

Making
Waves
9/2

MAKIN' WAVES IN '87

BOONE JR./SR. HIGH SCHOOL

500 7th Street

Boone, Iowa 50036

'87 is
Making Waves

Below: The pep band pumps up the crowd with their current sounds. For more about the band, turn to pages 43-45.

Making waves was more than just fashion in 1987; it was a way of life. The daily life of a Boone High student included things like scanning the parking lot for just one more space, rushing to beat the 8:25 tardy bell, borrowing his locker mate's PE clothes so he wouldn't flunk the semester, and doing 60 down South Story to make it back on time after lunch.

Some of the more pleasant aspects of the student's life were dressing up for Homecoming Spirit Week (togas, 50's clothes, beach clothes), making a few true friends to keep for a lifetime, decorating her best friend's locker for her birthday, and watching all those years of school pay off by finally receiving a diploma.

And now for the Class of 1987, the waves of the past have grown into waves of the future. The Scroll staff wanted to share this special year with fellow classmates. So come on, CATCH A WAVE!!!

Above: Goeppinger award winners keep the academic waves in motion. More Goeppinger Award information on page 98.

Below: School spirit runs deep at the pep assemblies. Homecoming coverage starts on page 4.

Left: Students are swept out in a wave of people during a practice fire drill.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

|                                  |           |                           |            |
|----------------------------------|-----------|---------------------------|------------|
| Student Life .....        | 4  | People .....       | 124 |
| Sr. High Activities ..... | 22 | Senior Album ..... | 170 |
| Sr. High Sports .....     | 56 | Dedication .....   | 193 |
| Jr. High .....            | 94 |                           |            |

Life's Finer Moments

Above: Homecoming candidates left to right: Sally Wulkow, Jodi Vegors, Queen Misty McCombs, Missy Donelson and Shari Reynoldson. Right: Powderpuff Candidates left to right: Jim Miller, King Joe Lukawski, Dave Clark, Yasushi Yamazaki and Chester Boothe.

Below left: Powderpuff King Joe Lukawski. Below right: Coronation of the Homecoming Queen, Misty McCombs.

Just for the Spirit of It!

Homecoming spirit started as students participated in dressing up for Spirit Week. Student Council assigned each day: Monday - 50's Day, Tuesday - Toga Day, Wednesday - A Day on the Beach, Thursday - Generic Day, and Friday kept the traditional red and green jersey day.

On October 16, 1986, the Juniors and Seniors had an exciting football battle in the annual Powderpuff game. The seniors were victorious with a score of 22 to 14. At halftime, Joe Lukawski was honored as our 1986 Powderpuff King. After the event, everyone proceeded to the bonfire where the "Urbandale J-Hawk" went up in flames.

On Friday, Senior High students were dismissed on the early schedule and all gathered in the gymnasium for the Homecoming Assembly. The candidates were escorted in by Varsity Football members. The crowd listened to the motivating speech given by Bernie Sagau. The next event was the coronation of the queen. Steve Alley crowned Misty McCombs as the 1986 Homecoming Queen.

This year's Homecoming was full of high spirits even though the game itself disappointed the players and fans. The Toreadors lost to the Urbandale J-Hawks 28-15.

Following the game, many student danced to music by Grand Marshall. The dance seemed to end just as quickly as it started but everyone made the best of it. Finally, the high spirits of Homecoming '86 had come to an end.

Top left: Junior Powderpuff Cheerleaders, Front: Greg Walczyk. Back left to right: Chris Williams, Mark Lee and Herbie Dittmer.

Middle left: John Murphy and Carla Condon slow dance to "their" song.

Left: Junior Powderpuff team decides to take some "class" action in the annual Powderpuff game.

Above: Varsity football players and cheerleaders await anxiously at the afternoon Homecoming assembly.

Deck the halls with

Christmas Dancing

Left: Christmas dance couples rock around the 30 foot Christmas Tree. Above: 1986 Christmas dance court: Row 1: Paula Tiller, Tracey Cook, Queen Rachel Johnson-Kelly, Natalie Hora, and Julie Haberer. Row 2: Andy Newbold, Dave Clark, King Steve Alley, Wayne Carpenter, Scot Kinne.

Below left: Couples dance the night away.

Above left: Homecoming Queen candidates Sally Wulkow, Jodi Vegors, Shari Reynoldson, Misty McCombs, and Missy Donelson wait in anticipation for the crowning of queen.

Right: Chris Williams, Angie Sorenson, and Chris Paris are just a few of the participants in the Homecoming window paintings.

Left: Stacie Beckwith, Holly Pollard, and Tiffany Clark sell Homecoming dance tickets to Derek Gustafson and many more.

Bottom left: Elisa Melssen, Vicki Springis, and Bobbi Elsberry catch the spirit during the week of Homecoming as they dress in their togas.

Bottom right: Mike Beverlin, Wayne Carpenter, Andy Newbold, and Sally Wulkow are entertained by the afternoon lip sync performance during the Homecoming assembly.

Reflections was the band chosen for the Christmas dance. As the band played, couples danced the night away. During the dance a break was taken to crown the 1986 Christmas Dance King and Queen.

Rachel Johnson-Kelly, a foreign exchange student from Sydney, Australia, was picked as the Queen and Steve Alley was picked as King.

Decorating the tree was no easy task for the Student Council. After a full day of decorating, the 30 foot tree still appeared very bare much to the disappointment of Student Council members. The 1986 Christmas came all of a sudden and seemed to end that way too. But overall, the dance turned out to be a memorable one.

Remember me . . .

Near and Far

Above right: Christmas Dance King Steve Alley and Queen Rachel Johnson-Kelly

Above left: Christmas candidates do a royal pose. Row 1 left to right: Queen Rachel Johnson-Kelly and King Steve Alley. Row 2: Scot Kinne, Andy Newbold, Wayne Carpenter. Row 3: Paula Tiller, Dave Clark, Tracey Cook, Natalie Hora, Julie Haberer. Below left: The Christmas court slow dances after the crowning. Below right: The King and Queen start off with a slow dance after the coronation.

