

Underclassmen

Irwin

Nutt

Wissler

McVicker

Class Officers

There is a boy in our class, and he is wondrous wise,
He's brilliant, peppy, talented, with keen, far-seeing eyes,
He takes the honor in declam because he's quick and clever,
As actor, Pres., or musician, we'll praise our Joe forever.

Sing a song of sixpence, a class so full of pep,
With Harold Nutt, vice-president, to help us keep in step.
And when this class will graduate, it surely will be found,
He's helped put on the map a bunch to make the world go 'round.

There is a little girl, and she has a little curl,
A secretary, on whom you can rely;
And when Helene is good, she is very, very good,
And helps to win renown for old Boone Hi.

There is a class treasurer, and what do you think?
He can make the class shekels rattle and chink.
Making money and saving is Leonard's chief pleasure,
Now do you wonder that he guards our treasure?

Junior Class

— 1927 —

Junior Song List

You'd be surprised to see how well the popular members of the class of '27 may be associated with the most popular songs of today.

"Brown Eyes, Why Are You Blue?"	Sally S.
"Always" (Smiling)	Isabelle D.
"Sometime" (A President)	Howard Seeley
"Red Hot Henry Brown"	Vernie N.
"Let Me Call You Sweetheart"	Beth J.
"I Miss My Swiss" (Not Swiss, but Persian cat)	Carrie S.
"Red Hot Mamma"	Louise L.
"Lazy" (Feature this)	Harold N.
"Show Me The Way To Go Home" (To Fraser)	Evonne S.
"Drowsy Head"	"Chuck" L.
"You've Gotta Know How" (To Study)	Ezma G.
"Collegiate"	"Chet" G.
"Spain"	Gladys P.
"She's Everybody's Sweetheart"	Helene W.
"Knee-deep in Daisies"	Maurice W.
"That Certain Party" (In Jefferson)	Ellen C.
"Who" (Stole his heart?)	Harold S.
"Too Many Parties"	Pauline M.
"Mindin' My Business"	Helen N.
"Yes Sir! That's My Baby"	"Chuck" P.
"Sleepy Time Gal"	Lucille H.
"Five Foot Two—Eyes of Blue"	Edith O.
"My Dream Girl Ain't No Dream" (Is she?)	Lois D.
"Who Takes Care of the Caretaker's Daughter?"	Helen M.
"Where Is That Old Girl of Mine?"	Clyde S.
"I Can't Get the One I Want"	Mary J.
"It Had To Be You" (So says "Chet")	Lu Betty M.
"Me and the Boy Friend" (John Doe and)	"Skeet" G.
"Feeling the Way I Do"	Tommy H.
"Sweet Georgia Brown"	Wilma H.
"Cecelia"	Doris S.
"Everything is Hotsy Totsy Now"	Katherine D.

Sophomore Class

— 1928 —

JAMES BENSON

Our President was rather embarrassed when election of officers took place, but in spite of giggles from our pretty Sophomore girls and the knocking of his knees he gave us a long speech, (of about four words), thanking us for electing him to such a "fine job" as he expressed it. We know he could have given a much better speech, for he is quite an actor. Don't you remember "The Varsity Coach," and others? His greatest ambition is to be elected President of the United States. Let's help when the time comes, Sophomores.

CATHERINE DORNAN

Our Vice President's chief ambition is to become a "Mrs." We bet she won't be a Vice-President then; if she isn't President we miss our guess. Catherine likes to ride around in an Essex which isn't hers. Our main reason for electing her is that she always has a pleasant word for all of us. By the way, Catherine is quite a speaker, too. She took part in the Declamatory contest this year, and is in the height of glory when giving readings to amuse folks.

ARTHUR ARRASMITH

Some strong, brave man had to take care of our money, so Art was our only hope. Art is quite an athlete. One of our classmates said that he could do anything from robbing a cradle to running through an opposing team. Art's one ambition is to put over a winning point when we play Marshalltown. We are all with you, Art.

Horace Greeley said, "Go West," and Arthur follows his advice. He must have made a find, for every night he may be seen wending his way westward on a lonely, country road.

