

A cartoon illustration of a boy with spiky brown hair, freckles, and a surprised expression, wearing a red zip-up jacket. He is holding up three large, light blue letters that spell 'POOP'. The background is a vibrant orange and yellow sunburst pattern. Scattered around the boy are several large, stylized letters in yellow and orange, some of which are broken or shattering into pieces. The overall style is energetic and playful.

POOP QUIZ

2005

FILL IN THE BLANKS
Student Life Mini Mag
16-31

"I wouldn't be going to some of my classes if we didn't have the chance to do hands-on activities rather than just sit in our desks and listen."

-Brian Bieffelt ('05)

POP QUIZ

THIS IS A TEST
Student Life
6-15

"I loved all the activities this year. We created the memories and maybe made some of nightmares for our parents."

-Charlie Eastlund ('06)

SHORT

"The seniors will out for the freshmen"

MULTIPLE CHOICE Clubs & Organizations 88-109

"I tried to belong to as many things as I could this year. I was proud to receive the Principal's Pride Award for 'Involvement'."

-Anna Sunstrom ('05)

SHORT ANSWER

People

32-87

"The seniors were pretty calm this year but watch out for the freshmen...we will rule!"

-Katlyn Miller ('08)

TRUE OR FALSE

Sports

110-135

"It's great to see the success of the spring sports. Sometimes, we end the year almost forgetting about the hard work of these athletes."

-Coach Gary Achenbach

•ATTEMPTING to cheer on the Toreadors, Brittni Larson and Khrystyne Skare join the senior section at the Iowa Falls fall Pep Rally. Because students tended to skip the assemblies, the administration approved a limited number of rallies.

BOONE HIGH SCHOOL

500 7th Street
Boone, IA 50036
515-433-0995 ext. 239

CITY POPULATION: 13,250
HS POPULATION: 825
FAX 515-433-0989

ahaugland@boone.k12.ia.us

SCROLL • Volume 92

C

HECKING MUSCLES
After setting up the catapult, Mike Doran ('06) aims as seniors Emma Reinertson, Hannah Tripp, Nicole Reynoldson and Joe Craven watch. The group tested the catapults in physics.

T

TASTING FOR SAFETY
Checking out the frosting, Becca Miller ('05) makes sure it is all right for Peer Helpers. The group made cookies for teacher appreciation.

I

IT'S HOME TO ME.
Iowa means snow and A.J. Longnecker ('06) takes a plunge in a snowdrift. Due to winter storms, students enjoyed 3 snow days.

C

CAUGHT IN THE ACT
Mixing Halloween and football, Clint Martin ('08) wears a wig to class on the day of a big game. Clint wanted to show that his mind wasn't always about football.

WHO WHAT WHEN WHERE WHY?

•"I don't know if I will ever forget the fun we had when we did Footloose this fall. Backstage was the greatest."
- MATT BEYER ('05)

•"I thought that Physics was going to at least be do-able. I found out that I really had to study and do homework."
-JESSICA NOELCK ('05)

ANSWER SHEET

THE BIG QUESTION

What do you know about your school?

You just can't study for it. You never know when it is going to happen.

The heart beats faster, the beads of sweat start to form, the fear of being grounded sets in...It's the dreaded POP QUIZ.

I know that they keep talking about 'No Child Left Behind' but I would like to kick it in someone's behind.
•Brett Hudson ('05)

"I hated to go to Hesser's class. I never read the assignments and always got caught with the quizzes. My parents hated the grades I got this year and I was one of the trials with Power Grade so my parents could check my grades any time of the day," junior Kyle Johnson said.

School means memories. The friendships and activities are shared by everyone.

Who wore an orange dress to Prom? Who scored the first touchdown in ninth grade? Who retired after 32 years of teaching?

Take out your paper and pencil. This is a POP QUIZ!

HITTING THE CAFETERIA

Taking advantage of the a la carte line in the school lunch room, Shayna McDanel ('06) loads up a chicken sandwich. Students could choose from salad bar, main meal or snack bar.

Y?
n we did (05)
ble. I
"
K ('05)

CAUGHT FALLING DOWN
 Putting complete effort into the intramural game, Ian Nelson ('05) falls after diving for the ball. Students competed in volleyball intramurals during the fall.

WHO WHAT WHEN WHERE WHY?

- “I didn’t have much faith in Mr. Patten as we started the year, but then I realized he knew what he was talking about.”
 - ERIC BAKER ('05)
- “Mrs. Sears was so much fun. She identified with kids as she really taught us something. She’s great.”
 -LIBBY MCGRATH ('05)

ANSWER SHEET

HITTING THE TARGET
Hitting the books was important for some, but sophomores Dan Corey, Adam Edelman and Drew Peterson do more playing in study hall than studying. Sophomores received open campus if grades were good.

THE BIG

QUESTION?

What do you know about your school

The big test was getting grades that were good enough to eventually graduate. For some, the goal was much higher. Seniors qualified for the Wall of Fame by the end of their senior year. Check out the book to see who made the list and what the qualifications they met.

I can't believe how many new rules we had this year. They couldn't catch us skipping though.

•Ben Schroeder ('06)

Drake Relays made history for the school as sophomore

Logan Gonzales placed first. He was the first Boone student to ever win a championship at the Relays.

Only 2 new teachers along with one administrator joined the faculty for the year. Mrs. Angie Sears (Social Studies) and Mr. Tyler Patten

(Indus. Tech) both started their first year of teaching. Mrs. Carolyn Clark took the reigns of Asst. Principal.

The test? No extra credit! Take the POP QUIZ and see how much you know about the school year.

HIDING FROM MR. POTTS

What's the most common thing used for Prom Decorations? Blaine Fitzsimmons ('07) answered as he hid in a cardboard box outside the art room.

