

I am thrilled to be able to bring my vision of beauty to others who may be inspired by it.

-Carol Alt

inspi(red)

Classes

AGRICULTURE

This year's Ag classes were very different from past years due to the new addition of Ms. Kacal. Coming straight up from Texas, Ms. K has been able to bring new and creative ideas to the Ag Department. The theme for the year was "Got Ag?" BHS was first able to see the changes during Homecoming Week when her students made mums that were huge! Another big day for the Ag students was Career Fair Day where they all had to "dress to impress" and dress up as their desired future occupation. Perhaps the most noticable event was the BIG Event which is a community service day for the entire school put together by Ms. K. The day was a huge success which is a reflection of the year.

ABOVE

Theresa Fitzgerald shows off the holiday wreath she made in class.

RIGHT
Ag students had their own homecoming float to show their spirit

BELOW
Ms. Kacal shows off her homemade homecoming outfit including her overalls.

BELOW
Patrick Reed eats a stack of Valentine's day cookies he decorated.

BELOW
Students pose with the elderly woman they helped during the BIG event.

ABOVE
Ms. K puts on a chili breakfast to help meet the families and students.

RIGHT
Students decorate Valentine's day cookies.

ABOVE
Freshmen Ag students play Yahtzee the day before Winter Break

ART CLASS

Teachers Mrs. Howe and Miss Baedke pose for a picture together. This was Miss Baedke's last year teaching at Boone High School.

Art is not calculated; it isn't based on what is right and wrong. Art--whether it is drawing, painting, pottery, or photography--allows not only the ability to express oneself, but it can also be an escape from the reality of the real world even if only for a moment. This year the art students had a lot of success in the Raccoon River Conference Art Day

Awards. Kathleen Embry took first place with a painting. Sculpture class was awarded second, as was Marina Scott. Embry, Rhiannon Rasmussen, Austin Moorman, Alexis Tellinghuisen, and Amy Feldmann all placed third with their creations. Honorable Mention winners were Banif Burke, Olivia Theil, Alaina Hammer, Marina Scott, Tacie Blunk.

CHARITY EVENT
below- Mrs. Howe's students painted and then chalked up an old chair to be auctioned off in the Charity Event

PHOTOGRAPHY
(below) Kayla Morehead, junior, with her picture from the modeling project.

DRAWING
(above) Alaina Hammer, junior, with her different techniques drawing project.

ART SHOW
left-The first semester art show stars art from every kid that is in an art class. Artist is Kim McDaniel, junior.

PAINTING
(below) Jaelynn Burkamper, junior, with her realism painting.

POTTERY
(above) Zach Eldridge, senior, with his sculpture the "Hatchling."

STUDIO ART
(above) Brina VanDePol, junior, with her free painting.

BAND

MARCHING
ALL-STATE CONCERT HONOR
PEP
BRASS WINDS
PERCUSSION

The Boone Toreador Band had a fantastic year, accomplishing many great things and improving tremendously. Three students were selected as All-State Musicians: Laura Martin (Clarinet), Michael Solomon (Trumpet), and Scott Hansen (Tuba). Michael was the fourth person in BHS history to be an All-State musician all four years. The Marching Band finally got their new uniforms this year and performed songs such as "Jai Ho" and "Pirates of the Caribbean." Pep band continued to rock out at the Basketball games and dedicate songs to their fellow band members on the teams. The concert band season was also a success especially with a separate percussion class to practice the crowd favorite ensembles. The band participated in State Large Group Contest. They performed "Horkstow Grange" by Percy Granger and "Undertow" by John Mackey. For their hard work and great sound the band received three I's from the judges--one even a perfect score! This was Mrs. Smith's last year at BHS, and it was filled with great music and great students.

"Band is fun because you get to hang out with your friends!"
-Paul Solomon, Freshman

"My favorite memory with Mrs. Smith was whenever I went into a lesson, she would draw pictures on my music!"
-Michaela Lundt

Juniors Kyle Hurley and Ryan Kokjohn perform in the Pep Band.

SOPHOMORE JOSIE WYRICK PLAYS THE CLARINET DURING THE SCHOLL CONCERT.

"BAND WAS A NOTE-WORTHY EXPERIENCE THAT WILL HELP ME SCALE UP THE WALL OF SUCCESS! IT'S TUBA'D ITS OVER."

-SCOTT HANSEN '12

LEFT:
Kati Seeman, Elin Phipps, Sierra Pilk, Alice Smith, Megan Weigel, and Kathleen Embrey perform at the Band-O-Rama.

