Congratulations

to the Class of 1979 from
the 248th Maintenance/
Transportation Battalion.

What lies ahead for you?

All of a sudden you have new responsibilities, like finding a job and working with people on a day-to-day basis. You'll find you must develop these skills and personal qualities to help you get ahead in life. You may wonder how.

One way is to join the Iowa Army National Guard.

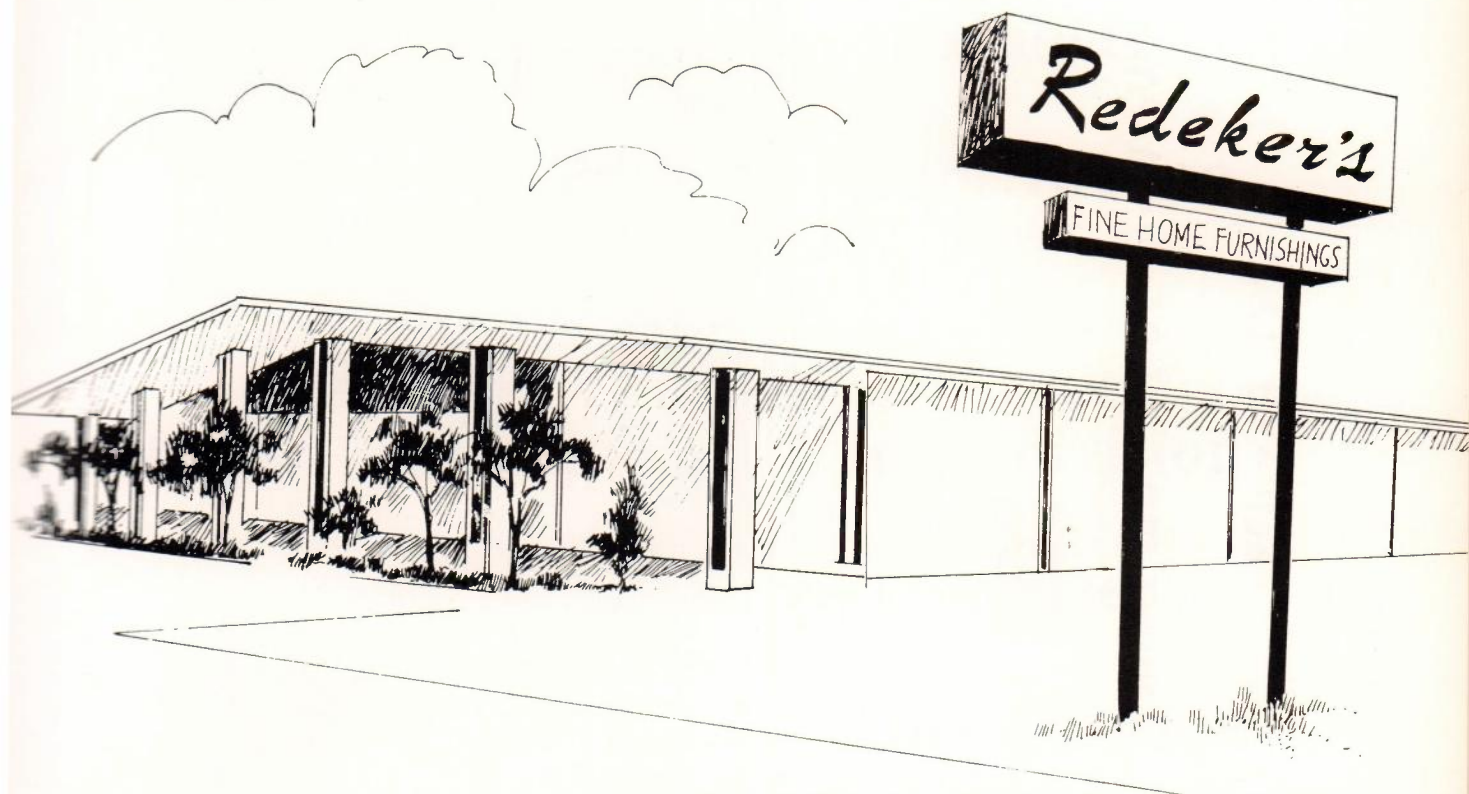

In the Guard you prove to yourself and others that you are truly a responsible person. The great thing about the Guard is you still can enjoy your regular civilian life since the Guard is part time instead of a full time military job.

The Iowa Guard truly belongs--to you, your community, and your country.

Give yourself a chance.
Belong to something really important.
The Iowa National Guard.

*Questions.
Who has the answers? Will
this step be an ending? Or a beginning? I choose to
think that it*

*I've often wondered
"What is an answer?"
I've asked so many questions.*

*My questions get answered
With questions
Which makes the answer
Harder to find.*

*Answered with a question
of time:*

"Wait and see"

"Time will tell"

*"Wait 'til the time
comes, then work it out."*

"Wait!"

Wait?

Wait. It's a question, too.

Some people use time

To answer a question.

(Another Question)

How much is left?

by Sheila Foster

will be a start, not a finish. I hope each and everyone can go out of this school with this in

*I write my poems
To let people know
I want to be remembered
When I go.*

*I've so long to live
And so short to die
I've learned to love
And I've learned to cry.*

*mind - always think of
something new as a place
from which to start
anew.*

*There's so much to do
And so much to say.
Before it becomes
The Judgement Day.*

*There's so much to learn
But so little I know
I want to learn it
Before I go.*

*Someday soon Gone, I'll be
So read my poems
And remember me.*

by Sheila Foster

THE END WORD

On down the road of life we wonder.
 Sometimes I find myself stopping to ponder
 Which branch of life will each of us take?
 It'll be the one we love, fulfilling, for our own sake.
 But remember the friends we've all had
 For the moment we depart will surely be sad.
 But inside ourselves we should see
 The strength to think of others rather than just "me."
 We must live life to its fullest, we can't just be.
 Wherever life takes me, wherever I go

I'll have my memories from here this I know
 My friends have been many, my foe have been few
 But from here it's a beginning, to start anew.
 Through days of clouds and sunshine
 I've searched for the answer of what will be mine.
 Graduation is just one step in life
 And we all will feel that little tug called strife
 The life we choose from here is ours
 The future is like an awaiting tower.
 This is my wish though it may seem small.

Happiness to one and all.
