Spending the summer working out and training may not be what some people consider fun, but for the girls softball team, that is what made the team successful.

The Varsity softball squad worked hard with little time to relax.

"Sometimes I think it is tough to play during the summer because you don't get to be with your friends. It makes the season seem longer at times," junior Tami Gano said.

Even though the team didn't place in the Boone Tournament, the season improved. The ups and downs of the summer didn't seem to distract the players.

Hitting the fields for Success

The Season was filled with high hopes and expectations. Hard practices and work during the pre-season paid off in the long run. The Toreadors caped of the 1998 season with a 16-13 record and a 8-6 LHC record.

"The season was disappointing record wise but in the end it was a fun season. I think we came into the season with too high of hopes," 98' Senior Justin Hardinger said.

The Varsity baseball team had a tough conference schedule with Johnston, Knoxville and both Pella schools. At the end they found out how tough when Johnston made the Class 4A State tournament.

Throughout the season, they had many highlights. One was capturing the title in the Boone Tournament. The tournament was high scoring in both the Webster City game and the Roland-Story game. The team had to come from behind to beat the Norsmen to earn the title. The game was called in the 6th due to a big storm coming to the Boone area.

Another highlight, well at least to Matt Blaha, was beating Ft.

Dodge. Matt hit a grand slam to put the team ahead and eventually earn the victory. They also had a grand slam hit by Nick Nerem in the Newton Tourney against Iowa City High.

The Varsity team placed 3 on the the All-District Team. They were Justin Hardinger at First Base, Matt Blaha in the Outfield, and Greg Wisecup.

They also had 4 players named to the All- Conference team. They were Matt Blaha on 1st team Outfielder and Greg Wisecup made 1st team at Utility. Justin Hardinger made the 2nd team at the Utility position and Kolby Rosengreen made Honorable Mention.

The Freshman had a great season which capped off with an impressive 25-5 record.

"The best part of the season was when we swept both Ames and Johnston. I think it was the first time in school history that we swept both of them in the same season," said Coach Nate Heying. •by Eric VerHelst ,

Season filled with Success

"I was a kind of disappointment to not have gone very far in play-offs," senior Matt Blaha said.

As the horn sounded to start another season of Toreador football, high expectations were surrounding the players. The thought of making it to the state playoffs was the driving force behind the season.

The Toreadors started out with a tough loss to the hands of the defending state champion, Harlen, 33-12. Despite losing the game, the team also lost starting senior quarterback, Zach Kapfer to a knee injury in the first quarter. He had torn his ACL in his knee and was out for the rest of the season.

"It was hard watching the team knowing that I couldn't be out there," Zach Kapfer said.

The Toreadors responded with a six game winning streak against Little Hawkeye Conference opponents. The streak ended with a 20-8 loss to the Tigers of Carrol. They ended the regular season with a commanding win over ADM, 42-7, which helped them clinch a playoff berth.

"It was nice for our team to make the playoffs this year. It was an improvement from last season," senior Jason Bauer said.

In the first round of the playoffs, the Toreadors went up against the Carroll Kuemper Knights. It was a tough battle with the Toreadors losing, 25-8.

The final record for the season was 7-3. The team put ten players on the All-District team with nine receiving honorable mentions.

Those receiving All-District Team were Nathan Doerder, Running Back; Tyler Smith, Running Back; Beau Barrett, Offensive Lineman; Jimmy Tometich, Offensive Lineman; Matt Blaha, Tight End; Mike Etringer, Defensive Back; Cory Kennedy, Inside Linebacker; John Wittrock, Outside Linebacker/Def. End; Chris Linderblood, Outside Linebacker/Def. End; Nic Fontanini, Defensive Lineman.

•Flying into the endzone, Junior Nate Doerder proves that he is truly one of the elite. Nate rushed for over 1,000 yards for a 2nd consecutive season.

•Trying to make his point, Coach Rob Kloewer points out to Junior Brad Schlieman how to position himself on the line. The Varsity Football team qualified for the State Play-Offs for the first time since 1995.

V-I-C-T-O-R-Y is what was mostly heard at the end of the freshmen and sophomore football games. These two football squads only suffered one loss during the season. Their biggest let downs were West Des Moines Valley for the sophomores and Carroll for the freshmen.

"The season was going really good until we got to J.S.P.C. where we tied and then we lost the next one to Carroll," freshmen Matt Brown said.

Some of the sophomores that suited for Varsity throughout the season, didn't really feel that much more pressure from any of the coaches or from the players. They were excited to be part of two really good teams. They had to keep their head in each game and not worry about how they played individually or how the whole team played at the previous game before.

