THE SCROLL 1946

Publication of the Senior Class of Boone High School
Boone, Iowa

Foreword

In athletics we call it teamwork; in music it is harmony; in government—democracy. Lack of it brings war; with it universal peace is possible. CO-OPERATION—a powerful remedy for the world's evils.

This 1946 Scroll has recorded our school life made possible only by co-operation among students, teachers, and citizens. Between these covers we have striven to give a picture of Boone High at work and play.

May co-operation as exemplified in our school and government unite all the world in the building of a lasting peace. It is to this hope that we dedicate our 1946 Scroll.

Our new principal, Mr. Clifford H. Beem, has brought to Boone High School an ambition very much in line with the theme of the 1946 Scroll, "cooperation." Mr. Beem's ambition is to increase vocational and educational guidance, to enlarge the speech and debate program, and raise the scholastic standing of the school.

Mr. Beem received his M. A. degree from the University of Iowa and did further graduate study at Iowa, Chicago, and Colorado Universities. He is a member of the Christian Church, Rotary Club, and is vice-president of the Central District of the Iowa State Educational Association. Mrs. Clark, better known as "Betty," is Mr. Beem's secretary.

Senior Diary...

Dear Diary:

Well, I made it! Spring of 1946, and I'm about to graduate. Of course, I'm going to miss my old classmates because even if I do say so, the class of '46 has established itself in our local "hall of fame."

For instance, there was the time that Jim Fitzgerald, while only a junior, was chosen as the typical teen-ager of Boone High. "The Chicago Daily Sun," sponsor of the contest, published Jim's picture and the story of his achievements throughout the nation.

Dwight Nelson, proving that farming is as scientific and profitable as any other trade, also made his debut in the city of Chicago. He received a gold watch and a scholarship in any college he prefers, all this through his activities as a 4-H member.

Now, don't get the idea, diary, that my class doesn't have a humorous side. It does, by all means. Whom did the Pep Club call on when they needed a great artist for their skits during a pep meeting? Why, Skinny Anderson, of course! Now, I ask you, can just anyone get up on the stage and give such a natural performance as Skinny does?

Senior Class Officers

Reed Blosser Welin

Then there were our two top comedians, Don Bergendahl and Jim Shaw. On the stage they were completely at home; and if a crisis arose, the wits of Bergendahl and Shaw scurried to the rescue.

Right along with stage plays came the production crew. If there were no "men behind the scenes" just how successful would our class plays have been? Take, for example, Harry Echternach, lighting manager, and John Munro, who handled stage settings. Harry always carried with him the "pause that refreshes"—a carton of cokes. He had several "pauses."

Oh, yes, diary, we were quite a frivolous class, but let's get back to the accomplishments performed.

My new friend, Maralyn Lister, who came to Boone from Ottumwa, distinguished herself among the artists when she received a "1" rating at a contest for her dramatic reading from "Wuthering Heights."

The Toreadorettes contributed generously to Boone High's glory by winning the girls' county basketball tournament. Vivacious Jane Scheerer as usual was high point "man," circulating her indomitable spirit throughout the cheering crowd.

I think leadership is a quality that everyone strives for in one way or another, and Jacques Welin seems to have reached the goal, for he was captain of the football team, captain of the basketball team, president of the junior class, vice-president of the senior class, and president of the Hi Y. Some of his "spare time" activities were swimming, baseball, and driving old jalopies.

Bob Reed established himself among the leaders, also, as president of the senior class. Joann Blosser proved the ability of the girls when she was elected secretary of the senior class and president of the Hi Tri. No party was complete without Don Carter as MC. We would all gather around the piano while Don gave out with some of his favorite red hot boogie. In more serious music, Maxie Erickson won first class rating in piano at both district and state contests.

Every two weeks we would anxiously await the arrival of the Bumble "B," no matter how much we complained about it. Behind the scenes working hard to please the student body were our editors: Isobel Canakes, editor-in-chief; Maxie Erickson, news; and Mary Ann Herman, feature editor. And I must not forget to mention our demon Scroll staff, headed by Charlene Jennings and Mary Ann Herman.

Well, diary, there you have it. I know you'll agree with me now that the class of '46 is one of the most outstanding ones of its time.

—Mamie.