In the Spotlight

This year's Prom theme, "An Evening in Paris," was certainly appropriate ... it rained all night. The Grand March was held inside the school; everything went well in spite of the heat.

The Prom-goers danced from 9:00-12:00 to "Sterling Heist." Then they went to the Boone Theater to see (or sleep through) the movie "Hoosiers." By 2:00 most everyone was danced out but they couldn't miss the crowning of the Prom King and Queen. So, off to the Elks Club they went and at 4:30 a.m., Joe Lukawski was crowned King and Susie Ballantyne was crowned Queen of the 1986-87 Prom.

Top Prom Royalty left to right: Susie Ballantyne, Joe Lukawski, Renee Richardson, Matt Kunz, Jeanie Greengo, Jim Miller, Kim Hutcheson, Jon Oppedahl, Kristi McFarland, and Shawn Walter.

Center: Resting their feet and enjoying the "sidewalk cafe" are Scott Putnam and Jennifer Lansing, Jodie Johnstone and Todd Stuckey.

Above: Susie and Joe read the names of the lucky winners of the Kiwanis' door prizes. Left: Just like Paris, huh?

AN EVENING

The theme for the 1987 Prom was "An Evening in Paris." The students had an evening filled with dancing at the high school, a movie at the downtown theatre and another dance sponsored by the Kiwanis at the Elks.

Right: The Prom goes jammed to Sterling Heitz in BHS gymnasium.

Below: Kim Ellis and Chris Williams show off their shiny whites.

Below right: Teresa Grider and Jenny Brietag take time out to pose in their Paris style attire.

Bottom left: Holly Curran and Jeff Clendenen fully enjoy the Grand March.

IN PARIS . . .

Top Left: Susie Ballantyne and Joe Lukawski hug each other after just getting crowned Prom King and Queen '87.

Top Right: Keli Gustafson and Mike Beverlin enter the building before the Grand March.

Middle: The rain didn't dampen the spirits of Lisa Carstenson and Toby Kruse as they entered for the Grand March.

Bottom: Lisa Miller and Mark Gengler take time out from dancing to have a bite to eat.

A Wave of Spirit

PEP ASSEMBLIES played an important part in promoting spirit throughout the school year. At the assemblies, students were introduced to the players and coaches from the different sports. Fans were also given the chance to show teams their support.

The pep band helped everyone show his spirit by playing the school song along with several other fight songs. The band's director, Mr Richardson, felt, "The pep band added life, vitality and color to the assemblies."

The players enjoyed the pep assemblies because they prepared teams for the games and the assemblies made the players realize how much their classmates supported them.

The cheerleaders also played an important role at the assemblies. They led the students in cheers and got the players involved in several different skits such as "Wrap up a Victory", where the football captains wrapped their coaches up in toilet paper.

Pep assemblies turned out to be a very positive aspect of the year. Not only did they create waves of spirit, but they also gave students a break from the regular school routine.

"The assemblies really helped get me pumped up for the games and meets," said Brian "Chester" Boothe, senior.

Above: The junior class gets ready for a dazzling victory in football.

Below: Scot Kinne and Shawn Yoho hopping to a victory.

Top left: Mike VanPelt expresses his feelings toward Boone High.
Above: Reynolds Cramer keeps a steady beat.

Left: The seventh through twelfth grade cheerleaders make a welcoming pyramid at the winter sports pep assembly.

Below left: The tenth through twelfth grade football cheerleaders lead the crowd in a cheer.

Below right: Most students really get into the spirit of things at the roaring pep assemblies.

Small ripples make
Rapid Growth

Right: Mr. Geiken tries to answer Jeff Harty's "trivial" physics questions.

Far right: Reynolds Cramer, look out for that ... bar!
Right: Julie Haberer and Mr. Hora measure up to see who is taller. (Mr. Hora wins by a hair!)

Above left: Mr. VanderPlaats' classes enjoys their annual pizza tasting test. Above right: Kristin Longhenry "seriously" thinks about taking her homework home with her . . . Left: Cindy Fairchild helps herself to David Swalve's Fritos as he talks with his mouth full. Below: Another fire drill and Mrs. Greengo is ready with her camera.

Just All In The Name Of "Science"

All of the students on this page show the extreme concentration managed during a serious classroom activity. This just shows that learning can be fun!

Above left: Toby Kruse shows off his "godliness" in Business Law by saying a prayer to the tune of a Gregorian Chant.

Above: Jean Meyer and Jennifer Doran show their enthusiasm while marching at an early morning marching band practice.

Left: Tammy Williams, Coke Brower, Natalie Hora and Sally Wulkow catch up on the latest about . . .

Bottom: This class of students appears more interested in the camera rather than the teacher.

What we would do for a Dollar or two . . .

It was a busy time in the life of many high school students because they held jobs outside of the homework, athletics and other school activities.

The students were employed in various places: fast foods, dry cleaning, clothing stores, restaurants, grocery stores, theatres and hardware. These were just a few of the many employers in 1986-87.

The need for jobs was reflected by the high prices of gas, food, dances, entertainment and buying clothes. For example, teens were paying $1.49 for a Big Mac; gas was .89 per gallon; pizza was $10.00; dance tickets were $6.00 a couple; concert tickets were $15.00; jeans varied usually starting at $35.00; sweaters averaged $35.00 and shoes ranged from $35.00 to 45.00.

Below: Jeanie Greengo tries her new hat on for size at work at the Boone Theatre.

Above right: Bob Matt wanders aimlessly through Fareway looking for work to be done.