"It was a great experience being part of the Varsity team and playing at their level of competition. It was also great not having my sophomore coaches treat me any different for playing Varsity," sophomore Kyle Paris said.

With the freshmen team consisting of 33 players and the sophomores having 31 members on their team, everyone seemed to get an equal amount of playing time. The coaches didn't give any one player special treatment.

"I tried to get everyone in to play so they would have experience for coming seasons. This was a great bunch of monkeys to work with but sometimes we had to peel their bananas for them," Coach Bud Smith said.

To end off the season, both teams had shut outs. It was always a great way to end a season with such big wins, and the sophomores and freshmen accomplished this but it was not always easy.

Record-breaking year reaches Goals

"Knowing that we had a long ways to go this year, we worked hard to first set goals and then reach them," junior Heidi VanFossen said.

Unlike any other year, the girls varsity volleyball team had a win-loss record of 29-9-1. This surpassed any previous record since the sport started in 1992.

In addition to having an outstanding record, the team was rated 18th in the State for a split second.

"It was really exciting being rated. Unfortunately, we didn't even find out until the day after we had been knocked off," junior Amanda Murphy said.

The team bumped, set and spiked their way to becoming first-time champions at the Nevada Tournament. They played under new coach Shannon Zinnel.

The new offense seemed to pay off as the competition began to show new respect for the team.

Coach Zinnel encouraged the team to set goals that were pushing toward success.

"The goal-setting sessions really brought the girls together with their common sights. They all had hopes of going to State," Coach Zinnel said.

Making it to the state playoffs was the driving force behind the season.

"We all wanted to go to State so badly, because our coach psyched us up," senior Emily Brooks said.

Strong skills, outstanding abilities and year-round motivation all added up to good teamwork for younger squads.

Daily practices became more and more intense as the ninth grade and junior varsity volleyball teams prepared for upcoming games.

Working with different people all the time really helped. I think the older girls were the most important in helping us set goals," freshman Heidi Kennedy said.

The ninth graders were coached by Don Lester. They started the season during the hot summer days, getting down the practical moves. Coach Lester said that he was impressed with the team members' dedication.

"I never know what type of team we might get at this age level. I was very pleased with the ability of the squad members," Coach Lester said.

The junior varsity team had its ups and downs. Even though they had some critical losses during the season, they seemed to rebound and go into the next competition ready to play hard.

"We had a good year. We worked well as a team. The team seemed to know what they wanted and they kept working toward that goal," junior Keli Harper said.

With experience on their side, the team seemed to be heading in the right direction. Many of the players played on the varsity before the season was out.

"Coach Shannon Zinnel was always checking us out at practices. She tends to have the enthusiasm trickle down through the younger girls. It helps to know that they have expectations of us up there," sophomore Carrie Greco said.

In order to succeed and attain goals, swimmers needed determination and a sense of pride.

A swimmer must have the desire to do her best to improve with practice and lower times in her meets. She must work hard to be a high school swimmer.

"The season went pretty well. The beginning of the season was pretty rocky, but as soon as we got through the problems we had, the season went a lot better... probably one of the best seasons we've ever had," senior Andrea Thede said.

The girls swim team practiced in the senior high pool every day after classes were dismissed. The team had an increased enthusiasm during the season.

"You have to show up at every practice and be really dedicated, otherwise it will mess up your season performance-wise," junior

Abby Hagan said.

Even though the practices were rigorous, the team worked together with a united effort. Morning practices consisted of swimming laps.

The strokes came plentiful as the boys golf season proved to be a rebuilding year for the team. They returned no varsity letter winners from the year before and Bill Wilcox was the lone senior on the team. The record for the year was a disappointing 0-12.

"It was a real tough season since we were such a young team. But I felt that we improved a lot over the season," Bill said.

Along with Wilcox, junior Eric Lindgren, sophomore Joel Davidson and freshmen Jared Clark, Adam Russell and Paul Thompson paced the varsity squad with 17 others helping to build a strong team for the future.

The team carded their best 9-hole team score at a triangular in Ankeny, along with Johnston by shooting a 164. Paul Thompson shot a 40 to lead the team in the meet.

Following the Ankeny triangular, the team was backed by three strong home meets against Johnston, Ames and S.E. Polk. The team shot 2 of their 3 lowest scores of the year. They also had their closest meet, losing by 11 strokes to S.E. Polk.