JOURNALISM

Many an author received his first inspiration through his work in high school journalism. Boone High offers training in journalism through the Scroll and Bumble "B." The Scroll, the school annual, is a senior publication with most of the staff members chosen from the senior class. However, there are always several positions on the staff open to juniors. In order to work on the Scroll a student must be in the upper third of his class scholastically.

The Bumble "B," our school newspaper, is published twice a month. The staff members are chosen from both junior and senior high school. Students who do outstanding work for Bumble "B" or Scroll are rewarded by membership in "Quill and Scroll," national honorary society for high school journalists.

FOOTBALL

After three weeks of intensive practice under our coaches, Baldus, Stutzman, and Gluenkin, the Boone High football squad of 1945 opened its season with the Oskaloosa game. The coaches built a light but fast team from the forty-four squad members. Among these members were eight returning lettermen.

The team was in high spirits the night of the Osky game; and when they finished, the score read: Boone 24, Oskaloosa 0. The scoring was done by Jim Sturtz, who contributed 12 points on two beautiful runs, and by Welin with a pass to Currell. However, perhaps the most spectacular six points were Jim Emerson's. Instead of being satisfied with just blocking a punt, Jim stole the ball from the kicker and ran for a touchdown.

Our next two games were both non-conference and out-of-town. The team probably played its best at Fort Dodge. Nevertheless, after a scoreless first half, the Dodgers pushed across two touchdowns and beat us 13-0. The next week, however, it was a little different story. Although the team didn't play quite so well, we were on the long end of a 26-0 score at the end of the game. The scoring was done by Denning, McDermott, Fitzgerald, Welin and Sturtz.

Our next two tilts were with Marshalltown and Grinnell. Although the team played a good game, especially our captain, "Jock" Welin, the Bobcats defeated us 22-13. Our scoring went something like this: Welin to Buckingham, T. D. No. 1; Welin to McDermott, conversion; and "Jock" on a beautiful run, T. D. No. 2. The team was out for revenge when they met Grinnell, and they got it with a sweet 40-9 score. The scoring was done by Sturtz, McDermott, and Denning.

The next week the Toreadors met a good team from Jefferson. But when the "bull-fighters" were through, Jefferson was on the short end of a 38-7 score. "Mac," Sturtz, Denning, Bob Case, and Art Johnson were the individuals most responsible for our 38 points.

This brought us to our last two games, Newton and Ames. The first was won when one of our ever-alert ends, Bill Currell, recovered a fumble on the end zone. The team protected that margin of six points for the rest of the game. The next week, however, the situation was reversed. After a scoreless three quarters, the Cyclones garnered six points and protected it till the end of the game.

Thus, with three wins and two losses, we ended up in a three-way tie with Newton and Marshalltown. Several of our boys were mentioned on all-state teams. These included Jim Sturtz, "Jock" Welin, Jim Emerson, Roger Orr, and Bill Currell.

BASKETBALL

Our 1946 basketball team won third place in the Central Iowa Conference, winning fifty percent of the ten games played. This wasn't bad considering that three of the conference teams went to sub-state, and two teams went to the state tournament.

The Toreadors are proud of two well-deserved wins over Marshalltown, who was defeated in the second round of the state tournament. In out-of-conference play, our team again had a .500 percentage in ten games. Four of these losses were to Cedar Falls and Fort Dodge, two highly-rated teams in Iowa.

Since Boone was in class "A," the Toreadors went directly to the district tournament this year. After drawing a bye in the first round, Boone defeated Belmond in the second round. That victory sent them into the district final's against Fort Dodge. Although the team had been decisively beaten by Fort Dodge twice before, the boys played one of their inspired games that night. The odds were against them, however, for they lost a heart-breaking game 31-30. This put the Toreadors out of the state tournament.

Arnold Brogden, Pat Healy, and Jim McDermott were given honorable mention on the I.D.P.A. all-state team. That speaks for itself. Bill Ferguson and Jacques Welin, whom we lost at mid-year, did a very fine job at forward and guard respectively. Bob Lee, our snappy forward, by his indomitable spirit made a berth for himself on the first string. Dick Anderson has made a good showing at guard with his coolness and excellent rebounding. Bob Fisher, Jim Sturtz, Russ Anderson, and John Miles also showed us what fine ball handlers they are.

