Last fall, fifty boys reported for football, thirty-four ninth-graders and sixteen sophomores. M. Sundell was elected captain of the ninth-graders, and R. Peterson, captain of the sophomores.

The boys were given a thorough drilling in the fundamentals of football. After a couple of weeks of blocking, tackling, charging, and handling the ball, the war began.

It was agreed that the team winning the most games during the season should be the Junior High champion team. The ninth-graders won that title. Outstanding players during the season were: Peterson, Ahrens, Ackerman, Phipps, Dyer, McMahon, Edgerton, Austin, and Laub.

The Junior College Organization

At the beginning of the school year, the students of the Junior College decided by vote to have only one group of officers for both classes. Those chosen were Farr Halliday, President; Chester Nemby, Vice President—both of whom are Sophomores; Gene Thorngren, a Freshman, was elected Secretary-Treasurer. These class officers had charge of all Junior College assemblies and social affairs. The President presided at all meetings and in general saw that all functions ran smoothly. The Vice President was chairman of the Program Committee, and the Secretary-Treasurer, chairman of the Finance Committee.

There were very few changes made in the outside activities of the college. It was decided by the school board to discontinue football until a sufficient increase in the enrollment would justify having it again. However, boys' and girls' basketball teams were organized. The Debate Club and the "Y's Co-Eds" were also continued.

The college is represented on the high school paper, the Bumble "B", and the year book, the Scroll.

Junior College Basketball

COACH LARRY EVANS

COACH LARRY EVANS

If there was any doubt in the minds of Boone sport fans as to Larry's ability as a basketball coach, it has been dispelled by his splendidly coached college team. Larry has the knack of getting the boys to give everything for their coach and team.

JUNIOR COLLEGE BASKETBALL

Starting the season with a comparatively green squad, Coach Larry Evans moulded together a team that won seven out of twelve scheduled games, finishing the Hawkeye Conference in third place.

All of the games were interesting, but there were three that were outstanding. In their small gymnasium, the Earlham Collegians handed the Blue and White an unexpected defeat on their southern tour. Eagle Grove next invaded the den of the Bears, but some hard playing enabled the locals to avenge their early season defeat by a one point victory. Marshalltown downed us 26-25, in a hard fought game. Although Ft. Dodge de-

Junior College Girls' Basketball

At the beginning of the season, the Junior College girls' basketball team practiced on Wednesdays after school. Later, when captains and teams were chosen, practices were held twice a week, all the high school teams being present.

As there were not enough in the Junior College for both Freshman and Sophomore teams it was decided to have but one team represent the school. From this team, Dorothy Honnold, a Freshman, was unanimously elected captain, and much credit goes to her for the development of the winning team.

A squad of nine was chosen, and six of these had had previous experience: Selma Anderson, the only Sophomore, forward; Dorothy Honnold, jumping center; Violet Fey, running center; Elizabeth Wirtz, Winifred Crary, and Frances Cole, guards. The other four, Margaret Shaw, forward; Thelma Luther, jumping center; and Mildred Pestotnik, running center, soon proved their ability in the game.

