WE SEE...WE SAW... WE WILL SEE

By the end of the year, the Class of 1995 appeared ready to face what some thought was REALITY. To some this meant that they were going to college, some to vocational school, some to the military and some to work.

"I couldn't decide where I wanted to go to college. My mom had one idea and I had another," senior Kelly Kupke said. "I guess that I need to face reality and get busy applying to colleges."

Class Day was a beautiful sunny day. The senior girls wore their traditional white dresses and carried a red and white rose which was the class flower. Students met in the auditorium first where they presented a program to their parents. They then proceeded to the gymnasium for the student body program.

The administration decided on Thursday that the graduation ceremonies would be held in the gym rather than outdoors. It was obvious that they made the right decision. That Saturday night, the tornado sirens sounded three times during the night and torrential rains pelted the Boone area. Early graduation parties ended up in the basements at senior homes.

"My mom couldn't believe that she had cleaned our entire house except the basement. We ended up having to take everyone down to the basement because of the tornadoes striking nearby," senior Greg Clauson said.