BELOW:
Sophomore Jessie Soderstrum, Freshman Sam Byriel, and Senior Sierra Pilk mark time during the Pre-Game show. They decorated their saxophones for the Homecoming game.

LEFT:
Sophomore Zoeie Gustoff sports her new marching uniform at the Homecoming show while playing "Pirates of the Caribbean."

BELOW:
Michael Solomon, Kati Seeman, Mr. Lauton, Stacie Leeds, and Dan Malloy pose for a picture. The Speedway is a generous sponsor of the band program and has helped to pay for the new uniforms.

"Band was great this year! One of my favorite parts was when Mrs. Smith had us do circles of praise/compliments at the end of the year. The compliments were both very nice and funny. I think it really helped us feel like a band." —Carissa Brown '13

"BAND PUSHED US HARD THIS YEAR, BUT WE HAD A TON OF FUN. I WILL DEFINITELY MISS SITTING IN FRONT OF SCOTT HANSEN."

—MICHAEL SOLOMON '12

SOPHOMORE DANA KOKJOHN PERFORMS "CLAP HAPPY" AT THE BAND-O-RAMA.

ORCHESTRA

Freshmen Catherine Anderson and Olivia W... perform holiday tunes in the hallway before Winter Break.

The BHS Orchestra had a great year with their many fantastic performances. This year they performed with talented guests including vocalist Miss Iowa who sang "I Dreamed a Dream." The Orchestra sent many successful solo and ensemble acts to contest where Senior Sam Lanstrum earned best in center for her performance. State large group contest also went very well as the Orchestra received top honors with a I rating. Senior orchestra participants include Alisa Baker, Alex Clark, Samantha Lanstrum, Patrick Bridges, Olivia Thiel, Tasmin Webb, Blake Bingamin, Sadie Carlson, Lisa O'Neal, Krista McDaniel, and Alexis Tellinghuisen. The Orchestra is directed by Mr. Swenson.

RIGHT:
Mr. Swenson directs during the Scholl concert.

BELOW:
Junior Alex Kokjohn plays his violin along with the group.

BELOW:
Sophomore Allie Anderson has a fun time performing carols in the halls.

BELOW:
Seniors Lisa O'Neal and Alexis Tellinghuisen perform at contest.

ABOVE:
Senior Olivia Thiel and Junior Malorie Browning play intently.

ABOVE:
Senior Sam Lanstrum and Junior Jon Clark lead their sections at contest.

RIGHT:
Seniors Patrick Bridges and Alex Clark concentrate during their performance.

Senior Dan Malloy was selected to perform in the All-State Choir. He is pictured here with BHS Choir Director Mrs. Earll

CHOIR

The BHS Choir successfully performed at events such as All-State, the Choir Extravaganza, the Raccoon River Conference Choral Festival, the Scholl Concert, ISU Honor Choir and other outside performances, including a Chorale tour day. "I am always proud of the way students perform at all of their concerts and I am always amazed at the amount of support that we receive from the parents and people in the community," Mrs. Earll said. Senior choir participants include Alisa

Baker, Cassidy Bergloff, Sarah Borkowski, Taylor Duncan, Kiera Good, Dong Zhao Guo, Scott Hansen, Katie Harris, Bill Hitt, Hannah Isabell, Samantha Lanstrum, Stacie Leeds, AJ Lehman, Adam Loomis, Dan Malloy, Krista McDaniel, Mitchell McPartland, Nicole Miller, Lisa O'Neal, Jessica Paul, Rileigh Patrick, Elin Phipps, Sierra Pilk, Juliette Reheul, Michael Solomon, Sydney Stecker, Olivia Thiel, Taylor Ward, Tamsin Webb and Nick Yaeger.

MATH

At Boone High, Math is taught by Ms. Gansen, Mr. Gould, Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. Bass, and Mr. Wells. Although some students may not enjoy as much as others, they can be sure to learn something new every day of class. There is a wide variety of math classes offered from Pre-Algebra all the way up to Calculus. Mr. Wells, head of the Math Department, does his best to make Math fun for his students by creating games and themes for the day. Mrs. Bass comes up with creative sayings and songs for her students to memorize the material. As technology keeps advancing so does math. BHS math classes received new books to use in the upcoming years that will better match our updating society.

Senior Chelsey Kulla shows off her Probability and Statistics project she did on how many pairs of Buckle jeans senior girls have.

RIGHT:
Juniors Joe Anderson and Morgan Christenson have a good time in Pre-Calc.

