The Student Council was organized last year by Mr. Van Ness, but it was not very active. However, this year, such an organization was found to be needed to help the administrative officers in sponsoring activities which concern the student body generally. This council has held regular meetings during the last year.

Quill and Scroll

For the first time since the organization was introduced in Boone High School, the Quill and Scroll Honorary Journalistic Society has sponsored an active chapter in Boone. At a meeting held at the "Y", the officers elected for this past year were:

President	Dorothy Honnold
Vice President	Ruth Kirk
Secretary and Treasurer	Marjorie Peterson
Reporter	Dorothy Schmidt

Members of this society feel that much has been accomplished at their meetings and hope that greater interest will be stimulated in the club and better journalistic writing result.

Programs for the year included a banquet, news meetings, social hours and talks by representative journalists.

One special feature of the year was a talk by George Gallup of Drake University. Professor Gallup is head of the Drake School of Journalism, and founder of "Quill and Scroll."

Sponsors for the year 1929-1930 were Mrs. Zoe Stevens and Miss Florence Truxell.

Declamatory

-A great deal of interest was shown this year in the annual S. L. Moore Declamatory Contest. This activity requires a considerable amount of work, and the winners had to put forth every effort in order to emerge victorious.

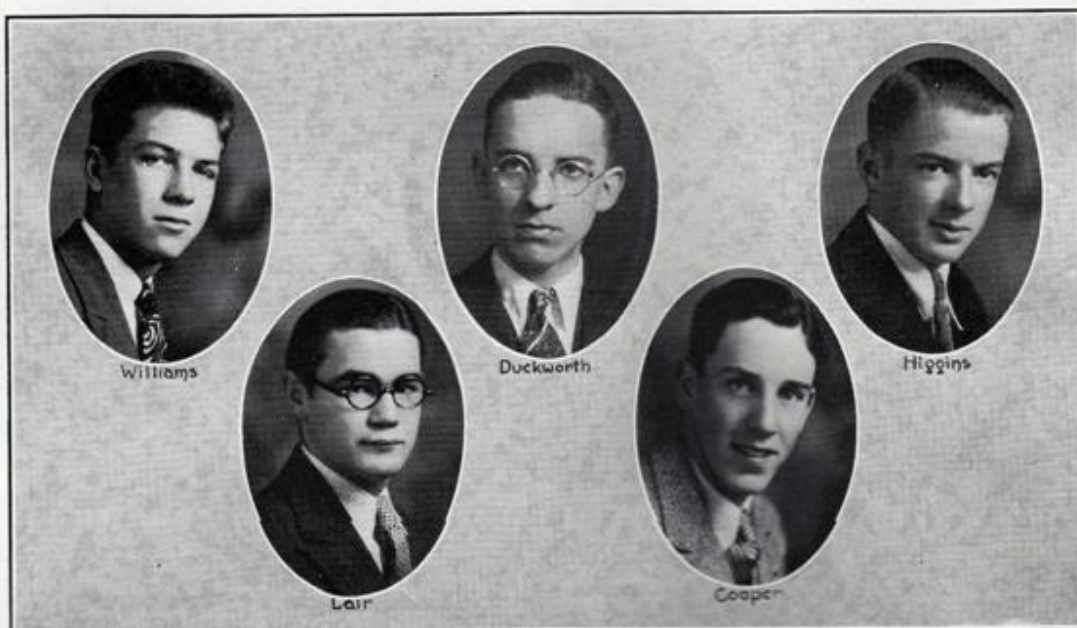

A new method of holding tryouts was inaugurated this year. Everyone was given a chance to give his selection in public, either before a dramatic club or an assembly, in this way gaining experience in appearing before audiences.

In the oratorical division, Frank Ehman, Loran Lair, and Ruth Williams, were entered, with Ruth winning first place.

Willis Cooper, Donald Duncan, Emmatine Anderson, and Ruth Petit were the representatives in the dramatic division. Donald was the victor.

The humorous section was presented by La Verne Adix, Charlene Batty, Geneva Cole, and Inez McClelland. La Verne gained the judges' decision.

The three winners were entered by Miss Cook, the coach, in the sub-district and state contests, where they met with some success. Donald and Ruth each advanced to the third contest, while La Verne was eliminated in the sub-district meet.

Debate

Boone High School's debate squad this year completed one of the most successful periods of debating that has occurred in Boone forensic circles for a number of years. Having a full squad of experienced debaters including, Willis Cooper, Loren Lair, George Higgins and Richard Williams, Coach Thorngren had prospects of a fine year, and a number of debates with various schools were scheduled.

The system of two man teams, inaugurated two years ago, is now used by all the High Schools in the state. This is an advancement in debating which is worthy of praise. Having less men on the team, it gives more time to each individual participant, stimulates research work, and allows the debaters to fully develop and prove the specific issues of the debate. This system will, no doubt, continue to be used in the future.

There were ten men interested in debate this year, although only five participated in interscholastic debates. Many practice debates were held for the other members, and experience was gained which will help them in their debate work later. A plan, although not developed this year, is being worked out by which members of the second debate squads of Webster City, Ft. Dodge, and Boone will stage a round robin tournament, while the first squads are entered in the Drake Tournament. This should prove helpful, and give real experience to new debaters.

Frank Ehman, Paul Fritch, Waldo Wheeler, Kenneth Dodge, and Edwin Duckworth were members of the second squad who will be expected to carry the brunt of the schedule next year.

Besides the regular season debates, the boys debated before the Social Science Club, the Woman's Club, and the Rotary Club. Boone entered the Drake Tournament, but unfortunately the boys were called on to debate with a team which they had met only the preceding week. They were put out of the running in the first round. The debate squad has accepted an invitation to compete in the Cedar Falls Tournament held April 9, 10, 11, and 12.

The record for the past two years includes 16 wins out of 22 debates.

As to the personnel of the squad:

Richard Williams, a debater of three years' experience, this year performed at his best and demonstrated how a negative debater should argue.

Edwin Duckworth, although participating in only one debate, was a valuable man and will be the mainstay in next year's team.

George Higgins again proved himself to be an able extemporizer, and a popular debater with his audiences.

