The publication of this issue of "The Cub" has been a challenge to all members of the yearbook staff. With this yearbook, many new improvements and additions have been added.

We sincerely hope that many years from now you will look back with pleasure and happiness on the years you spent at Boone Junior College.

Sincere thanks for help with this yearbook go to our advisor, Mrs. Tisdale, the members of the college, the faculty, and the city of Boone for helping us make this book one to be remembered and cherished.

The beautiful Ledges State Park is the theme of this year's Cub. Located five miles from Boone, it is a 930-acre area of natural timberland accented by towering limestone ledges. This wildlife conserve is a picturesque reminder of the past beauty of Iowa.

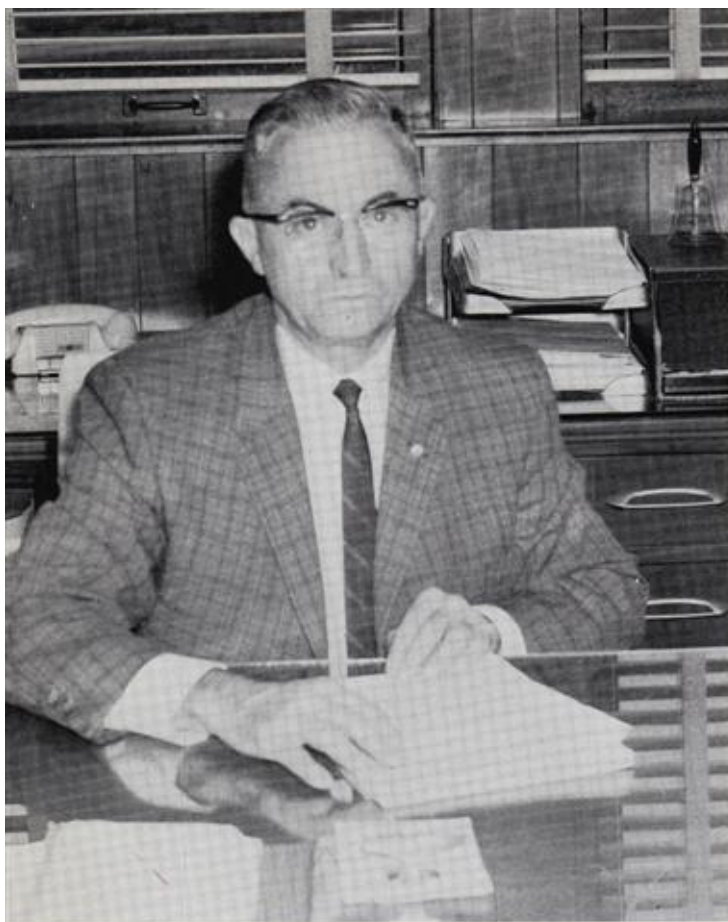

Dedication

The 1963 "Cub" staff proudly dedicates this yearbook to Mr. Charles W. Schaeffer, instructor of dramatics and speech at Boone Junior College.

For the last five years Mr. Schaeffer has given service to both students and college in innumerable ways. He has given his time and full efforts to the presentation of dramatic productions, entertaining and educating both the students of Boone Junior College, and the community. Mr. Schaeffer has, with understanding, capability, and ease, instructed many students in the art of public speaking.

What can we say then to one who has served both college and student with such competence and dedication? Only: "Servant of mankind, well done!"

Our photographer, John Lantz

A heartfelt thank-you goes to our loyal and dedicated staff photographer, John Lantz. Always he has seriously pursued his picture-taking, and studiously undertaken his responsibility. Co-operating with a maturity beyond his years, John has supplied THE CUB with its many fine photographs.