Right: Scott Clauson is the "Happy Helper" Saturday afternoon while he sacks groceries at Fareway.

Above left: Julie Haberer and Bryan Boyd work together as a perfect team getting the job done in an unbelievably fast time. Above right: Tammy Williams, Cindy Albright and Misty McCombs take time out of a busy night at the Golden Corral to pose for the camera. Above: Paula Tiller, a famous Dairy Queen employee, flashes a quick smile to the customers. Left: Jeff Clendenen juggles cans while trying to correct someone else's mistake.

No Particular Place to Go . . .

It was easy to see, these people obviously had no particular place to go. They spent their time loitering in hallways all over the building.

Above: Chopper Williams and Scott Paris keepin' cool through an October heat wave.

Above right: Mrs. Duffy catches Lisa Carstenson and Wayne Carpenter, two "unruly" students, wandering through the halls.

Right: Tim Anderson passes time in the bottom of his locker when he has "no particular place to go".

Far left: These students all have someplace to go . . . CLASS!
Left: John Marburg might not have anywhere to go, but he certainly has something to do!
Above: Donna Rogers and "friend" spend Halloween together in BHS halls.

Row 1 left to right; Members of the Outlaws enjoy a club activity. Members of the Drama Club practice for the Fall Play. Missy Hill practices her choral reading for speech team. FHA members make plans for Boone's first Sweetheart Dance.

Row 2 left to right: Band member, Jason Ahrens, has his private music lesson. Students in the Foreign Language Club sneak a look at each other.

Row 3 left to right: Vice President of FHA, Tracey Raasch, takes notes during meeting. While his foreign language classmates take notes, Nic Arringdale waves at the camera. Marsha Cross, Amy Breitag and Lori Gau practice for Speech Team.

Activities Just for the Fun of It!

Life's finer moments occur with
Senior High Activities

Most of the students at BHS were involved in one activity or another. It gave students the outlet for those boring days of sitting in front of the T.V. after school and on weekends.

The 1986-87 school year was full of many activities. One of the new organizations was the "Number One Club." This honorary organization was started in order to recognize students who had contributed positively to Boone High School.

The first group of award winners pictured at the right were, Row 1 left to right: Jennifer Addy and Robyn Tilley. Row 2: Tony Brekke, Lynda McGlynn, Barb Madden, Amy Breitag, Blake Borwick, and Mark Lee.

These students were nominated by faculty members. A brief ceremony presenting the awards was held in Dr. Harrington's office. In the bottom right photo Mark Lee gets a hand from Mrs. Duffy and congratulatory grins from Lynda McGlynn and Amy Breitag as he accepts his award from Dr. Harrington.

Many other activities filled the school calendar. The Chorus took a trip to St. Louis for the Six Flags Music Festival and the FHA traveled to Chicago. The bottom right photo shows the FHA members planning their trip.

The school sponsored activities are an important part of every student's life. Many times lifelong friendships and memories are formed.

Share the Spirit

Above: High School Pep Club Row 1 left to right: Kim Winninger, Missy Hitt, Tracy Raasch, Kerrie Coleman, Lynda McGlynn, Carrie Rusnak. Row 2: Mrs. Hesser, Michelle Clark, Julie Wilkening, Tracy Herrick, Ashley Bechtel, Alison Grabau, Kristy McVicker.

Left: One of the motivating signs made by the pep club hangs in the swimming pool to let the swimmers know the school is pulling for them at a meet.

The Boone High Pep Club was the driving force behind many of the athletic events in 1987. This active group of girls always made sure that signs for the current sport event were hung in the halls and decorations were hung on the athletes' lockers. The idea behind the pep club was to encourage all the athletes of Boone High. This took some of the responsibility away from the cheerleaders during their busy season.

Mrs. Hesser stated, "It was a pleasure to work with this group because of their enthusiasm during the seasons."

Excellence in Academics

The 1987 Scholastic Honor Society Assembly was held on Wednesday, April 8. The primary purpose for the awards was to recognize students who had maintained high scholarship for several semesters.

The qualifications were that juniors and seniors maintain a 3.2 grade point average.

The speaker for the assembly was Mr. Vander Plaats. He challenged the students to reach for their goals. Mr. Cook and Mrs. Duffy presented the certificates. Soloist Stephanie Lange was the entertainment for the event.

Above: Brian "Chester" Boothe grins while other members of the Scholastic Honor Society take their awards a little more seriously.

Middle: Joe Clemons says, "Oh boy, I get to sign my name all by myself, Mom!"

Bottom: Sally Wulkow approaches the famous "sign-your-name-please" table.

1987 SCHOLASTIC HONOR SOCIETY

Above: Photographer Andrew Newbold presents the program for the 1987 Scholastic Honor Society.

Bottom: David Swalve signs his "John Hancock."