Willis Cooper, serving his second year as first affirmative speaker, was always a steady debater and carried his burden well.

Loren Lair is another three year man who deserves much credit for the burden he has accepted in planning team arguments, co-ordinating and organizing research, and stimulating the industry and interests of his fellow debaters. He also served most capably in the capacity of second affirmative speaker.

The boys are especially grateful to their coach, Mr. Thorngren, whose help and encouragement have meant much to them during the season.

The Commercial Club was organized in order to teach the Commercial students of Boone High School the practical interests of the business world, and to bring before them modern business methods.

To do this, the programs have been so arranged that prominent business men of the city have been able to give them instructive talks on their various lines of work. Music and readings also helped to complete the programs.

In the line of social events this organization has not been so very active. However, a very enjoyable "weiner roast" was had during the first semester.

Motto: "The life given us by nature is short, but the memory of a well spent life is eternal."

Exceptional programs and experience in teaching have made this a very successful year for members of the Normal Training Club.

Early in the fall and during spring vacation the girls had the opportunity to observe and practice teaching in both city and rural schools. On alternate Thursdays after school, club meetings were held. Talks by the County Superintendent, alumnae, and other outside speakers, special holiday programs and a picnic were planned for entertainment at the meetings.

With the money earned from selling food at football games, the club purchased six books which were presented to the school library.

It has been the aim of this club to further educate its members along economic and governmental lines.

Many instructive programs were arranged for the club this year. Two of the feature programs were a debate by the Boone High School Debate Team, and a mock trial put on by the various members of the club. This trial showed the impanelling of the juries and all of the different phases of a present day court trial.

The club also had charge of the Christmas tree placed in the hall, and sponsored a very instructive assembly program on Lincoln's birthday.

This club was organized for the purpose of making a complete study of the science of aviation, its practical application and its possibilities.

To accomplish this purpose many speakers, who have made a study of this science, have been secured to talk before the club. Magazines have been purchased with the club's funds, these magazines being available to club members only. Studies and reports have also been made by the members to the club, and many splendid programs have been enjoyed.

The programs have been instructive and beneficial. The club members have heard many interesting speakers, and have enjoyed readings and music on their programs also.

The social events included a party once each month; a Little Sister Party, and a Gentlemen's Night.

Senior High Glee Clubs

The work of the Senior High glee clubs this year culminated in a Sacred Concert presented on Good Friday, a sort of entertainment never before attempted in our school. By virtue of its success and the high type of music it offered, it may be made an annual affair.

A mixed chorus of seventy members, an integral part of the concert, was organized only this year. The chorus was trained by Miss Sievers and Mr. Fields, and taught the revived art of singing a cappella (without accompaniment).

Music by the orchestra was also included in the program which was as follows:

The programs provided for Masque and Buskin meetings during the past year were always interesting in their variety. Early in the year a short play was given by five of the members; reports were read on the Russian stage and the early American stage; Frederick Schwartz discussed the stage and the poems of his native country, Germany; and modern plays were read and readings were given.

The members of this club in the cast of "Second Childhood" were Verlyn Forbes, Margaret Alexander, Esther Cruikshank, Inez McClelland, Robert Sutton, and Clarence Brogden.

"Help Yourself"

The well-known worm turned in the short modern play, "Help Yourself", presented at assembly by members of the Masque and Buskin dramatic club. The worm, in the person of one Andy Stoker, was a generous, hard-working clerk who let all his friends help themselves, until he thought he had money—then he turned. He told everyone what he thought of him; broke his engagement with Edith; and upon finding out that Edith's younger sister Betty had made him think he had money just to see the fun, offered her a proposal of marriage. She accepted; she had wanted that, too. This play was presented through the courtesy of "The Country Gentleman".

The cast was as follows:

Edith, a modern girl.....	Mary Westfall
Andy, her steady.....	Max Shrock
Betty, her younger sister.....	Sarah Fox

The B. H. S. Players have as their aim and desire to develop interest in dramatics by taking part in them and by studying them.

This aim is accomplished by the programs which are sponsored, and in which the members of the club are expected to participate.

To become eligible for membership in the club one must first be voted on favorably, and then he must try out before a board consisting of four teachers and two members from each club.

Instead of each club putting on a public play as they have in the past, this year it was decided to combine the talent of both clubs and present one play. This was done and the play entitled "Second Childhood" proved successful.

“The Heart of a Clown”

The assembly play which the B. H. S. Players presented this year was “The Heart of a Clown”, an autumn fantasy. It was a high type of play; one in which the theme was presented in an unusual way. The scene was laid in a gypsy camp in the woods, where with the help of a fortune teller the lovely Columbine works out her own fate, winning final happiness with the man she loves.

The cast, which was coached by Miss Harris and Miss Whannell, follows:

The Clown	Willis Cooper
Columbine	Grace Pollard
Harlequin	Howard Boak
Fortune Teller	Agnes Cordell

"Second Childhood"

This year it was decided to present only one public play, choosing the cast from the combined talent of the two dramatic clubs. The experiment proved most successful from every standpoint.

