CLASS OFFICERS

President

"Oc", our star football player and also captain of our state champion basketball team, has won a place in the heart of every citizen of Boone. His popularity was shown when the Seniors elected him as their president. His athletic ability and cheery smile have given him the honors which he possesses.

Vice-President

Even though "Sig" spends much of his time playing golf he finds plenty of time for his school activities. He is very prominent in the Senior Class because of his personality. He makes a very capable vice-president and does anything the president leaves undone.

Secretary-Treasurer

"Dot" is the only girl privileged to hold a position among the class officers. Her brilliancy has brought her distinction among her classmates. In history she excelled by receiving the D. A. R. award. She is interested in sports and an active member of many school organizations.

Class Will

In the name of all Seniors everywhere we, the Seniors of Boone, being of jubilant mind and joyous memory, do blithely improvise and publish this our first will; and devise, as happily as is seniorically possible, to dispose of our interest in high school among succeeding classes of boys and girls.

Being only carefree, impoverished, and im-provident minors, our estate is in Spain and of no more than imaginary value, wherefore we make no disposal thereof in this, our first and sole testamentary document.

These items excepted, all else in high school we now proceed to will and divide.

First: We leave to all boys and girls, but only for that portion of their lives which they pass in high school, all and every correct solution to each and every sum in advanced algebra, geometry, chemistry, and physics.

Secondly: We leave to every boy and girl, long, long days to be happy in and no, no days to scribble tests in.

Thirdly: We bequeath to each of them a succession of teachers who have not forgotten their days of incarceration in school and are lenient accordingly in small matters of punctuality, whispering, mumbling, day-dreaming, and total or partial lack of intelligence.

Fourthly: We bequeath to all high school boys and girls, each and every victory on the field and in the gym.

Fifthly: We give unto Leas Montgomery and Oc. Dettman 50 cents to buy themselves

a license, kind not stipulated; unto Katherin Lindbloom and Irene Cress one forlorn billet-doux not positively identified, but suspected to be one of Don Duncan's; unto Max Trainer we give Jack Jenkins' one hundred and fifty-nine excuses for not having his lessons; unto Lillian Cutler we give Freda Menough's complexion which she did apply upon entering high school in the autumn of nineteen hundred and twenty-eight, and which she did frequently since overlay. We will Bob Sutton's ability to get white admits to Russell Jennings.

Sixthly. Unto Faye Morgan we leave the Seniors' best looking man. At the request of Coach Fisher we leave Chey Brigg's soft hands to Don Johnson. We think it is quite necessary that Eddy Meyers have Kenny Wingo's hatred of women.

Seventhly: We bequeath to our esteemed superintendent, G. S. Wooten, and to our principal, H. J. Van Ness, all the fear, admiration, reverence, awe, respect, and deference, in which we hold them, that they may, when we are gone, distribute said fear, admiration, reverence, awe, respect, and deference impartially among the incoming infants that they may comport themselves with becoming circumspection in their presence, as we have endeavored to conduct ourselves.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto subscribed our names and affixed our seal this, the seventh day of June, Anno Domini, nineteen hundred and thirty-one.

The Class of 1931.

Prophecy

A rubber-neck bus pulled up in front of a cheerful looking gray stone building, the windows of which were attractively decorated with iron bars. To add to the safety and serenity of the inmates of this building a high stone wall completely surrounded the grounds. In spite of these interesting features one gained the impression that it was pleasanter to be outside looking in than inside looking out.

"On your right, ladies and gentlemen," drawled Merle Kelsey, driver of the bus, "is the world's largest free rooming and boarding house, founded by Freda Menough and Thelma Hardie. As you go inside, please leave your name and occupation with the guards, Adrian Clark and Clarence Cameron, as a record is kept of all visitors. This is the record that was left: Ida Mae Mosher, stenographer; Russell Elliott, professor; Maurine Johnson, lawyer; Grace Pollard, banker; William Thompson and Dean Hatfield, preachers; Don Mann, tired business man; Catherine Davis, actress; Homer Johnson, author; David Goepfinger, traveling salesman; Ruth Williams, President of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Dumb Animals; David Newcomb, engineer; Emery Mudge, evangelist; Carl Franklin, merchant; Grace Bergman, reformer; Tom McAlpine, senator; and Velma Zimmerman, night-club hostess.