The members of the 1987 Scholarship Honor Society are

- |                    |                    |
|--------------------|--------------------|
| SENIORS ...        | JAMES BASS         |
| MIKE BEVERLIN      | ANDREA BOCK        |
| BRIAN BOOTHE       | AMY BREITAG        |
| COLLEEN BROWER     | JEREMY BUCK        |
| WAYNE CARPENTER    | JENNIFER BUSTAD    |
| DAVID CLARK        | JOHN CAMELIN       |
| CHRIS COLLINS      | JOSEPH CLEMONS     |
| TRACEY COOK        | DEBORAH COOK       |
| EDWARD DEGENEFFE   | SHELLY CURRIER     |
| DAN DIGHTON        | SHERRI DENNIS      |
| PENNY DIX          | SHARIL DUFELMEIER  |
| WILLIAM DODD       | RHONDA ELLIOTT     |
| JENNIFER DORAN     | CINDY FAIRCHILD    |
| DIANE DUNCAN       | WENDY FAIRCHILD    |
| MIKE EPPERT        | GWEN FINNESTAD     |
| JULIA HABERER      | REGINA GILLIAM     |
| JULEE HANNA        | KERI GUSTAFSON     |
| JEFFREY HARTY      | SON HO             |
| LORI HASTIE        | CHRISTOPHER KELLEY |
| NATALIE HORA       | JENNIFER LANSING   |
| KIM HUTCHESON      | JUSTINE MARTIN     |
| HEIDI HUTCHISON    | GARRETT MCCLAIN    |
| KENNETH KISE       | BRADLEY MCKAY      |
| TOBY KRUSE         | CHERYL MCNACE      |
| MATTHEW KUNZ       | JEAN MEYER         |
| JOHN MARBURG       | WILLIAM MILLER     |
| MISTY MCCOMBS      | DAVID MUNDT        |
| KRISTINE MCFARLAND | SHERRI MURKEN      |
| DEBBIE MOCK        | AMY NASH           |
| JOEL MUNDT         | BRAD PETERSON      |
| WILLIAM NYSTROM    | SCOTT PUTNAM       |
| JON OPPEDAHL       | STEVEN RAY         |
| TASHIA ROFFEY      | DAVID SCHMIDT      |
| PAULA TILLER       | CHRIS SILBERHORN   |
| JEFFERY WESTBERG   | DEBORAH SVEC       |
| SALLY WULKOW       | DAVID SWALVE       |
| SUSAN YOUNGER      | BRAD TEMPLE        |
| JUNIORS ...        | GREGORY WALCZYK    |
| MIKE ASPENGREN     | JULIE WILKENING    |
|                    | KURT WILHELM       |

Boone High Hot Shots

The duties of the 1986-87 class officers varied. The seniors had the most responsibility. They picked out the graduation gown colors and invitations that were then approved by the senior class members.

The senior officers also had to set up class day and will plan class reunions in the future. The senior class advisor was Mr. O'Brien.

The junior's main responsibility was the Prom. This included the fund raising project and the decorations for the dance itself. Their advisor was Miss Lundeen.

The sophomore and freshmen officers' duties were very relaxed compared to the upperclassmen. They were in charge of any class activities that happened to come up during the year. The advisors were Mr. Grider for the sophomores and Mr. Smith for the freshmen.

Top: Senior Class Officers left to right: Chris Collins, Vice President; Coke Brower, Secretary; Matt Kunz, Treasurer; Jim Miller, President.

Above: Freshmen Officers left to right: Tracy Anderson, President; Jennifer Addy, Vice President; Julie Simmerman, Treasurer; Joie Lonergan, Secretary.

Above right: Junior Officers left to right: Jodie Johnstone, Treasurer; Stacie Lingren, Secretary; Holly Curran, President; Rachel Myers, Vice President.

Right: Sophomore Officers left to right: Julie Dix, Vice President; Keri McCombs, President; Cindy Anderson, Secretary.

Chief Decision Makers

Below Senior and Junior Student Council Members Row 1 left to right: Tim Clark, Angi Arringdale, Shawn Walter, Misty McCombs, Jennifer Doran, Julie Ray. Row 2: Wayne Carpenter, Susie Ballantyne, Matt Kunz, Brian Parrish, Cindy Fairchild, Amy Hartwig. Row 3: Donna Rodgers, Rick Lundberg, Dave Clark, Andy Newbold, Jeff Harty, Vickie Rodgers, Jeni Ahrens, Barb Madden.

The Student Council was the governing body of the senior high students. One representative was elected from every homeroom to serve on the Student Council. The officers for 1986-87 were Wayne Carpenter, President; Susie Ballantyne, Vice President; Chris Paris, Recording Secretary; Pam Svec, Treasurer; and Stephen Wills, Corresponding Secretary.

During the year, the Student Council helped to organize Homecoming activities, sock hops and the Christmas Dance. Other activities included the selling of Christmas and Sweetheart Grams, and researching the possibilities of a student lounge.

Above Left Sophomore and Freshman Student Council Members Row 1 left to right: Stacie Beckwith, Julie Simmerman, Dawn Mabe, Holly Pollard. Row 2: Kurt Harvey, Todd Stuckey, Kristi Fairchild, Courtney Buck, Tracy Anderson. Row 3: Darci Nugent, Lynda McGlynn, Wendy Wulkow, Tammy Gerken, Teresa Grider, Chris Chapman, Jeremy Larson, John Riorden, Stephen Wills.

Below left: Student council members concentrate on the speaker while Kurt Harvey tries not to smile for the camera.

Makers of MAKING WAVES

Above Scroll Staff Left to right Row 1: Randy Knight, Bob Matt, Andy Newbold. Row 2: Scott Clausen, Mark Prokop, Steve Alley, Misty McCombs, Tracey Cook, Jodi Vegors. Row 3: Georgia Carlson, Jody Cotton, Paula Tiller, Keli Gustafson, Natalie Hora. Row 4: Jenny Baldwin, Donna Rogers, Brenda Ohlendorf, Julie Haberer, Amy Hardinger, Colette Overstreet, Kelli Gaddy, Lori Weyer. Row 5: Toni Kruse, Jeanie Greengo, Karin Clinkenbeard, Lori Kline. Right: Staff member, Randy Knight displays a proper duck call, voicing his opinion on the latest "new" idea. Below right: Tracey Cook does a layout while Andy Newbold inspects her hair.

The journalism staff was kept busy working on the MAKING WAVES edition of the yearbook. The year began with the sale of advertisements for the book. The crew far surpassed their sale's goal and was well rewarded. The staff was trained at a journalism workshop in Madrid. Jostens presented material educating the students on correct procedures for layouts. Decisions were also made on the selection of the cover for the book.

The next challenge was meeting all of the tight deadlines. "The staff quickly found that missed deadlines meant money. They blended well with many ideas each time a new decision had to be made," said Mrs. Greengo.