Although this team has had its ups and downs, it has shown us some excellent basketball.

SWIMMING TEAM

Boone High is coming back into the high school swimming world. Three years ago we had a strong team with one member, Anderson, (now a national intercollegiate champion) being placed on the All-American high school swimming team. Since then, Boone has had no official team or coach. However, it all changed this year.

Miss Emmons, girls' physical education instructor, was asked to coach the boys' swimming team. She has the distinction of being the first woman coach for a boys' swimming team in the nation. Consequently, International News Service wrote a feature article on her and the team.

Although the "paddlers" were in competition only once, they gave a very good account of themselves. This was at the state high school swimming meet, where competition is always keen. At the meet the Boone tankmen garnered eight points, and this gave them fifth place. The two relay teams who got these points were composed of: Virgil Byerly, John Morris, Jack Herman, Dave Yegge, Dick Sovereign, Wayne Van

SOPHOMORE BASKETBALL

Gluenkin's boys have had a fine season with only two losses. They have done the so-called impossible with their two decisive victories over Ames. The 48'ers were runners-up in the county tournament. It looks as if Gluenkin has whipped up another batch of good material for the varsity coaches next year.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

This year Boone had one of the finest girls' basketball teams in the state. Coached by Jan Harken and captained by Jane Johnstone, the girls had a successful season with thirteen wins out of nineteen games played. They amassed a total of 927 points, while their opponents had a total of only 722.

The Toreadorettes won the county tournament by defeating Boxholm, Pilot Mound, and Luther. At the sectional tournament, they trounced Boxholm to the tune of 82 to 43. However, they lost a heart-breaker to Dana in a double-overtime by a score of 54 to 52. This game eliminated them from the 1946 tournament. The Toreadorettes have the astounding game average of 51.1 points, while holding their opponents to a 38-point game average. Jane Scheerer led with a total of 293 points and a game average of 22.5 points. She also was named on the "Des Moines Register's" second all-state team.

All in all, everyone in Boone High thinks that Jane Johnstone, Bebe Fisher, Jean Stark, Margaret Quigley, Phyllis Peterson, Delores Silvey, Jane Scheerer, and Bonnie Doerr did a fine job.

BASEBALL

When we went to press, April 15, Gluekin's squad was well on its way to a good baseball season with three decisive victories over Luther, Jordan, and Pilot Mound. Orr and Belmont seemed to be the most promising battery. The regulars back this year were Belmont, Orr, Currell, Denning, Patterson, and Bergendahl. The positions were pretty well filled by juniors and sophomores, which means we should have a good team next year. The reg-

TRACK

Boone High's track team is again coming into the limelight. They won their first track meet in three years with a victory over Jefferson. Under Coaches Stutzman and Baldus the season looks very promising for the "thinclads."

GOLF

For the second successive year, the golf team got off to a good start with victories over Roosevelt High, of Des Moines, and Ames High. The members of the golf team in the past few years have brought recognition to Boone High in this minor sport, and this year's team, composed of veterans Bob Fisher and Dick Anderson and Pat Healy, Grant Meyers, Dick Schultz, Lee Caffrey, and Dave Deering, shows promise of another successful season under their coach, Ray Lamb.

PEP CLUB

The Pep Club, with Joyce Wineinger as president, contributed its bit to the success of the athletic season at Boone High School. The members marched with the band during the football season and provided a peppy cheering section at both football and basketball games.

Other ways in which the Pep Club cooperated were: leading pep assemblies, collecting for the "March of Dimes," selling programs and ushering at the county tournament.

BAND

The music department of Boone High School can look back upon one of its most successful years under the leadership of Mr. R. N. Cook, Mr. Konrad Scholl, and Miss Pauline Johnson. Mr. Cook and Mr. Scholl have completed their second year of instruction here, and Miss Johnson has completed her first year at Boone High. All three instructors have willingly given their talents to improving the music standards of this school.