"Going to games, hanging out with friends, getting in trouble for skipping school, working, shopping, crying, laughing...these are the things that happen in the life of a student."

-Molly Jay ('05)

•HOPING not to get caught, Sterling Heiner ('06) jumps on top of the HRTA van outside the school. Students tried as many things as they could to make memories throughout the year.

•WHILE editing the senior video, Ian Nelson ('05) and Jared Thompson ('06) consider changes as Lauren Booth ('05) and Jarrett Pfrimmer ('05) defend the work. Students studied video work in order to complete the Class Day project.

•TAKING care of the class work before heading out for fun, students concentrate on doing their job in pottery, MOC and publications. Allison Rogers ('06), Tera Barrett ('05) and Mr. Potts, Katie Walters ('05), and Iva Myers with Chelsea Weddell ('05) attended classes with the idea of making it fun.

•LIFE does its job of providing challenges for teens. AJ Longnecker ('06), Heather Bassett ('08) and Anna Sunstrom ('05) along with other Thespians took part in a mock car crash in order to point it out the student body.

This is a test

Life is great. The big challenges that test the patience and humor are the ones that create the memories.

•Somehow, we survive. We get up early in the morning in order to finish the homework we left undone the night before. We head to our jobs as soon as the 3:10 bell rings.

We save to pay for the formal dances and then blowing an engine in our car instantly takes it all away. Who said life was going to be easy?

•"I just never knew if I could get everything done during the day...and then they had to throw school into the mix. Life would be good without having to go to class," senior Jarrett Pfrimmer said.

•As our parents said and now our teachers say, THIS IS A TEST!

WARNING!

Chowing Down

Students disregarded the no eating rules in school. As shown here, students need their food!

ALEX EDELMEN ('06)

DAN SIDERS (staff)

PAT SCHAEFER ('05)

MATT BRILEY ('08)

•EATING is only part of the fun: Alex Edelman ('06) eats a two-year old peep. Dan Siders competes at a pep assembly. Pat Schaefer ('05) pulls on Danelle Smith's ('05) hair. Matt Briley ('05) sleeps in Mrs. Howe's room.

•BEING a freshman means Alex Anderson ('08) doesn't break the gum rule. Students in Middle School could not chew gum however, the rule changed in high school and it was allowed.

Breaking rules means trouble

The belief of many students is, rules wouldn't have been made, if someone didn't intend to have them broken

Too many times during the year students heard the hollering of a teacher for wolfing down a fudge round and swigging on a fruit twister!

That was just one of many rules that students broke every day while attending school. From eating, to sleeping in algebra class, almost everyone broke one of the "golden rules".

"Sometimes I like to break rules just to feel like I am a bad person," senior Matt Briley said.

With a new assistant principal in office, students thought it would be quite easy to "bend" the rules. But many found out the hard way, she was not ready to let anything slide.

"Mrs. Clark was a lot smarter on the rules than I thought she was going to be. She really caught everything, even my alcohol shirts," senior Joe Graham said.

Mr. David Kapfer, principal, backed the newbie on her strict rule enforcements. If there were questions, he referred to the student handbook.

"I hate the new cell phone rule. I always get caught using mine," senior Jess Elliott said.

Other students tried to sneak wearing baseball caps or stocking hats into the building. The rule held, no matter how cold it was outside. A new era meant rules couldn't be broken.

•TALKING on his cell phone Kyle Johnson ('06) takes an urgent call. Students talked on their phones, even though there was a strict no cell-phone policy.

1 HOUR

The time you may have to serve for sleeping in class! Katie Anderson ('06) found out the hard way.

HANGING 10 Erika Langamade ('08) shows off her skateboarding skills. Erika's ambition was to become the first female skateboarder from Iowa when she was young.

SLIDING down the railing in a stair case, Trey Price ('08) displays no fear of falling down. He broke all rules doing this. SPIDERMAN? Ian Nelson ('05) climbs up the bathroom hallway over Adam Melssen ('05) in the boys' bathroom in the Commons. The boys skipped class to show this trick.

CHECKING text messages on her cell phone, Melissa Licata ('05) likes to keep in touch with her pals, even when she is in school. Students used text messaging to avoid sound.

Students enjoy a little "horse play" in school!

DO NOT ENTER
—
Students Breaking Rules

•STUCK in a head lock, Adam Melssen ('05) shows his pain and anguish with the wrestling move. Even though Adam was small, he was brave enough to take on friends.

•DUCT tape continues to fix things around the home, but Josh Stover tapes Brandon West with it. Taping students to trees was one of the most complained about Homecoming tricks.

•INDIAN leg wrestling became a common way to settle differences in class. Ian Nelson ('05) and Joe Graham ('05) settled a score over a girl.

Q & A

"The whole week was so much fun. I couldn't choose just one thing."
 •Kendra Elsberry ('06)

"That I could be around all my closest friends throughout the night."
 •Heather Price ('06)

"I always wanted to be a cheerleader. I got my chance at Powderpuff."
 •Jeremy Brittain ('05)

"Kickin' it to some tasty grooves.. meaning the dancing."
 •Ian Nelson ('05) with Garrett Pearson ('05)

•HOMECOMING COURT Row 1: Emma Reinertson, Amberly Hagen, Amy Roberts, Jenny Hansen, Dana Dose. Row 2: Brennan Williams, Dan Schlieman, Queen Dana Kelley, King Mike Doran, Jeremy Pritchard, AJ Smith, Owen Berg.

HOMECOMING

Pranks and spirit reign over week

Things to do...

TPing

"It's just so much fun and TP doesn't ruin anything so I don't see the harm."
 Aaron Briley ('08)

Homecoming Dance

"The dance is a place to have a good time with friends and to make memories."
 Courtney Poling ('08)

Tailgating

"We would always tailgate behind Katie Walters truck but my ADD would kick in and I would have to leave about ten times during the game."
 Megan Wilcox ('05)

Things not to do...