Paula Tiller said, "I didn't realize all the work that was involved in putting a book together." After the final deadline, the students agreed that it was quite a responsibility, but well worth the work.

Classy Action...

Above: Mock Trial Row 1 left to right: Lori Gau, Jennifer Addy, Jill Olofson, Onnie Bock, Jennifer Lansing. Row 2: Chris Silberhorn, David Mundt, Scott Putnam, Toby Kruse.

Below: Mr. O'Brien is one of the coordinators of Mock Trial.

Boone High Mock Trial Competition has been competing against different towns and schools in Iowa since 1983. The competitions are set up and sponsored by Drake Law School. Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Cook were the instructors for the group's contests.

The competitions were held at Drake University. Boone competed against Indianola in the first round and Adel-DeSoto in the second round. Although the team did not make it to state, the team put forth a great effort.

... Mock Trial

You Can't Take It with You

On November 20 and 22, the Boone High Drama Department presented "You Can't Take It with You". The play focused on the thought that everyone needed to be happy with his life.

In the play, the Sycamores seemed mad, but were truly happy, while the Kirby's, though wealthy, were unhappy. The two families met because Alice Sycamore and Tony Kirby had fallen in love. In the end, the Kirby's were converted to the happy madness of the Sycamores. The Drama Department welcomed Miss King as the director. She felt that the cast and crew worked well together, and she said she was looking forward to the next production. She was in charge of cast and Mr. Nelson was in charge of crews.

Miss King also praised the cast and crews for all their cooperation. They were hard-working and cooperative, especially when rehearsal conflicts arose.

CREW

Dave Christoffers
Brian Earle
Jennifer Tungesvik
Jenny Neely
Matt Donovan
Julie Simmerman
Kris Majors
Steve Price
Lori Gau
Marsha Cross
Bill Linstrom
Stephen Wills
Missy Hitt
Jennifer Addy
Kurt Wilhelm

Justine Martin
Tracey Herrick
Matt Donovan
T.J. Clemons
Jeremy Buck
Jeremy Majors
Paul Nelson
Pam Svec
Becki Ripkey
Dean Russell
Marc Peter
Ann Herral
Jesse Holland
Amy Nash
Charlotte Brown
Jeanna Poore
Tony Gau

CAST

Rachel Johnson-Kelly

Right: Tracey Herrick and Jeremy Majors watch over the cast.

Below: Paul Nelson's new (old) look.

Below right: Rachel Johnson-Kelly shows us her terrified look. What's out there, Rachel?

"Springing" into Drama

The Boone High Drama Department presented a series of one act plays on March 26 and 27. The plays presented were "Pajama Party", "A Very Grammatical Family", and "What Women Want Most." There was one cast for each play. A total of 36 cast members and 44 crew members were involved in the productions.

Ann Herrald, Pam Svec and Paul Nelson were the student directors who assisted Miss King. The actors in the spring play consisted of junior high students and ninth graders.

This was the second year the spring play cast consisted of strictly junior high and ninth grade students.

Upper left: The typical topics at a pajama party: gossip and boys.

Upper right: Julie Henkel, Robyn Tilley and Nicki Stansberry perform center stage during a performance of the "Pajama Party."

Middle: The "grammatical" family looks a little confused.

Left: Amy Kunz looks sympathetically at a forlorned Peter Kollbaum as Tony Gau ignores the whole situation.

Acting Up for a Reason

The Drama Department consisted of many hard-working and devoted people. Proof of this statement was shown in the success of the fall and spring play. The Fall Play was "You Can't Take It with You." Three One-Act plays were presented in the spring: "Pajama Party," "A Very Grammatical Family," and "What Women What Most."

By working as a team, the back-stage crews, the student directors and the actors made the performances well worth seeing.

Above: Drama Club Row 1 left to right: Christy Giese, Charlotte Brown, Amy Nash, Nikki Butterbaugh, Justine Martin, Amy Kunz, Valissa Nelson, Jenny Neely. Row 2: Lori Gau, Tracy Herrick, Becki Ripkey, Jeanna Poore, Julie Simmerman, Ann Herral, Becky Johnson, Missy Hitt, Missy Jensen. Row 3: Mr. Nelson, Jennifer Addy, Pam Svec, T.J. Clemons, Paul Nelson, Matt Donovan, Dawn Wiltshire, Jennifer Tungesvik, Miss King. Row 4: Tony Gau, Julie Wilkening, Jesse Holland, Jeremy Buck, Dean Russell, Tony Brekke, Julie Dimmitt, Melea Riker. NOT PICTURED: Jeremy Majors.

Right: Dean Russell says, "Pam Svec, you're my dream girl."

Below: Steve Price asks Jeremy Majors where he got his sudden tan.

Below right left to right: Pam Svec, Dean Russell and Paul Nelson rehearse for the play "You Can't Take It with You."

A Stroke of Genius

The 1986-87 Art Club consisted of 26 members and was advised by Mrs. Frazier and Mr. Potts. The Club met every third Monday of each month in Mrs. Frazier's room.

The purpose of this organization was "to increase art opportunities through guest, travel, special projects and social activities," according to Mrs. Frazier.

The only membership requirement for the Club was an interest in art. Some of the major activities were selling Christmas items, exhibits, the lunchroom ramp mural and slide shows. The group also traveled to Des Moines and visited the Art Center and Botanical Center.

One of the highlights of the year was helping with the elementary workshops. This provided students with the opportunity to help elementary aged students gain an appreciation for art. The group also planned and began work on the mural for the cafeteria or lunch room ramp.

Top: "Carla Condon, are you doing your art?!!"
Left: Niel Weirs is trying to "square" off his project.
Right: Darnell Miller is busy coloring her picture.