The Sophomore Book Shelf

Pollyanna.....	Leona Myers
V. V.'s Eyes.....	Jean Heaps
Les Miserables.....	Irene Daniel, Elmer Munden
Light That Failed.....	Ralph Emerson
Shavings.....	Harold Warren
Man for the Ages (in Hazel's eyes).....	Arthur Arrasmith
Sentimental Tommy	James Benson
The Crisis	Pat Canier
Innocent Abroad.....	Helen Snyder
The Pilot	Mae Knowles
Old Curiosity Shop.....	Robert Schultz
A Friend of Caesar.....	Donna Henry
Abraham Lincoln.....	Austin Hicks
George Washington.....	Harry Short
Doorstep Acquaintance.....	Burr Williams
The Conquerer.....	Orville Curry
Buried Alive	Raymond McCall
The Little Minister.....	Leonard Nelson
Daddy Longlegs.....	LeRoy Harris
Westward Ho!	Jack Hall
Story of a Bad Boy.....	"Pussy" Wilson
Gentle Reader.....	"Buss" Bilto

H. B. 1905. 20

Activities

The Bumble "B"

Executive Staff

Editor	Betty Reed
Assistant	Kathleen King
Assistant	Irma Goeppinger
News	Marian Yerkes
News	Lu Betty Merrick
Literary	Frances Kemble
Literary	Josephine Payne
Exchange	Lucille Higbee
Exchange	Alvina Steussy
Athletics	Clyde Paxton
Athletics	Leonard McVicker
Humor	Walter Goeppinger
Typist	Edna Steffy
Typist	Lucille Cutler

Business Staff

Business Manager	Arthur Nelson
Business Manager	Harold Nutt
Advertising Manager	Maurice Wilson
Assistant	Harold Schroeder
Assistant	Louis Lockard
Circulation	Dorothy Burke
Circulation	Alleen Havens
Reporter	Joseph Irwin
Reporter	Helen Houghton
Reporter	Mary Shull

Faculty Advisor.....Miss Blanche Maytag

The Bumble "B" is a member of the Iowa High School Press Association and of the Central Interscholastic Press Association.

The 1925-26 Bumble "B" Staff began the year with but one or two members who had any training in newspaper writing, but a comparison of the first issues with the later ones will show that as they gained experience, they acquired skill. The paper itself experienced a change from that of the previous year. The eight page four column, bi-monthly publication was replaced by the more up-to-date four page, five column edition. By way of adding to their treasury, the staff sold "hot-dogs" at the Boone-Ames football game, and issued score cards at the basketball games.

THE DRONE

The members of Miss Richardson's art classes, with the co-operation of the Bumble "B" Staff, edited a Christmas magazine. The illustrations were from linoleum cuts made by the art classes, and original stories, essays, and poems were contributed by students of the Junior and Senior High Schools. This magazine was a success both from a literary and financial viewpoint.

Scroll Staff

The Staff

Vera Forbes	Editor-in-Chief
Rodney Snyder	Business Manager
Joseph Irwin, Chester Gribben	Junior Assistants
Gladys Patrick	Organizations
Berniece McClelland	Kodakster
Isabelle Houser	Society
Mary Canfield	Calendar and Jokes
George Lidell	Seniors
Thomas Nutt	Athletics
George Killion	Circulation
Herbert Blaess	Artist
Doyle Stonehocker	Typist
Miss Dorothy Wilson, Mrs. Zoe Stevens	Advisors

Each year the Senior Class publishes a record of the year's activities in a Scroll. Publication began in 1912, and has continued until the present.

We are grateful to all the people who have given of their time and energy, and we especially feel under an abiding obligation to: Clyde Paxton, Jennette Mann, Mary Louise Foster, Arthur Nelson, Catherine Thompson, Lucille Cutler, Margaret Weaver, Lewis Jones, Kathleen King, Betty Reed, Helen Houghton, Lucille Higbee, Lu Betty Merrick, Ednah Stockig, Mae Knowles, Jean Heaps, Donna Henry, Dorothy Burke, Doris Shull, Justin Gustafson.

A Case of Suspension

Sauce For The Goslings

B. H. S. Players

	First Semester	Second Semester
President	Maurice Wilson	Jack Whitman
Vice President	Kenneth Sawyer	Louis Lockard
Secretary	Lucille Cutler	Doris Shull
Reporter	Lu Betty Merrick	Alleen Havens
Critics	Miss Harris and Miss Heaps	Miss Harris and Miss Heaps

The Boone High School dramatic club meets every other Monday, the last half of period four. A short play or some other entertainment is given at the meeting. A committee is appointed by the President to prepare a program for the following meeting.