Egging

"Eggs ruin the paint jobs on the cars so that's a bad idea."
 Alison Gaskill ('05)

Get caught by the cops

"You shouldn't get caught because you lose privileges and your parents don't trust you anymore."
 Brett Dunnick ('06)

Put a canoe in Mr. Bowman's tree

"If you try this, make sure you don't tell anyone who has his class because he will make a bonus question about it on his next quiz."
 Justin Nelson ('05)

KING & QUEEN

DANNA KELLY & MIKE DORAN

"I was excited and my cheeks hurt from smiling so long. To tell you the truth, I was just pumped about riding a convertible."
 •Queen Danna

•WELCOMING new asst. principal, Mrs. Carolyn Clark, students dance with her. Mrs. Clark came from Muscatine where she taught.
 •ENJOYING their first formal dance, freshmen Amanda Pfannes and Madison Church dance with no dates. Usually the freshmen wore formal dresses and underclassmen were more casual.

•SHOWING what they did in their spare time, freshmen see the end result upon arriving at school. Blair Park usually got hit several times during the week so students could see it when they got to school.

•Breaking it down at the dance, Malory Hicks ('05) hits with floor with Anja-Dejana Leginovic (foreign exchange student from Serbia). This was Malory's last Homecoming dance and Anja's first in the country.

•Showing their last ounce of spirit, Melissa Licata ('05) and Brice VanRoekel ('05) ride the victory pony. The Powderpuff game allowed students to show their pride in a variety of ways.

View the Facts

Average money spent going out during the week: $23.75

Average money spent on Homecoming dinner: $37.00

Average hours spent on TPing instead of studying: 6.75

"Although it made a good defense but it's a bad idea because of all the damage it causes." • Jessica Elliott ('05)

What was the favorite night-time activity during the week?
 57%-TPing 32%-Egging 11%-Duct taping

Amy Roberts ('05)

Teacher's Pets

Seniors Dana Dose and Jennie Hansen try to do a little pre-calculus studying to try and impress Mr. Bowman.

What lengths do students go to in order to get attention?

Some students tried super hard for their grades, while there were some who did a little more. These students were the ones that some referred to as the teacher's pets.

"When I was younger, I went to my fourth grade teacher's house, Mrs. Beer, and delivered her a cake for her birthday," senior Brandon Peterson said.

Some accomplished quite amazing acts to get on the good side of a teacher. However, try as hard as they did, it didn't always work out to their advantage.

"No matter how much I suck up to Mr. Potts, he still hates me!" junior Jordan Cook said.

At one time, the senior "most likely to" list had "biggest brown-noser". Students loved to look over the class to name the students who were the teachers' pets.

"We got rid of that category because it wasn't too kind," newspaper advisor Mrs. Jane Dupuis said.

THINGS SENIORS LOVE ABOUT BHS

Ya' gotta love it

"The girls," senior Garrett Pearson said.

"The wall texture," senior Danny Schlieman said.

"My friends," senior Lauren Booth said.

"The surroundings," Clarissa Davis said

Teacher's Real Pets

"We love our dog almost as much as each other."
•Mr. Dobelis

Some teachers love their pets so much that they become part of their family and sometimes even an obsession. When asking teachers how far they would go for their pets, they had some jaw-dropping responses.

"I bought my wife a new dog and as I was driving the new pup home, she kept having accidents and I needed something to clean up the mess. By the time I got home I was driving down the highway shirtless and getting some rather strange looks," Media Specialist Scott Kiesel said.

Mr. Ed Dobelis tried to describe his pet's life at the Dobelis residence. He was hesitant to admit it was like a "pet spa."

Mrs. Leisha Anderson didn't compare her cat, Edgar Allen Kitty Poe Cat, to living in a pet spa, but said, "sometimes my cat likes to sleep on my head."

Like the saying goes, "a dog is a man's best friend," is easy to see when finding out about different teachers' pets.

Ms. Karen Hesser talked about her black lab named Clearwater Delta's Polar Star. "She guarded and protected. Our children hung on to her when she was bigger than they were."

Mrs. Ann Haugland became a first time dog owner. Her Japanese Chin, Bogart, came to her home in October.

"I have learned I can't be quite so independent now," Mrs. Haugland said.

A teacher's life has pets everywhere.

Mrs. Anderson's Cat

BY THE NUMBERS

85%	58%	72%	72%	60%	66%
of students prefer taking a shower rather than a bath	of students like Batman better than Superman	of students think Rudolph is better than Frosty	of students like sitcoms rather than dramas	of students say they are a "night" person rather than a "day" person	of students say they would rather see Europe than America

Update Your Locker

"I don't use my locker. I just keep all of my things with me," junior Aaron Howell said.

"It will be interesting to see how many empty water bottles we will have in the bottom of our locker," senior Leslie Lobaugh said.

•GETTING to know each other, seniors Brian Price and Anja Deana Legenovic show each other how much love they have for BHS.

ANATOMY

of a classroom

Why is Mr. Wells's room the way it is?

"I want a warm day-dreaming environment that represents me...and because plants give off heat to keep my room warm during the winter," math teacher Mr. Jeff Wells said.

What does COK stand for?

Celebration of Knowledge! Mr. Wells's traditional Friday test!

Did you know that Mr. Wells has...

...one couch, lots of plants, 6 stuffed M&M people, a quote of the day, TONS of posters and a wife that teaches in the FCS department!

Mr. Wells's Room

What did you enjoy most about winter dance?