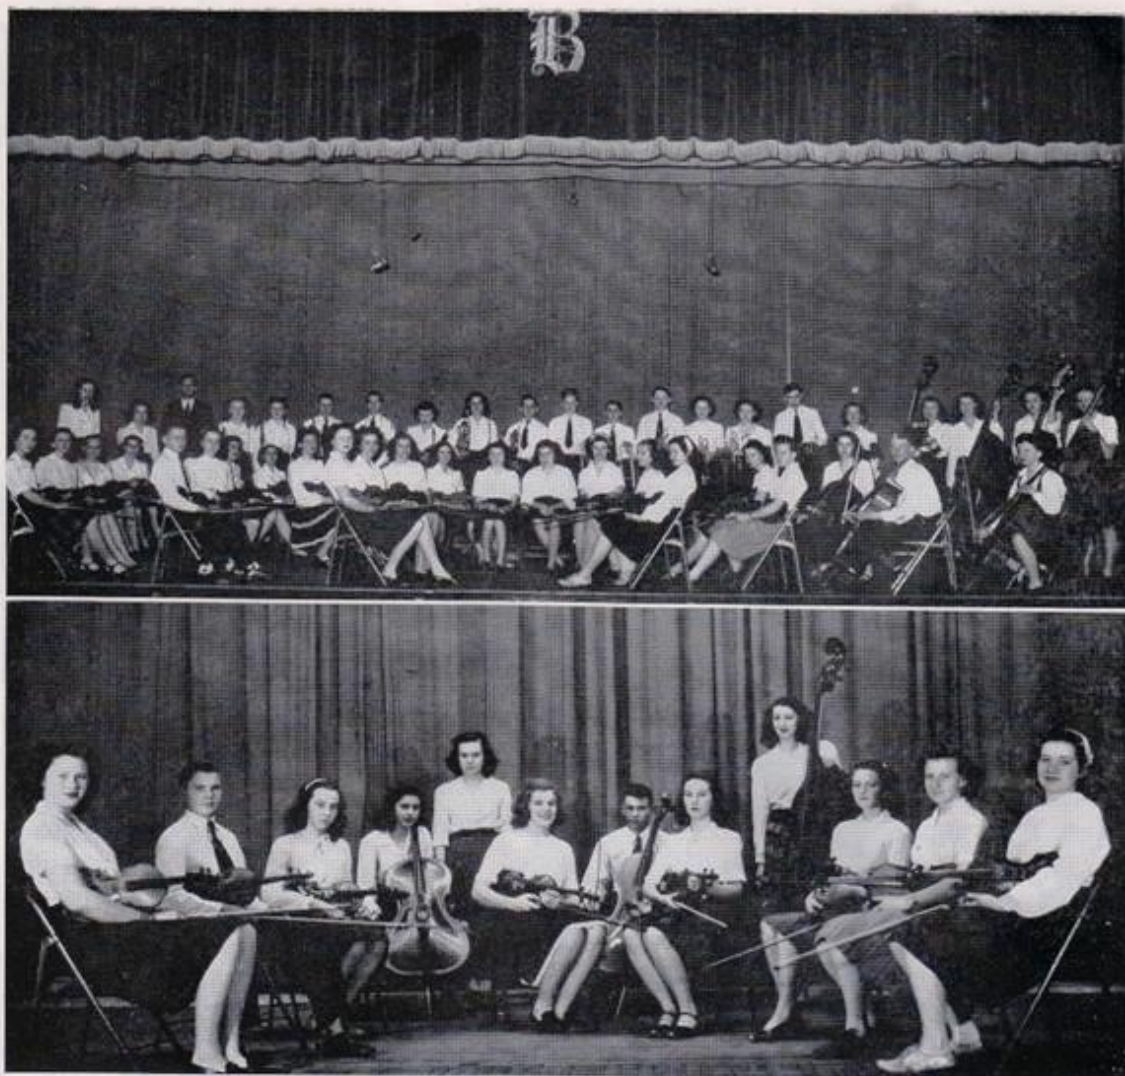

Introduced this year by the music department was a merit system by which the students were able to gain a minor or major award, or a final award of a gold pin, a lyre initialed with a "B." All merits are to be earned in school-sponsored music organizations and are to be carried over from one year to the next, the total number of merits determining the award to be presented at an assembly. Merits are given for participation in small groups, such as ensembles and trios, as well as for participation in band, orchestra, and vocal groups.

Under the baton of Mr. R. N. Cook, the band department has had another outstanding year.