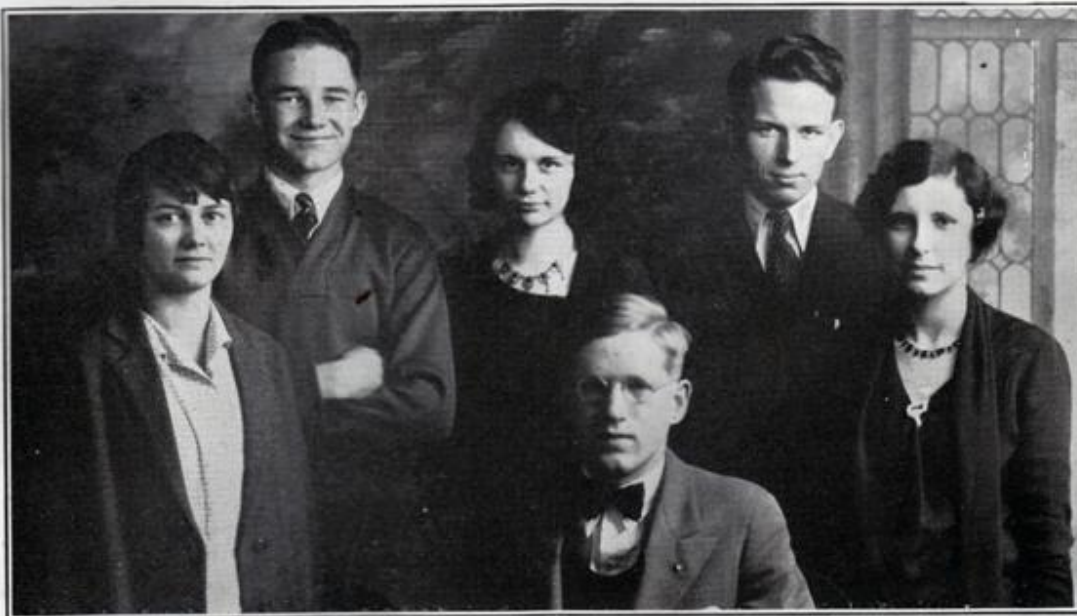

In the tournament, in which the Junior College competes with the high school teams, the College defeated the Junior III's 17-7, and the Sophomore I's 23-0, winning the right to play in the finals. They won the tournament by ousting the Senior V's 13-12, in a very close and thrilling game. As a consequence, the squad will receive blue and white emblems later in the year.

feated us twice, the second game was one of the most thrilling of the season. In the last quarter of this game we trailed by a 25-14 score with five minutes to go, when the Bears started one of those famous rallies. This rally fell short by one point, and they downed us 26-25. However, that game showed the fighting spirit of the Boone team.

Debate

Boone Junior College debates this year were few, but interesting. The question: "Resolved, that the nations of the world should adopt a policy of complete disarmament; except for the necessary police force" was one which required considerable work. The team members, Helen LaShelle, Lucille Vontrees, Jean Heaps, Gene Thorngren, Dick Holcomb and Chester Newby, enjoyed several Saturday afternoons at the I. S. C. Library at Ames, which amply repaid them, they believe, for the hours of hard study.

While all but one of the debaters were inexperienced, they did surprisingly fine speaking and actually went all the way through their constructive arguments.

The first debate with Ft. Dodge was lost by both Boone teams. The affirmative team, composed of Lucille Vontrees and Jean Heaps, travelled to Ft. Dodge and the negative team, Dick Holcomb and Chester Newby, debated at Boone.

The affirmative team, Lucille and Jean, won their debate here with Webster City, and the negative team, Dick and Chester lost at Webster City.

The two debates, mentioned above, were the only ones scheduled, though the team is planning on attending the State Tournament for Junior College Debaters.

Junior College Play

"Lady Windemere's Fan," the play presented by the Junior College, November 22, was of a type somewhat different from the plays which had formerly been given here. It required a large cast and careful staging. The ballroom scene in the second act, especially, necessitated much preparation.

The plot of the play was woven about the pretty, virtuous, and youthfully intolerant Lady Windemere, her husband, Mrs. Erylne, and Lord Darlington. Lady Windemere became convinced that the gossip connecting her husband's name with that of Mrs. Erylne was true, and fled to the rooms of Lord Darlington. Mrs. Erylne was Lady Windemere's mother, a fact known only to Lord Windemere. Mrs. Erylne refused to allow Lady Windemere to be told, knowing that the knowledge could only cause unhappiness for her daughter. The end of the play found Lady Windemere still ignorant of the identity of her new friend, but with a greater understanding and tolerance for those whose lives had been different from hers.