BELOW:
Senior

BELOW:
Sophomore Jack Lohman takes a break from Geometry while Freshman Jake Krafcsin studies.

BELOW:
Junior Josie Mc-Combs is hard at work on finishing a test.

ABOVE:
Students are called up to the front to solve practice problems.

RIGHT:
Blake Fudge double checks a test.

ABOVE:
Mrs. Bass demonstrates a problem
on her calculator overhead.

SCIENCE

Junior Drew Weers takes a taste of Junior Mario Gonzalez's pig heart in Human Anatomy.

Mr. Camenisch, Ms. Davis, Mr. Paulson, Mr. Dieter, and Ms. Liekwig continue to teach the students of BHS about all different types of science which in turn teaches them about all aspects of life. Science is always happening around us and within us--now we understand more of it. There were a lot of exciting labs done this year in the science rooms. In Human Anatomy, students got to dissect things such as pig hearts, sheep brains, and fetal pigs. Chemistry students were able to tie-dye t-shirts and other cotton items in the spring. In Physics, they made solar cookers to roast smores. These are just a few ways that the science department gives the students of BHS a hands on learning environment.

LEFT:
Senior Allie Lee learns about the human heart by dissecting a pig heart.

Above:
Senior B.J. Anderson lines the inside of his solar cooker in Physics class.

RIGHT:
Senior Michael Solomon tries on his solar cooker after it is completed.

LEFT:
Senior Nick Yaeger shows off his heart, literally.

FCS

Family Consumer Science classes are taught by Rhonda Getschman at Boone High School. Classes include Foods, Textiles, Living on Your Own, and Parenting. Many students enjoy the classes because they get to eat or keep what they create. It is another way for students to express themselves and their taste whether it be fashion or food. Students are also able to prepare for later in life. "FCS Classes teach students to be successful and healthy members of society. I have the best job in the school because I get to see students succeed in a wide variety of areas - from Culinary Arts to Textile Construction to Early Childhood Education to Financial Literacy," said Mrs. Getschman.

"My favorite thing to bake was the ~~gross~~ cookies because they were simple and ~~easy~~ really good!"
-Brandon Coleman '12

LEFT:
Senior Britney Hefler
sews in Textiles.

BELOW:
"I love cooking because it is really fun. Some of the stuff is really hard, but Mrs. Getschman is a great teacher so it is really easy to learn."
Nic Hicks '14

ABOVE:
Senior Kallista King
gets help from Ms.
Getschman with ironing.

RIGHT:
Lorena Acosta
washes her hands
after class.

BELOW:
"It's fun to watch the other students that don't know how to cook try, but smile. And advanced studies is great to do if you plan to go into culinary arts."
Chris Walker '12

BELOW:
Senior Amanda Widener and Juniors Hunter Nor-dholm and Jessica Andersen look at children's books in Parenting.

ABOVE:
"I enjoyed learning how to sew and taking something like a simple piece of fabric and making it into something new such as a dress."
-Bailey Camenisch, '12

"I love getting huge and swatting bad mittens."
-Amy Feldmann '12

PE & Health

P.E. had another successful year of getting students and shape, while Health taught about the body. P.E. teachers Mr. Dahl and Ms. Madson were always looking for ways to allow students to get fit while having fun. Ms. Phipps continued to teach about all of the different ways to stay healthy including mentally and emotionally. This was Mr. Dahl's last year.

RIGHT:
Students and staff participate in Go the Distance Day.

RIGHT:
"The human body is very disgusting."
-Samantha Gunstrum, '12

BELOW:
"PE would be perfect if we played it for all dodge ball every day."
-Sam Viau '12

ABOVE:
Junior Garrett Nitch does pull-ups in the weight room during Strength Training.

BELOW:
"I liked PE because it's fun to get to lift and see the results."
-Zack Hamilton '12

ABOVE:
Senior Brandon Coleman eats a human heart in Health class.

ABOVE:
Seniors Katie Harris and Amanda Widener test out their stethoscopes.

LEFT:
"PE is a good way to stay in shape during the off season."
-Bry Wisecup, '12

SOCIAL STUDIES

There is a wide variety of Social Studies classes offered at BHS including World History, American History, Economics, Psychology, Government, Current Topics. Mr. Schrieber, Mr. McPartland, Mr. Bachman, Mr. Dejong are the social studies teachers at BHS. Many of the classes they teach require students to do projects to help them learn. Everyone learns about American History and Government, but Social Studies isn't just about history and geography, it also analyzes how the past affects us today and how decisions our political leaders are making today will affect the future of our economy, country, and world. The better we are able to understand the past, the better impact we will have on our future.