At this point the sight-seers were turned over to the prison guide, Bob Sutton, who led them through the halls making his explanations in stentorian tones: "On your left, ladies and gentlemen, is the office of our beloved warden, Melba Huddleston. Here is the other prison office, quite a hang-out for the local police force, Elton Campbell, Clifford Lundgren, Delbert Atherton, and Frederick Schroeder. We don't mind, though, for when they aren't as tight as a wet knot they take their jobs very conscientiously. Under Snoop, Clarence Brogden, and Peep, Jack Tillson, we have an absolutely complete detective bureau. Let me tell you they always issue a plain statement of the facts—like—well—a yell from a dentist's office.

"Margaret Woodruff is the finger print expert, who has recently discovered that there are no identical thumb marks. Our magnifying glass specialist is Rudy Carlson.

"You are to see and hear about some of the most dangerous inmates, but don't be frightened, for most of them are as harmless as a war in the dictionary. Please notice these offers for rewards":

JACK JENKINS (type of criminal now almost extinct outside of the dime novel), A TWO GUN MAN AND A DEVIL WITH WOMEN. ROBBER OF THE CASH REGISTER IN THE ROCKWELL CITY LICENSE BUREAU. $5,000 REWARD.

HELEN KEIGLEY, THE DESPERATE LOVE BANDIT AND GOLD DIGGER. LARGE REWARD OFFERED.

VIRGINIA TERRILL, THE NOTORIOUS HEART-BREAKER, IS WANTED, DEAD OR ALIVE. IF SHE REMAINS AT LIBERTY SHE WILL PROBABLY FALL FOR A GOOD LINE, AND IN TIME BECOME ONE OF THE TOWN'S MOST DANGEROUS GRASS WIDOWS.

"Now folks," continued Bob, "in the cage on the left you see Robert Fitzgerald, widely known in the underworld as 'Chewing Gum

"Charley", sentenced in three states for murder of the King's English.

"Here are Lillian Anderson and Mary Pratt who have been taken in for jaywalking, spooning, and other minor offenses.

"James Munstrom, here, was recently arrested for speeding and blowing his horn too much.

"Ada Marjeman is with us for alienation of affections and for breaking up several happy homes.

"Maurice Field, who has formerly spent most of his time in breaking the curfew law, was recently caught at defrauding the theatre out of 40 cents per evening.

"Wilma Ray was sentenced by Judge Otis Burgeon for disturbing the peace with her birthday party, at which there was a row between Florence Crowe and Evelyn Fisk over the $1.12 Evelyn has owed the B. H. S. library for a year.

"William Love, in the cell on your right, was a professional second story worker and dice store shoplifter.

"Edwin Duckworth has been frequently arrested for assault and battery, and has also served time for murderous attacks. He is widely known as a bully and a desperado.

"Here is Waldo Wheeler, a recently discovered quack doctor, who has been recommending spinach and spineapple for diseases of the spine.

"You have undoubtedly heard of Elizabeth Collins, who was expelled from a finishing school for breaking Miss Linderblood's heart by means of scandalous caricatures of Latin teachers. Later she turned out to be a deadly vamp and heart-breaker; so it became necessary to lock her up.

"Stanley Richmond has been incarcerated in the workhouse for laziness and general worthlessness.

"This is Hon Benson who was convicted of manslaughter in connection with a Saturday night escapade in which she ran over a boulevard atop with her Ford.

"Bumpy Schall swindled Chicago philanthropists out of several plugged nickels, by impersonating a Salvation Army Santa Claus.