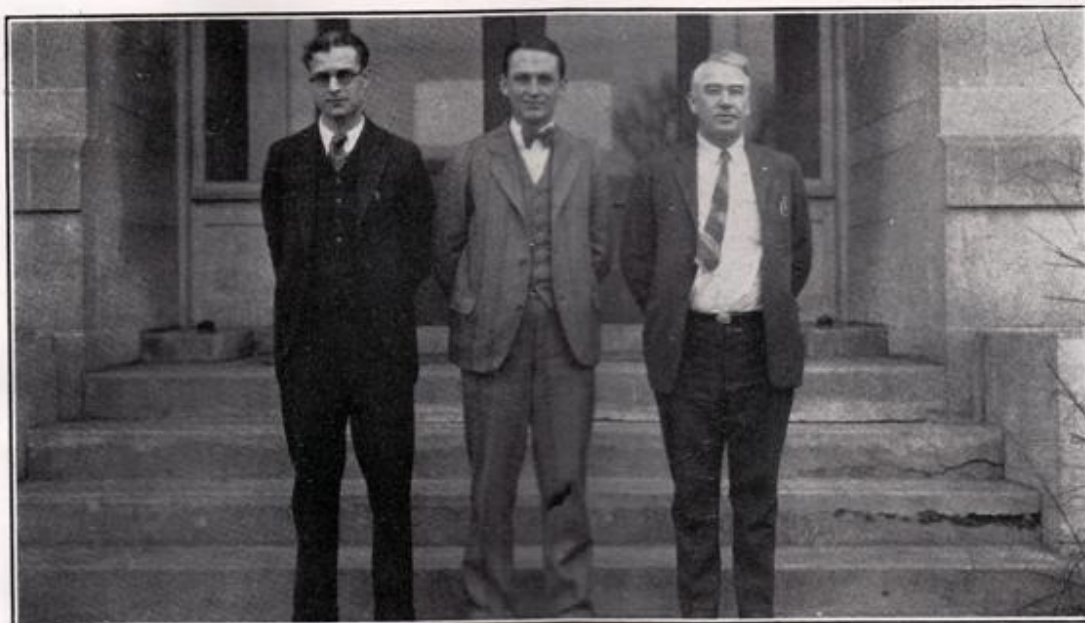

On February 28, the farce "Second Childhood" was presented to a large and appreciative audience. In this play a bottle of the "elixir of youth", which Professor Relyea believes he has finally compounded, causes many complications which keeps the audience laughing from the first scene until the final curtain.

The following cast, which was exceptionally well balanced, was coached by Miss Harris:

Professor Relyea	Donald Duncan
Mrs. Wellsmiller, his sister	Margaret Alexander
Sylvia, his daughter	Verlyn Forbes
Phillip Stanton, his assistant	Willis Cooper
General Burbeck	La Verne Adix

ATHLETICS

HAROLD FISHER

JAMES IRWIN

Coaches

COACH HAROLD FISHER

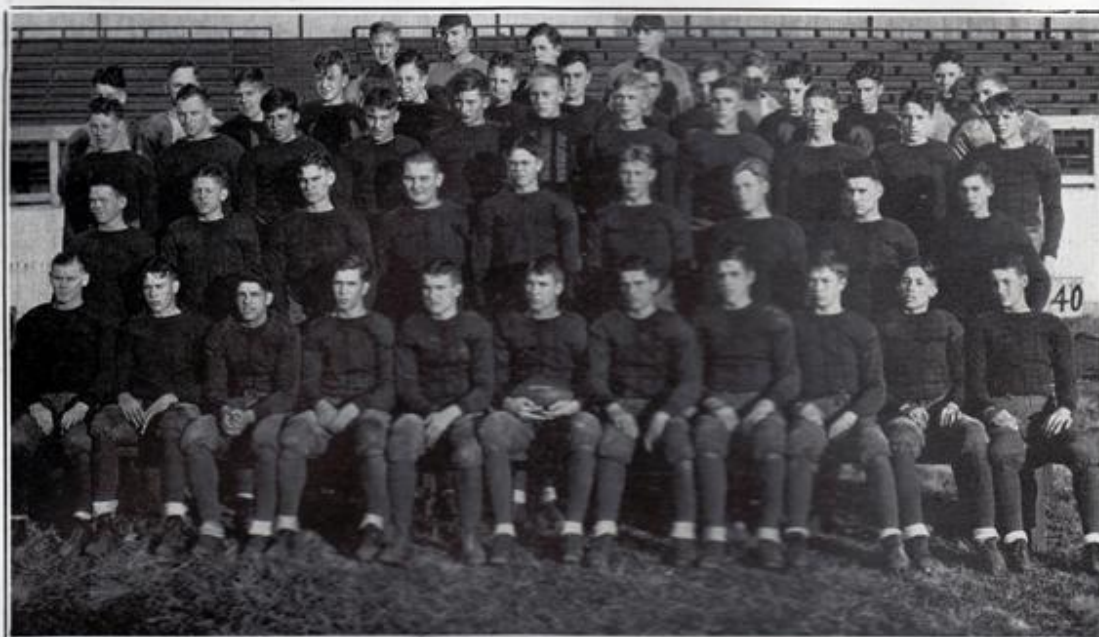

Mr. Fisher, coaching his second year at Boone High, has upheld his reputation as the tutor of splendid football and basketball teams. Coach Fisher is of the highest type, both as a coach and as a man, and he affords an excellent example for high school athletes to follow. "Bud" will no doubt produce high class teams at Boone High next year as he has some fine material coming on.

COACH JIMMIE IRWIN

Mr. Irwin is the man who trains the Junior High boys in athletics. In other words, he gets them ready to become varsity material, only to see some one else take his proteges and develop them when they are ready for high school competition. In addition to his Junior High work, Mr. Irwin has developed some excellent swimmers, and his teams have been consistent winners.

RAY LAMB, ASSISTANT COACH

Ray's athletic career began at old Boone High, where he starred in football and basketball. Later he attended Coe College, where he was a main cog in Coe's teams. Ray deserves much credit for the teams put out by Boone, because he has worked hard with the boys and gives all he has. When he isn't coaching, Mr. Lamb spends his time teaching the Junior High folks science.

Football Season

Coach Fisher, starting one of the most strenuous football schedules ever attempted by Boone High School, was faced with the task of building a new team, having but one regular as a nucleus.

COACH FISHER

The team opened the season auspiciously by defeating Eldora Training School 32 to 0. The next two games with Webster City and East Waterloo, respectively, resulted in ties, due to the fact that Boone failed to take advantage of the breaks afforded her.

The next week the Newton team, with its fast charging line and clever backfield, carried home the well earned score of 9 to 0.

A week later the revived and fighting Treadors displayed a splendid brand of football when they defeated the "Dodgers" 6 to 0. Billy Rule thrilled the fans when he scored a touchdown on the opening kick-off.

The well-known "jinx" still remained with us when the "Little Cyclones" took a 6 to 0 victory.

On November 17, Boone, playing heads-up football, surprised the highly touted Roosevelt crew, defeating them 6 to 0.

On Turkey day, playing in the midst of intense cold and snow, Boone held the victorious Marshalltown Bobcats to one of the lowest scores of their season, 15 to 0. Boone probably played the best game of the year, showing splendid spirit and co-operation.