"The thing that I remember about golf was being interviewed by the Ames Tribune for the first time. It was fun and pretty cool," junior Eric Lindgren said.

The team averaged 175 strokes in their dual and triangular meets. They got beaten by an average of 22 strokes a meet. However, in a string of four consecutive solid meets in the last half of the season they cut their margin of loss to 14 strokes.

"Even though we didn't have the talent we have had in the past, I felt the boys worked very hard. I am very proud of how they improved over the season," Golf Coach Keith Geiken said.

The season proved too tough and demanding, but the team showed solid improvement as they proved that they will be a competitive team in the future. Six of the seven varsity letter winners promised to return for the next season:

•Nate Buckingham and Justin Hamman

•As one of the top freshmen golfers, Paul Thompson uses a fairway wood to reach the green. Paul was medalist at one meet during the season.

•Taking a backswing, Ryan Kramer ('02) holds his form for the best power behind the hit. Even though the team was young, the love for golf was evident.

Heart, determination and perseverance. Those were just some words that described the boys and girls cross country team. The cross country teams used the speed and willingness to work to place high at a share of their meets throughout the season.

Twelve girls and sixteen boys made up the cross country team this season. Practice included about one hour of running to the park, running the "hill," and road runs to the highway or to other parts of the town. The practices were hard and gruelling but the hard work paid off at the end as the boys finished 3rd in the LHC meet and the girls finished 2nd at conference.

The girls had a representative from their team to represent them in the State Meet on October 31. The girl was Freshman Alicia Irons.

"State was a good experience for me. It was something I will never forget." Alicia also stated that it was amazing on how the boys and girls got along throughout the season.

"My highlight of the season was when after the conference meet the team went to the Spaghetti Works in Des Moines," freshman Marie Schutte said.

The boys season went very well. They placed high in every single meet.

"My goal was to run varsity but was unable to run up to my capability due to a knee injury. But I will be back next year," said Junior Quincy Alber said.

The boys and girls both finished the season strong and Boone Cross Country looks to be strong for years to come.

Getting the crowd pumped for the games sometimes takes just as much planning as the strategy to win.

Spirit-hey! Fire it up!" this was one of the many cheers that could be heard coming from the cheerleaders throughout the fall and winter sports seasons. Changes challenged the squads, but they held together and succeeded to cheer the teams on.

"It wasn't what I expected it to be this year. there have been a lot of problems within our squads, but it has all worked out. Even though the crowd didn't really support us, we stuck together and did our best," senior Kristy Harris said.

The varsity basketball squads were divided into two squads and they alternated between away games.

"Having two squads was much easier on us. We didn't have to go to 3-4 games a week," senior Alissa Elsberry said. Even with the changes, one thing remained constant, they could be heard at every game.

The boys' swimming team, coached by Kim Gescheidler, finished out the season with a strong win against Storm Lake, 120-44. This was a perfect cap-off to a strong season for the swimming team. The final team record for the season was 6-3.

A few accomplishments for the team included sending several athletes to state. Freshman Philip Jay, sophomore Ben Phelps and seniors Dan Moeller, Aaron Kelley, Dustin Briggs (from Jefferson) were part of the State 100 and 200 free relays.

"It was a great experience for me to make it to state. I look

The Toreador swimmers also sent the 200 free relay and the 400 free relay to state. Out of the twenty-six teams competing, the Toreadors placed twenty first and twenty-sixth respectively.

"I think it was fun for the team to make it to state. Although we didn't place as high as we would have liked to, it was a great experience for the team," senior Aaron Kelly said.

The gym filled with the sound of squeaky shoes as the boys team entered to play.

Although faced with many ups and downs the team kept focused as they worked toward their goals. When it came down to the final minutes of the games, consistent shooting was the main goal of the players. Three pointers were a big key to gaining the momentum.

"I was upset when I went to shoot a three pointer and it was called as a two pointer," senior Joel Hitsman said.

Overall the team finished 3-9 in the conference and 5-15 on the season. They finished fourth in the Boone Invitational.

"We had hopes of doing better this year, but watch for us in the future," junior Mike Etringer said.

The end of the season brought disappointment to the players. The 'Dors lost their first round to Ames.

"The team tried their hardest but did not succeed as well as we wanted to," senior Chris Murphy said.

Hard work in the weight room and on the court, were required for success. The team lifted after school or after practice every day.

"We were told that we had to keep it up over the summer with the weight lifting and running to be in shape for the next year," junior Randy Johnson said.

Striving for success the 9th, 10th, and JV boys basketball teams provided a strong stepping stone to the varsity level.