"Malvie Parrish was recently sentenced for impaling the eyesight of a handsome young man.

"In the next cell is Oc. Dettman, a sneak-thief of the deepest dye, who has served time for robbing penny scales and beggars' cups, and is now to spend thirty days on the rocks.

"Ruth Pettit, expelled from college for corrupting the morals of freshmen, was fined 5 cents by the U. S. government and imprisoned for failure to pay the cigarette tax.

"Here is Hattie Hiltz, arrested in Madrid, Iowa, for jaywalking and failure to tip waiters.

"Gerald House, a former operator of a gambling house where pennies were matched, was discovered to be a swindler par excellence.

"This is Gladys Garrett, imprisoned for murder in connection with her love affairs. She shot her suitors, Raymond Smith and Clifford Royster, so that she could marry Cleo Ballard, multi-millionaire.

"Max Shrock was guilty of stealing the walnuts from the 'Peanut Vender'.

"Take a good look at Virgil Warak, the dangerous chewing gum addict and smuggler of contraband gum to kindergarten classes.

"On your left you see Dot Crouch, a fraud and shark and inveterate punch board addict.

"Kenneth Dodge is here for failure to pay dog tax.

"Jean Wissler, a forger and check raiser, was arrested by Officer Arthur Gustafson for stealing a laundry truck on Maine street.

"Chuck Quinn, over there, was an indiscriminate petter and parker on country roads.

"Doyle Grant tried cracking a (safe) joke.

"Here is Owen Graul caught at indiscriminate love affairs while suffering from dementia praecox.

"Margaret McAlpine is being punished for disturbing the peace and breaking up Red meetings.

"You will probably remember Edwin Zanderholm who was court martialed in the Salvation Army for chewing gum and flirting with women at the Sailors' Retreat, owned by Inez McClelland.

"To your right you see Ray Kelsey, fined and sentenced for splashing soup on the table linen of a well known restaurant.

"Sigworth Hull, alias simpering Swede, has been repeatedly punished for use of profanity on Sunday.

"Dorothy Weaver, found to be a blackmailer and purveyor of nefarious rumors, is in the next cell.

"Sylvia Case is serving time for flagging the C. & N. W. train on the high bridge near Boone, just to provide amusement for her out-of-town guests, Marjorie Burke, Lorna Stookey, and Dot Moerke, who have been teaching school in the South Sea Islands.

"Bernice Erickson and Elin Gustafson have spent most of their lives in jail for vagrancy and disturbing the peace.

"Next we see Richard Wooten, prominent Chicago banker, who did not pay enough hush money to Pete Canakes' gang, so they squealed and here is Dick.

"In this cell are Irma Wilson, Margaret Potter, and Zazel Spong, who were sentenced to hard labor for sponsoring crap games in B-Y-Ette meetings.

"You are approaching Carl Watkins, who has repeatedly been disciplined for smoking, drinking, and using profane language.

"Joe Rogers was imprisoned at the request of several college widows for failure to pay damages resulting from breach-of-promise suits.

"Before you is the notorious Greta Peterson, alias the "Mittenface" who has repeatedly been incarcerated in every jail between Boone and Ames for speeding and driving with one arm; a dangerous person to deal with.

"Ann Baird, at the request of Erma North of the humane society, is serving time for serving shirts to her Billy goat.

"Bertina Elliott and Jessie McVicker were sent up for life for investigating a gas tank with a lighted match.

"Virginia Rice, alias 'Singing Sadie,' has spent seven years improving her voice at the Hudson River Vocal Academy, vulgarly known at Sing Sing.

"Wayne Garret, a well known blue sky salesman, is in for ten years.

"This is Don Carlson who was arrested for jumping his hotel bill."

After introducing all the above celebrities, in his usual dramatic manner, Bob continued, "Now, ladies and gentlemen, we leave the cells and go to the other parts of the building. By the way, we are now passing the place where Violet Fosberg, Audrey Godwin, Evelyn Peterson, and Helen Pratt are in solitary confinement for obeying that impulse to eat onions and garlic for breakfast.