A

"It was fun to see all of my friends dressed up and looking cute."
 •Chelsea Larson ('08) with Connor Green ('08)

"I liked going out to eat and hanging out after the dance."
 •Sarah Trudeau ('06) with Matt Briley ('05)

"I liked hanging out with all of my friends for the entire night."
 •Katie O'Brien ('08) with Andrea Harken ('08)

"I liked getting ready and dressed up for the dance."
 •Ashley Tellinghuisen ('07) with Monica Koenen ('06) and Rhaechel Ohge

ICE, WIND, AND SNOW

WINTER

DANCE

Going Out to Eat

"My group went to someone's house to eat pizza. I liked it because that way we could save money," freshman Maggie Pestotnik said.

"I went to Aunt Maude's for dinner because their food is magically delicious. Plus my date paid," junior Kyle Johnson said.

The Money

"I liked winter dance because it was formal, but you didn't have to spend a lot of money like prom," senior Calista Crouthamel said.

"I only had to pay for my clothes because at the winter dance the girl is supposed to pay," sophomore Ben Getschman said.

The Attire

"Winter dance was more formal than Homecoming but not as formal as prom," senior Megan Wulf said.

"I don't like dressing up, that's why I liked Homecoming better than winter dance," sophomore Wyatt Elsberry said.

The Music

"The music at the dance was all right. I wish that they would have played less country and more variety," junior Amanda Messerly said.

"I thought that the music was terrible," junior Jordan Camp said.

KING & QUEEN

"I was very surprised. It was an great to be the winter dance king."
 •Willy Muse ('05)

"It was an honor to stand up there with all those other great girls."
 •Amy Mellett ('05)

•DISCUSSING how good their dates look, juniors Kevin Wailes and Cale Swanson talk while drinking punch. Advanced Foods students made refreshments for the dances.

•TAKING a break from dancing, students talk over the loud music. The DJ at the dance played everything from country to rap.

•TURNING on the flash, Erin Cain ('06) takes a picture for Brie Putzier ('06). A popular thing at the dance taking pictures with friends.

•SHOWING off their moves, Kody Barton ('06) and Willy Muse ('05) hit the dance floor. Some people just ditched their dates to dance with a large group of friends.

•WAITING for a slow song, seniors Joe Craven and Emily Olson rest from dancing. The bleachers were filled with couples and friends waiting to dance.

•SHOVING some bobby pins in, Dawn Larson helps Natasha Gustin ('08) fix her hair. Many girls paid up to $40 to get their hair done for the dance.

•ENJOYING their first winter dance as high schoolers, freshman girls work on their moves. Winter dance became more formal as most girls wore long formal dresses.

View the Facts

WHERE DID YOU GO AFTER THE DANCE?

Went to a friend's house: 49%
 Went out to eat: 33%
 Other: 18%

"My group went to Perkins afterward because they are open 24/7 and they have good crepes." • Kyle Beste ('06)

•DISCUSSING plans for after the winter dance, juniors Kyle Johnson and Derek Prouty sit on the bleachers. Students went to other parties or out to eat.

•STANDING in line at the Scholastic Awards Ceremony, students await the announcement of their scholarships. As of May 1, the senior class received $921,000 in financial aid for college.

•APPEARING to be scolded, Kim Downs ('06) visits with her mother at the senior volleyball breakfast. "She wasn't scolding me but telling me how proud she was of our team," Kim said.

•WORKING on a class sign, Danelle Smith ('05) spends time in the hall in order to have room for the big piece of paper. Because classrooms were crowded, students often moved to the halls in order to work more efficiently.

•BREAKING the hat rule, Jacob Woodley ('06) works on an crafts project. Students tried to wear hats whenever they got away with it but usually a teacher or administrator asked them to remove the hat.

STUDY GUIDE

CHECK OUT THE NEWS....THEN TAKE THE TEST!

This section of the book presents a mini-mag look at the school year. Some pages include interactive quiz questions. Answer the questions and check with your friends to see if you're right.

Take your best shot

Students take to roads

Hitting the car lots became one of the most important things a teen did once he or she reached the age of 16. On top of everything else, the car had to make a statement.

"I knew exactly what I wanted. I just wanted four wheels," junior Wyatt Elsberry said.

Of course, with the growing number of cars, the problem of the over-crowded parking lot worsened. Even though the dirt lot was paved, the amount of spaces didn't increase. Overall, as long as teens drove cars to school, the lots were destined to be full.

DREAM about a car is the priority of most teens. Once they turned 16, it had the be license time.

LEADERSHIP

Home Team Pride

Spirit takes over the crowds at home and away

Sports and arts attracted fans of all kinds. Supporting each other became a goal. "I try to pump up the crowd so they show good sportsmanship," Coach Mark Camenisch said.

GRADUATION trauma

HANDLING the stress, Ian Nelson ('05) attempts to record the frantic look of seniors so the memories can last in pictures forever.

Looking forward to the senior year begins when students become freshmen. The freedom, the excitement, the ability to earn and spend much all became appealing. "I can hardly wait to become a senior. The senior parties are fun and it just seems like you can be your own person. The only thing I dread is the money it takes to get through the year," junior Ryan Hull said.

The expenses do accumulate. The year starts out with college applications, ordering announcements and paying for parties and just the life of a senior.

Rule changes

Green slips arrive

The word "green" meant different things to many people. To some it meant "go", to others it was a favorite color. To the attendance office, it had its own meaning.

"When I get a green slip, I know I've been caught and I'd better get my dad on the phone to call me in," senior Nate Hurt said.

Because of some theft and forgery problems, the green slips turned yellow during second semester. They still meant the same thing, however.

"I might have one the records for the most green or yellow slips for a freshman," freshman Hannah Severson said.

•USING excess energy outside the building and in the hallways, Brady Green ('06) and Brandon Stoneburner ('07) try to avoid trouble as they entertain others around them.