ABOVE:
Mr. Dejong teaches American History and Psychology.

RIGHT:
Sophomores Sierra
Leeds, Edik Lester, Josie Goebel, and Morgan McKim are hard at work.

BELOW:
Freshman Andrew Larson studies in Schrieber's class.

BELOW:
Sophomore Brandon Elsner keeps it real in American History.

ABOVE:
Seniors Spencer Ou-
verson, Matt Heiller, and Taylor Pyle don't pay attention to the video in Government.

RIGHT:
Freshman Bailey Schminke works hard in History.

ABOVE:
Freshman Jacob Gus-tofson takes notes in World History.

ENGLISH

ABOVE:
Junior Benett Gustafson and Senior Chris Martz kick some book!

BELOW:
Senior Amber Malin shows off her book in Individualized Lit.

BELOW:
Sophomores Maean Frost and Alie Anderson take notes in class.

ABOVE:
Senior Brandon Coleman enjoys reading his new book.

English is a popular subject at Boone High. This year the department added Ms. Thieben to their staff. BHS students have been able to improve their understanding of the English language in reading, writing, and speaking. Journalism is another option that is offered besides the traditional read a book and write an essay class. BHS offers courses from English IA up to Honors Composition which allows students to receive DMACC credit. This year's classes have been filled with reading of classic books, creating of many projects, and giving many presentations. With its quality staff, the English Department continues to prepare Boone High students for college by giving them a world class education.

LEFT:
Mr. Kramer, Mrs. Dupuis, and Mrs. Olson show their schoolspiras Super Teachers.

BELOW:
Sophomore Morgan Boyd is nutty about English.

ABOVE:
Sophomores Shania Anderson, Alex Mastin, and Wendy Bass watch the daily power point.

LEFT:
Sophomore Christian Fosselman enjoys his seat by the window.

BUSINESS

There are a variety of Business classes offered at Boone High. They include Careers, Accounting, Business Law, Computer Applications 1, 2, 3, and General Business. Business classes are taught by Mr. Dobelis, while Computer classes are taught by Mr. Bravard. Dob continues to show students the importance of things such as networking and building relationships. In Computer Application classes, Mr. Bravard teaches students how to use the basics of Word, Excel, Power Point, Photoshop, I-movie and many more. This year's Computer App 3 class created the senior video that was shown on Class Day. Both types of classes help prepare students for college in addition to the values of teamwork.

Careers was a great class and it really made me think a lot about my future and helped me think about what I want to do with my life.
-Hannah Walker 11

RIGHT:
Dob teaches about resumes to his career class..

BELOW:
Kyle Morrise checks over his work in Computer App.

BELOW:
Sophomore Matt
Walker asks a question in Careers Class.

BELOW:
Junior Austin Dail
supervises his partners work.

ABOVE:
Brittany Smith, Jacob
Miller, and Logan
Kahler edit the Senior Video.

RIGHT: Dhruva Patel is hard at work in Computer
App 2.

ABOVE:
Senior Bry Wisecup takes a break from editing her project.

ough I'm not a huge fan of Spanish, it was fun, but challenging.
-Hailey McDowell '13

SPANISH

Sra. Anderson, Sra. Gus, and Sra. Frank are Boone High's three Spanish teachers. Spanish continues to be a way for students to expand their knowledge and become more cultured. It also offers many benefits later in life and careers. Boone offers classes from Spanish I to Advanced Placement Spanish where students are able to receive college credit. "Spanish is really fun and will help me out in my future career," said Junior Carissa Brown. Senior Mitchell McPartland said, "Spanish is a great thing to have and it is really helping me out for college." From board races to packets to making special videos or food, Spanish continues to further the education of Boone High Students at all levels.

LEFT:
AP students Mitchell McPartland, Connor Nystrom, Scott Hansen, Cole Anerson, Sra. Anderson, Rileigh Patrick, Ashley Wheeler, and Cassidy Bergloff take a quick picture at prom.

BELOW:
Freshman Ben Weldon waits for his turn to read aloud in Spanish I.

ABOVE:
Sara Miller prepares her marker for a board race in Spanish 3.

ABOVE:
Sra. Gus teaches to Spanish II students including Drew Hollenberg, Taylor Johnson, and Mikayla Hoskins.

LEFT:
Kasey Murphy, JD Smith, and Eric Proksch give Spanish a thumbs-up!