One of the main attractions was the marching band which provided entertainment by executing snappy drills and formations between halves at football games. After the football season, the pep band took over to help arouse enthusiasm at the basketball games; it also provided the music at the pep assemblies.

Later in the year a symphonic concert band with an increased membership was formed. This concert band of balanced instrumentation played an important role in the Christmas concert, which was presented jointly with the orchestra and vocal groups on December 16, 1945; furthermore, it presented two enjoyable concerts during the year, one to the students of Boone High and the other to the public. The modern music that was presented by the band was well received by the music-lovers of Boone, particularly the renowned "Little Rhapsody in Blue" by George Gershwin. In addition to this, the band played a variety of numbers—including overtures, paraphrase, valse, and novelty numbers.

Both the band and orchestra sent contestants to the music contest April 24 and 25.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Konrad Scholl, made its debut November 29, 1945, playing for the junior college play. Providing music for various plays and "religious emphasis" assemblies are two of the main functions of the orchestra. During the Christmas concert the orchestra played special numbers, besides accompanying the group singing. Also, during the year, various small groups, such as the string ensemble, woodwind trio, and G Club, have performed individually for the public. One of the highlights of the year was the spring concert which was presented by the orchestra February 22, 1946, before an enthusiastic audience. The program consisted of a varied selection of pieces, including the overture "Il Re Pastore" by Mozart, the familiar "Piano Concerto No. 1" by Tschai-kowsky, and Hoagy Carmichael's ever-popular "Star Dust." The entire concert showed the ability of both conductor and students to work together to achieve noteworthy results.

The orchestra feels very much honored in having Mr. Scholl, a concert violinist, as its director.

Opening the winter series of concerts sponsored by the Music Department of Boone High School, Mr. Scholl presented his second recital for the enjoyment of Boone music lovers Sunday afternoon, October 28, 1945, in the high school auditorium. The artist not only displayed excellent technique and complete command over his instrument, but he also showed ability in interpreting the various selections.

Again this year, Mr. Scholl charmed his audience with one of his own compositions, "Perpetual Motion." They were also thrilled by his interpretation of Schubert's "Sonata in A Major" for piano and violin, which was brilliantly executed by both the violinist and the able piano accompanist, Mrs. Helen Cole Longworth.

Another group of numbers by Cecil Burleigh was particularly well received by the audience. They consisted of "The Meadow," "An Indian Village," and "At Twilight." As an encore, the violinist played the "Nocturne in E Flat" by Chopin.

DRAMATICS

The dramatic department of Boone High School has presented numerous interesting productions throughout the past year. Three three-act plays have been produced.

On November 30, 1945, the Junior College presented a three-act play entitled "Ladies in Retirement," written by Edward Percy and Reginald Denham. The action of the play, which was directed by Miss Marjorie James and Miss Adabelle Hilgenberg, took place in the latter part of the nineteenth century. The scene was in the living room of an old house on the marshes of the Thames Estuary. "Ladies in Retirement" was a psychological drama with both horrifying and humorous scenes. It was a heavy play, exceptionally well done by a well-chosen cast.

Much credit is due to Miss Slosson and her committee for the costuming, and to Miss Liddell and her stage crew for the stage-setting so thoroughly in keeping with the period in which the story was laid. The cast was as follows:

Lucy Gilham—Barbara Stark.
Leonora Fiske—Elizabeth Grabau.
Ellen Creed—Betty Wiernsberger.
Albert Feather—Don Bergendahl.

Louisa Creed—Mary Lou Shafer.
Emily Creed—Imogene Kruse.
Sister Theresa—Ruthann Puckhaber.

The senior high play, "What a Life," written by Clifford Goldsmith, was given on January 23, 1946. Miss Marjorie James was the director of this humorous light comedy in three acts. The principal's office in Central High School was the scene of the action and the time was a 20th century spring day.

The cast was as follows:
Miss Shea—Phyllis Streit.
Mr. Nelson—Bob Reed.
Miss Pike—Martha Heaps.
Mr. Patterson—Bill Stemmerman.
Bill—Wayne Van Ness.
Miss Eggleston—Maxie Erickson.
Miss Johnson—Jeannine Lindmark.
Mr. Vecchitta—Joe Krenz.
Henry Aldrich—John Erickson.
Barbara Pearson—Jean Hunter.
Gertie—Joyce Wineinger.
Mr. Bradley—Lee Cooper.