Captains

Capt. NOEL MORGAN

One of the big men of the line, "Morg" was a determined player, with lots of scrap. His punts aided the team many times in starting off the onslaught. Next year's captain will have a good example to follow in Noel.

Capt.-Elect WHEELER

Tackle

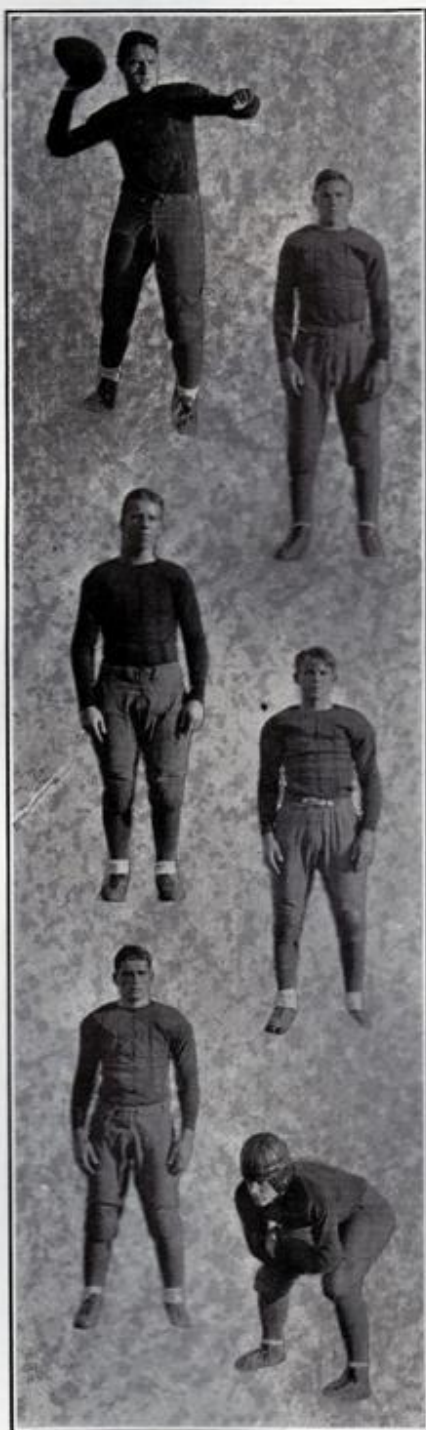

The squad used good judgment in selecting Waldo as their Captain. He is a tireless fighter and should make a fine leader for next year's eleven.

VAUGNIAUX Trainer

Darrel was the "ever ready", willing at all times to do all he could to help. In addition he was always cheerful and created a happy atmosphere around the dressing room. Coach Fisher must look hard to find a trainer who will be as good as Darrel.

RULE, H. B.

Senior

Billy, fleet-footed half, was at his best in end runs and running back punts. His dash in the Ft. Dodge game proved his ability in open field running. Bill was an inspiration to his teammates. He was placed on the all-state honor roll.

DETTMAN, H. B.

Junior

"Ock", a shifty back, possessed plenty of ability as a broken field runner. He was a good passer and a deadly tackler. He should be at his best next year.

SPURGEON, F. B.

Junior

"Otie", the hard hitting fullback, was probably the best blocker on the squad and he was also a splendid tackler. "Otie" is fast and carries the ball with uncanny ability.

BRIGGS, Q. B.

Junior

"Chey", the midget quarterback, more than made up for his small stature by his spirit, fight, and head-work. He was a good field general and handled punts in fine form. Next year's team will have a good man in Briggs.

CANAKES, Guard

Senior

"Louie", the backbone of the line, was "up and at 'em" on every play. He was a fierce tackler and a fine blocker. "Louie" made all-conference and was placed on the all-state honor roll.

RUSSELL OLSON

Senior

Sometimes called "Powerhouse" Russ, was one of the hardest hitting line plungers in the state. He gave our opponents plenty to worry about both in offense and defense. It will take a good man to fill Ole's shoes next season.

HORNS, End

Senior

This was "Al's" first year, but he demonstrated that he had that good old Boone High fight. "Al" had plenty of determination, and seldom a play got around that end.

W. THOMPSON, End

Senior

Bill, the fastest end on the squad, proved his ability on more than one occasion. He has been out for football four years and this alone proves that he is a never tiring worker, a trait that will help Bill in later life.

THOMPSON, Guard

Senior

Arnold probably possessed as much or more determination than any other man on the squad. He was a ferocious tackler, and it took a good man to carry him out of the line.

WILLIAMS, Center

Senior

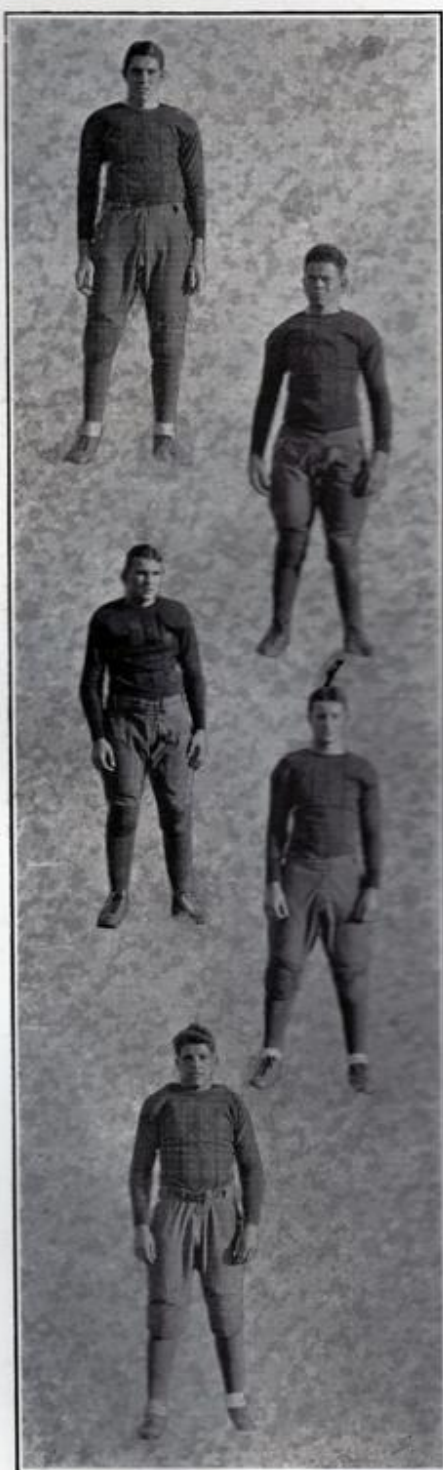

Dick, in his first year of football, developed rapidly. He was an accurate passer, fast charger, and a hard tackler.