5-SECOND QUIZ

What game are they playing?

- a. hacky-sack
- b. lefty arm wrestling
- c. Balderdash

Correct answer: B.

PRIDE BRINGS CREATIVE SPIRIT

FRIENDS

It was not unusual to see seniors Becky Wittrock and Ashley Delance trying to entertain others.

INVOLVEMENT

Check with a teacher about make-up work, Alex Kirby questions the reality of getting it all done.

THE ARTS

Expressing himself with his pottery, Andrew Erb ('05) works on the wheel to create a pot.

Brian West ('06) and Sam Duffy ('06)

Dustin Kussel ('07)

FIVE THINGS...

You didn't know about their crazy behavior...

1. NEVER ADMIT THEY ARE WRONG "I always ask for help and even when he doesn't know the answer, he gives one to me anyway."

•Maria Rivera ('05)

2. WANNA BE WITH THE GUYS "I hate it when poker comes before what I want to do."

•Ashley Stoll ('05)

3. LOVE THEIR CARS "I don't get how guys can talk about cars all the time."

•Amber Linn ('05)

4. ROMANTIC ONCE A YEAR "It really is nice to have attention paid to us and get gifts around the special dance."

•Jenny Mack ('07)

5. CAN'T LIVE WITHOUT 'EM "I just love having 'em around."

•Megan Wulf ('05)

•GOOFING with a classmate, Taylor Nystrom ('07) sees the crazy personality shine through whether it is outside or in study hall.

Rags to riches

When a student thinks of style, he/she might not consider hand-me-downs as "stylish".

"I love to wear really funky stuff that will call attention to myself," junior Brittany Taylor said.

Even though the trend continued,

the Salvation Army Store and Goodwill Store still had appeal.

"I would go nowhere else to get t-shirts. I have several that just crack me up," junior Jared Thompson said.

Even the special events like the winter dance and prom drew people to used clothing trends. The average cost of a new prom dress was $275. The average used dress at Goodwill was $12.50. Few who were into vintage could resist the low cost and high fashion statement.

"I love to see some of the

"Save on clothes so that you can buy stuff from the vending machine."
Ryan Fliss ('07)

clothes the kids are wearing today. It reminds me of some of the crazy stuff we wore when we were in high school," PE teacher Mr. Rick Davis said.

If saving money was a goal, used clothing was in.

GUESS WHO THE PARENT IS...

- a. Mrs. Deb Schlieman
- b. Mr. Ben Bravard
- c. Mr. Ted Erickson
- d. None of above

- a. Mrs. Kathy Gus
- b. Mrs. Gayle Rinehart
- c. Mr. Mark Hanna
- d. None of above

- a. Mrs. Jill Bass
- b. Mr. Jay Dahl
- c. Mr. Jim Dose
- d. None of above

There were 13 sets of parents/child(ren) working or enrolled in the high school

ANSWERS: a, b, d

EXTRA CREDIT Piercing and tattoos Match student with tattoo or piercing

___ Haylie Balm ___ Cale Hennings ___ Tamalina Towelerton ___ Alicia Franklin ___ Brandy Stoneburner

1. I got this piercing because I think it makes me unique.

2. I pierced my nose myself with a tack at my cousin's house. I was extremely bored!

3. I got this tattoo because my oldest brother has a one and the other has a two.

4. I got my piercing because I thought it looked cool.

5. My tattoo's Cancer. I wanted it to have some kind of meaning.

6. What did the seniors do for the talent show at the Homecoming pep assembly?
- Let's Get it Started in Here
 - These Boots Are Made For Walkin'
 - RESPECT

7. Where was the most night-time action during Homecoming?
- commons
 - McHose Park
 - Blair Park
 - Memorial Park

WRITE ABOUT ONE MEMORY:

8. What bathroom caught on fire and had a "Do Not Enter" sign blocking it off for 3 weeks?
- The bathroom in the Commons
 - The girls' athletic locker room
 - The north side boys' bathroom on second floor.

9. Short Answer... What was your most memorable moment of first quarter?

•ENJOYING the faculty/staff pre-winter break potluck, Ms. Arista Buckingham visits with Mr. Jim McPartland while Mr. Todd Smith visits with Mrs. Shannon Zinnell.

10. Which teacher most recently started a teaching career at Boone High School?
- Ms. Arista Buckingham (Study Skills)
 - Mr. Jim McPartland (Social Studies)
 - Mr. Todd Smith (Special Ed.)
 - Mrs. Shannon Zinnell (Sped.)

BONUS: Which of the above teachers was married during the school year?

answers: Haylie Balm: 5 Cale Hennings: 3 Tamalina Towelerton: 4 Alicia Franklin: 2 Brandy Stoneburner: 1
6: b 7: c 8: c 10: a BONUS: Ms. Buckingham 1: Varsity Baseball, Oskaloosa vs. Boone, FCS athletes breakfast, Awards Day
12: Power School 14: c March 17 15: Brad Myers 16: b

11. Order of events....which occurred first?

Awards Day

Oskaloosa Vs. Boone

Varsity Baseball

Athletes Breakfast

12. What was the new school attendance and gradebook program that students and parents could use to check grades?

- a. Power School
- b. Indesign
- c. Herff Jones

13. NAME THE JV CHEERLEADERS

HELLO
my name is

HELLO
my name is

HELLO
my name is

HELLO
my name is

14. When was the first snow of the year?

- a. In early September
- b. During Homecoming
- c. In late November

When was the last bit of snow flurries of the year?

- a. February 21
- b. March 17
- c. May

15. Who isn't a member of the Boone A & M FFA?

Emily Hanson

Brad Myers

Danny Jenkins

Joel Wilson

16. When did the FFA fruit sales take place?

- a. May
- b. November
- c. December

BONUS: What were their total sales?