On April 16, 1926, the club very successfully presented its play, "The Whole Town's Talking." The cast was as follows:

Henry Simmons (a manufacturer)	Harold Schroeder
Harriet Simmons (his wife)	Betty Reed
Ethel Simmons (their daughter)	Alleen Havens
Chester Binney (Simmons' partner)	Harold Nutt

The Scroll

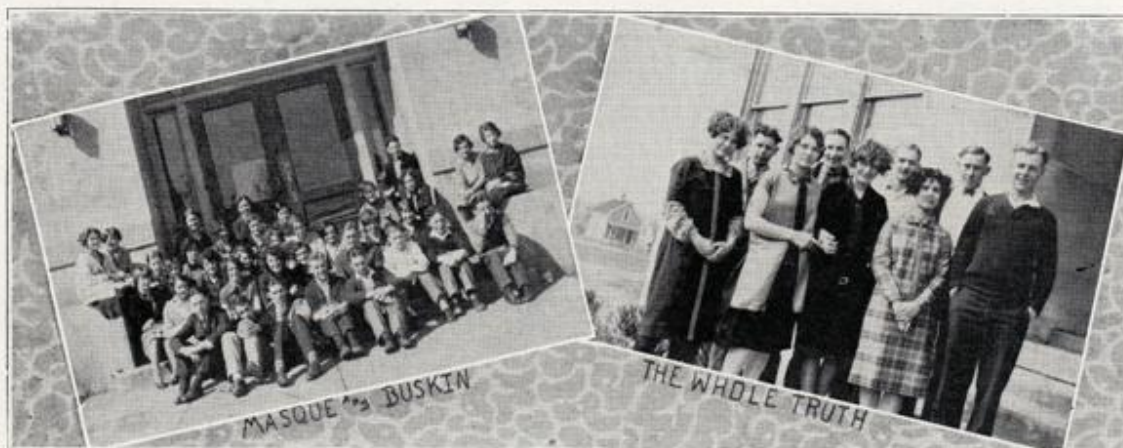

Letty Lythe (a motion picture star)	-----	Ethel Ryan
Donald Swift (a motion picture director)	-----	Maurice Wilson
Roger Shields (a young Chicago blood)	-----	Clyde Stumbo
Lila Wilson (Ethel's friend)	-----	Lorrene Pollard
Sally Otis	-----	LuBetty Merrick
Annie (a maid)	-----	Alice Mann
Sadie Bloom	-----	Sylvia Halleen
Taxi driver	-----	Louis Loria

[Continued on page 96]

• 1926 •

The Masque & Buskin Dramatic Club

Officers

First Semester		Second Semester
Lewis Jones.....	President	Lewis Jones
Janice Blanchard.....	Vice President	Alvina Steussy
Edna Stockig.....	Secretary	Edna Stockig
Helen Houghton.....	Treasurer	James Benson

Critics

Louise Linderblood

Grace Murray

The peppy group of sixty-five young dramatists, known as the Masque & Buskin Dramatic Club, meets every two weeks on Wednesday in the auditorium. The purpose of the club is to study our present plays. In this way the coaching as well as the portraying of the drama is learned. Sometimes the regular program varies and the members are entertained by the club amateurs with either music or readings.

On Thursday, December 17, "The Varsity Coach," a humorous four act play featuring college life, was presented. James Benson and Ethel Wester were the leading characters, portraying two college lovers.

Lewis Jones, Hortense Nunamaker, and Clyde Paxton were college chums who supplied the wit for the audience.

The elderly aunt who came to visit her nephew became engaged to the Professor, to the great astonishment of the young people. These two parts were taken by Gladys Patrick and Edward Peterson.

"Mousie" Kent at last gets the approval of his class-mates by supplying Robert

Selby with some valuable class notes, thereby saving him much embarrassment. These parts were played by Joe Erwin and James Benson. For his reward "Mousie" wins Genevieve, played by Ruth Perrine.