AUSTIN, Center

Senior

Pivot on the squad for two years, and a tireless worker both offensively and defensively.

ROGERS, End

Junior

Joe, the lanky end, was at his best in catching passes. He was a good blocker and covered punts well. Joe will be back next year and should prove dangerous to all opponents.

WOODRUFF, End

Senior

"Woody" was a "fighting fool." He was a tough, hard tackler, and caught passes in splendid form. "Woody" worked hard throughout the season.

SUTTON, Guard

Junior

Bob was the husky guard with a lot of talk and scrap. He was a hard charger, determined and aggressive. Bob will be a big help to next year's team.

STURTZ, End

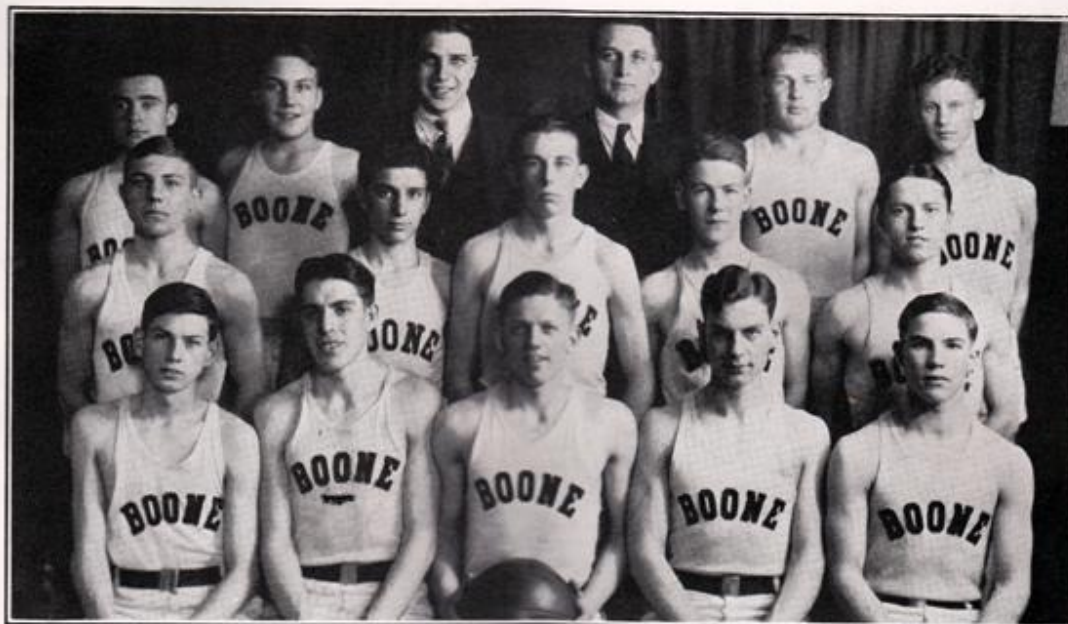

Senior

"Les" possessed the determination that we all like to see. He could tackle hard and block just as well. He liked the going when it was the toughest.

O'BRIEN, F. B.

Sophomore

Jerry, Sophomore fullback, was a furious tackler and one of the best fullbacks in Iowa. With this year's experience and more size he should "go big" next year.

The Season

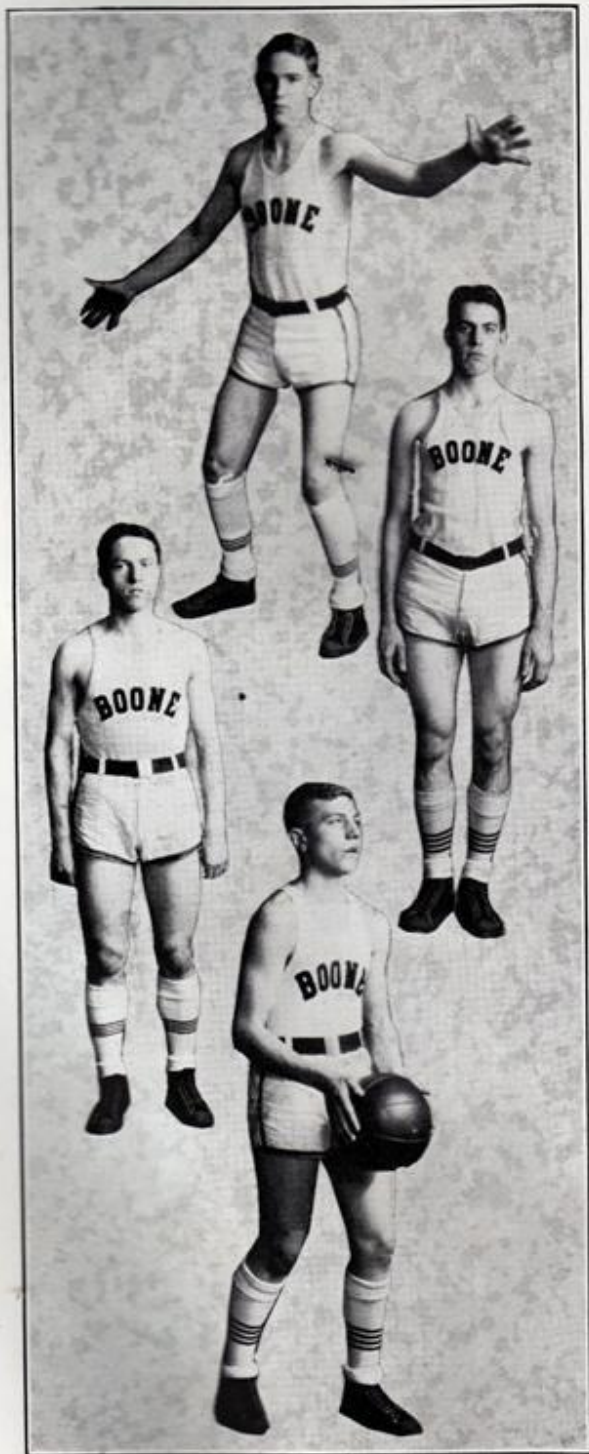

The 1929-30 basketball season was anything but successful at the start. Before long the boys became aware of the fact that the trouble lay with them. Overcoming their discouragement and lack of confidence, they played a fine brand of basketball the rest of the season, showing the good old Boone High spirit, with every man loyal to the team and to his coach.