"Yonder you see Charles Norton, Effie Wilson, Alma Thompson, and Charles Pratt on the famous rock pile where all the sand for the Atlantic seashore is manufactured. We are kept busy day and night and certainly commend Gertrude Cordts, Ira Sparks, and Frederick Hartquist for their splendid supervision of this department, which is about as popular with the inmates as sand in spinach.

"Over there you see Arlene Sparks, Florence Burlingame, Elinor Fenton, and Mary Hutchinson working at one of our most profitable industries that of making license plates for the dirigibles of prominent citizens, such as Fern Munden, Madeline Anderson, or Marie Peterson.

"Oho! It is nearly three o'clock and time for the tea, that is to be held in the drawing room; since this is our fiftieth anniversary our social committee, consisting of Virginia Lee, Mary Sullivan, and Alida Love, have arranged quite a program of outside talent. Yes, yes, Earl Tesdahl, the master of ceremonies, is now ready to start the ball rolling."

As the prisoners filed in and took their places, our friends, the tired sightseers, sank into comfortable chairs. Earl strolled to the platform and held forth as follows: "Ladies and gentlemen and little children, this is one of the most important days of our lives. I ask each of you to consider where you would be now if this great institution had not been founded fifty years ago. But I know that question is as foolish as a hairless Mexican dog lathering himself for a quick shave."

"Seriously though, out of the depths of our gratitude we have arranged to have with us some of Broadway's brightest stars. Emmaline Anderson's famous Conn. Yankees, by name—Ruby Bass, Edna Cunningham, Lillian Berglund, Verda Michel, Marion Wright, and Emma Johnson who will at this time render the selection, 'Bars and Stripes Forever'."

The conclusion of this number was greeted with thunderous applause, after which Earl announced, "This smiling little blues singer, Kathryn Rutledge, will render for us 'Mother's False Teeth Will Soon Fit Sister'." The prisoners showed their appreciation of Kathryn's vocal ability by presenting her with a number of stale eggs. The guards restrained them with difficulty, and when order was restored Earl proceeded:

"And now I ask you to rest your eyes on these bathing beauties: Lila Good, Mary Gonse, Loretta Roe, Alyce Lee, Mildred Grabau, Marjorie Bentley, and Frances Bass. These girls have been glorified by Ziegfield, scandalized by George White, and mortified by Earl Carroll. These men have been so kind as to send along Etta Mae Denning, the star of their latest show. Give the girls a hand!" As a final number, the master of ceremonies announced: "Mr. Forest Reed of the Booneville Burlesque Co. is permitting us to show his presentation of an all star cast in the gigantic and stupendous spectacle of the screen, 'The Supreme Sacrifice', in three struggles."

After the third struggle there was noticed a deep whispering which grew to a rumble, then to a dull roar; before anyone knew what was happening the whole left wing of the building disappeared. The prisoners, Earl McIlvain, Frederick Schwartz, and Cleo Johnstone led the action against the guards. Then began the fireworks, noise, scrambling, fighting, scurrying, yelling, screaming; everything was in an uproar! Suddenly it dawned upon the visitors that this was nothing more than a carefully executed prison break. It seemed that Don Johnson and Harold Rosengreen were the ruffians in charge. They had frequently caused trouble of one kind or another.

Meryl Beauchamp, a trusty, made a statement that the ammunition and weapons were smuggled in by LaVerne Adix, the milk man. Chief of Police, Chey Briggs, in co-operation with Gov. Donald Dupcan, is taking extreme measures to apprehend all the criminals; and for the good of humanity it is hoped that they will soon be brought to justice.