Talking Their Way to the Top

The Speech Team was coached by Mrs. Giese, an eighth grade English teacher. When asked how her first year went with the new students, she replied, "They were a super group of students to work with. We were really pleased with the groups that advanced to state competition. It was a young group of students which means good experience for the years to come." Mrs. Tourtelott assisted Mrs. Giese in coaching the team. Both had a tremendous effect on the accomplishments of the speech team.

The team worked hard and long, practicing two to three times a week in order to get ready for district competition which was on January 24.

The categories in which Boone competed were the One Act Play, Choral Reading, Readers Theatre, and Solo Mime. The One Act Play was "Requiem for a Small Town." This group received a I rating at District and at State. Members of the cast included Jennifer Addy, Julie Dimmitt, Matt Donovan, Miss Hitt, Lynda McGlynn, Jeanna Poore and Dean Russell.

The Choral Reading cast received a II rating at District level. Members of the cast included Amy Breitag, Marsha Cross, Lori Gau, Jeanna Poore and Diane Reed.

Readers Theatre cast members were Jennifer Addy, Julie Dimmitt, Ann Hubby, Kris Majors, Jennifer Marburg, Jennifer Tungesvik and Dawn Wiltshire. This group received a II rating at Districts.

Boone also had two people compete in the solo mime category. Diane Reed and Kris Majors presented solo mimes at District level. Diane received a II at District and Kris advanced to State competition with a I District rating and received a II at State.

The practical experience the team gained in practice and competition should help the team in future years.

Top left: Large Group Speech Team left to right: Jennifer Tungesvik, Dawn Wiltshire, Amy Breitag, Matt Donovan, Diane Reed, Lynda McGlynn, Julie Dimmitt, Marsha Cross, Ann Hubby, Missy Hitt, Jennifer Addy.

Top right: Jennifer Addy practices her part in the Readers Theatre presentation. Middle: Jeanna Poore and Diane Reed try to synchronize their voices for their Choral Reading part.

Bottom: Dawn Wiltshire really gets into her part.

Catch a Rising Star

The individual speech team of 1987 played an important part in the activities of the school year.

The speech team had a total of 12 members, none of which were seniors. Having only freshmen, sophomores, and juniors on the team meant lots of talent for the upcoming years.

The team entered 19 events. Ten entrants received I's at District, which was held February 28, in Anita, Iowa. Receiving a I at Districts enabled the people participating in the ten events to go on to State competition. State was held March 21 at Dowling. Four of the ten entrants received I ratings.

Districts

I's

Mindy Cazett
Jennifer Addy
Marsha Cross
Julie Dimmitt
Missy Hitt

Shawn Hoskins
Justine Martine

Lynda McGlynn
II's

Jennifer Addy
Candie Carlson
Marsha Cross
Julie Dimmitt
Tracey Herrick
Lori Gau

Jennifer Marburg

STATE

I's

Jennifer Addy, Marsha Cross, Missy Hitt,
Lynda McGlynn

Dramatic Acting
Improv. Acting
Improv. Acting
Storytelling
Humorous Acting
Radio News
Radio News
Expos. Address
Improv. Acting
Humorous Acting

Humorous Acting
Radio News
Poetry
After Dinner Spkg.
Literary Program
Book Review
Prose
Storytelling
Poetry

Above: Mindy Cazett practices her speech as she gets ready for State competition.
Below: Individual Speech Team left to right: Julie Dimmitt, Justine Martin, Mindy Cazett, Missy Hitt, Tracey Herrick and Shawn Hoskins.

Rising from the Depths

1986-87 Dolphin Club

The Dolphin Club was an organization for those interested in the art of synchronized swimming.

Synchronized swimming was exhibition swimming in which the movements of one or more swimmers were synchronized with a musical accompaniment so as to form changing patterns.

This year's show took place on March 19th and 20th. Tickets sold for $1.00 each. The money raised was used for buying new swimming suits for the coming school year.

There were 32 students that participated in this club during the '86-87 school year.

Top right: This group of Dolphins practice their routine during dress rehearsal.

Top left: Jo Anne Venema looks on while Mrs. Ryan explains lighting to Jonna Stone.

Below right: Lisa Hastie, Becky Phillips and Debbie Cook take a break and watch for awhile.

Below left: Sara Aswegan and Anne Maniscalco rest on the diving board.

The Taste of Success

Future Homemakers of America

Future Homemakers of America was an organization opened to students nine through twelve who had completed one semester of home economics.

FHA is designed to prepare students for the future, better themselves and help others.

The 1986-87 FHA group consisted of 46 members. They met once a month on the second Thursday of the month at the homes of members or the homemaking room.

The school year was filled with many activities. The group took a field trip to ISU and Chicago. FHA planned and hosted the Valentine's Dance on February 21. They also had "Secret Teachers". This program got each member involved with a single faculty member on a more personal basis.

The group was advised by Mrs. Colby and Mrs. Plath, the Homemaking teachers.

Upper left: The symbol of FHA hangs in the hallway of the homemaking department.

Left: FHA officers Row 1 left to right: Lisa McNair, publicity; Tracey Raasch, Vice President; Lynda McGlynn, secretary. Row 2: Heather Weaver, historian; Gina Gilliam, president; Julie Wilkening, treasurer.

Left: Mr. Petrak looks on as Trina Contrell and Debbie Cook make pizzas as FHA's major fundraising project.

Above: Mrs. Colby gives Gina Gilliam and Lynda McGlynn pointers before a meeting.

Languages from Over Seas

The Foreign Language Club has been involved in many varied activities this year. There are more than two hundred members in the organization. Each member is taking or has taken a foreign language. The members and the advisors, Mr. Walczyk and Miss Rourick have a meeting once every month.

The club introduces students to culture by preparing and eating food, dancing, attending plays, operas, and foreign language day.

