A Connecticut Yank

Hank and his sister fight over Hank's theory of travel through time.

As Hank arrives at the court, he is threatened with death because he is suspected of being an evil magician, and he in turn threatens to wipe out the sun. After his demonstration with the sun eclipse, the entire kingdom is at his mercy.

A year later, Hank has set up a modern system of communications in the kingdom and is shown here conversing with Clarence over the rate of business.

In King Arthur's Court

Morgann LeFay is caught cutting the telephone lines, in her attempt to sabatage the King.

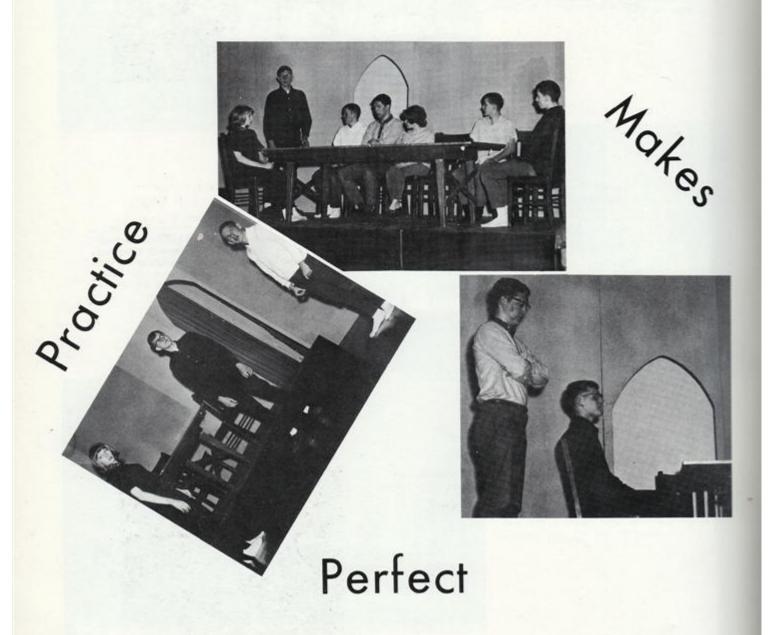

Morgann LeFay has taken over the kingdom, captured the queen, sent Hank out on business, and the king on a mission.

Hank recaptures the kingdom and establishes the King's rule. Shortly after this, Hank returns home.

Climaxing weeks of practice and rehearsals, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" by Mark Twain, was presented Wednesday evening, March 24, by an all high school cast. The play has the distinction of being the first play of any kind to be presented at Boone High School since 1962.

Various committees were set up to aid in the success of the play. Sue Howard served as publicity chairman. Members of her committee included Dianne Sinn, Barb Tedrow, and Chuck Solheim. Dennis Weeks was in charge of costumes. Sets were made by Mr. Lein's shop classes and painted by members of the cast.

Miss Verna DeJong, junior high English teacher, produced and directed the play. It was Miss DeJong's first attempt at anything of this type. Many hours of work were put in both by Mrs. DeJong and the cast.

Students Exercise Privilege

As a class project, the first semester senior government classes, under the direction of Mr. Roger Cook, conducted a mock election on Tuesday, October 27. Both the junior and senior high were given the opportunity to exercise their right to vote.

Voting was held from 8:00 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. with Young Republicans and Young Democrates donating their time and effort toward getting their candidates elected. The ballot used was very similar to the actual ballot used November 3 by the citizens of the country in choosing the country's leaders. All three major parties, Republican, Democrat, and Conservative were represented. It was a landslide for the Democrats, with President Lyndon B. Johnson receiving 71% of the votes cast.

Mr. Roger Cook

When asked why he wanted to have the election, Mr. Cook stated that he thought it was a chance for students to actively participate in something worthwhile. He further added he felt it would make the students "aware of politics and issues" and of the "obligations and privileges involved in voting."