In the district tournament, Boone met with an unexpected defeat, after leading by a score of 24 to 13 with six minutes to play.

As a whole the season was quite successful, and showed what loyalty and co-operation can do for a team.

CAPTAIN OLSON: "Russ", our heady forward, captained his team well. He always came through in a pinch and will be missed by all in next year's line-up.

DETTMAN, Guard

Although new at the court game, Oscar developed into a very excellent guard. He played a great game on the defense, and advanced the ball in a fine manner. "Ott" has been chosen captain for the second semester of next year.

ROGERS, Center

Joe, the tallest man on the team used his height to much advantage, especially under the opponent's basket. Joe was always a scoring threat. He aided his mates much by his ability to continually get the tip-off. Joe will captain the team next semester.

RULE, Forward

Billy's greatest asset was his fine spirit and fight. He was a great fighter and many times was forced to leave the game on this account. Rule, in a way, was handicapped because of his size, but many times pivoted around his larger opponents to score.

QUINN, Forward

"Chuck's" big asset was his eagle eye. Also, he handled the ball with good form. A number of times "Chuck" scored points when points were needed. With added size and confidence, "Chuck" should make a real forward.

WINGO, Guard

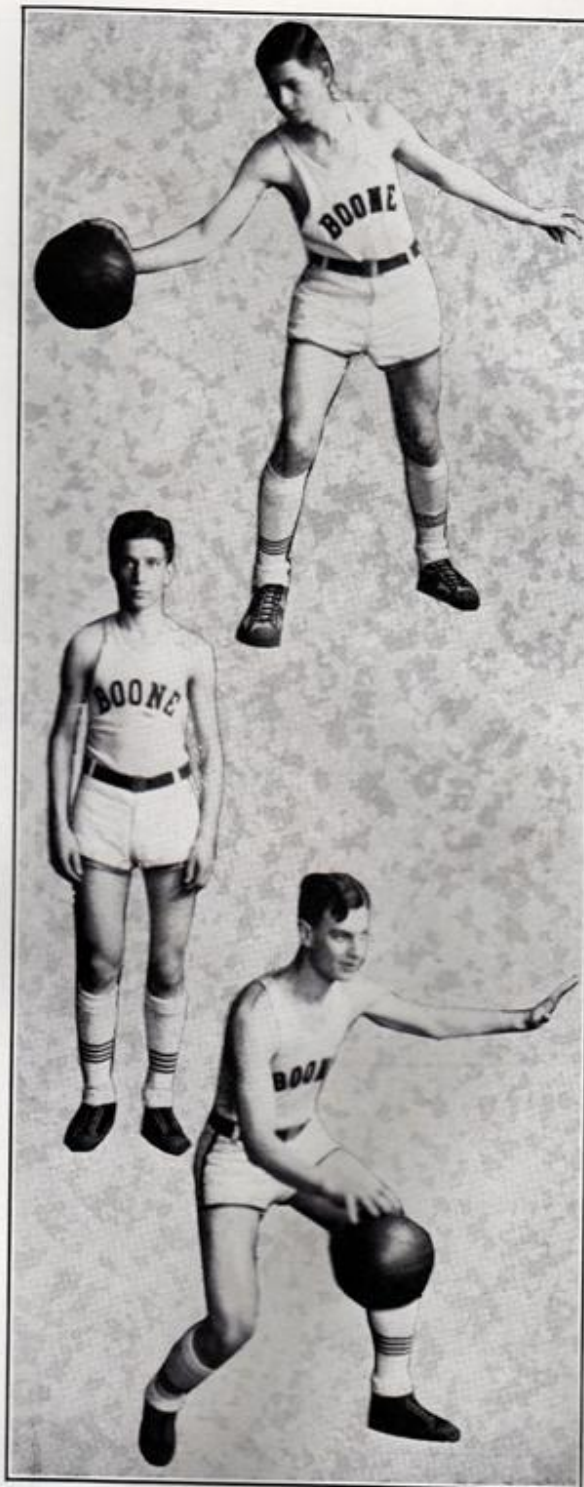

"Kenney," although a new man at the game, developed into a dependable guard. He was quick at solving enemies' plays, and also proved to be a good shot. "Kenney" barely missed winning his letter this year, but it is a good bet he will win one this coming season.

CANAKES, Forward

A bit smaller than we usually like to have them, Pete more than made up for his lack of size by his fight and his ability to hit the net. Canakes was another who just missed his letter, but should be at his best next year.

THOMPSON, Guard

"Tommy", the big guard, was a splendid floor man and a bear on the defense. He had a very uncanny eye for the basket and more than once his one hand shots pulled the game out of the fire.

Boys' Class Basketball

The purpose of class basketball is to provide an intra-mural sport for all students, and to develop future material for the varsity squad.

The Swimming Season

This past season proved to be a very successful one for Boone High's mermen. They gave Newton two bad beatings, lost to East High (Des Moines) by three points, and to Roosevelt High by a small margin.

This year's team was the strongest (outside of diving) that Boone has had since the opening of the pool. Atherton broke the pool record in the forty yard dash in 31.1 seconds. Horns broke the record in the hundred yard dash in 62.2.