The students take a national exam each year. They compete with other foreign language students throughout the United States. The club also was kept busy with fund-raising. The money earned help fund a Spanish students' trip to Mexico City. Other group travel included a trip to Chi Chi's in Des Moines. The culminating activity of the year was an evening in which slides of the Mexico trip were shown to faculty, parents and organizations in Boone.

Foreign Language Club Officers, Row 1 left to right: Miss Rourick, Tracy Raasch, Secretary; Laura Novotny, Treasurer. Row 2: Mr. Walczyk, Todd Stuckey, Spanish Vice President; Jon Oppedahl, French President; Tim Clark, Spanish President; Garret McClain, French Vice President.

Right: Members of the Foreign Language Club receive their candy bars to raise money for their trip to Mexico and to fund other activities.

The Outlaws

The Lifeguards of BHS

A new organization organized in the 1986-87 school year was the Outlaws. This was a club of teens committed to the non-use of drugs or alcohol.

The group met two times a month on the third Thursday of each month. The Thursday meeting was held for educational purposes. A film was shown or a lecture was given. Usually a social event for each month was also planned. The last weekend of the month the event took place. Some of these activities were trips to the circus, Show Biz Pizza, hayrides, and an evening of roller skating.

Some of the major events were a dance at Camp Hantesa on April 3. The dance included not only Boone Jr.-Sr. High School, but also many of the other area schools. A trip was taken to the Governor's Conference for Substance Abuse on April 6 and 7. The Conference dealt with the use of drugs and alcohol. The officers attended the conference.

According to the group's sponsor, Deb Franklin, the most outstanding members were Kurt Hilsabeck and Chopper Williams for their strong commitment to non-use and example to other students.

Outlaw Officers Left to right: Julie Simmerman, Secretary; Missy Hitt, Publicity; Richard "Chopper" Williams, Vice President; Kurt Hilsabeck, President. Left: Julie Simmerman, Missy Hitt, and Deb Franklin work on posters for the bulletin board. Lower Left: Kurt "The Pres" Hilsabeck and Chopper "Vice Pres" Williams go over the outline of the next meeting.

NO STRINGS ATTACHED . . .

Top left: First Violins, Row 1 left to right: Pam Svec, Jenny Williams, Amy Davidson. Row 2: Carrie Menefee, Brian Parrish, Penny Dix.

Top right: Second Violins, Row 1 left to right: Kim Mayfield, Jamie Wingfield, Dawn Mabe. Row 2: Brian Harris, Bill Lindstrom, David McNair.

Left Middle: Violas, Row 1 left to right: Christina Brekke, Angie McKay, Kathy Shuey. Row 2: Missy Anderson, Brad McKay, Jeff Harty.

Right Middle: Cellos and Bass, Row 1 left to right: Kelli Niemants,

Marsha Cross, Julee Hanna. Row 2: Lori Gau, Amy Nash, Paul Nelson.

Bottom Left: Wind and Percussion, Row 1 left to right: Susan Younger, Jennifer Doran, Colleen Brower, Paula Tiller. Row 2: Ken Kise, Bill Dodd, Wendy Fairchild, Andy Newcomb, Lori Hastie.

Bottom Right: Winds, Row 1 left to right: Jeanna Poore, Aaron Bailey, Cindy Fairchild, Lynn Broom. Row 2: Brenda Ohlendorf, Joel Mundt, Jeremy Tucker, David Mundt, Wendy Herrick.

Music for Our Souls

The Boone High Jazz and Pep Band members were certainly busy during the 1987 school year. They started off every Monday and Wednesday mornings with practice at 7:00 A.M. SHARP! The members were selected after auditioning for Mr. Richardson.

The Jazz Band concert was on March 13. The group's main goal was to study American jazz as an art form and to study improvisation. In addition to the concert, the group participated in the State Contest in January and the Des Moines Hoover Jazz Festival in March.

Mr. Richardson said, "This was a very fine Jazz Band because we have some very talented musicians. Our excellent rhythm section and Joel Mundt on lead trumpet helps make this band very good."

In addition to the Jazz Band, the Pep Band also played a very important role at sporting events. The band was instrumental in hyping the fans during pep assemblies and winter sports.

Band members are:

SAXES: Susan Younger, Sherri Dennis, Colleen Brower, Jeff Lee and Marc Peter;
TROMBONES: Jon Oppedahl, Aaron Bailey, Lisa Hastie and Jeremy Tucker;
TRUMPETS: Joel Mundt, Steve Grow, and Cindy Fairchild; DRUMS: Reynolds Cramer; BASS GUITAR: Paul Nelson; PIANO: Lynn Broom.

Top: Reynolds Cramer works up a sweat as the Pep Band plays at a Boone High basketball game.

Middle: The Jazz Band members concentrate hard to get it just right for Mr. Richardson.

Bottom: "I can't believe I'm here this early."

*1986-87 Marching Toreadors send Good Vibrations!

Above left: Julie Dix concentrates hard on her music.

Above right: Band members, Susan Younger, Chris Kelley, and Jeremy Tucker, show their BOONE Spirit.
Right: These marching Toreadors take time out to have some fun.

Concert Band Plays On!

Top: The Boone High Concert bands performs in an evening concert.

Bottom: It's a brass blow out! The band practice early first hour every morning easily wears out the students.

Boone High band members started out the year with songs of joy and harmony. Each student kept himself very busy with lessons, contests, honor band, All-State and concerts performed here and around the state.

Strike a Clear Note

Top left: Jessica Cotton becomes nervous as the ninth and tenth grade Swing Choir show is about to go on.

Left: Amy Carstenson and Michelle Grow smile because the show is all over and the tension is off.

Right: Mike Johnson grabs a quick Sunglo right before the show.

Top right: 9th and 10th Grade Swing Choir Row 1 left to right: Matt Wilson, John Hartman, Angi Putska, Becky Phillips, Amy Carstenson, Julie Dix, Chellie Dittmer, Laura Novotny, Andrea Yoho, Eric Johnson, Stacie Beckwith, Aaron Bailey.