SIT & EAT

KATY ANDERSON

BRETT DUNNICK

CHELSEA WEDDELL

IVA MYERS

JUSTIN NELSON

•INSTEAD of working hard on their pages for the yearbook, the second hour publications class spent the hour at the Whistle Stop. They spent the hour eating breakfast and talking and taking pictures of the photography field trip.

CRUNCHING on some chips at La Carreta lunch trip in publications class. Senior Ian Nelson ('05) eats as much chips and salsa he can get before he ran out of salsa.

Classes going out to eat

The best way to get a good grade and to feed your belly.

On the way to the best grade possible. The way to do that is to buy the teacher something to feed her belly.

The publications staff worked hard all the time and never got a break. Staff members talked advisor Ann Haugland into letting them go down to the Commons and the Lunch room to get something to eat. Every once and awhile it worked. Many just told her that they starving and they couldn't work on an empty stomach.

"Im always really hungry even though I just get back from lunch." Junior Kyle Johnson ('06) said.

By April the class had only two potlucks for the year. That was not normal for publications mentalitiy. In previous years food in the class room was not such an issue, as it was last year.

Potlucks are a publications tradition, and are the good time for the students to get their mind off the yearbook for one day to brainstorm new fresh ideas.

If things were just right the class got a special photography field trip to go out and eat during the class, instead of a potluck. Whistle Stop Cafe and La Carreta were the choices of last years students

"It was so good and it was awsome because it was something different and it was fun." said Jerimi Marr ('05)

•BEST FRIENDS sitting next to each other at La Carreta. Jerimi Marr ('05) and his teacher Ann Haugland spent the lunch eating some chips.

When the publications class left La Carreta this was all they could find.

•SCOPING OUT all the different deserts. Senior Danny Schlieman (05) Enjoys his time at the Whistle Stop for a second hour publications breakfast fieldtrip.

•SCARFING down his superb taco from La Carreta, junior Kyle Johnson (06) loves every tasty bite of his meal. La Carreta was just one of the many food experiences that the publications class encountered throughout the year.

•AFTER missing his mouth the first time. Senior Joe Lanstrum (05) devours his ham, egg, and cheese omelet students work hard and get paid for it.

EVEN on a field trip work had to get done. Senior Tory McMahon (05) manages to git er done everytime she had to.

"BACON, eggs, hashbrowns and toast complete me." senior Jake Schmidt (05) Coincidentally someone took that exact picture at the Whistle Stop

YUM YUM class field trips for breakfast never make a day bad. Senior Sarah McCloud (05) eats a tasty-licious meal at the Whistle Stop trip for publications

17. Connect the eyes to the person

Whitney Duncan

Amanda Langmadeo

Becky Johnson

Nicole O'Rourke

18. Who has not taught at BHS for more than 28 years? What teacher has taught in Boone High the longest?

- a. Mr. Behm
- b. Mr. Hora
- c. Ms. Reideler
- d. Mr. Potts
- e. Mr. Achenbach
- f. Mrs. Dufelmeier

BONUS: Who has taught the longest at all districts?

19. What bathroom is Anthony Moyer in?

- a. 1st floor
- b. commons
- c. 3rd floor
- d. by the cafeteria

20. What visiting team did students sing goodbye to after one of the football games?

- a. Grinnell
- b. Iowa Falls
- c. Ballard

21. Why was the Homecoming pep assembly cut short after students were already in the gym?

- a. Weather
- b. Fire Drill
- c. Not enough people showed up

Justin Nelson ('05)

22. How many water fountains are in the school?

23. What English teacher teaches drama, completed his Masters Degree during the school year and also teaches a speech class?
 a. Behm
 b. Haugland
 c. Kerger

24. Who are 2 enlisted senior girls who plan to pursue the military as their career?
 a. Kayla Toms/Katie Walters
 b. Jen Doak/ Amy Aman
 c. Kayla VanPelt/ Jen Doak
 d. Dana Dose/ Danna Kelly

25. What celebrity do people think Michelle Farley ('05) looks most like?
 a. Julia Roberts
 b. Ashlee Simpson
 c. Britney Spears

BONUS: Who had surgery which might prevent her from qualifying for active duty during the summer?

BONUS!

What feature makes her look like one of these celebrities?

26. Who is the new assistant principal and where did she come from?
 a. Sherry Derry/Boone
 b. Mrs Clark/Decorah
 c. Mrs. Bass/ Ames
 d. Mrs. Wells/ Des Moines

27. Has Boone ever had a female assistant principal in the past? If so, when?

28. Who manages the milk vending machines?
 a. Peer Helpers
 b. FFA
 c. SADD
 d. Student Council

29. What time do students get out of school on early release days?
 a. 2:15 d. 2:10
 b. 1:30 e. 1:10
 c. 12:30 f. 2:45

30. MATCH THE TEACHER TO HIS OR HER ACADEMIC DEPARTMENT

A. Mrs. Mary Ann Frost

___ BUSINESS

B. Mr. Mark Camenisch

___ SPECIAL ED

C. Mr. Ben Bravard

___ SCIENCE

BONUS What teacher taught somewhere else in the building and took a transfer? Where?

CHECK YOUR ANSWERS ON PAGE 32

•WORKING in the hall, Bret Warrick ('07) tries to finish a glass painting. Many students worked out in the hall of the crafts room because there wasn't a lot of room in the classroom itself to work.

•PURCHASING some milk from the vending machine, Dustin Russell ('07) helps out the FFA department. The FFA students installed the milk machine in the Commons and all of the profits made went to them and future projects.

P.E. INVOLVEMENT
 Concentrating hard on where her next throw will be, DaNeil Olson ('06) prepares her dart. The juniors played numerous rounds of darts and became very good at the complex release.