The following boys were joint winners in the four meets held during the last season: Al Horns headed the list with 38 points. Johnny Spurgeon was a close second with 36 points. Drew Reid scored 29; John Marshall, 27; Louis Nelson, 22; Atherton (who participated in only two meets) 20; Morry Reid, 16; Showers, 10; Alexander, 10; Weston, 11; Ray Smith, 9; Harrigan, 4. Others boys taking part were: Wooten, Kolberg, a promising ninth grade diver, and "Chey" Briggs, who pulled down a total of nine points in the two meets.

This year the boys' inter-class basketball tournament was conducted in a little different manner than in previous years. There were two divisions; namely, the heavyweight and lightweight. The 7's, 6's, 5's, 4's, 3's, and 2's all had one team each in the heavyweight division, while the Sophomore 3's, the 9A's, and 8A's had lightweight teams.

The Senior 6's, captained by F. Caldwell, won the heavyweight tournament. The playing of Smiley and Morgan deserves special mention. K. Bricker and his 9A's captured the lightweight championship.

Almost every game was hard fought, with neither team leading by a large score.

Two groups of boys make up the Boone High swimming squad. One group consists of boys who are old enough and skilled enough to become candidates for the Boone High swimming team. The next group consists of boys who show promise as swimmers. These boys are selected from the Junior High student body, and are carried along with the Senior High squad and coached in the fundamentals of swimming. These youngsters will form a nucleus for the swimming team as soon as they get old enough and strong enough to enter competition.

Back row: V. Fey, S. Case, H. Parrish, E. Brown, M. Pratt, I. Zunkle, C. Davis, M. Whitehill, B. Austin, C. Battey. Next to last row: I. McClelland, H. Hilts, M. Alexander, W. Crary, M. Parrish, E. The class basketball tournament began March first, with the following girls as captains of their teams: Sophomore I, C. Hora; Sophomore II, M. Nelson; Junior III, B. Austin; Junior IV, A. Thompson; Senior V, D. Case; Senior VI, A. Peters; Junior College, D. Honnold.

The scores of the games were as follows:

For the Sophomore I's, J. Fey and V. Peters starred. Although the Sophomore I's were held scoreless, it was the first year of competition for them, and they will be strong opponents in the future. Lorene Seiser showed up as a splendid forward for the Sophomore II's. This team lost their game to the runners-up of the tournament by only two baskets. The Junior III's were put out by the College in the opening round. C. Battey and B. Austin played well for them. H. Pratt and M. Shaeffer did best for the Junior IV's, who lost rather badly to the Senior V's in the semi-finals. The Senior VI's were beaten by the Junior IV's, which was quite an upset. The Senior V's and the Junior College played in the finals, with M. Pratt, D. Case, and M. Parrish starring for the Seniors, and D. Honnold and S. Anderson for the Collegians. The latter team won by one point in a very exciting game.

The Junior College team as winners of the tournament receive monograms, and the others will be awarded numerals. In addition, each captain is given a star.

Girls' Volleyball

This year there was added interest in the volley ball tournament because the Crary Hardware Co., offered a trophy to the winner. This cup, if won three years in succession by the same team, remains their's permanently. The Sophomore I's have the honor of winning it the first year.

The captains for the various teams were as follows:

Sophomore I—J. Jones.
Sophomore II—H. Johnson.
Junior II—E. Peterson.
Junior IV—M. Burke.
Senior V—A. Peters.
Junior College—Violet Fey.

The tournament was begun November 13, the Sophomore II's losing to the Junior College in the opening round. Anderson and Pestotnik played best for Junior College and Johnson, Battey, and Austin for the Sophomore II's. In the second bracket the Sophomore I's came out ahead in their game with the Senior V's. On November 15, the second round was played. The Sophomore I's were victors, beating the Junior College in three close games. E. Hitsman, J. Jones, and V. Anderson did well for the Sophomore I's, and V. Fey, W. Crary, and E. Wirtz for Junior College. The Junior III's beat the Junior IV's in the second game. A Thompson and G. Dutton proved their worth for the Junior III's and M. Parrish and M. Pratt for the Junior IV's. The final game was played November 18 with the Sophomore I's conquering the Junior III's in two close games.

Track

More interest has been aroused in track in Boone High in the past two years than has been shown for several years. This year, over forty boys are reporting regularly for track practice, and the interest is gradually growing until track is becoming a major sport along with basketball and football.

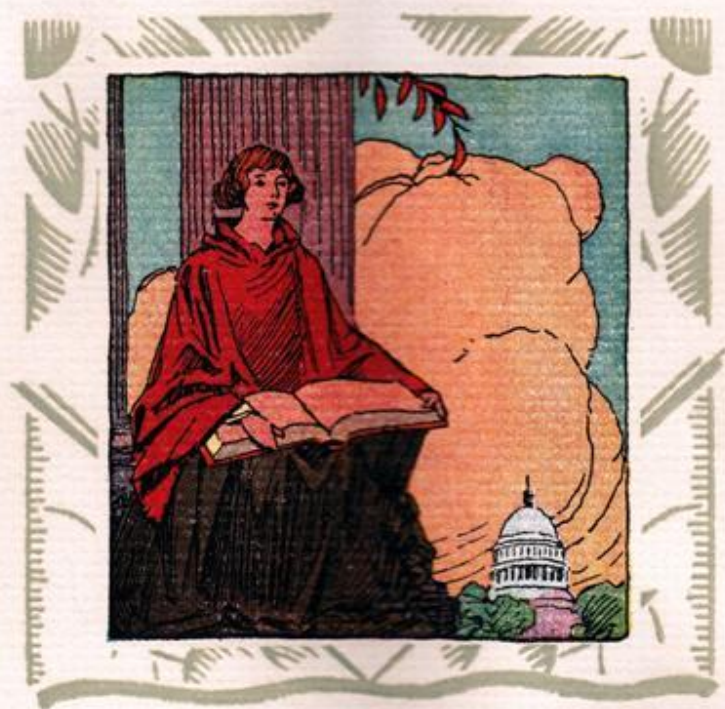

Four letter men from the 1929 squad returned for this year's competition, including Captain Carl Franklin, Max Shrock, William Thompson, and William Rule. The first three are members of last year's crack one-half mile relay team, while Billy is a 440 man and low hurdler. These four veterans will form the nucleus of the 1930 team.