Although all of the cast contributed to the success of the play, Helene Wissler's work as the beautiful, stately and fascinating Mrs. Erylne was especially deserving of praise. Dorothy Honnold's characterization of the talkative Duchess of Berwick also received much commendation.

The 1929-30 Y's Co-Eds are very lucky in being the first college club to organize in the spacious Moore home. The girls have followed much the same plan as last year's club did in attempting to foster friendship and to help in developing well rounded personalities.

At the first meeting in 1929 the year's plans were made and the officers were elected. Following this, a Fireside Party was enjoyed, at which the girls toasted marshmallows (and their toes) around the large fireplace at the "Y".

Several health discussions and an outdoor slide helped brighten the meetings during the winter. A successful five o'clock supper was planned and carried out in honor of the girls' mothers.

The outstanding feature of the second semester was the annual Gentlemen's Night, held in March. In the Spring, the meetings will be spent mostly out of doors on hikes and weenie roasts.

This year the girls have nearly completed a scrap book, of which they are very proud. They plan to pass it on to next year's club, wishing them as much success as the 1930 Y's Co-Eds have enjoyed.

Junior College Society Events

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The night of Hallowe'en was the setting for the first Junior College party. The gym was appropriately decorated in orange and black, pumpkins and corn stalks. Sailors, gypsies, pirates and clowns congregated with the different spirits. A grand march was the first event of the evening, and prizes were awarded to Winifred Crary and Richard Conway for having the most original costumes. Then everyone unmasked, and many amusing games were provided for those who did not wish to dance. Fortunes were told, and later in the evening refreshments were served.

A HOLIDAY

Classes were dismissed the afternoon of January the seventeenth and the collegians and Miss Slosson accompanied the basketball team to Marshalltown for the game. In the afternoon, of course, the team went to bed, but the others toured the city, visiting all the dime stores. After the 31-24 victory for Boone, the students of Marshalltown Junior College entertained the Boone students with a short program. Refreshments were served cafeteria style, and at eleven o'clock good-nights were said. On the way home the more weary students were amused by several college songsters.

Y'S CO-EDS "AT HOME"

The Y's Co-Eds were "at home" to their mothers at five o'clock Sunday, November 24th. When all the guests had assembled, Violet Fey led the way to the dining room. As soon as the places were found at the tables the mothers were introduced by their daughters.

Dorothy Honnold, as hostess, introduced the speakers of the evening: Jean Heaps giving the "Welcome" and Mrs. A. E. Honnold, the "Response." Group singing followed this and then Miss Florence Lebo played a piano solo and Mrs. Kenneth McIlvain entertained with a vocal solo, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur McHose.

At the close of the program the Co-Eds washed the dishes while their mothers became acquainted with each other.

COASTING PARTY

The evening of February thirteenth, the Y's Co-Eds braved the cold and had a sliding party at Herman's Park. After everyone had had enough of this type of amusement, the girls "hooked on" to a car and rode back to Winifred Crary's. There they warmed themselves with hot chocolate, and sang, while waiting for the fudge to cook. When no one could eat any more, farewell songs were sleepily chanted, and the fun was over for the evening.

A PICNIC

After school on April 7th, the Freshman Junior College girls and Miss Slosson piled into cars and went to the Ledges. A weiner roast was soon in progress, and there was much discussion as to equal rations. After the quarreling was over, some climbed to "Table Rock", while the others warmed themselves by the camp-fire. While waiting for the fire to die down, the girls had "visitors," after which they bundled themselves into their cars and sped back home.

WE ENTERTAIN WEBSTER CITY JUNIOR COLLEGE

The Webster City Junior College students were entertained here by the Boone Collegians, April 25th. A girls' basketball game between the two schools was played during the afternoon. Following this everyone went to Herman's Park for a picnic supper. When everyone had had plenty to eat, all went back to the school where some adjourned to the gym to dance, while others went to the Swimming Exhibition. Later in the evening light refreshments were served and the party was brought to a close.