"We went out and had a lot of fun playing basketball. We prided ourselves on playing as a team and having fun out there," junior Nick Getschman said.

Playing as a team was an important factor in winning games, for all of the teams.

Scoring those Hoops

Often success is measured in higher terms than scores. The dedication and knowledge of the game heightened the potential of the team.

The Varsity girls basketball team finished with a 8-15 record, but many games were close calls and consisted of hard work and dedication.

The first few days of practice were different with new coach Jim McPartland. The adjustment was made easily despite the different playing strategies and team styles. Everyone got along great and really became close friends and learned to work as a team. Good attitudes led to achieving team goals.

"I thought we ended the season on a high note by winning four of our last five games. Hopefully that will build some excitement for the next year," coach Jim McPartland said.

The girls practiced daily either before or after school for at least two hours. Some of the girls even went to the Heartland Health Center after practice to shoot more hoops or lift weights.

Grueling practices finally paid off when the girls defeated Des Moines Hoover.

"The experience was good for both the program and the team. It was a win that gave us confidence for years to come," junior Shannon Rinehart said.

Even through changes in the program, the girls made goals and set higher expectations for themselves and for the program. It was an excellent season for sportsmanship and motivation. The changes proved that the team could roll with the punches.

To be or not to be, that was the question. The wrestling team proved to still be wrestling at its best with only two seniors John Wittrock and Tyler Smith.

With a young team at hand they wrestled their hearts out and posted many victories.

"We hate to call this a rebuilding year because we had strengths down through the weights, however, the freshmen learned a lot this year. We expect great things from them in the future," Coach David Christenson said.

The squad faced many injuries throughout the season and many younger wrestlers had to step it up to the varsity squad.

"You hate to see injuries of any kind. The weights seemed to cover though," sophomore Josh Eatock said.

The squad finished with 11 wins and 6 losses overall and in the Little Hawkeye Conference they finished with 4 wins 1 loss. The Toreadors finished 3rd at the District meet in Ft. Dodge and sent four wrestlers to the State Tournament. State wrestlers included junior s C.T. Hammond and Nathan Boesen and senior s John Wittrock and Tyler Smith.

Teams fought the inclement weather both at practices and during meets.

The girls track team had a great season and it showed in their record. The team began their season by placing third at the Boone Invitational. Boone placed in the top three in ten events. The only teams to rank above them were Marshalltown and Johnston. The team was pumped with their strong start.

"I was glad to place second in the long jump at the Invitational. It's nice to do well at home," senior Emily Brooks said.

The girls proved to do well at home once again with the Boone Classic. The team celebrated their first place win with a victory lap. Seven of the events were first place finishes making the team total 141 points.

Forty-four of the 141 points were attained by Kim and Alicia Irons. The team pulled together to get their victory. This really showed when fifteen new season bests were set at the Boone Classic.

That last lap . Running

Starting out the new season with new and exciting meets ahead was always a thrill. Hoping to meet their teams and individual goals became top priority.

Wow!! Another year of boy's track has come and gone like that. Winning individually wasn't the only thing on the minds of the 'Dors. They also thought and worked as a team to get first place. Their team philosophy was "If you aren't a team you aren't a winner".

"This year we really worked to get the group effort as well as individual," junior Nick Nerem said.

One highlight of the season was junior Marty McIntyre breaking the twenty-two year old record in the 400 meter dash. He broke the record by an impressive 1.23 seconds with a time of 48.8 seconds.

Three coaches were out on the track giving it their all in trying to make the team the best they could be. They included Mr. Gary Achenbach who worked with the middle and long distance runners; Mr. John Bachman who worked with the sprinters; and Mr. Stan Brandmeyer who worked with the weight men.

The season ended the last Saturday in May with the State meet at Drake Stadium. State qualifiers included Marty McIntyre, Mike Etringer, Kyle McCloud, Sam Hurst, Joey Blank, Ryan Pervier, Nick Getschman, and Mike Myers.

"The best thing in my years of coaching is winning the LHC Conference title in 97' and the best thing for my individual self is being able to watch the boys run in the meets and help them meet their personal goals. This year the best thing was having a record be beat," Coach Achenbach said.

The goals that the boys set as a team at the beginning of the season were to win the LHC Conference meet and to improve personal best times.

"The thing I like about track is when I get to jump the hurdles in track meets. I like giving it my all and doing better than the time before," junior Jay Lange said.

• Showing he could do well in more than just the 400 meter dash, Marty McIntyre (00) finishes strong in the 200 meter dash at the Boone Invite. Marty broke the school record in the 400 meter dash and represented the team in the event as the #1 seed at the State Meet.