 Mrs. Aldrich—Phyllis Dunerman.
 Mr. Ferguson—Don Bergendahl.

 Extra Students—Helen Lundberg, Delores Ross,
 Jay Honahan.

The senior class presented a three-act comedy, "You Can't Take It With You," on May 24, 1946, under the direction of Miss Marjorie James.

The cast was:

Penelope Sycamore—Phyllis Streit.
 Essie—Joyce Wineinger.
 Rheba—Jo Ann Anderson.
 Paul Sycamore—Don Bergendahl.
 Mr. DePinna—John Erickson.
 Ed—Jim Shaw.

 Olga—Charlene Jennings.

In the speech classes, excellent training has been given in debating, pantomime, radio skits, and various types of speeches. From these classes were chosen the students who entered the speech contests held in the spring.

The preliminary contest was held at Ogden. Boone High had three entries. In the oratorical division, a "One" rating was given to James Linn for the "American Citadel"; in the dramatic division, a "One" rating was awarded to Maralyn Lister for her selection, "Wuthering Heights"; in the humorous section, Jeannine Lindmark received a second for "Hungah."

Boone High won three firsts at the pre-district speech contest held on March 6, 1946, at Humboldt. The awards were won by Bill Stemmerman with his original oration, "Nazi-ism in Argentina"; John Munro, extemporaneous speaking; and James Fitzgerald, radio speaking. The rating of the other Boone contestants was as follows:

James Linn, oratorical division, a third.

Maralyn Lister, dramatic division, a second.

Mary Lou Bice, interpretive reading, a third.

The one-act play, "Thank You, Doctor," received a second rating. The cast included JoAnn Forbes, Phyllis Streit, Joe Krenz, James Shaw, and Don Bergendahl.

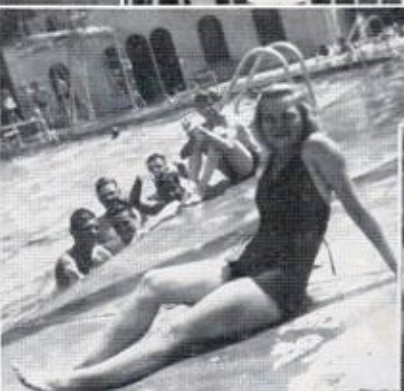

Boone won three firsts in the district speech contest held at Batt'e Creek on March 22, 1946. First place in original oratory was won by Bill Stemmerman. In radio speaking, Jim Fitzgerald won a first; and in extemporaneous speaking John Munro placed first.

On March 30, the cast of the one-act drama, "Thank You, Doctor," participated in the play festival held at Iowa City. The festival was sponsored by the Iowa Forensic League.

To climax a very successful career as speakers, three Boone boys entered the State Final Speech Contest at Oskaloosa on April 13. Jim Fitzgerald received a "One" in radio speaking. Both John Munro and Bill Stemmerman did a fine job and won second ratings in their respective divisions.

STUDENT COUNCIL

It started with the Greeks, traveled to the United States, and finally found its way to the public schools—and Boone High is no exception. Democracy! It functions in Boone High through the work of the Student Council, a legislative body representing the students. Without cooperation, which is the basic principle upon which the student council is founded, democracy would cease in Boone High.

The student council members, who are presidents of home-rooms, are presided over by Roger Orr. Jacques Welin is the secretary, and Lee Cooper, the vice-president.

Whenever a problem arises, it is discussed by the executive committee composed of the officers and Jim Fitzgerald, John Veale, Lewis Patterson, Bob Leiden, and Paul Stark. Then a student council meeting is called, and the question is presented to the whole student council. Finally, the decision of the student council is reported to the home rooms.

And thus it is that democracy is practiced in Boone High School.

Cooper, Orr, Welin

A JUNIOR'S DREAM

(With apologies to E. A. Poe)

Once upon a midnight dreary, as I pondered weak and weary
O'er many a curious volume of Cunningham's forgotten lore,
Suddenly there came a tapping, much like Dom-
inic's gentle rapping,
But instead before me standing, there was "Gutter-ball" Roger Orr.