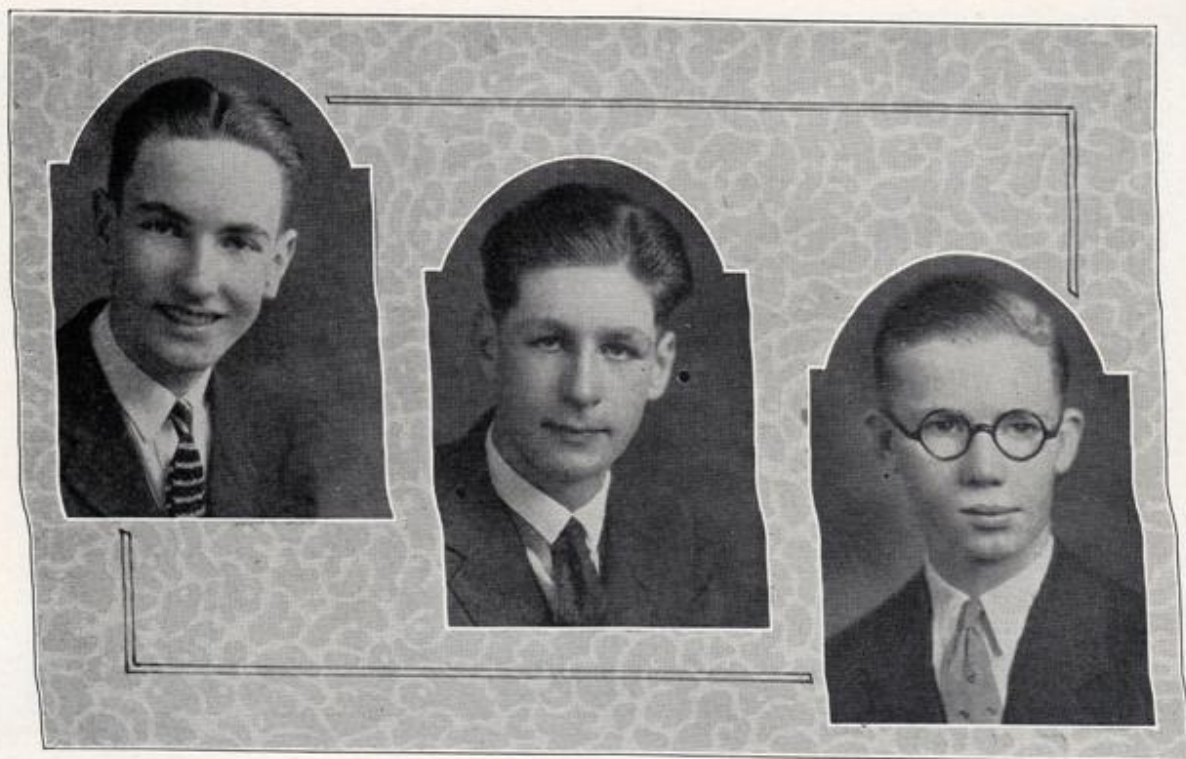

Mary Louise Foster and Alvina Steussy added the necessary touch to the college atmosphere.

"The Whole Truth" was the assembly play given March 10. The cast was:

Amy Ross	-----	Mary Louise Foster
Barclay	-----	Lewis Jones
Phyllis	-----	Marian Yerkes
Mrs. Hathaway	-----	Viola McKinney
Reginald Brooke	-----	Hortense Nunamaker
Montmorency Montmain	-----	Robert Duckworth
Lord Harding	-----	James Benson

The story of the play concerns an heiress, Phyllis Falkner. She receives a large fortune by a peculiar will. Part of the money is hers, but a marriage between her and the son of her benefactor is necessary for him to claim his inheritance.

After many difficult circumstances involving friends and imposters, the happy end is finally attained.