VENDING MACHINES: GOOD OR BAD? IT'S ONLY OUR OPINION

MANY STUDENTS USED THE PRIVILEGE OF THE VENDING MACHINES IN THE COMMONS, BUT SOMETIMES DIDN'T REALIZE HOW MUCH THEY WERE PUTTING INTO PURCHASING A TASTY TREAT. SCHOOLS, RECENTLY REVAMPED THEIR VENDING MACHINES TO HEALTHIER FOODS AND DRINKS AS OPPOSED TO CANDY AND SODAS. BUT DID THIS ENCOURAGE STUDENTS TO BUY THE HEALTHY TREATS OR MAKE THEM MORE EAGER TO RUN TO THE LOCAL CONVENIENCE STORE TO BUY THE SUGAR. THIS ISSUE BECAME A TOPIC OF DISCUSSION FOR MANY SCHOOLS AND RESULTED IN THE APPROACH THEY TOOK.

Nicole O'Rourke ('06)

WILD CRAZY

Everyone has his/her own way to solve problems and get work accomplished.

•AFTER Jake Klesel ('06) forgot to pay on a bet, Kyle Beste ('06) makes sure he won't forget again. Even though students played poker for fun, the bets really did add to the game.

EVERYBODY IS DOING IT

Staying active helps students experience the teen years

Getting involved in school activities might seem hard to do with busy schedules, but students were involved in their own way. Students participated in P.E. activities, volunteering to run for the office, or even sneaking down to check out the Commons.

"I think that the vending machines are good because they bring in money for the school, but I don't use them that often," senior Kelsey Bargloff said.

Activities such as roller-skating, rock climbing and bowling got students out of the regular routines in physical education classes. It was tradition that the seniors got to play badminton and pickle ball, while the juniors roller-skated and played ping-pong.

"Roller skating is definitely worth my six dollars that we had to pay for class," junior Laura Todd said.

Other classes took students to another level of being involved. In vehicle systems, they made a high mileage vehicle. They took it to competition to see which car could get the best gas mileage.

Even though they thought they weren't involved, they probably were. Themany different ways to be involved, often surprise students.

•SURFING the web, Emily Ouverson ('06) tries to find some information for her English 3B research project.

•GULPING some H2O, Nate Zantow ('06) takes a break and breaks the hat rule while heading to class

•TRYING to finish a book, Kody Barton ('06) relaxes with his English novel.

•GOOFING off, Ryan Greco ('05) shows Amanda Hanson ('07) not to mess with him.

•TEAMWORK wins when working together as seniors Nick Burge, Aaron VanPelt, and Logan Woolson prepare for a final presentation.

6
Number of vans driven by high school students.

(Kody Barton's rockin' van)

ARE YOU PERFECT TOGETHER?

LOVE who makes your heart melt?

•FINDING a good book, Laura Todd ('05) decides to stay home and read rather than go on a date, while Travis Brown ('06) looks for a dating opportunity.

Couples in high-school tended to have their special someone. Some people stayed together longterm and some changed who they liked every week. No matter the case every relationship has its own story.

Did everyone have a soul mate? If anyone tried to find that in high school their odds were slim. Most couples after high school parted different ways. It was sad, but mostly true. So why do most students date?

"High school dating shouldn't be taken seriously. Normally students don't think about marriage. It does prepare you by temporarily committing yourself to them," junior Laura Todd said.

Other students agreed by saying they didn't take high school dating serious either.

mitted," sophomore Zach Moore said.

Some didn't even want to think this would be the person they would marry. The purpose was the future.

"I don't know it's just high school," junior Travis Brown said.

Funniest/ most embarrassing school moment

"I was in the bathroom and a guy walked in not knowing he was in the girls restroom." •Dana Wade ('06)	"My mom showed up to winter dance." •Megan Erickson ('07) "I asked one of my friends if cars had smoke alarms." •Callista Crouthamel ('05) "Becky Witrock dressed in a bunny suit."	•Kelsey Rinehart ('05) "I got stopped by a cop while taking a pee." •Brian West ('06) "Getting pulled over by the same cop twice for the same thing." •Aaron Howell ('06)	"Nichole O'Rourke thought that the white line outline around stop signs meant it was optional." •Cale Hennings ('05) "I was skateboarding and the board came out from under me and hit a teacher's car."	The teachers witnessed the crime, so I ran away so I would get caught." •Heather Klatt ('07)
---	--	--	--	---

SHOP LIKE A PRO

The perfect gift for your very special someone

"I don't like to buy gifts because I don't like to spend my money," senior Bryan Bielfelt.

THINGS WE LOVE ABOUT BHS

Benji Schroeder

POTTERY ROOM

Joel Krammer

OPEN CAMPUS

Melissa Licata

LUNCH

Aaron McMahon

JANITORS

Connected to the hip

How well are you connected with your friends, family, or your significant other? Relationships are made upon how well you truly know them.

"She knows me better than I know myself," junior Adam Edelman said. Couples have matching personalities and some were total opposites. This didn't mean that that didn't have a perfectly good relationship. Some say that opposites attract. In high school, it was true. "Love me, love my pink tux at Prom," senior Willy Muse said.

•JUST having fun, Angel Phipps ('05) slaps Josh McCaffrey ('05) because she doesn't like the way he is looking at her.

ADAM EDELMAN ('06) AND XX

INSULT your date

Don't	SITUATION	YOU SAY
you hate it when people do things to intentionally make you mad? Learn how you can take control of the situation	"Benji says, don't worry about it." Monica Koenen	Tell him nicely that it irritates you. If he respects you he'll quit. If he continues to do something that irritates him until he pleads to stop.
	"People always get into my business."	It's high school so beware of who you tell your secrets to because they can get around fast. If it's not that, just tell people to stay out of your bees' wax.
	"Your hair looks like Pee Wee Herman."	You shouldn't bleach your hair if you can't take a little crap. That or you could impersonate him and ride your bicycle around school and make it cool.
	"My boyfriend took me to an all guys baseball dinner."	Always make sure you're getting the truth out of him and it'll save you the embarrassment. Invite him somewhere sometime and trick him like he did to you.