Row 2: Jennifer Palmer, Mike Johnson, Michelle Grow, Scott Galeazzi.

Row 3: T. J. Clemons, Sonja Bowes, Chris Chapman, Kristi Fairchild, Brian Pestotnik, Tammy Gerken, Billy Guenther, Jessica Cotton, Travis Brown, David Petrak.

The 1986-87 Swing choir began with auditions held in early October. There were 100 people that tried out for the treasured spots. Only 48 were selected for both Swing Choirs.

After auditions were over, the members of both Swing Choirs became very busy with practices two times a week. Selecting the music, learning the music, choreography and tuning their voices were the four major parts of practice. This hard work was all done for the two day, three show performances held on April 10 and 11 in the high school auditorium.

The theme of the Swing Choir Show was "Images in Song." The show consisted of songs like "Twist and Shout" and "Chorus Line." Solos were song by many including solos from seniors Keli Gustafson, Lisa Carstenson, Lynn Broom, Bill Nystrom, Bill Dodd, Julee Hanna, and Bill Dodd.

It was Mrs. Grundstad's first year directing the Swing Choirs in Boone, Keli Gustafson, a member of Boone's Swing Choir since eighth grade said, "We all had a fun time and learned a lot. It took a while to adapt to Mrs. Grundstad's ways of directing, but she fit in real well and got along great with us."

Top: 11th and 12th Grade Swing Choir Row 1 left to right: Onnie Bock, Reynolds Cramer. Row 2: Bill Dodd, Cindy Fairchild. Row 3: Chris Silberhorn, Stephanie Lange, Greg Walczyk, Lisa Carstenson, Lynn Broom, Joe Clemons, Keli Gustafson, Chris Paris, Julee Hanna, Brian Parish. Row 4: Debbie Cook, Jeremy Buck, Wendy Fairchild, Jeremy Tucker, Deb Svec, Bill Nystrom, Jean Meyer, Chris Williams, Keli Gustafson, David Swalve, Erika Egge, Director Mrs. Grundstad.

Left: Chris Paris adjusts his cummberbund as the show is about to go on.

Right: Reynolds Cramer and Cindy Fairchild put their feet up and relax at the "after-show" party.

Going Solo, Going Strong!!

Above: The tenor section of Chorale is sort of rehearsing. Looks like fun.

Middle: Reynolds Cramer and Lynn Broom go over their accounting assignment. Wrong class, kids! or is it?!

Bottom: Mrs. Grundstad starts rehearsal while these guys have other ideas in mind.

This year's Chorale showed great strides of improvement. This year at State Large Group Contest, the Chorus received a I rating. Also the Band, String Orchestra and Full Orchestra received I ratings. The groups competed well with the larger Des Moines schools.

This year, was the year for the chorus to take a trip. Mrs. Grundstad and the 10th through 12th Concert Chorus went to St. Louis, Missouri to participate in the Six Flags Music Festival.

The Chorus earned a second runner-up award. Natalie Hora, senior, agreed with many others that going to St. Louis and receiving a I rating at State Contest was most definitely the highlight of their senior year.

Rockin' the Boat with Class

Top: Chorus people bum around at the CIC Festival.
Bottom left: David Swalve shows his enthusiasm for 7th hour chorus.
Bottom right: Mrs. Grundstad tries to find her desk.

MAKING WAVES . .

Above: Student Council members swim through another bi-monthly meeting.

Right: Art club member, Eric Krug, works at making waves in 7th hour advanced art.

... THROUGHOUT THE YEAR

Left: Fall play cast practices for a splashing wave of "You Can't Take It with You", fall of 1986.

Left: Marching band makes waves at Boone Pufferbilly Days.

We all made waves which were important to our school system. Many different organizations began with small ripples and ended making very large waves. Student Council, Art Club, Fall Play and Marching Band: they together showed the sincerity of the BHS motto: "You must believe it can be done, when all our hearts beat as one."

Right: Five minutes left.
Below: Cindy and Wendy Fairchild and Holly Curran posing pretty during a pep assembly before the big football game.

Upper Right: Jay Hakanson trying to sing and play at the same time?
Lower right: Micah Miller packing up one of the many pizzas made by the FHA group.

Above left: Shawn Walter is trying to think too hard.
Left: Mike Beverlin looks like he's not thinking straight.
Above: Amy Hardinger's favorite pastime in journalism is eating popcorn.
Above right: Katie Hare, are you hungry?

There's a Ripple Effect In All That We Do . . .

Right: Chris Paris displays the effect chorus class has on him.
Below: Matt Donovan and T.J. Clemons inspire others with their dramatic abilities.

ACTIVITIES, ACTIVITIES, ACTIVITIES - There were plenty of them from which to choose at Boone High School. Some students were in so many activities that they found very little spare time for school and homework.

Clubs and activities at Boone High played an important role in promoting school spirit and because there was such a wide range of activities, students found it very easy to choose the ones that best suited their interests and abilities. It was also found to be a great way to make new friends as well as show off talents.

What you do touches me . . .
What I Do Touches You

Left: As sophomores, Tracey Flowers, Mike Lauritsen, Tony Schwarz and Pam Svec attend their first Homecoming dance. The Student Council was in charge of the planning of all Homecoming activities during the week.

Middle left: Mr. Richardson directs the pep band at one of the several spirited pep assemblies.

Bottom left: Mike Eppert, Tim Clark and Herbie Dittmer really get into the Powderpuff cheering. With roles reversed, the junior and senior girls played football Thursday night of Homecoming week and the boys cheered their class on.

Bottom right: The new student breakfast sponsored by the student council and student congress allowed students to get to know one another at BHS. Here Amy Brietag, Aimee Beckwith and enjoy the breakfast served.