Duckworth

Ehman

Stonehocker

Debate

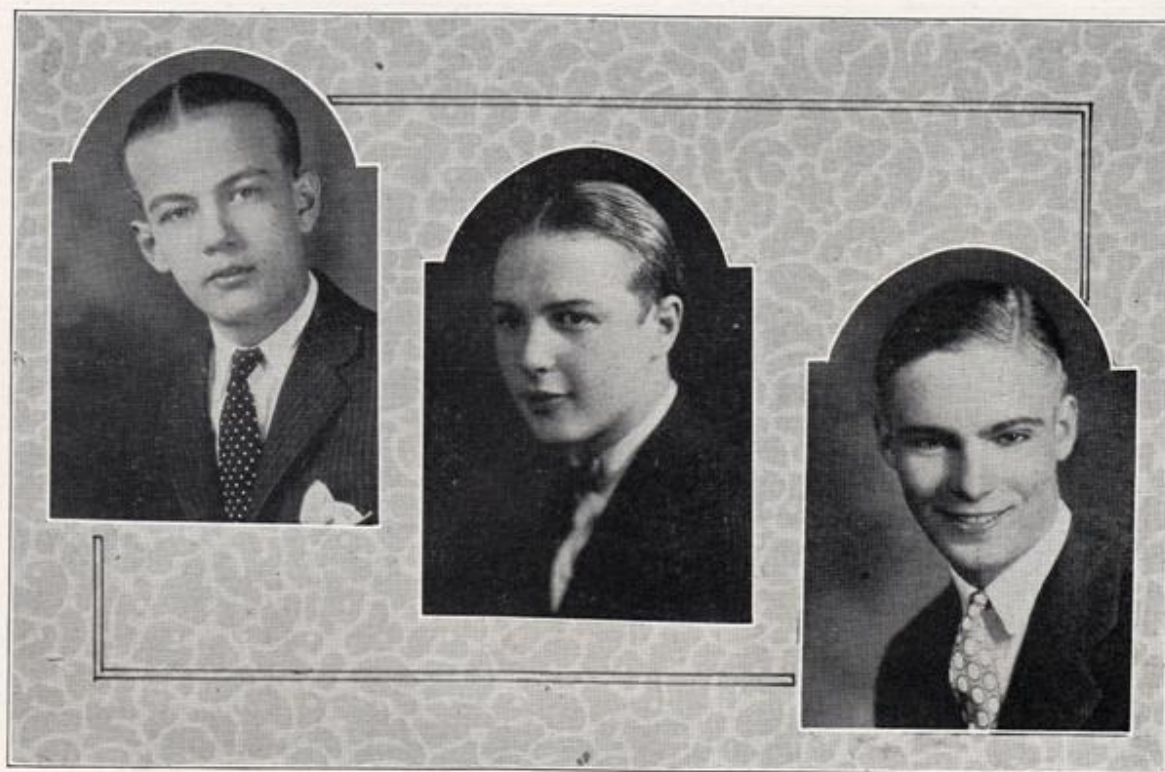

Our debaters this year deserve unusual credit for their splendid work. Although lacking somewhat in experience, they worked earnestly to obtain complete mastery of every question and thus upheld the fine debating reputation which Boone High has had for the past few years.

The season opened with a dual debate with Ames. The affirmative team, consisting of Delancy Silliman, William Schroeder and Wilfred Burke, went to Ames and won the decision there. Those upholding the negative, Robert Duckworth, Paul Ehman, and Doyle Stonehocker, lost at Boone.

The first debate in the state series took place here with Indianola, January 14th. Robert Duckworth, Paul Ehman, and Doyle Stonehocker won by supporting the affirmative side of the question: "Resolved—That the Federal Government should own and operate the coal mines of the United States."

Although the Boone team put up excellent arguments, they lost to the Woodward trio January 28th. This put them out of the State League series.

The last scheduled debate was held during spring vacation at Webster City. The Boone team won a 2 to 1 victory, and in this fitting manner closed the season. However, their honors did not end here, for they were invited to attend the Drake Tournament at Des Moines, an honor which is highly coveted by all the schools of

Silliman

Schroeder

Burke

the state. Here the local team evened the score with Ames by defeating them in the first round. On the second day they lost to Clarion.

In addition to managing capably the affairs of the Senior Class, Robert Duckworth has demonstrated his remarkable ability as a debater. He is a convincing speaker and can always be depended upon to say the right thing at the right time.

As second speaker, Paul Ehman did his part very well. It is suspected that at times he was able to keep the judges in such a good humor that they were inclined to be a little lenient in their decisions.

Doyle Stonehocker has proved his worth as third speaker on the team. His quick wit and ready response helped his colleagues off the "horns" of many a "dilemma." His place will be hard to fill.

It seems that Wilfred Burke has discovered his forte, for he has shone in both debate and declam this year. If you are wise you will not get into an argument with him. He will be going strong by the time you're giving your "lastly."

William Schroeder is a splendid talker and has been a great help to the debating squad. We expect to hear great things of him.

Delancy Silliman took part in only the debate with Ames, but he proved there that he was capable of upholding his family's reputation along that line.