Quick Quiz

What category do you fit into?

- 1.) The base of your dating is physical
- 2.) You're constantly fighting
- 3.) Unseparable and no time for friends
- 4.) Perfect mix, occasional fights and complementary personalities

Q What did you enjoy most about Prom? & A

"The best part was the props, I carried a sword with me the whole night."
 •Brandon Goodman ('06)

"I enjoyed being with my girlfriend Megan Young the most."
 •Aaron Mack ('05)

"I loved getting my hair and nails done for the night."
 •Kelsey Rinehart ('05)

"My favorite part of Prom was all the decorating before it."
 •Leah Clark ('06)

PROM COURT Row 1: Khrystyne Skare, Queen Laura Bade, Ashley Reuter, Kelly Pohl, Anja-Dejana Leginovic, Allison Gus, King Aaron McMahon, Row 2: Brian Bielfelt, Chris Truckenmiller, Ryan Greco, Pete Kostelmick, Brice VanRoekel.

PROM 2005

Pirates sail with Treasure Island

The Vehicles

"Riding in a limo was more fun, nobody worries about driving, and you can see everybody," senior Angel Phipps said.

"I loved driving my uncle's Corvette because all the eyes turned," senior Brennan Williams said.

After Prom

"The food was awesome and the party was rockin'!" senior Kalli Anderson said.

"I thought that after prom was fun but Prom itself is just an overpriced winter dance," junior Brian West said.

The Dance

"Prom was a lot of fun. I liked dancing in my poofy gown with my boyfriend," senior Jess Noelck said.

"The dance was awesome! Mrs. Clark really knows how to shake her thang!" senior Becky Wittrock said.

The Attire

"I like how Prom is more formal because all the girls get all spiffy and look gorgeous!" senior Jerimi Marr said.

"Girls really need to stop paying so much for their Prom dresses," senior Logan Woolson said.

KING & QUEEN

"I was re-ally surprised. I was not expecting to get it at all! It was a lot of fun."

Laura Bade ('05)

"I was so shocked when I became King that two drops of pee came out!"

Aaron McMahon ('05)

•CREATING some fun while serving the upperclassmen, freshman servers enjoyed getting involved in Prom.
 •DOING their part, juniors Melanie Rozenbeck, Kyrsten Swenson, and Jasmine Dykstra add special touches to the decorating.
 •SIPPING their punch at Prom Aaron McMahon, Tyler Crooks, and Ben Young wait out in the Commons for a slow song to dance with their dates.

•HANGING streamers from the rafters while decorating for prom, Jared Wnters ('06) and Stephanie Musser ('06) wait for their streamers to be thrown back up. The Friday before prom, the juniors spent the day decorating.

•Cooling off by a fan Curtis Duncan ('05) and Eric Baker ('05) take advantage of the free air circulation. The fans were placed in the Commons due to the heat in the building.

•Playing Treasure Island, Matt Beyer ('05) and Kendall Cook ('06) have a sword fight on the stage used for the Grand March. The decorating extended from the gym to the Commons area and also included the auditorium.

•Relaxing after a long week of Prom decorating Mr. Verlin Potts takes break. Mr. Potts has supervised Prom decorations for 31 years.

View the Facts

Number of People wanting to take a Limo: 93

Number of People wanting to take a Motorcycle: 27

Number of People wanting to take a Semi: 18

"We (Katie and I) were going to take a Walter's Sanitary roll-off with couches in the back. That's style!" Bre Kathman '05

What is your ideal vehicle to take to Prom?
 62%-Limo 18%-Motorcycle 12%-Semi 8%-Tractor

"Taking the time to enjoy life and really create memories with friends is the biggest part of being in high school. The people in our lives now have played the role of what we will become in the future."

-Dana Dose ('05)

•PREPARING for the Pufferbilly Days lip sync, senior girls get ready to perform one last time. High school kids tried to perform every year even though most of the competitors were in middle school and elementary.

•CHECKING out the kids in study hall, freshmen hide in Blair Park. Study halls were required for freshmen and sophomores had to qualify for open campus through Renaissance.

•TAKING a chance with the senior Powderpuff pyramid, Jeremy Brittain ('05) is lifted by fellow "cheerleaders". One of the most entertaining thing about Powderpuff was the cheerleaders.

•LEAVING the school for a quick bite of lunch, Jess Greer ('06) and John Logue ('06) head to their cars. Students received a 55 minute lunch period.

•JUMPING for joy, freshmen take off from study hall to see what trouble they can find. Because there was no room in the cafeteria, study hall set up in the Commons.

•WORKING on the senior video, advanced speech students combine their efforts into one show. The video was shown at Class Day.

•TAKING some time for themselves, juniors head to McHose Park to play in the kiddie park. Sometimes, just doing crazy things helped to handle the stress of the teen years.

Fill in the blank

The people in our lives are the ones who will always be part of the history created in the teen years.

•Taking the time to become a part of the school becomes a priority of all of us. Some of the biggest regrets students have when they graduate is not getting involved with friends, activities and just the day-to-day living. Filling in the blanks helps to develop a complete teenage lifestyle.

•"I know that people think I am a little bit crazy, but going to all the events and just hanging with friends has to be the best thing I've done. I did miss some things when I was a Page in the legislature, but I tried to keep up," senior Jenny Danilson said.

•If you miss the action, it will always hard to FILL IN THE BLANK.