Loving at the net for Results

Competition varied for each meet and that meant changing goals as the season progressed.

The varsity girls tennis team put together another strong season, compiling a record of 8-2 and finishing second in the Little Hawkeye Conference behind a talented Oskaloosa bunch. They also sent three to the state singles and doubles meet.

The team returned four girls who competed in varsity action last season. The players included seniors Kristin Mattson, Kristen Krumhardt, and Marci Eller. Junior returning letter-winner was Amanda Byas.

Among the newcomers was the number one singles player, freshman Marie Schutte. Sophomore Kelli Brown, who played number three, gained valuable varsity experience for next season.

Some of the more impressive wins of the year were when the girls shut out both Knoxville and Norwalk 11-0, and Webster City 9-0.

"Some of the meets were sort of boring because of the competition, but it was always nice to get the win under the belt," senior Kristen Krumhardt said.

Seniors Marci Eller, Kristen Krumhardt, and Kristin Mattson posted the most regular season singles wins on the year with eight a each.

"We felt it was important to step up and be team leaders out on the court during the year," senior Marci Eller said.

Also contributing to the varsity squad were Lindsey Pleuss, Theresa Ho, Lindsay Eller, and Heather Behn who rounded out the top ten in varsity doubles competition.

In the Little Hawkeye Conference Tournament, Marie Schutte and Amanda Byas both finished second in their flights in the singles competition, while Kristen Krumhardt and Kristin Mattson finished third in their doubles flight. Marci Eller and Kelli Brown came in fourth in the number one doubles flight.

In the singles and doubles District tournament the girls once again showed their power. Marie Schutte, in singles, finished first in the District to qualify for the state tennis meet. The doubles team of Kristin Mattson and Kelli Brown also qualified for state by finishing second in their flight. Also with strong performances were Kristen Krumhardt in singles, and Marci Eller and Amanda Byas who finished third in their respective flights.

With all the fun of being a dominate team, the girls also had to find ways to have fun on their long bus rides to places like Pella.

"Some of the most fun of the year was when we got all the girls on the bus singing songs on the trips," freshman Lindsay Eller said.

Love wars

Taking the tradition of the past tennis teams into consideration helped the current team set high goals and reach for their best potential.

The boys tennis team continued to prove themselves on the court. They spent two months working on their skills, trying to show what they had.

Some players used the season to improve their skills over previous seasons.

"My serving improved a lot over last year. I don't win all of my matches, but I'm getting better for myself," senior Sean Farley said.

The team gained new members and freshmen weren't the only additions to the team. New members to the team were required to

"This was my first year. Rookie run was a frightening experience," junior Jon Erb said.

Team members have some of their own ideas for improvements. Much of this could be done with newer school facilities.

"Boone needs tennis courts at the football field. It's not fair that we have to go all the way out to McHose," sophomore Mike Kerwood said.

The team looked forward to the Little Hawkeye Conference because they felt that was something they could excel in.

"We won the conference again. Boone always wins," freshman Jason Edwards said.

The team faced a new season with 75 victories in a row. That record fell with a loss to Dowling. Making up for the defeat, the team began a new record of 5 members competing at State.

The members of the boys tennis team, whether a returning player or a new one, believed in their abilities and believed in their team.

Those competing at State were sophomore Scott Little, juniors Garrett Piklapp and David Haila in doubles, and finally Nick Schroeder and Andrew Ahrens in doubles.

Even though the team was young, the golfing experience was evident with the players on the team.

The varsity girls golf team ended the year with a 3-1 dual meet record. The golf team had to compete with not only the other teams but also with the weather.

The squad was composed of six juniors, 11 sophomores and one senior. The team of young golfers had the leadership from the upperclassmen.

"The girls showed tremendous improvement during the course of the season. Even though we were a young team, that just pushed the girls to work harder and improve their scores," coach Keith Geiken said.

The varsity squad competed in four dual meets and in five invitational meets.

"It is hard being the only senior on the squad, I had to have a lot of leadership for the younger girls," senior Amanda Wiley said.

The golf team ended the season with a third place finish at the Little Hawkeye Conference meet that was held in Boone. This gave the team a little bit of an edge being on their home greens.

"I felt we played good at Districts but it just wasn't enough to get into State. We had a great year and I am really looking forward to next year," junior Kelli Harper said.

The team placed third in Districts at Oskaloosa. They placed with a score of 399. They were nineteen strokes off making it to State.