The splendid assistance of the coaches, Miss Boyd and Mr. Thorngren, was greatly appreciated by the members of the team.

Irwin

Silliman

Patrick

Burke

Declamatory

The annual S. L. Moore declamatory contest was held in the auditorium January 20, 1926. The winners of the oratorical, dramatic, and humorous sections respectively were: Delancy Silliman, Gladys Patrick, and Wilfred Burke. Each of these received a ten dollar gold piece. These prizes were offered by the officers and directors of the First National Bank. The other contestants were: Oratorical: Joseph Irwin, William Schroeder, and Fred Ehman; Dramatic: Jane Lloyd, and Alvina Steussy; Humorous: Ethel Wester, Catherine Dornan, and Genevieve Gustafson.

After the departure of Delancy Silliman, Joe Irwin represented the oratorical division at the preliminary contest at Jordan where he won first place. At the annual triangular contest between Ames, Newton, and Boone, held this year at Newton, Boone received one first and two seconds.

Joe Irwin then represented Boone at the sub-district contest at Jefferson.

Miss Boyd, who coached these contestants, deserves much credit.

The Normal Training Club

The Normal Training Club, which is composed of the Senior Normal Training Girls, was organized in October under the direction of the critic, Miss McCreary.

During the year many interesting as well as instructive meetings were held, each having as its purpose something to help the girls in their later work. Under the guidance of the following officers, it is felt that the year was well spent.

PresidentDorothy Burke
Vice PresidentLillian Allen
Secretary and TreasurerSara Hiles
CustodianLucille Peterson
Program ChairmanMarian Yerkes
ReporterEthel Wester

The outstanding affair was a banquet, given on April 15th, in honor of the mothers. Other programs were: "Talk on Handwork in School," by Beatrice Jennings; "Club Work," Mabel Hoyer; "Problems in Rural School," Beatrice Young; and several programs suitable for use in a rural school.

Commercial Club

Officers

First Semester

George Killion.....

Margaret Peters.....

Jennette Mann.....

Elizabeth Wilson.....

President

Vice President

Secretary

Treasurer

Second Semester

Elizabeth Wilson.....

Sylvia Halleen.....

Louise Benson.....

Janice Blanchard.....

Advisors

Miss Crawford

Miss Moore

Miss Young

The purpose of the Commercial Club is to promote higher interest in the business world, and to acquaint us with the qualifications required in business.

Interesting talks were given at meetings, bearing directly on the commercial world. Mr. Brown gave a talk on the value of life insurance, and Mr. Umbreit spoke on the qualities desirable in an office assistant.

In the meetings last fall some of the members told of trips taken during the summer. We heard of a trip in an airplane, of a visit to the grotto at West Bend, sight seeing in Chicago, and many other exciting happenings.

The members presented some plays that stimulated our interest commercially. Judging from Ernest Edson's and George Killion's ability to act as office managers, we think they ought to conduct some very successful enterprises.

The advisors and members are looking forward to a larger and better club next year.

The Social Science Club

Officers

First Semester

Clyde Paxton.....President
Mary Shull.....Vice President
Marie Lindgren.....Secretary
George Johnstone.....Treasurer

Second Semester

Thomas Nutt
Mary Shull
Marie Lindgren
George Johnstone

The Social Science Club was organized in 1924 with Miss Rhodes and Miss Hanson as advisors, and has been successfully carried on ever since.