Other boys who have gained considerable experience, but who have not won their letters are, Grant—pole vaulter; Elliott, Easton—hurdlers; Stanley, Clark, and Cameron—one-half mile run; D. Mann—dashes; Wheeler, Williamson, Olson, and O'Brien in the weights. Other promising candidates reporting for the first team who are expected to be first rate cinder artists include L. Nelson and Schall in the mile run; Woodruff, Dettman and Spurgeon, 440 men. The half-mile relay team is expected to be the Toreadors' biggest entry during the season, as every man of last year's team is trying out. The mile relay team will be composed of Rule, Dettman, Wheeler, Spurgeon, Stanley and Grant.

One of the most attractive schedules for a Boone High cinder team to compete in has been arranged as follows:

- April 11—Home Meet, won by the Juniors.
- April 19—Ames dual at Ames.
- April 26—Drake Relays at Des Moines.
- May 3—Conference meet at Ames.
- May 10—Ames dual at Boone.
- May 17—District meet at Marshalltown or Ft. Dodge.
- May 24—State meet at Iowa State College, Ames.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

At 6:30, May 24, 1929, the doors of the gym of Boone High were flung open to the members of the Junior and Senior classes, members of the school board, and last but not least, the teachers. Upon first glance it was impossible to think that this fairy-land was really the gym, for it certainly WAS a fairly-land of balloons and streamers of all colors and sizes, while in the center was a big balloon ready to carry the hopes of every member of the Senior Class up above the clouds.

The guests were seated at nine long tables, which were decorated with lavender and gold tapers, nut cups and baskets of flowers. A delicious four course dinner was served by girls in lavender and gold dresses. During the dinner we were entertained by the Nelson Garrett orchestra.

The program between the courses of the dinner consisted of:

Solo Dance.....Irma North
Clarinet Solo.....Frederick Mauck

Accompanied by Mary Patterson.

After the dinner the following toast program was given:

Following this program all stood and joined in singing the Boone High Loyalty Song.

Then the floor was cleared, and dancing was enjoyed. Promptly at 11:00 o'clock the orchestra played "Home Sweet Home", and of course everybody went directly home and to bed.

QUILL AND SCROLL BANQUET

The Quill and Scroll activities started with a banquet at the Y. W. C. A., Thursday, October 17. Decorations and favors in orange and black carried out the Hallowe'en spirit.

Mrs. Stevens presided as toastmistress and the following program was given:

"Oh! What a dark spooky place! Isn't it scary?"

That was the way the Soph's felt Friday evening, November 1, when they were congregating in the gym for their Hallowe'en party.

After they had unmasked they felt much safer and braver, even brave enough to go through the Chamber of Horrors, a weird and ghostly place. Later everyone was interested in having his fortune told by the fortune tellers, who were masters of their profession. Various games were played, and then partners were drawn for lunch by matching pictures.

After eating a delicious lunch, the guests enjoyed the following program:

Reading.....Ione Zunkel
Songs.....Howard Boak

JUNIOR HALLOWE'EN PARTY

"Who is that?" "What is this person supposed to represent?" "Isn't that a clever costume?" These and similar questions were heard on all sides at the Junior masquerade party, October 25th.

We have proof of the effectiveness of one costume in the story that Jack Tillson, dressed as a flapper, received a ride in a big car with a good-looking man that night. Needless to say, the strange gentleman received a bit of a shock when he first heard the voice of the "fair damsel" at his side.

Jack did not have the only effective costume, however, for prizes were awarded to Paul Crouner, who came as a cook, and Etta Mae Denning, who appeared in a clever costume, which was in style a century ago.

After the guests recovered from the shock of unmasking they played games for awhile. There were fortune-tellers' booths for those who were anxious to learn of their future, and there was a chamber of horrors in which those who like a thrill thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

During the course of the evening the following program was given:

Reading.....	Myrtle Jane Stowe
Dance.....	Irma North and Annabelle Baird
(Accompanied by Jean Sandell)
Popular Songs.....	Evelyn Fisk and Catherine Rutledge

After the guests had devoured quantities of sandwiches, cocoa, pumpkin pie, and apples, they wended their way homeward all declaring that the party was a "howling success."

HI-Y LADIES' NIGHT

The evening of October twenty-ninth was cold and rainy, but nothing could dampen or cool the enthusiasm of the Hi-Y's, who were entertaining their "best girls." In the Hotel Crary at 7:15 o'clock the thirty-five hungry people were ushered into the dining-room and were seated at small tables beautifully decorated with pink roses.

Loran Lair, president of the Hi-Y, acted as toastmaster. He expressed a wish that the annual dinner of the Hi-Y would bring about better co-operation between the boys and girls of the High School.

The program was as follows:

Invocation.....	Mr. Griffith
Toast of Welcome.....	Willis Cooper
Response.....	Margaret Alexander
Warning.....	Mr. Van Ness
Special Music.....	Hi-Y Quartet
Waldo Wheeler, Kenneth Hakes, Willis Cooper, Paul Fritch

At the close of the dinner the party enjoyed a movie at the Rialto.

HI-Y-ETTE GENTLEMEN'S NIGHT

Dragging and pushing, the Hi-Y-ETTE pirates entered the parlor of the Y. W. C. A. with their precious captives at 6.45 o'clock, March 18, 1930.

There were two end tables and one long table decorated with red and white tapers, red pirate ships containing the programs and red treasure chests as nut cups.

While the waitresses, dressed as pirates, served the dinner, Jane Hannum led in the singing of a few peppy songs.

Margaret Alexander, president of the Hi-Y-Ettes, served as toastmistress and the following program was given:

Welcome.....	Jane Halliday
Response.....	Robert Sutton
Piano Selection.....	Jean Ward
Violin Solo.....	Geneva Cutler

Miss Grace Hoover, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. at Ames as the speaker of the evening, gave a very interesting talk on being kidnaped not only by people, but by ideas, advertising, and many other things.

The evening closed with the captives carrying the kidnaped Hi-Y-Ettes home in their automobiles.