Farewell

Our ships are done, we set our sails,
But pause a bit and thought prevails.
Oh, happy hours, and friends so true,
We'll leave behind a host of you,
Perhaps again some day to meet
When you sail forth with your fine fleet.
We'll often long for guiding hands,
Someone to steer who understands;
But we must learn to sail alone,
To turn aside from danger's zone,
To weather all the wintry seas,
To laugh at life, and love the breeze.
So, as we leave with sad regret
We hope that you will ne'er forget,
But hold in your dear memory
Kind thoughts of us, who've gone to sea. —Gladys Belle Garrett

Class Will

In the name of all Seniors everywhere we, the Seniors of Boone, being of jubilant mind and joyous memory, do blithely improvise and publish this our first will; and devise, as happily as is seniorially possible, to dispose of our interest in high school among succeeding classes of boys and girls.

Being only carefree, impoverished, and im-provident minors, our estate is in Spain and of no more than imaginary value, wherefore we make no disposal thereof in this, our first and sole testamentary document.

These items excepted, all else in high school we now proceed to will and divide.

First: We leave to all boys and girls, but only for that portion of their lives which they pass in high school, all and every correct solution to each and every sum in advanced algebra, geometry, chemistry, and physics.

Secondly: We leave to every boy and girl, long, long days to be happy in and no, no days to scribble tests in.

Thirdly: We bequeath to each of them a succession of teachers who have not forgotten their days of incarceration in school and are lenient accordingly in small matters of punctuality, whispering, mumbling, day-dreaming, and total or partial lack of intelligence.

Fourthly: We bequeath to all high school boys and girls, each and every victory on the field and in the gym.

Fifthly: We give unto Leas Montgomery and Oc. Dettman 50 cents to buy themselves

a license, kind not stipulated; unto Katherin Lindbloom and Irene Cress one forlorn billet-doux not positively identified, but suspected to be one of Don Duncan's; unto Max Trainer we give Jack Jenkins' one hundred and fifty-nine excuses for not having his lessons; unto Lillian Cutler we give Freda Menough's complexion which she did apply upon entering high school in the autumn of nineteen hundred and twenty-eight, and which she did frequently since overlay. We will Bob Sutton's ability to get white admits to Russell Jennings.

Sixthly. Unto Faye Morgan we leave the Seniors' best looking man. At the request of Coach Fisher we leave Chey Brigg's soft hands to Don Johnson. We think it is quite necessary that Eddy Meyers have Kenny Wingo's hatred of women.

Seventhly: We bequeath to our esteemed superintendent, G. S. Wooten and to our principal, H. J. Van Ness, all the fear, admiration, reverence, awe, respect, and deference, in which we hold them, that they may, when we are gone, distribute said fear, admiration, reverence, awe, respect, and deference impartially among the incoming infants that they may comport themselves with becoming circumspection in their presence, as we have endeavored to conduct ourselves.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto subscribed our names and affixed our seal this, the seventh day of June, Anno Domini, nineteen hundred and thirty-one.

The Class of 1931.

Prophecy

A rubber-neck bus pulled up in front of a cheerful looking gray stone building, the windows of which were attractively decorated with iron bars. To add to the safety and serenity of the inmates of this building a high stone wall completely surrounded the grounds. In spite of these interesting features one gained the impression that it was pleasanter to be outside looking in than inside looking out.

"On your right, ladies and gentlemen," drawled Merle Kelsey, driver of the bus, "is the world's largest free rooming and boarding house, founded by Freda Menough and Thelma Hardie. As you go inside, please leave your name and occupation with the guards, Adrian Clark and Clarence Cameron, as a record is kept of all visitors. This is the record that was left: Ida Mae Mosher, stenographer; Russell Elliott, professor; Maurine Johnson, lawyer; Grace Pollard, banker; William Thompson and Dean Hatfield, preachers; Don Mann, tired business man; Catherine Davis, actress; Homer Johnson, author; David Goepfinger, traveling salesman; Ruth Williams, President of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Dumb Animals; David Newcomb, engineer; Emery Mudge, evangelist; Carl Franklin, merchant; Grace Bergman, reformer; Tom McAlpine, senator; and Velma Zimmerman, night-club hostess.