Ah, distinctly I remember 'twas the first day of November,
And I sadly did remember all those gloomy days
of yore
When that measly, low-down Ames team let us score

Ah, nevermore!

Junior Class Officers

Orr, Lindmark, Patterson

So my brilliant inspiration was to inscribe a hot oration
On the Ames High schoolhouse door, but said
Roger "Gutter-ball" Orr,
"That must be . . . Oh, Nevermore!"

Then I turned my fond attention to the junior-senior ball,
Which the gals' hearts was a-wrenchin,' 'cause
they had no beaux a'tall.
There was little Bevie Meyer hoping Dickie Dean would hire
An old nag so he could squire her in grand style to the ball.
But quoth Dickie, "Nevermore."

Then there were some traitorous juniors who never stuck to their own class.
Cooper, Van Ness, Darrell, Skimony, they always took a senior lass.
To say nothing of Bill Currell, whom the senior maids adore,
And who, when asked to take a girl, always answered,
"Nevermore!"

And as the dawn was slowly nearing, while deep into the darkness peering,
My wayward thoughts kept veering, veering back to that happy junior year,
To Bubbles, Joanne, Jean, and others whose winning team we all did cheer.

And while in darkness I was sitting, the memories through my mind kept flitting
Of all the happy hours we squandered, and on our brains and brawn I pondered,
As through memory lane I wandered, thinking of those days of yore
Which will return, ah, nevermore!

The Lorena Erickson Chapter of Quill and Scroll, the national honorary society for high school journalists, is made up of members of the Scroll and Bumble "B" staffs. Membership is limited to juniors and seniors ranking in the upper third of their class scholastically who have done outstanding work in some field of journalism, have been recommended by the sponsors of the publications, and approved by the national secretary.

New members are admitted in the fall and spring of each school year. The informal initiation takes place during the day at school and is characterized by unusual costumes. At a formal banquet in the evening the members are officially inducted.

During the year 1945-1946 the group enjoyed several "pot luck" suppers in the home economics rooms and other informal parties, besides the regular meetings which were held the fourth Wednesday in every month.

Members of Quill and Scroll, who were taken in last year are: Isabel Canakes, Don Carter, Clavonne Dahlien, Maxine Erickson, Jean Halverson, Mary Ann Herman, Dona Lee Kading, Maralyn Lister, Geraldine McCullough, and Lee Ann Smiley. December initiates were: James Erickson, Betty Phipps, Jane Snedeker, Phyllis Streit, and Joan Wenzel. In April a formal banquet was held at the Lincoln Restaurant. During an impressive candle-light ceremony following the banquet the following students were initiated: Beverly Baird, Lee Cooper, JoAnn Forbes, Jeannine Lindmark, Beverly Meyer, Audrey Petersen, Berniece Reed, Patty Rose, James Shaw, and Joyce Wineinger.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

At a lovely candle-light ceremony on May 9, 1946, twenty-four seniors of Boone High School were inducted into the national honor society. To the strains of "Entrance of the Peers," played by the high school orchestra, the senior class marched into the auditorium and took their places. Preceding the ceremony the sextette sang the Prelude from "Cycle of Life," by Landon Ronald.

The formal initiation was in charge of members of the national honor society who are now attending Boone Junior College. While the pages, Ruth Lestina and Betty Wiernsberger, conducted the initiates to the stage, the orchestra played softly "Follow the Gleam." Mary Lou Shafer talked on scholarship, Don Statton on leadership, Jay Flockhart on service, and Lois Schroeder on character. As the orchestra played "Prayer" by Humperdinck, the induction ceremony was completed.

The new members are: Shirley Moss Biggerstaff, Ray Buechler, Isabel Canakes, Donald Carter, Robert Cooper, Clavonne Dahlien, Maxine Erickson, Robert Lee Fisher, Jean Halverson, Martha Heaps, Mary Ann Herman, Dona Lee Kading, Maralyn Lister, Geraldine McCullough, Marjorie Minson, Dwight Nelson, Delilah Pearson, Nanette Pestotnik, Audrey Petersen, Harry Rose, Lee Ann Smiley, Phyllis Streit, Val Gene Tingwald, Dean Waychoff.