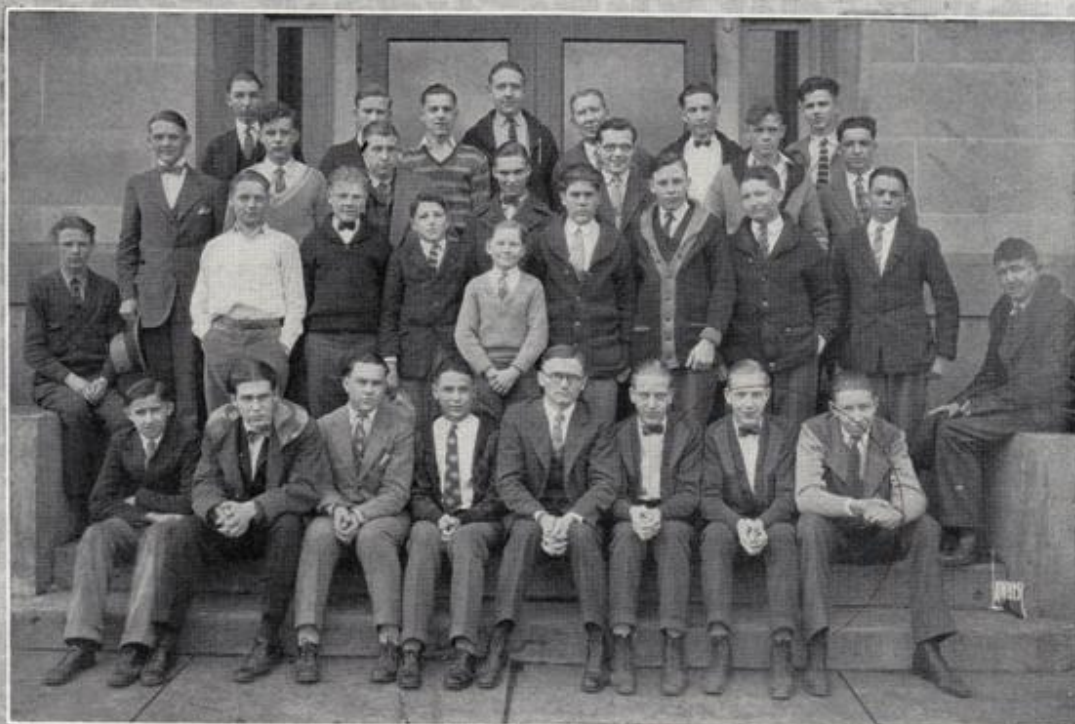

The purpose of the club is to create and promote interest in the study of government and to develop excellence in practical discussions. The programs always tend to have some bearing on history and civics.

During the week before Christmas a beautifully decorated tree was placed in the north corridor, and under supervision of the club, the gifts donated by students and faculty were distributed to the poor of the city.

A most interesting patriotic program was given in memory of Lincoln's birthday.

On February 22, a Colonial Tea was given by the girls of the club, which also proved very successful.

We are hoping the work which has been started will be continued with the same enthusiasm which has been given to it during the past two years.

Hi-Y Club

Goodrich

Cabinet

Conard

Hi-Y

The activities of the Hi-Y Club have met with their usual standard of success this year. The meetings have been well attended and certain special meetings mark the year with accomplishments.

The "Character Commissions" of the high school were organized through efforts of the Hi-Y and Hi-Y-Ettes. The ladies' night and mother-son banquet were the outstanding social events of the club year. Different local speakers, as well as some out of town speakers, have held the attention of club members.

A delegation of about fifteen journeyed to the Sioux City "older boys' conference", there to get advice and material for the coming year.

Mr. Nathan Mack bade farewell to Boone at a picnic at Riveria, tendered by the Hi-Y to the Hi-Y-Ettes. Mr. Harry Goodrich is now county and city secretary in Boone and has supervision of the club, together with Mr. Conard of the faculty.

Hi-Y-Ettes

Health, love, worship and work
 Interest us who do not shirk
 - The
 Y. W. C. A.
 - does
 Endeavor each day
 To help high school girls
 To live the right way,
 Each serving another,
 So live for each other.

OFFICERS

President ----- Mary Shull
 Vice President ----- Kathleen King
 Secretary ----- Gladys Patrick
 Treasurer ----- Dorothy Burke
 Program Chairman ----- Lu Betty Merrick
 Social Chairman ----- Marie Lindgren
 Service Chairman ----- Lillian Allen
 Publicity Chairman ----- Ellen Cray
 Advisors ----- Miss Russell, Miss Turner

This year the Junior High Study Hall has been the scene of many interesting discussions with the Hi-Y-Ettes taking part. Besides their regular meetings with the

[Continued on page 60]

B. H. S. Orchestra

Wilma Hudgel	}	----- Violin	John Jones	}	----- Clarinet
Doris Shull			Henry Meyerman
Nels Gustafson			Wesley Shull	}	----- Saxophone
William Mueller			Harry Short
Geneva Cutler			Harold Lindberg
Lloyd Hardie			Clarence Cameron
Ovilla Brown		----- Banjo	Ellsworth Allen
Naida Valentine	}	----- Mandolin	Gene Giltner
Margaret Welch			Edward Peterson		----- Trombone
Marcella Bean		----- Flute	Kenneth Sullivan	}	----- Drums
Joseph Irwin		----- Cello	John Lindbloom
Justin Gustafson	}	----- Cornet	Margaret Weaver	}	----- Piano
Marvin Franzen			Margaret McMahon
Charles Tyrrell

The orchestra has played for all school plays and declamatory contests. It also played at Jordan for the tri-county contest there.