At this point the sight-seers were turned over to the prison guide, Bob Sutton, who led them through the halls making his explanations in stentorian tones: "On your left, ladies and gentlemen, is the office of our beloved warden, Melba Huddleston. Here is the other prison office, quite a hang-out for the local police force, Elton Campbell, Clifford Lundgren, Delbert Atherton, and Frederick Schroeder. We don't mind, though, for when they aren't as tight as a wet knot they take their jobs very conscientiously. Under Snoop, Clarence Brogden, and Peep, Jack Tillson, we have an absolutely complete detective bureau. Let me tell you they always issue a plain statement of the facts—like—well—a yell from a dentist's office.

"Margaret Woodruff is the finger print expert, who has recently discovered that there are no identical thumb marks. Our magnifying glass specialist is Rudy Carlson.

"You are to see and hear about some of the most dangerous inmates, but don't be frightened, for most of them are as harmless as a war in the dictionary. Please notice these offers for rewards":

JACK JENKINS (type of criminal now almost extinct outside of the dime novel), A TWO GUN MAN AND A DEVIL WITH WOMEN. ROBBER OF THE CASH REGISTER IN THE ROCKWELL CITY LICENSE BUREAU. $5,000 REWARD.

HELEN KEIGLEY, THE DESPERATE LOVE BANDIT AND GOLD DIGGER. LARGE REWARD OFFERED.

VIRGINIA TERRILL, THE NOTORIOUS HEART-BREAKER, IS WANTED, DEAD OR ALIVE. IF SHE REMAINS AT LIBERTY SHE WILL PROBABLY FALL FOR A GOOD LINE, AND IN TIME BECOME ONE OF THE TOWN'S MOST DANGEROUS GRASS WIDOWS.

"Now folks," continued Bob, "in the cage on the left you see Robert Fitzgerald, widely known in the underworld as 'Chewing Gum

Charley, sentenced in three states for murder of the King's English.

"Here are Lillian Anderson and Mary Pratt who have been taken in for jaywalking, spooning, and other minor offenses.

"James Munstrom, here, was recently arrested for speeding and blowing his horn too much.

"Ada Markman is with us for alienation of affections and for breaking up several happy homes.

"Maurice Reid, who has formerly spent most of his time in breaking the curfew law, was recently caught at defrauding the theatre out of 40 cents per evening.

"Wilma Hay was sentenced by Judge Otis Thompson for disturbing the peace with her birthday party, at which there was a row between Florence Crowe and Evelyn Fisk over the $1.12 Evelyn has owed the B. H. S. library for a year.

"William Love, in the cell on your right, was a professional second story worker and also store shoplifter.

"Edwin Duckworth has been frequently arrested for assault and battery, and has also served time for murderous attacks. He is widely known as a bully and a desperado.

"Here is Waldo Wheeler, a recently discovered quack doctor, who has been recommending spinach and spineapple for diseases of the spine.

"You have undoubtedly heard of Elizabeth Collins, who was expelled from a finishing school for breaking Miss Linderblood's heart by means of scandalous caricatures of Latin heroes. Later she turned out to be a deadly vamp and heart-breaker; so it became necessary to lock her up.

"Stanley Richmond has been incarcerated in the workhouse for laziness and general worthlessness.

"This is Hon Benson who was convicted of manslaughter in connection with a Saturday night escapade in which she ran over a boulevard stop with her Ford.

"Rump Schall swindled Chicago philanthropists out of several plugged nickels, by impersonating a Salvation Army Santa Claus.

"Malvie Parrish was recently sentenced for impairing the eyesight of a handsome young man.

"In the next cell is Oc. Dettman, a sneak-thief of the deepest dye, who has served time for robbing penny scales and beggars' cups, and is now to spend thirty days on the rocks.

"Ruth Pettit, expelled from college for corrupting the morals of freshmen, was fined 5 cents by the U. S. government and imprisoned for failure to pay the cigarette tax.

