperor	Lowell Morris
Prince So-Tru	Arthur Arrasmith
Fairy Moonbeam	Leona Myers
Top-Not	Leonard Nelson
Saucer-Eyes	James Marsh
Prince So-Sli	Blaine Reed

The story opened with a great fete held in the honor of the Emperor's daughter, Princess Chrusanthemum. She was loved by Prince So-Tru, but he had a rival in the person of Prince So-Sli, who sought the aid of Saucer-Eyes, the Wizard Cat, who carried the Princess to the cave of Inky-Night, leaving the Emperor and So-Tru distracted by her strange disappearance.

With the aid of a magic ring, the Princess Chrysanthemum summoned the Fairy Moonbeam, but the Princess dropped the ring, thus causing the Fairy Moonbeam to disappear, and the Princess was left alone to bewail her fate. Prince So-Tru managed to obtain entrance to the cave and the Emperor arrived a moment later, taking Saucer-Eyes prisoner.

Threatened with torture, Saucer-Eyes confessed the complicity of Prince So-Sli. The Emperor gave orders for immediate execution, but at this time Princess Chrysanthemum arrived and asked the pardon of both. A happy conclusion was made by Prince So-True being given the Princess' hand in marriage.

EXTEMPORANEOUS SPEAKING

Considering numbers, this year's contest met with the greatest success of any contest of this kind so far held in Boone High.

Try-outs were first held in English and Social Science classes on April 10th. The preliminaries were held April 14th in the Junior High Study Hall and the Library with 75 students contesting.

Great deliberation was needed to decide the ten best for there were a number who almost equaled those chosen.

The winners in the preliminary contest were Pauline Quinn, Louis Loria, Thomas Ford, Joseph Irwin, Lyle Quinn, Marlowe Williams, Eugene Slater, Marvin Cartwright, Delancy Silliman and Lawrence Preston.

On April 20th the final contest took place in the High Schol Auditorium, and as Lawrence Preston was unable to speak, Marion Yerkes took his place.

Lyle Quinn won out in his usual first place, with Marlowe Williams a close second.

In the district contest held at Storm Lake, Boone High will be represented by Lyle Quinn.

"If it could be better we'd have it"

Fort Dodge, Des Moines & Southern Railroad Company

Did you ever stop to figure out what it costs you per mile to travel by automobile? When you do, you will find it costs more than to travel on the Fort Dodge Line—which excels in the handling of passengers and freight.

Connection made with all large trunk lines operating thru Iowa.
Two hour service between Boone, Des Moines, Ames and Fort Dodge, Iowa.

This modern method of transportation has many advantages, use it instead of automobile or bus and save money.

Passenger fares also freight rates quoted to all points in the United States.

In the good old days, a traffic accident
Was caused by a hair-brained horse.
But with the educational advance of the human race
It is now caused by a hair-brained man.

Sing a song of six-pence
Pocket full of rye
If it happens that you don't drink
Give it to some other poor guy.

"Sneagle."
"Snotneagle, snowl."
"Sneither, snostrich."

You can't make a mate of your mater,
You can't get a crate from a crater,
Catch moles with a moler,
Bake rolls with a roller
But you can get a wait from a waiter.

We were engaged in paying all subscription
Fees out of our own pockets,
When the fire-wagon went by
And woke us up.

By the time some girls get all dressed up, it's too late to go.

Give me a wild tie, brother,
One with a lot of sins,
One that will blaze
In a hectic blaze
Down where the vest begins.

Give me a wild tie, brother,
The wildest that you can find
Though it be too small
I care not at all
For blest be the tie that binds.

Give me a wild tie, brother,
One with a cosmic urge
One that is loud
And will draw the crowd,
And go well with my blue serge.

The fellow that originated the word
"Love"

Sure knew his stuff, because
It always costs like L
It usually amounts to O
The girl's name contains V
It has as many ends as E
Namely marriage, hate, or lack of funds.

The turtle was somewhat unsteady,
As he found himself caught on a eddy.
He mused, "Though I hurdle
I can hardly turn turtle—
Because I'm a turtle already.

Cannibal chief: "Hey, no use roasting the taxi-driver. He's already hard-boiled."

Teacher: Dwight use the word "pencil" in a sentence.

Dwight Bowes: If I don't use pins in my track suit the pencil fall down.

You can't pick locks with a pickle,
You can't cure the sick with a sickle,
Pluck figs with a figment,
Drive pigs with a pigment,
Nor make your watch tick with a tickle.

There is a bright side to everything, including last year's suit of clothes.

In spite of her products delicious
Of the cow I have grown quite suspicious;
When I pull at her udder
Her eyes make me shudder—
They're as haunting as Lillian Gish's.

The Devil: "Whatever are you laughing at?"

The Devil's Assistant: "Oh, I just had that flapper locked up in a room with a thousand hats and no mirror."

She dwelt beside the untrodden ways,
Among the hills of Butte,
A maid whom no one cared to love,
And no one dared to shoot.

The young man walked down the street, one shoe off and his coat turned inside out. A policeman stopped him.
"What's the idea?" he demanded.

"Well, you see it's this way," replied the young man. "I'm taking a course at a correspondence school and yesterday those darn sophomores wrote and told me to haze myself."

We know a fellow
Who is so bowlegged that
When he fell in the middle of the ocean
His legs formed a life-saver and held him up.

After seeing bobbed hair and Knickers
We wouldn't be surprised
To go into a pool hall
And see the sign "Tables for Ladies."