HI-Y-ETTES—(Continued from page 59)

devotional services, the girls have enjoyed a "little sister" party, a Christmas party, and planned a good time for the Hi-Y boys at Hallowe'en, a compliment which was returned by a trip to the Y. M. Camp during Christmas vacation. One of the really big things which the Hi-Y-Ettes and Hi-Y have jointly undertaken is the organization of the five commissions which discuss problems of high school life. The officers, under the leadership of Mary Shull, have worked hard to make the year successful.

B. H. S. Band

Justin Gustafson
Marvin Franzen
Charles Tyrrell
Harold Warren
Ralph Reed
Harold Anderson
Edward Dorman
Fred Noland

} ----- Cornet

John Jones
Henry Meyerman

} ----- Clarinet

Wesley Shull
Harry Short
Harold Lindberg
Clarence Cameron
Marion Easton
Gene Giltner
Ellsworth Allen

} ----- Saxophone

Edward Peterson
Robert Tillson

} ----- Trombone

Howard Tillson ----- Bass

Howard Smith ----- Mellophone

Kenneth Sullivan
John Greenley

} ----- Drums

The band has furnished music and pep for all the home basketball and football games and for other school affairs. Several members of the organization helped back the team at Ottumwa. Assisted by Mr. Baker and Justin Gustafson, Mrs. Mann has made of this organization a great success.

The · Scroll

"Pickles"

'Cast

Glee Clubs

· 1926 ·

The Glee Clubs

The Glee Clubs this year were organized under the supervision of Miss Kent. They were separated into three divisions, consisting of the Junior-Senior girls group, the Sophomore girls group, and the Senior High boys group. Each of these appeared at least once in public during the first semester.

The feature of the year's work was "Pickles," the musical comedy which was very successfully presented on April 9. The leading characters, Ilona and J. Jennison Jones, played by Mary Louise Foster and Lewis Jones, were favorites, winning much praise for their singing and acting. Gladys Posey took the part of an aristocratic Englishwoman, Lady Vivian, very well; and at the end of the play, having found her long lost daughter, married Mr. James Pennington, portrayed by John Lindbloom. Isabelle Dunlap charmingly took the part of June, the daughter of Mr. Pennington. Her penniless lover, Arthur Nelson, soon became wealthy by selling some of his paintings to Mr. Jones. Marvin Capps, as the gypsy king and father of Ilona, and Lloyd Anderson, as Hans Meier, the proprietor of the Inn, were also interesting characters. Valiant Captain Kinski and his two assistants, Bumski and Rumski, added much humor to the production. These parts were very well taken by Gene Giltner, Harold Schroeder, and Maurice Wilson.

Senior High Radio Club

The Boone Senior Hi Radio Club has completed a very successful year. The members have given some very interesting reports on all subjects pertaining to the transmitting and receiving of radio.

The club has been represented at the Des Moines Radio Show and the Radio Short Course at Iowa State College.

One of the achievements this year was securing the license for the amateur broadcasting station owned and operated by the club. This was obtained from the Department of Commerce at Washington, D. C. The call is 9-B. S. L., and the station expects to put Boone Hi on the map when it comes to radio.

The members are:

Mr. H. L. Cunningham	-----	Sponsor
Andrew Ripley	-----	President
Gilbert Markman	-----	Secretary
Harold Smith	-----	Treasurer
Tom Case	-----	Reporter

Chester Gribben
Paul Ehman
Ernest Edson
Harold Nutt
Charles Tyrrell
Donald Dolk
George Johnson
Otto Bockwoldt

Ray Ohge
Art Herman
Glen Anderson
Virgil McVicker
Earl Jacobson
Edward Herriott
Howard Wirtz
Dean Dawdy
Leonard Grabau

Carl Buzzell
Charles Laub
Lloyd Anderson
Marvin Franzen
Dean Harper
Harry Jacobson
Elmer Wilson
Fred Everett