"Here is Hattie Hiltz, arrested in Madrid, Iowa, for jaywalking and failure to tip waiters.

"Gerald House, a former operator of a gambling house where pennies were matched, was discovered to be a swindler par excellence.

"This is Gladys Garrett, imprisoned for murder in connection with her love affairs. She shot her suitors, Raymond Smith and Clifford Royster, so that she could marry Cleo Pollard, multi-millionaire.

"Max Shrock was guilty of stealing the whistle from the 'Peanut Vender'.

"Take a good look at Virgil Warak, the dangerous chewing gum addict and smuggler of contraband gum to kindergarten classes.

"On your left you see Dot Crouch, a fraud card shark and inveterate punch board addict.

"Kenneth Dodge is here for failure to pay dog tax.

"Jean Wissler, a forger and check raiser, was arrested by Officer Arthur Gustafson for stealing a laundry truck on Maine street.

"Chuck Quinn, over there, was an indiscriminate petter and parker on country roads.

"Doyle Grant tried cracking a (safe) joke.

"Here is Owen Graul caught at indiscriminate love affairs while suffering from dementia praecox.

"Margaret McAlpine is being punished for disturbing the peace and breaking up Red meetings.

"You will probably remember Edwin Zanderholm who was court martialed in the Salvation Army for chewing gum and flirting with women at the Sailors' Retreat, owned by Inez McClelland.

"To your right you see Ray Kelsey, fined and sentenced for splashing soup on the table linen of a well known restaurant.

"Sigworth Hull, alias simpering Swede, has been repeatedly punished for use of profanity on Sunday.

"Dorothy Weaver, found to be a blackmailer and purveyor of nefarious rumors, is in the next cell.

"Sylvia Case is serving time for flagging the C. & N. W. train on the high bridge near Boone, just to provide amusement for her out-of-town guests, Marjorie Burke, Lorna Stookey, and Dot Moerke, who have been teaching school in the South Sea Islands.

"Bernice Erickson and Elin Gustafson have spent most of their lives in jail for vagrancy and disturbing the peace.

"Next we see Richard Wooten, prominent Chicago banker, who did not pay enough hush money to Pete Canakes' gang, so they squealed and here is Dick.

"In this cell are Irma Wilson, Margaret Potter, and Zazel Spong, who were sentenced to hard labor for sponsoring crap games in B-Y-Ette meetings.

"You are approaching Carl Watkins, who has repeatedly been disciplined for smoking, drinking, and using profane language.

"Joe Rogers was imprisoned at the request of several college widows for failure to pay damages resulting from breach-of-promise suits.

"Before you is the notorious Greta Peterson, alias the "Mittenface" who has repeatedly been incarcerated in every jail between Boone and Ames for speeding and driving with one arm; a dangerous person to deal with.

"Ann Baird, at the request of Erma North of the humane society, is serving time for serving shirts to her Billy goat.

"Bertina Elliott and Jessie McVicker were sent up for life for investigating a gas tank with a lighted match.

"Virginia Rice, alias 'Singing Sadie,' has spent seven years improving her voice at the Hudson River Vocal Academy, vulgarly known at Sing Sing.

"Wayne Garret, a well known blue sky salesman, is in for ten years.

"This is Don Carlson who was arrested for jumping his hotel bill."

After introducing all the above celebrities, in his usual dramatic manner, Bob continued, "Now, ladies and gentlemen, we leave the cells and go to the other parts of the building. By the way, we are now passing the place where Violet Fosberg, Audrey Godwin, Evelyn Peterson, and Helen Pratt are in solitary confinement for obeying that impulse to eat onions and garlic for breakfast.

"Yonder you see Charles Norton, Effie Wilson, Alma Thompson, and Charles Pratt on the famous rock pile where all the sand for the Atlantic seashore is manufactured. We are kept busy day and night and certainly commend Gertrude Cordts, Ira Sparks, and Frederick Hartquist for their splendid supervision of this department, which is about as popular with the inmates as sand in spinach.

"Over there you see Arlene Sparks, Florence Burlingame, Elinor Fenton, and Mary Hutchinson working at one of our most profitable industries that of making license plates for the dirigibles of prominent citizens, such as Fern Munden, Madeline Anderson, or Marie Peterson.

"Oho! It is nearly three o'clock and time for the tea, that is to be held in the drawing room; since this is our fiftieth anniversary our social committee, consisting of Virginia Lee, Mary Sullivan, and Alida Love, have arranged quite a program of outside talent. Yes, yes, Earl Tesdahl, the master of ceremonies, is now ready to start the ball rolling."

As the prisoners filed in and took their places, our friends, the tired sightseers, sank into comfortable chairs. Earl strolled to the platform and held forth as follows: "Ladies and gentlemen and little children, this is one of the most important days of our lives. I ask each of you to consider where you would be now if this great institution had not been founded fifty years ago. But I know that question is as foolish as a hairless Mexican dog lathering himself for a quick shave."

"Seriously though, out of the depths of our gratitude we have arranged to have with us some of Broadway's brightest stars. Emma-tine Anderson's famous Conn. Yankees, by name—Ruby Bass, Edna Cunningham, Lillian Berglund, Verda Michel, Marion Wright, and Emma Johnson who will at this time render the selection, 'Bars and Stripes Forever'."

The conclusion of this number was greeted with thunderous applause, after which Earl announced, "This smiling little blues singer, Kathryn Rutledge, will render for us 'Mother's False Teeth Will Soon Fit Sister'." The prisoners showed their appreciation of Kathryn's vocal ability by presenting her with a number of stale eggs. The guards restrained them with difficulty, and when order was restored Earl proceeded:

"And now I ask you to rest your eyes on these bathing beauties: Lila Good, Mary Gonse, Loretta Roe, Alyce Lee, Mildred Grabau, Marjorie Bentley, and Frances Bass. These girls have been glorified by Ziegfield, scandalized by George White, and mortified by Earl Carroll. These men have been so kind as to send along Etta Mae Denning, the star of their latest show. Give the girls a hand!" As a final number, the master of ceremonies announced: "Mr. Forest Reed of the Booneville Burlesque Co. is permitting us to show his presentation of an all star cast in the gigantic and stupendous spectacle of the screen, 'The Supreme Sacrifice', in three struggles."

After the third struggle there was noticed a deep whispering which grew to a rumble, then to a dull roar; before anyone knew what was happening the whole left wing of the building disappeared. The prisoners, Earl McIlvain, Frederick Schwartz, and Cleo Johnstone led the action against the guards. Then began the fireworks, noise, scrambling, fighting, scurrying, yelling, screaming; everything was in an uproar! Suddenly it dawned upon the visitors that this was nothing more than a carefully executed prison break. It seemed that Don Johnson and Harold Rosengreen were the ruffians in charge. They had frequently caused trouble of one kind or another.

Meryl Beauchamp, a trusty, made a statement that the ammunition and weapons were smuggled in by LaVerne Adix, the milk man. Chief of Police, Chey Briggs, in co-operation with Gov. Donald Dupcan, is taking extreme measures to apprehend all the criminals; and for the good of humanity it is hoped that they will soon be brought to justice.

Farewell

Our ships are done, we set our sails,
But pause a bit and thought prevails.
Oh, happy hours, and friends so true,
We'll leave behind a host of you,
Perhaps again some day to meet
When you sail forth with your fine fleet.
We'll often long for guiding hands,
Someone to steer who understands;
But we must learn to sail alone,
To turn aside from danger's zone,
To weather all the wintry seas,
To laugh at life, and love the breeze.
So, as we leave with sad regret
We hope that you will ne'er forget,
But hold in your dear memory
Kind thoughts of us, who've gone to sea. —Gladys Belle Garrett
